FATE OF BREAKWATER HANGS ON REPORT OF GOVERNMENT ENGINEERS

Congressmen Say It Will Probably Determine Their Action.

Duluth Assured of Generous Sum for Harbor Improvement.

Members of Rivers and Harbors Committee Are Entertained.

FRANK J. CONSTANTINE, Sentenced to Imprisonment for Life for the Murder of Mrs. Gentry in Chicago.

FULTON DAY AT THE EXPO

Elaborate Exercises Mark the Observance of the Event.

Many Prominent Men Participate in the Events of Day.

"This improvement depends not so much on our visit here at this time, and the conclusions we may arrive at regarding the necessity or usefulness of a breakwater, as upon the report of the board of government engineers this year sent to Duluth to investigate the needs of the local harbor," said Congressman Acheson, for ten years a member of the rivers and harbors committee, upon landing from a trip around the harbor yesterday afternoon. In the absence of Chairman Thomas E. Burton of Ohio, the Pennsylvania congressman is regarded as the head of the committee, because of his long service on it. "Whether or not the appropriation is large enough to take care of the breakwater plan depends largely upon the report of this board of government engineers, and the general impression is to the effect that the report is against constructing a breakwater at this time."

Depends on Report.

"The contents of the report have not been made public as yet, but there are good reasons to believe that it is against the proposed improvement. If this is true, it will mean that Duluth will not get a breakwater at the canal until a future board of engineers may report favorably upon it. It is also understood that the engineers' report favors a very substantial appropriation, even

LOST HIS LIFE SAVING OTHERS

Funds to be Raised for the Family of William Eaton.

New York, Sept. 23.—A committee of prominent men on the East side, has been organized to raise a fund for the benefit of the family of William Eaton, a clerk in the general postoffice, who, although an invalid, heroically saved two boys from drowning, and lost his life from the exposure.

Eaton had been ill for a long time, but he went to the foot of East Seventh street not far from his home, to get the fresh air and to watch the boys, who bathed off the pier here. Presently he saw John Schuck and George Maloney being carried out into the river by the tide. Throwing off his coat, Eaton plunged into the water and succeeded in bringing both the lads back to the pier. As he lifted the second one to the ladder, which leads to the pier, he fell back into the water. The watchman at the pier went to his rescue in a rowboat, but Eaton was dead when the boat reached him.

Eaton leaves a widow and seven small children. Among the committee is Supreme Court Justice Giegerich.

BISHOP MCQUAID IS THREATENED

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Bishop McQuaid of the Roman Catholic diocese of Rochester made the startling declaration before a large crowd, which had gathered for the ceremony of blessing the graves in Holy Sepulchre cemetery, that an attempt was made a short time ago by foreigners to assassinate him. He said that he was told that four of the men were under oath to kill him. The presence of a number of street vendors at the cemetery gave the bishop the opportunity of the Sabbath led the bishop to make the disclosure.

The chief of police says no clue to the senders of the threatening letters has been found.

TREATY IS RATIFIED

The Convention Between Great Britain and Russia Signed.

Applies Particularly to Tibet, Afghanistan and Persia.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 23.—Ratifications of the Anglo-Russian treaty took place at the foreign office here this afternoon.

The Anglo-Russian convention regulates the respective interests of Great Britain and Russia in Tibet, Afghanistan and Persia. Imperial Russia maintains her position in the north of Persia, and Great Britain in the south. The other governments interested in Persia have been assured that the convention does not threaten the integrity of the country, and does not interfere with the vested interests of anyone. For this reason the question of the Bagdad railroad is left to future negotiations between the powers, including Germany and France.

The convention guarantees the continuance of the present position of Tibet and Afghanistan, each of the contracting powers agreeing not to endeavor to obtain any advantages in these fields which might be to the disadvantage of the other.

Russia, it was announced, on Sept. 20, made prompt use of the free hand given under the terms of the Anglo-Russian convention, and conveyed a direct plan to the national assembly at Teheran of Russian occupation of North Persia, if the Persian authorities were unable to put down the state of anarchy existing in the tribes adjoining Russian territory.

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

Called by the Governor of Michigan for Oct. 7.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 23.—Governor Warner today issued a call for a special session of the legislature, to convene on Oct. 7, to make appropriations for the central normal college and to consider the amendment of the existing primary law, so that candidates for governor and lieutenant-governor shall also be chosen by direct vote at the primaries, instead of by delegate convention. The law already provides for the selection of all other candidates by direct vote.

TWO KILLED BY AUTO.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—A young woman named Kuciot was killed, and another young woman named Conway, seriously injured at Longville last evening, when a buggy in which they were driving was struck by an automobile driven by Councillor Lanier of Longville.

OVERTURES FOR PEACE

Again Made to Gen. Drude by Caid of the Moors.

Due to the Destruction of Moorish Camp on Sunday.

Casablanca, Sept. 23.—The destruction today of the Moorish camp at Sidi Braham, south of Casablanca, and the dispersal of the tribesmen, has resulted in new overtures for peace. Several caids representing Ouleseeyan, Zanata and Zyaida tribes presented themselves at Gen. Drude's headquarters last evening to discuss the conditions which the French commander proposed for their submission. His terms include the unconditional surrender by the Moors of all their arms, against which the caids are holding out, but upon which the French authorities insist.

Paris, Sept. 23.—An official dispatch received here from Gen. Drude confirms the unofficial advice from Casablanca that fresh overtures for peace had been made by the Moors, but the French government announced that it was improbable, after the previous experiences with the hostile natives, that hostilities could be suspended pending the result of the negotiations.

PASTOR SHOT BY ROBBERS

Chased Assailants After First Fire and Was Shot Again.

Greeley, Colo., Sept. 23.—While walking home from church last night, Rev. Oscar W. Gustafson of the Swedish Lutheran church, was confronted by two men who commanded him to hold up his hands. Upon his refusal, one of them shot the minister, the bullet striking a rib. The men then ran with the minister in pursuit, when one of them turned and fired a second time, the bullet entering the pastor's neck. It is thought he will recover.

THE MODERN DAVID.

GOVERNMENT ATTORNEY BRINGS OUT NEW SECRETS OF STANDARD OIL TRUST

GEN. DRUDE, French Commander in Morocco, to Whom the Moors Have Again Appealed for Peace.

RATES ARE NOT FIXED

Attorney Says Railroads Have No Standing in Courts.

Cannot Secure Injunction on Order to Reduce Rates.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 23.—In his brief filed in the federal court today at Omaha in resistance of the application of the railroads for a temporary injunction against the railroad commission's grain rates, Attorney General Thompson set out that the fixing of rates is essentially a legislative function, and that the railroads are trying to enjoin legislative discretion in their fight against the new rates on grain. The brief recites "It is beyond the power of the court of equity to enjoin such discretion. The complainant has no standing in the court of equity to complain of the reasonableness of rates which may be finally adopted and fixed by the railway commission in the exercise of legislative discretion, which are clothed under the constitution and statutes of the state."

Until the rate has been actually established by the commission the question of its reasonableness or unreasonableness is not open to investigation by a court of equity. The establishment of such a rate is the necessary precedent condition to the interposition of the equity powers. What the railway commission may do in the matter of fixing rates is yet unknown to themselves. Whether they will fix any rate is still unknown to them, and until a rate is fixed, the question of reasonableness or unreasonableness of the same is simply a hypothetical academic and mooted question. There is therefore nothing to litigate. The court will not hear and determine a purely hypothetical, academic and mooted question. Nothing has been done by the commission or alleged to have been done by the complainant in the order complained of which calls for the exercise of the equity powers of the court in the case at bar.

The attorney general declared that the notice given to the railroads by the commission relating to the grain schedules did not indicate that any schedule had been determined upon. He insisted that the commission had done nothing since it issued the notice that had breathed vitality into the law or to furnish any basis for enforcement.

THE CONCERT BROKEN UP

New York, Sept. 23.—Because Baron Otto von Hoenning O'Carroll, consul general of Austria-Hungary in New York, was mindful of his official obligations and would not rise when a certain Hungarian song was sung at a concert here, there was a general disturbance and the concert broke up. The song was sung by Mlle. Rethy, a Hungarian actress at Terrace Garden, and the concert was attended by many persons in the Hungarian colony. It is called "Kossuth song," and officially it is under the ban of the Austrian government. Baron O'Carroll is a native Hungarian, but he represents the dual empire here. No sooner had the actress started the song than the Hungarians jumped up and applauded with fervor. Baron O'Carroll and some attaches of his office, who were with him did not do so, which was the signal for a general demonstration against him and counter demonstrations.

SEVEN WORKMEN AND TWO GIRLS EXECUTED.

Lodz, Russia, Sept. 23.—Seven workmen and two girls were executed here today by shooting, without trial, for participating in the murder of Marcus Silberstein, owner of a large cotton mill, who was killed by his employees Sept. 13, because he refused to pay them for the time they were out on strike.

Police and troops Sept. 20, made a sudden descent on the mill, and arrested 800 of the employees.

Only Part of Stock of Subsidiary Companies Distributed.

This Was Done to Avoid Injunction Issued by Court.

Attorney Milburn Begins Cross-Examination of Tilford.

New York, Sept. 23.—W. H. Tilford, treasurer of the Standard Oil company, gave further testimony today in the government's action against the company.

Mr. Tilford testified, after looking over the records on Saturday, that the Manhattan Oil Company of Ohio had sold to the Standard company, 754 tank cars between 1899 and 1901. The purchase was made for the Standard company by a subsidiary company, the Union Tank line. Mr. Tilford could not say if the Standard made any contract to supply certain gas companies with oil when it took over the Manhattan Oil company.

"As a matter of fact don't you know that the Standard made a contract with the Indianapolis Gas company and the People's Gas Light & Coke Company of Chicago?"

"Yes, such a contract was made in 1899," said Mr. Tilford.

"And was not that contract made because E. C. Benedict and Anthony A. Brady would not sell the Manhattan Oil company unless gas companies were guaranteed a supply of oil for two years?"

"I don't know that the contract was made for that reason," answered Mr. Tilford. "I know the contract was made for two years."

Mr. Kellogg then took up a new line of inquiry, and asked Mr. Tilford if it was not a fact that the only stock of the twenty subsidiary companies distributed between 1892 and 1899 was 474,619, out of 572,500 shares, which were distributed to certain stockholders, including John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, Henry M. Flagler, H. H. Rogers and fourteen other stockholders. Mr. Tilford said he did not know. Mr. Kellogg said he supposed showing that, in order to avoid the injunction of the court, preventing the voting of trustees' certificates, these trustees liquidated a sufficient amount of trustees' certificates to give a majority of the stock of the subsidiary companies, and that they as individual stockholders still maintain control of the company. Mr. Tilford did not illuminate the issue which Mr. Kellogg desired to make clear, and Mr. Milburn interposed that the records were sufficient evidence. The witness was unable to say whether the 474,619 trustees' certificates were the only certificates liquidated after 1892.

Mr. Milburn took up the cross-examination of Mr. Tilford, who testified that the Standard Oil company had about 5,000 stockholders.

A DAUGHTER OF COUNTESS

Mrs. Marguerite Carter Said to be of Noble Parentage.

New York, Sept. 23.—A close friend of Mrs. Marguerite Carter, who so strangely committed suicide last week in the home of John Jay White, the retired broker, declares that Mrs. Carter had been a French countess. According to his friend, Mrs. Carter's maiden name was Marguerite Louise Marie de Maribeu, her birthplace was Paris, and the date of her birth July 1866.

Her mother died at her birth and she was brought up by her grandmother. On the death of her grandmother, she was placed under the guardianship of a grand uncle, who lived in Philadelphia. She married an Englishman in 1893, but he deserted her just after their honeymoon while she was ill with typhoid fever in this city. The friend says that Mrs. Carter told her she made no less than fourteen attempts to suicide.

EXPECTS TO DIE FOR HIS CRIME

Reading, Pa., Sept. 23.—Surrounded by a heavily armed guard of police, Salvatore Garrito, the slayer of trooper Timothy Kelleher of the constabulary, were brought here today from Allentown and placed in jail.

In addition to admitting that he had done the actual killing of Kelleher, Garrito confessed that seven years ago he murdered his rival in love in Italy, for which his brother is now serving a 21-year sentence. For this crime Garrito fled to America. Garrito notified Italian bankers here today to draw what money was due him from the Reading Railway company, by which he had been employed, and send it to his father in Italy, as he would surely have to die. Kelleher was stabbed to death by the Italians, whom he went to the assistance of a woman who was being assaulted by them.

FALL OPENING

OUR FORMAL OPENING COMMENCED TODAY, AND CONTINUES TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 24-25

As fast as the Pendulum of Fashion ticks the Season's Favored Styles, Gidding Garments show the influence.

The fashions of the present season are so pronounced, so diversified, so original, so gratifying, you can almost hear the tick.

OUR OPENING is a beautiful show—a show which does credit to our store, and to Duluth in general. But we are no more proud of it than the women who come to look and admire. All which is new and fetching in the latest developments of fashion are embodied in our aristocratic display of Wraps, Gowns, Furs, Coats, Suits and separate pieces of apparel. To attempt a description is completely beyond the power of word pictures and the range of adjectives falls short. "Seeing is believing!" Therefore, we have inaugurated our informal and formal openings to give the women in this section of the country an opportunity to "look"—It is a duty, right and pleasure which you owe to yourself.

Our MAGNIFICENT Evening Costumes and Wraps are exquisite creations. Some from across the sea, others the most clever American studies. The incentive for the construction being gleaned from the master pieces of the world's greatest style artists. Fair representatives are the enchanting examples which are displayed in our windows. [It's worth while to see them.]

THE TAILORED SUITS are very aristocratic in their austere simplicity or elaborate braided and trimmed elegance. The collection is large and varied, including chiffon broadcloths, panne chevots, fine worsteds, serges and mannish mixtures. The new and novel colorings include the following shades which are characteristic of this season alone; sea green, marine, tokio and natter blues, eminence, crushed raspberry, sable, pain brule and dead-leaf browns. Also the wine reds such as claret and Burgundy. The staple colors, of course, hold their own.

THE NEW SKIRTS—Our showing of London shrunk imported broadcloths which come to us with a guaranteed spot-proof, permanent gloss finish are exceedingly handsome. The voiles are close rivals while the invisible plaited worsteds and mannish weaves and the panamas are both "dressy" and practical.

THE NEW AND NOVEL HAT CREATIONS are charming. The departure from preceding styles is very radical this year, some of the most effective shapes being the New Babette, Princess, Baroness and Girl Ranger models. Some of our handsome specimens are of foreign origin while others are of our own making inspired by the fashions set by world renowned artists. Our buyers and designers watch every swerve of fashion as the stock broker watches the tape which registers his fate or fortune.

OUR JEWELRY AND LEATHER DEPARTMENT is an enchanting place to spend a few spare moments. The new arrivals in combs, bracelets, neckchains, belts, beads, bags and other decorations for milady's person are very interesting.

PRETTY WAISTS for street or evening wear are practically divided into the severe tailored styles of silk or linen void of all frivolousness and the dainty blouses which are elaborate enough for formal evening functions.

OF OUR FRENCH AND DOMESTIC UNDERMUSLINS we would say that it is in keeping with the outer apparel which we have above mentioned. We show a fine line of silk gauze, silk and wool, wool, silk and lisle or pure lisle underwear. The undermuslins are convent or domestic hand embroidered in beautiful and dainty designs.

OUR CHILD'S STORE is a complete outfitting establishment for Misses' and Children. In purchasing for this department, our buyers pay the same attention to the styles, materials and tailor details which is exercised in selection of garments for "Grown-ups."

A FULL LINE OF CHILDREN'S AND MISSES' COATS, SUITS, DRESSES, SWEATERS AND HEADWEAR.

Let Us Place a Universal In Your Home on Trial

Test it There 30, 60, 90 Days or Longer if You Wish.

LET US place a Universal in your home—give it a thorough test—(not a short test these mild fall days) but a good test when old Jack Frost is doing his worst—a test for 60 or 90 days or longer and if at the end of that time this store has not proven everything we claim for it—a good heater and an economical one—we'll gladly take it back. In the Imperial Universal we have the very best Base Burner made and we're willing that the Heater itself should prove this.

The Imperial is a three-flue heater—the only perfect three-flue heater on the market. In this Heater the heat travels down the two descending flues around both sides of the bottom to extreme front of same, there uniting and returning through the center bottom flue and up the ascending back flue—thus being equally distributed over the entire back and bottom and giving it more direct radiating surface than any other Base Burner.

You're looking for the heater that uses the least amount of fuel and gives the greatest amount of heat—are you not? You've got it in the Imperial—Come in and we will show you why.

IMPERIAL UNIVERSAL

THE FALL OPENINGS BEGIN

The Freimuth Store Has Fine Display of Hats Many Very Attractive Offerings. and Suits at Gidding's.

In the fall a young maid's fancy and mind and earnest purpose and deepest thoughts seriously turn to the matter of a new hat, and this season it is certain that the hats need that attention. One of the largest and one of the most exclusive and inclusive exhibits of the city, had been presented to the Duluth women by the I. Freimuth establishment. The hats shown in the millinery department are wonderful. They lift away from the face to show a wealth of the wearer's softly fluffed hair. There is, of course, no vital necessity that the soft stuff should have grown in the head upon which it is worn. Soft, long draping feathers, manabout feathers, paradise feathers, smooth and soft velvets and satins, and rich embroideries are used in their construction. In fact it seems that the wealth of the weaver's art and the luck of his luxurious climes have been combined this autumn to make woman's hat.

The hats, however, are not the sole object of interest in this formal showing made by the Freimuth store. A most interesting and stylish showing of women's costumes is shown and from the smooth and pleasing quality of the materials to the finely cut and tailored styles they are satisfactory. The suits and costumes supplemented by the graceful evening wraps, makes an exhibit which every normal woman can better over for hours at a time. The formal autumn opening will continue tomorrow and Wednesday.

A Gidding's autumn opening reception is the thing that induced a large number of Duluth women to leave cozy firesides today, and the charming display of interesting wearables that this firm is showing was well worth facing the disagreeable out-of-doors to view. The costumes and dress-costumes, and the smart street suits always create great interest, and this fall they are more than ordinarily interesting. The smartly tailored suits are so just in appearance, and the more elaborate costumes are so richly beautiful that it takes a woman of much strength of mind to resist ordering three or four without a thought of the interesting settlement at the end of the month. The colors shown this season are richer than for some time. The blues, which are fashionable, are most beautiful shades, and the more elaborate costumes are of some shade of blue. The accessories, in all the exquisite taste that the name suggests, are combined most happily in lovely garments. The exquisite coloring and the artistic fashioning of the suits making each model offered by this store, one of unusual interest to every woman who sees it. Each department of the store has new things to show, and the furs were the object of special admiration and longing. The new waists were greatly admired as well as each department that aids in the growing of well-dressed women.

The windows are more than ordinarily beautifully arranged, and the models in furs and suits that are displayed aroused much interest in the passersby.

OBJECT TO WORKING IN SHOWER OF BIG ROCKS

One at least of a crew of men employed by the city under the street commissioner's department, is of the opinion that under a shower of rocks, weighing anywhere from an ounce to several pounds, is not a desirable place to work.

The attention of the board of public works has been called to the report that the Wisconsin Central road's blasting operations at Thirteenth avenue and West Michigan street, are likely to result in a serious accident unless some precautions are taken. A piece of rock, weighing several pounds, was brought to the city hall today by a man employed on the city streets, who stated that it was one of a perfect shower which fell all about himself and companions as they were at work on Superior street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth avenues west, Saturday. The rock was one of several pieces which fell after a blast had been made by the employees of the railroad company, in their excavating operations, and it narrowly missed the head of one of the men, penetrating the ground several inches. It is estimated that the rock must have been hurled a distance of 200 feet or more. The board will investigate the matter, and the railroad company will be advised of the danger, and instructed to adopt some means of protection to the public.

Religious Liberals Begin Fourth International Congress at Boston.

Boston, Sept. 23.—Hundreds of delegates from Unitarian and other liberal churches throughout the country gathered in Boston today with distinguished divines and workers from all over the world representing many sects to attend the meeting of the fourth international congress of religious liberals. Today's exercises opened with prayer in King's chapel, after which the national conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches was called in Tremont temple. Minor business being transacted, addresses were in order by the president of the conference, Carroll D. Wright, President Eliot of Harvard university upon "The Property Rights and Duties of American Churches," and others. For the afternoon session, among the addresses on the program was one by Rev. Marion D. Shutter of Minneapolis, his subject being "A United Liberal Church."

WAR IS ON

Virginia Has Posted $1,000 for Game With Hibbing.

Games at Hibbing Called Off on Account of Umpire.

Just now politics, the miners' strike, the decline in copper, and the talk of hard times are but mere ripples on the sea of events as far as Hibbing and Virginia are concerned. The baseball war between these two thriving little cities is the all-absorbing topic, and the baseball microbes have affected even the women and girls of the community. The men and boys always were fans from the time they first donned knee trousers, but the present baseball war has infused the entire community with the baseball fever.

Outsiders visiting either one of the towns might think the inhabitants were all baseball fiends. The stranger is either "with us or against us," and you bet the unfortunate who takes the Hibbing side of the controversy in Virginia, or the Virginia side of it in Hibbing.

The war is of long standing, but it did not reach an acute stage until this fall. Hibbing has long boasted the baseball supremacy of the range, and the other towns have looked on enviously. But this fall Virginia started out to wrest the honors from Judge Brady's Colts. "Beat Hibbin'" was the slogan, and no expense was spared to get together a team that would turn the trick. The pick of the Northern Copper Country league and one American association pitcher were secured, and Hibbing also launched out and added some of the league players. Then the two teams went to it for a series of seven games, the first three to be played in Virginia, and the second three in Hibbing. The deciding game, if one was needed, was to be played in some city to be decided upon later. Two of the six games were played at Virginia. Rain spoiled the third. Everything went along joyfully—for Virginia. Pat Flaherty, formerly manager of the Houghton team of the Northern-Copper Country league, umpired, and there wasn't a murmur of dissent from his decisions. With Graham pitching one, and Krick the other, the Virginia gang had Hibbing fazed. Saturday, the first of the three games was to be played at Hibbing. Al Cummings was slated to pitch for Virginia, and Gilligan for Hibbing. Both teams got out on the field, though the weather was freezing cold and the field a sea of mud. They warmed up as best they could and prepared to go to it. Then Judge Brady, trotted out Getchell, the umpire. Manager Carey of the Virginia team rebelled. "Anybody except Getchell," said Carey.

"Getchell or nobody," said Brady. "Nobody," said Carey, and he called his men off the field, called off the remaining games and trotted his Braves back to Virginia, where they were received with open arms and commendation for their course.

The Virginia crowd had no sooner reached Virginia, than they hustled around, gathered $1,000 together, sent somebody to Duluth and posted it at the St. Louis hotel. Then they sent a challenge to Hibbing to play for $1,000 a side and the entire gate receipts at Athletic park in Duluth next Sunday. Hibbing was given until midnight to night to accept the offer.

According to Hibbing baseball men, any fans, the agreement called for the choosing of umpires by the home team, when the series of six games was arranged. Virginia chose Flaherty. Then, Virginia would not play when Hibbing chose Getchell. Therefore, Hibbing argues, Virginia was in the wrong.

One of the owners of the Virginia team was in Duluth this morning and he was exceedingly wrathful. He didn't mince any words in speaking of the Hibbing deal. "I don't see how our proposition could have been any fairer to Hibbing. Flaherty was an outsider, and there wasn't a word said against his work with the Indicator in Virginia. We certainly wouldn't stand for this man Getchell. In the game which we won from Hibbing at Hibbing, a couple of weeks ago, his work was so raw in the ninth inning that we took no more chances. We offered to play with any other man in Hibbing as an umpire, or with two umpires, Getchell to be one, but Hibbing would accept neither proposition. I don't see how we could have done otherwise than take our team from the field.

"We are now tied on the season's play, four games each. Our $1,000 is posted for the deciding game, the entire gate receipts to go to the winner. We will play the game at Athletic park, next Sunday, with any Hibbing man except Getchell, or any outsider, as an umpire. Archie McCudden of Hibbing is a good square man, and we would stand for him. H. T. McGreevey of Duluth is also to our liking. I don't think either of the two could be induced to swing a decision any way.

"This talk of our having no right to play a professional team and doesn't. If Meneses, Bennett, Fagan, Burns, Criss, Gilligan, and some of the others aren't professionals, I'd like to know what an amateur is. "If Hibbing wants to cover that $1,000 we will be ready to play. The stipulation is that each team be composed of men who played in the last game in Virginia. Geham pitching for Virginia and Gilligan for Hibbing."

The unexpected guest will not cause the hostess any anxiety if she knows there is a can of Hunt's Perfect Baking Powder on hand. It can be depended upon.

NEW CHURCH DEDICATED

Brookpark People Get Their First House of Worship.

Handsome New Structure is Dedicated Free of Debt.

Sunday, Sept. 22, was a great day for the people of Brookpark, Minn., as that day saw the dedication of the First Methodist Episcopal church at that place. Brookpark is a thriving town on the Great Northern railway, about eighty-four miles from Duluth, in the center of a splendid farming community, in the country that is known as "the land of the big red clover." The church building dedicated is the only one in the community for the English speaking people. The building was built several years ago by the Baptist denomination, and the building could not be duplicated today for less than $1,500. The building has been purchased by the members of the Methodist Episcopal church, and with some improvements, was ready for dedication. The building is 42 by 24, the main part being 24 by 30, with a lecture room, 24 by 12, and a gallery above the lecture room. It will seat about 250 people.

The money for the purchase of the building was donated by the citizens of Brookpark, and by some outside friends, the Board of Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal church giving $250. There was a large attendance of people at the three services Sunday. At the morning and afternoon services, the Rev. E. C. Clemans, D. D., the presiding elder of the Duluth district, preached. In the evening, the Rev. Blaine Lambert, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Hineley, Minn., preached. At the afternoon service the building was dedicated free of debt by the presiding elder, assisted by the pastor, the Rev. R. J. McKelvey, and the Rev. Blaine Lambert. Good music was furnished by a choir composed of Mrs. B. J. Kelsey, Miss Reta Kelsey, John F. Holbrook and the Rev. Blaine Lambert. Harold C. Kelsey presided at the organ. Great credit for the purchase of the building is due to the board of trustees, composed of N. E. Alderman, S. W. Cole, Uri Miller, Charles Kane and the Messadames Uri Miller and J. B. Sower. The Ladies' Aid society, Mrs. Uri Miller president, also worked faithfully for the purchase of the building, as did the pastor, Rev. R. J. McKelvey. He is a student at Hamline university, and in addition to his university work, has carried the work of his charge successfully all the year. This church will mean much to the people of Brookpark. The town has no saloon, and with this church is a desirable community to live in.

DAKOTAS GREAT NORTHERN MADE DEFENDANT

Sued for Damage for Not Properly Lighting Depot Platform.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Great Northern railroad in which the state seeks to recover the sum of $600 for the failure of the company to maintain lights at the depot at Reynolds in this county as required under the act of the last legislature. Considerable criticism has been made against the depot at Reynolds, and it is claimed that the death of Ole Sygard at that place a few weeks ago was due to failure of the company to keep the platform lighted.

The action is brought under an act which provides for a fine of from $5 to $10 for every day the company shall neglect or refuse to maintain lights at the depot platform before and after the arrival of each train.

The statute is crude, indefinite and vague, but the legislature certainly intended that the proceeding should be in the nature of a criminal proceeding. The state's attorney thinks different and has brought a civil suit.

Guaranteed Six Months

Everwear Hose

For Men and Women

A year ago we took the selling agency for "Everwear" socks, and our sales of them have grown to such dimensions that the manufacturers have a hard time to fill all the big orders we send them. Their guarantee is good, principally because the hosiery never goes on a "tear" and therefore need not be "darned." It's indeed a boon to housewives.

Now we have added the "Everwear" hosiery made for women, which, like that made for men is accompanied by an iron-clad guarantee when sold in a box with half a dozen pairs.

Made in different shades from the best Egyptian cotton yarn, and rendered safe against tearing by a secret process of the makers.

$3.00 for box of six pairs or 35 cents per pair.

WAS THEIR OWN FAULT

Ten Laborers Took the Wrong Train Out of Staples.

Were Stranded Without Money and Minus Their Baggage.

Peter Quinn of the Empire Employment company has another story to tell in regard to the ten men who were sent out by his agency and were left stranded in Wadena, while on their way to Montana. He claims that the men boarded the wrong train out of Staples and were therefore put off at Wadena.

He declares the men themselves were to blame and there was no attempt to defend them in any way.

He says there is a limited coast train which passes Staples a short time ahead of the local train and that about that now.

"We nearly always give the pass to the conductor in a case like this and that was what we did with these men. Some of them were drinking and we deemed it safer to let the conductor have the pass before the train started. The fact that they had to change cars at Staples was what put the boys on at Wadena. They took the first westbound train that came along and it didn't happen to be the right one."

"No laborers are carried on this train on passes, and anyway the conductor of the train out of Duluth had given the pass to the conductor of the local train out of Staples. After being put off at Wadena, if the men had taken the next train they would have been all right for their pass was carried by the conductor of the train out of Duluth. If the men had taken the next train they would have been all right for their pass was carried by the conductor of the train out of Duluth."

"As far as their baggage was concerned, we of course, checked their baggage right through to Garrison, Mont., and it is probably they are there yet. We can't do anything about that now. It was not our fault that they took the wrong train at Staples."

"When this young man, who told the story Saturday, came back to Duluth all we could do for him was to get him another job, which he did. He worked out here in the country near Duluth for a couple of weeks and we cashed his time check for him just last week, as he didn't know where to take it. Then this is the way he comes back at us."

As Mr. Quinn has a letter from Deeks & Deeks, the railroad contracting firm in Montana, acknowledging receipt of the pass he can prove that the conductor of the train was given a pass for the ten men for the entire journey through to Montana.

A recent party from the automobile hospital was soon on hand and the three young ladies were transferred to another car, from which a fire was attached to the vanquished machine. The latter was taken to the garage, where an examination showed that the injuries were serious, although probably not of a fatal nature.

HORSE AND AUTO IN LIVELY MILL
Former Vanquishes Big Red Machine in First Round.

In a lively mill which was pulled off under the very nose of the police just west of the Hotel of the Lakes, a big truck horse put it all over a big red touring car. The latter was driven by a man named E. Horwitz, a teamster living at 130 East Sixth street, while in the auto, which was driven by P. S. Anzick of the Fitter Brewing company, were three young ladies.

The battle began with the red car drawing first at the striking horse. The horse escaped the full force of the blow by side stepping and as he recovered himself he delivered two telling right and left blows at the car's head.

Drawing back after these preliminaries the big animal again went at the machine and hurled his full weight against the front engine works. The car's engine was both caved in and the engine gave a few feeble grunts and sighs and gave up the contest. It was ready for the automobile hospital.

Horwitz, the rider, had been sent to the pavement at the very beginning of hostilities, but was not much injured and as he soon regained his feet and saw how the contest was going he persuaded the champion horse to leave the ring. The latter was not injured further than the bruise on the flank received by the first blow.

DULUTH IS SUPREME IN WORLD'S COMMERCE AND TAKING GREAT STRIDES

Greatest of All Shipping Ports, Says William E. Curtis.

He Dwells Upon the Extraordinary Growth of Duluth.

Varied Resources That Are the Backbone of the City.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Under the heading, "Duluth Is Supreme in World Commerce—Greatest of All Shipping Ports," the Record-Herald publishes an article by William E. Curtis, its well-known special writer, in which he says:

"Duluth claims to be the greatest shipping port in the world, greater than London, Liverpool, or any other than New York. The total freight handled by water during the year 1906 at Duluth, Superior and the sub-port of Two Harbors, which is included within the Duluth district, was 27, 376,212 tons, while the total tonnage of London for 1905 has been given me as 23,475,158; Liverpool, 24,955,519; Hongkong, 22,632,616; Hamburg, 20,762,000;
and Antwerp, 19,675,666.

"The tonnage of New York for 1905 was 30,314,022; that of Chicago was 14, 740,415. These figures are given me by the best authorities in Duluth, and I have no doubt they are accurate. It should be said, however, that 80 or 85 per cent of the freight handled at Duluth is raw material—iron ore, wheat and coal, which is carried in vast quantities by a large fleet of vessels.
The value of the freight handled at Duluth is estimated at $250,000,000, and every ounce of it was a contribution to the wealth of the world, the product of the soil of Minnesota, Dakota and the other new

GIRLS' BODY IDENTIFIED

Young Woman Found in Trunk Is Mrs.
Frank Covington.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 24.—The police have positively identified the body of the dead woman found stuffed in a trunk on the beach at South Alki Sunday morning, as that of Mrs. Angus McGowan, who was Covington, 17 years old. The woman had been strangled to death.

She was the wife of Frank Covington, for several months employed as a salesman by the Pillsbury Flour company, Seattle. Covington is missing, and the police are looking for him. The body in the trunk had been dead at least a week.
Mrs. Covington was the daughter of Freeman McGowan, who lives near Vernon, E.

A letter from St. Paul, under date of April 11, 1907, apparently written by Covington's sister, Edith Covington, was found in the trunk. The letter was addressed to Frank Covington, and the publication of excerpts from the letter in the morning paper led to the woman's positive identification by her uncle, George McGowan. The police are working on the theory that Covington is the murderer.

The only plausible motive so far advanced for the crime is that the murder followed a violent quarrel between the girl, who conducted a boardinghouse at 25
Fifth avenue, said yesterday that Covington and his wife lived there three months. During that time they fought and quarreled almost daily, and the girl, it was asserted, was very angry that Mrs. Covington had been so unkind to her.

NEVER BE KNOWN

Who Killed Ralph Gunderson One of the Unsolved Mysteries.

Poston, Minn., Sept. 24.—(Special to The Herald)—The slayer of Ralph Gunderson, the boy, who was recently shot near here, bids fair never to be known. Coroner Christensen and County Attorney Mayberry of Polk county have just concluded holding an inquest, which ended in nothing being learned that would indicate the author of the crime.
Acting on reports that some new evidence had been secured the officers came here from Crookston and held the body disinterred. A jury was impaneled and a searching examination of witnesses made. Witnesses testified to hearing the shot and even to seeing the smoke therefrom, but none swore to seeing the crime committed, so there was nothing for the jury to do but return a verdict of death by a bullet fired by a person unknown.

THE CREAMERIES WILL FIGHT RAILROAD RATES.

Lincoln, Sept. 24.—Ex-Congressman J. Hayner announced definitely today that the Centralized Creameries will fight in the courts the new rates on cream promulgated by the state railway commission, alleging that they were made for the purpose of discriminating against the established plants. He is preparing a protest to file with the commission, and will appeal to the courts against the new rates which advance the cost of transporting cream long distances.

BIDS OPENED FOR NAVY COAL

If Shipping Charges Are Exorbitant, Foreign Bottoms May be Used.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Bids were opened at the bureau of equipment of the navy department today for the transporting and supplying of coal for the use of the Atlantic fleet during its coming voyage to the Pacific coast in December. The proposals contemplated the shipment of this coal by the navy department, from various North Atlantic ports, either in American or foreign bottoms. The other proposal asked for estimates for supplying 120,000 tons of Welsh coal.
The department was anxious to obtain the two sets of proposals so that if those submitted for shipment of coal by the navy department, from various North Atlantic ports, either in American or foreign bottoms, were exorbitant, recourse might be had to the supply of Welsh coal.

MORE PEOPLE HURT IN BRIDGE CRASH.

New York, Sept. 24.—Several persons were injured in a hospital suffering from injuries received in an accident on the Brooklyn bridge, which was followed by one of the worst crashes in the history of that structure. The breaking of a drawbar on a train resulted in a collision between two freight trains. The blocking of traffic caused a great jam at the Manhattan end of the bridge and police reserves had to be called out to prevent serious trouble.

ARE PREPARING FOR THE PRESIDENT'S BEAR HUNT.

Lake Providence, La., Sept. 24.—
The proposed bear hunt of President Roosevelt will be made in East Carroll parish, opposite Alsatia station, on the Iron Mountain railroad. The camp will be located about eighteen miles from Lake Providence, on the Tensas river. Several noted bear hunters in this parish have been on the ground for more than a month, preparing a place for the camp, cutting tracks, etc.

On Board Steamship Lusitania, Sept.
23, 10 p. m. by Wireless via Cape Race, N. F.—At 10 o'clock tonight the Lusitania was over the easterly edge of the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, in lat. 49, long. 43.30. The fog is thick. At reduced speed the steamship has covered 210 miles since noon today. We have passed Cape Race, which now bears west-northwest from us.

THE ALTON ROAD IS IMMUNE; CASE IS TAKEN FROM JURY

Motion of Attorney General to That Effect is Granted.

His Request to Discharge
Grand Jury However is Refused.

Judge Landis Believes
There is Other Work to Do.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—It was decided today by Judge Landis, in the United States district court, that the Chicago & Alton railway shall not be further prosecuted for its connection with the Standard Oil company in the granting of rebates between Whiting, Ill., and East St. Louis, Ill.
It was claimed by Attorney General Bonaparte, whose letter was read to the court by District Attorney Sim, that Mr. Morrison, the predecessor of Mr. Sims in office, had promised immunity to the Alton road, provided it assisted in good faith in the prosecution of the Standard Oil company. The attorney general, therefore, claimed that it was the duty of the government to see that no further steps toward the punishment of the railroad for its part in the granting of rebates be taken. The attorney general asked that the grand jury, which had been summoned at the instance of Judge Landis, to investigate the Alton road, be discharged and that the matter be

Attorney General of the United States,

Chicago & Alton Cases Before the Grand Jury.

allowed to drop as far as the Chicago & Alton was concerned.
Judge Landis in a statement, which required fully thirty minutes for its delivery, declined to discharge the jury, but instructed its members that they had no further duty to perform in connection with the Chicago & Alton road. The court then called attention to a statement recently issued by President Moffet of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in which it was claimed that if the Standard Oil Company of Indiana was guilty of receiving rebates, no other manufacturer was innocent. The court directed the jury to investigate the conduct of other manufacturers and directed that a subpoena be issued for President Moffet.
The letter of Attorney General Bonaparte, which was read in court today, was as follows:

"Edward W. Sims, United States attorney, Chicago, Ill. Sir: When the special grand jury summoned to investigate charges against the Chicago & Alton Railroad company shall again attend, in accordance with the court's order of the 3rd inst., you are instructed to very respectfully inform the court that this department has most carefully considered and again reconsidered all aspects of the case, and is unable to find any sufficient reason for other action on its part than to grant the request of the court that it be discharged. You will assure the court that this department thoroughly appreciates the force and cogency of the data he scrutinized by this department; and it fully recognizes the highly appropriate character of the said request under the peculiar circumstances of this unusual case.

"You will further assure the court of this department's earnest wish to cooperate heartily and effectively with the court in the prosecution of the case."

JOHNSON FOR THE VICE PRESIDENCY

On Ticket With Bryan Favored by Nebraska Democrats.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 24.—The delegates to the Republican and Democratic state conventions, which meet at the state house today at noon, are almost unanimous in demanding the nomination of Roosevelt and Bryan for the presidency next year. Walter D. Guilbert, auditor of state, of Ohio, is present interviewing delegates of the Republican convention for Taft, but he finds most of them favoring Roosevelt. He hopes to have resolutions endorsing Taft incorporated in the platform, but finds much opposition. The Democratic delegates of the present interviewing delegates of their ticket, and that is William J.
Bryan. Most of them favor Johnson for the vice presidency.

DR. COOK IS LEFT AT ETAH

Will Make a Dash for the Pole From That Point.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 24.—The yacht which left here in July with Dr.
Cook on an exploring trip to Greenland, is expected back in a few days. The yacht left Dr. Cook and the Norwegian steward at Etah, with plenty of provisions. They will take Esquimos and dogs and will make for the pole.

The ship was over a month going from Etah to Birch Cove, where Bartlett went to the woods hunting.
He experienced heavy gales on the trip up.

SOMEONE BREAKS DOOLEY'S SKULL

New York Politician Struck by Brick on His Way Home.

New York, Sept. 24.—John J.
Dooley, a politician and member of Tammany hall, who is seeking the Democratic leadership of the Twenty-third assembly district in the primaries today, was assaulted as he was on his way to his home early this morning, by two unknown persons, and sustained a fractured skull and possibly fatal injuries.

Mr. Dooley had been at his club, where the last preparations for the primaries had been made. His house is only a short distance away. One of the men threw a brick, which hit him on the head. He was being assaulted as he lay, when a passerby altered his assailants, who fled.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING

Experienced by Crew of Bark Wrecked on Bleak Island.

Four Died and Three
Are Still in a Hospital.

New York, Sept. 24.—The story of the wreck of the American bark Prussia, on black Staten island, Tierra Del Fuego, "the land of fire," is a thrilling one. Six of the crew have been landed here by the steamer from Montevideo. Four perished and three are in a hospital at Punta Arenas. The Prussia was owned in San Francisco, and sailed from Norfolk, Va., March 17, with a cargo of coal for San Francisco. On the night of June 19, which was stormy and bitterly cold, while Capt. Johnson was trying to make the New Year's island light, the bark went ashore and soon broke up. Eleven of the thirteen men in the crew succeeded in reaching a strip of sand, sheltered somewhat by overhanging rocks. At dawn it was discovered that Sabata, the Japanese cook, and Harry Hammond, a sailor, were missing. The strip of sand was narrow, and huge cliffs barred an escape across the island. Capt. Johnson soon died of exhaustion and was buried in the sand. The survivors had a few provisions, and subsisted on these. Meantime the Prussia was laboriously built from the wreckage.
But fear that the provisions would not last led to two of the men, S.
Portin and Joseph Hosteth, trying to work across the mountains to obtain help. Portin crawled back a few days later with his hands and feet badly frozen. Hosteth, he reported, had died from the cold. The food gave out and the men lived on shell fish. Eventually, after much danger, Mate John Hunter, Carpenter Carl Stark and Seaman Heine reached New Year's island, in the frail boat, a distance of thirty miles.
Lieut. Delgado, in charge of the highhouse, there, rescued the suffering men on Staten island after much peril and delay. They were kindly nursed at the highhouse and then taken to Punta Arenas.

WOMAN KILLS HER CHILDREN

Mother Strangles Three and Then Tells Her Husband.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Mrs.
Bertha Mund, aged 27 years, early today strangled her three children, Christopher, aged 8 years; Helen, aged 2 years; and Freda, aged 8 months, to death at their home in Clinton street. Immediately after she went to the Pennsylvania railroad yards, where her husband is employed, and informed him of her action. Mrs.
Mund was arrested.

CHARGED WITH KILLING GIRL

Trial of Hale for Murder Begins at Blountville, Tenn.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 24.—The trial of Ack Hale, charged with the murder of Lillie Davis, was begun at Blountville, Tenn., today. Hale was indicted on the charge of murdering the girl in East Hill cemetery in Bristol, the night of March 27 last.

A bullet hole was in her breast and Hale said she committed suicide. He admitted having gone to the cemetery with her. He had paid her attentions. Her death occurred a few days preceding the date upon which she was to have married a wealthy coal operator, Hale's brother, Roy Hale, is under indictment on the charge of murder of J. I. Davis, a brother of Lillie Davis.

A probable theory in the Ack Hale case will be that he wanted to marry the girl because of testimony it was expected she would give in the trial of Roy Hale.

MILK HIGHER IN NEW YORK.
New York, Sept. 24.—Nine cents a quart will be charged for bottled milk instead of eight cents beginning Oct. 15. This unprecedented price for milk is explained as being due to an actual shortage in the supply, increased demands of the dairy farmers and the increased cost of bottling and delivering.

Dealings With Tidewater Pipe Company Told by Manager.

Standard Fixed Prices to be Paid for Crude Oil.

Pipe Company Never Consulted as to the Charges.

New York, Sept. 23.—More information concerning the contractual relations existing between the Tidewater Pipe company of Pennsylvania and the Standard Oil company was developed today when Robert Benson, general manager of the Tidewater company, was again called to the stand in the hearing of the federal suit against the Standard Oil company. Mr. Benson testified that the pipe line of the National Transit company, a subsidiary company of the Standard Oil, was not completed to the seaboard until after the pipe line of the Tidewater company had been completed to Constance Hook,
N. J. The witness said that on Oct.
9, 1888, the contract between the Tidewater company and the Standard Oil was ratified, whereby the oil business was divided between the two companies. Mr. Benson was questioned to some length concerning the various provisions of the contracts, which apportioned 88 1/2 per cent of the business to the Standard and 11 1/2 to the Tidewater company.
Mr. Benson said that the Standard fixed the price that the Tidewater should pay for its crude oil, and also fixed the price for oil refined for export.

"Were you consulted about the prices that you were to pay for crude oil?" asked Mr. Morrison, one of the government's counsel.
"No, sir, we were not," replied Mr.
Benson.

FOUR DROWNED FROM LAUNCH

Explosion of Gasoline Causes Disaster on the Ohio River.

Gallipolis, Ohio, Sept. 24.—While out in the Ohio river last night with a party of twenty-two men the gasoline tank on the yacht Blanche M. exploded. All those on board were thrown into the water and four were drowned. The lost were John Edwards of Gallipolis, J. R.
Simmons of Harrisville, W. Va.; F. H.
Brake, Harrisville, W. Va.; Willis Edwards of Gallipolis, Ohio, and secretary of the West Virginia congressional committee. None of the bodies have been recovered.

Harvey F. McGinnis of Harrisville and W. R. Marsee were badly burned.
The party from Harrisville had come here to buy a horse and to attend a big land sale and had gone out on the river for an evening's outing. How a person on the boat escaped death is a miracle. The explosion was caused, say a long falling from the roof of the yacht to the engine, igniting the gasoline.

A MYSTERIOUS DOUBLE MURDER

Two Young Men Found Dead in Hamilton, O., Hotel.

Hamilton, Ohio, Sept. 24.—A mysterious double suicide of two young men, apparently 23 and 28 years old, was discovered in a room at the St. Charles hotel last night. They ended their lives by inhaling gas and were found locked in each other's arms. From what could be learned the two suicides and a third man alighted from a traction car
Sunday night and went to the hotel, registering as John Leoniell, Ben Mar-see and Tom McLaughlin, but giving no addresses. The coroner decided that the suicides were probably John Leoniell and Tom McLaughlin. The third man, supposed to Marsee, has disappeared.

INFLUX OF CHINESE.

At Kingston, Jamaica, Causes the People to Take Exclusion Steps.

Kingston, Jamaica, Sept. 24.—The influx of Chinese here is a serious matter. One section of the press is urging the government to take steps to prevent their landing here, as being detrimental to local traders.
Kingston's city council has adopted a resolution calling on the government to amend the pauper alien immigration law so as to prohibit the entrance of undesirable foreigners. The resolution is aimed at the Chinese and Syrians, who it is said, are overrunning the island.

SUPERIOR NEWS

INJUNCTION WILL STAND

Judges Refuse to Modify The Grain Inspection Order.

Superior attorneys were notified today that the judges of the state supreme court, at Madison, had refused to modify the injunction preventing the Wisconsin grain inspectors from operating in the Great Northern and Globe elevators here and, therefore, the injunction will be binding in its full force until the final hearing in the case.

Arguments were made last week at Madison. The grain inspectors endeavored to have the injunction modified, on the strength of an order by the state supreme court, compelling the Great Northern to open its elevators to Wisconsin grain. The order is compulsory, but the failure to secure a modification of the injunction creates a situation whereby the Great Northern must open its elevators for the receipt of Wisconsin grain, but is not compelled to allow inspection of the grain by the Wisconsin inspectors.

The Globe Elevator company and the Great Northern opposed the motion to modify the injunction, and the victory in the case was won by the Wisconsin inspectors until the final hearing at least.

TO CONCLUDE CASE. Contest in Land Office Will Soon be Finished.

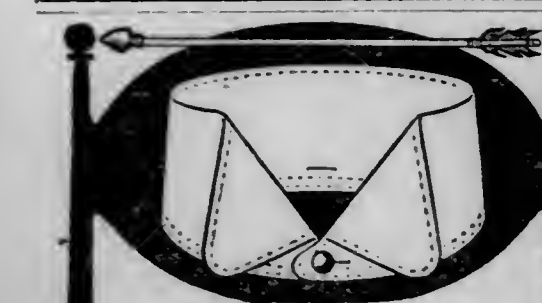

In the contest over the local United States land office, the case of John Kolar against Henry Erickson over a piece of land in township 63, range 22, was still being heard by Register Engle. The evidence for Kolar was all in the morning and this afternoon the defendant will introduce several witnesses. Register Engle expects the case will be concluded this afternoon, after which he will take it under advisement. Erickson claims that he filed on the land first last March, at which time the men was opened and claims that Kolar did not file for ten minutes afterwards. Kolar claims the land because of the fact that he had settled on it two years ago. If he can prove this prior settlement, he will have to give it up. Each applicant, who can prove prior settlement is given three months to file for the land after it is thrown open.

THE CLOSE WAS FIRM

Copper Shares Rally Well After a Weak Opening.

Some Slight Advances Were Made During the Day.

After a weak opening, caused by another decline in London spot copper, the copper stocks advanced today and closed firm. Rumored sales of 50,000,000 pounds of copper metal were a bullish factor, and it was reported that last week Copper Range Consolidated sold several hundred pounds of copper in four different lots at an average price of 15 1/2 cents a pound.

The trade does not look for any cut in the Anaconda dividend, which will probably be declared this week. The directors may meet this afternoon and decide upon it, although it is probable that the meeting will be postponed until later in the week, as many of the directors are not in New York today.

North Butte opened a little off at $49, advanced to $48 3/4 and declined to $48, closing about unchanged from yesterday at $48.50 bid and $49 asked. Amalgamated opened at $38 1/2, advanced to $39 and closed stronger than yesterday at $39 1/2 bid.

Butte Coalition opened at $15 1/2, advanced to $16 1/2 and closed at $16 bid and $16 3/4 asked. Calumet & Arizona opened at $11 1/2, sold at that price during the day and closed at $11 1/2 bid and $11 3/4 asked. Anaconda opened at $35 1/2, advanced to $36 1/2 and closed at $36 1/2 bid and $37 1/2 asked.

Globe Consolidated sold at $8, declined to $7 1/2, retorted to $8 and closed at $7 1/2 bid and $8 asked. Denn-Arizona at $4 1/2, bid and $4 3/4 asked, Warren at $5 bid and $5 1/2 asked. Nipissing at $1 1/2, bid and $1 3/4 asked, and Cliff at $1 1/2 bid and $1 3/4 asked.

Black Mountain sold at $4 1/2 and $4 3/4, bid and $4 1/2 bid and $4 3/4 asked.

Helmers Make Good Soldiers.
The army recruiters secured a new man for the service yesterday when Max Helmers, of this city, signed for the heavy coast artillery. Up to the present time for several years the young man has been engaged as a clerk. It is not often that Jews enter the army, but when they do they make very good soldiers, said Lieut. Decker. They are especially valuable as quartermasters and commissary sergeants.

Company Answers Barrow.
The answer to the Lexington Mining company in the damage suit brought against it and Joseph Sellwood, by John Barrow of Cleveland, was filed in the district court this morning. The company denies that Mr. Sellwood, acting as president and agent, ever converted the stock to the use of the defendants or that he sold it at a profit or otherwise. It is also alleged that at the time the action began and for some time prior to it Mr. Sellwood was not the president of the mining company.

Tomorrow Concludes Our Formal Opening

Although the spirit of progressiveness and fashion's demand for original designs makes us unmerciful critics of our own efforts, still we cannot but feel that we have scored a triumph this Fall. That statement may sound egotistical but seeing is believing and it's your privilege to judge for yourself.

SUITS Prominent among our suits are the "Barrymore," Fluffy Rutile, Military and Conservative 50 and 52-inch coat models. Broadcloths, serges, chevots and handsome mannish worsteds are a few of the materials. The colorings of which are the season's dark rich tones, or the newly invented shades which are usually distinctive on account of their stylish oddity. Prices $25.00, $29.50, $35.00, $40.00 and up to $125.00.

SKIRTS The separate skirts are very attractive this Fall, being of the various plaited styles which still hold high sway. The much-used bands and foot folds are pretty and add materially to the "Hang" of the perfect skirt. Our New Broadcloths with their highly lustrous finish are very rich and attractive. The selections of pretty voiles are "simply great"—while the trim Panamas are very stylish and durable. Prices $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 and up to $45.00.

AUTUMN WAISTS In beginning to speak of the waists as a whole, one is perplexed as to where to begin, as this is so broad a topic as to demand numerous subdivisions. However, we will say that the severe tailored lines are very "chic"—in plain woollens and taffetas are neat and serviceable. The handsome plaided and striped taffetas in wool batistes are ultra stylish, durable and dressy—while the fancy evening waists are dreams of loveliness. Our prices range all the way from $3.50 to $25.00.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Chicago scientists are deeply interested in the results of two years' exhaustive research upon cancer in Chicago by Dr. G. Cooke Adams of London and formerly of Australia, just made public here through the department of health. Dr. Adams has proved conclusively that diet plays a most important factor in the increase of the disease and its death rate.

The death rate among the foreign-born from cancer in Chicago is rapidly increasing. The German and Irish show the highest death rate from cancer in the world, nearly 300 per cent higher than in their native countries. The Italians and Chinese maintain the lowest death rate of all from cancer, as is shown in their own countries.

Concerning his researches, Dr. Adams says: "My statistical investigations in Europe, Great Britain and in the United States of America, fully corroborate my earlier Australian observations. The increase of cancer and its death rate in the United States, particularly among the foreign-born inhabitants, is alarming. The mortality of the foreign-born being far in excess of the death rate of the native born, and contributing the greatest part toward the generally high mortality. The increase in cancer mortality may be demonstrated by a study of the vital statistics of any large American city."

In Chicago, from 1856 to 1896, there was an increase in the death rate from cancer of 800 per cent; while from 1896 to 1906, the increase was 232 per cent. In 1896, but 1 in each 1,000 deaths was from cancer; in 1906 this had increased to 1 in each 134; in 1907, it was 1 in 22 deaths. In 1906, 1 death in every 218 was due to this disease.

The same statistics plainly show the terrible mortality among the foreign-born residents of Chicago, particularly among the Germans, Irish, Scandinavians and Slavonians. The

BRYAN MAY STEP ASIDE

In Favor of Gov. Johnson for Presidential Nomination.

Illinois Democrats Tout Minnesotan as the Best Candidate.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Montana and New York came together in Chicago yesterday and discussed Democratic national politics. Governor James K. Toole, the Democratic executive of Montana, was present, and also Bryan, who is for Bryan if he wants to make a third race for the presidency.

"Otherwise Montana is strictly and strongly for Governor John A. Johnson," said Governor Toole with emphasis. "If Johnson is nominated he will be elected."

New York was represented in Chicago yesterday by Secretary John A. Johnson, who ran ahead of any other candidate in the Democratic Independent league ticket last November, and who is neither a Hearst man nor a satellite of Mr. Murphy and Tammany.

With the proper leadership, New York will be Democratic next year, said Secretary Johnson. "Much has been said of the boom for Lieutenant Governor Chandler of our state. I know nothing of it. Mr. Hearst, from my information, desires no office. Mr. Bryan has no personal following to speak of here, and is at least not enough to insure him the New York delegation."

These representatives of widely separated sections of the country gave indication that the Democratic national campaign is reaching the point where something decisive indicating the probable nominee of the party is to develop in the immediate future.

Governor Toole, who has twice been elected governor of his state, carried it in 1904 by 10,000, while Roosevelt carried the electoral ticket through by the same margin.

"My understanding is," said Governor Toole, "that President Roosevelt is the choice of Montana Republicans for the presidency again, and they will be for him if he will say the word. Otherwise they will favor Secretary Taft, believing him to be the proper exponent of Roosevelt's Republicanism."

The remarks which were made both by the Montana governor and the New York governor being considered much more seriously as a possible Democratic candidate than has been believed generally.

It became known in Chicago yesterday that close friends of the Democratic state leaders in Illinois have been "tipped off" to the effect that Johnson is the man to tie up to.

This is true, especially in Southern Illinois, and certain friends of National Committeeman Sullivan declared yesterday that a strong boom for Johnson in Illinois will be formally and enthusiastically opened at the state fair next week.

What Congressmen Rainey, M. P. Dunlap and the Bryan leaders believe from what they hear at Springfield, that Mr.

Bryan will have trouble in securing the Illinois delegation as against Governor Johnson, is practically certain. That Mr. Bryan will issue a statement a short time later, informing the Democrats of the nation that he is not and never has been, a candidate for a third nomination, declared a prominent Democrat yesterday who is not linked with the Roger C. Sullivan faction in Illinois Democracy.

Under such circumstances all political eyes are pointing state-farward with the prospect that more actual state and national politics will develop at Springfield than has been the case at any previous agricultural and horticultural exposition.

The Republicans of Cook county probably will have decided upon a course of action as to the governorship, the official opening of the presidential boom for Governor Cannon is scheduled for one of the big events of the week, and congressional and legislative politics will have their initial lining.

WILL PADDLE HIS OWN CANOE

City Attorney Tells Council Not to Interfere in Prosecutions.

City Attorney Fessler proposes to prosecute violations of the Sunday closing which he will decide upon himself hereafter, and he told the council so, in a emphatic manner last evening.

During the discussion of the revoking licenses and the penalty for violation something was said which led Mr. Fessler to state that he was not conducting prosecutions properly. In a considerable heat the city attorney arose to his feet and remarked that he felt under no obligation to disclose to the council how he would prosecute cases hereafter. He intimated that he had been requested by certain councilmen to withdraw prosecutions in some cases and to prosecute under the city ordinance in others.

One alderman had told him that he never even saw the resolution submitted by the committee on police and license, although he is a member of the committee and it was intimated that City Clerk Cheadle drew up the resolution for the committee.

"Checkers" Friday and Saturday.

Cheer up! "Checkers" is coming back.

Another Kick From East Fourth Street.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I see the council wants to require the street railway company to use a special pattern of rail in future construction in Duluth; that they will demand a double track to be built on the West Third street line and West Fourth street line, so that large cars can be used on those lines, and that they will demand a 10-minute service on the West Fourth street line, but never a word is said about the work of the street railway company know that in later years they have been putting in the very best type of construction and there seems no ground for complaint on this source. The council may have the right to designate a certain pattern of rail to be used, although we doubt it, but even if the council has this right, we cannot see what would be gained by arbitrarily fixing a pattern of rail when the tendency of the company is to use the best, and every time they have made a change recently it has been for a better and heavier kind of rail. If the company were left alone in this matter they would probably use in their own interests the very best rail they could obtain, and I note that they claim that they are now contemplating using a better rail in their next construction than that designated by the council. This ordinance seems to us entirely unnecessary for and not in the interest of progress.

As regards a 10-minute service on the West Fourth street line, we have been surprised that the company continues to operate that line at all. About only traffic this line gets is what it receives between Sixth avenue east and Superior street, and if we had satisfactory service on East Fourth street, this portion of the West Fourth street traffic would necessarily have to be taken care of.

So far as building a double track so that large cars can be operated on the West Third street line, it is generally understood that the company was very prompt to realize the benefit to itself from a line to the new steel plant, and the surveys are now at work on the proposed line. It seems that the council, instead of passing ordinance directing the company to do what it is apparently doing as rapidly as it can, would devote their attention to fixing up the bridges and the street so that the company would be able to carry out its plans.

The plan to build a double track on the West Fourth street line, which is a double track, will undoubtedly be a double track of the best construction all the way out Third street, and judging from the present actions of the company and the Twin City company, with which it is closely connected, there is no question but what the construction and equipment will be the best that can be secured. It seems to us on East Fourth street that while the company has made great improvement in every direction, it has not given us as good service as we are entitled to, but we realize that the company cannot make any improvement until we have a double track on that line, and it will only be a short time until our line will have the double track cars. If the council can do anything to hurry that time forward it would seem to be a great deal more important than passing such ordinances as referred to above.

CONCERNING A WOMAN.

One receives so many of one's impressions and ideas from the ages, without bothering in the least to change them, that the thrills of ecstasy that must necessarily have agitated Eve is a thing that the woman of today can scarcely imagine. Think of experiencing everything for the first time. Think of not having a precedent established to which one feels in duty bound to conform. After visiting a series of fall openings, that are, of course, entirely different from any that have ever been held before, it is so relieved to meet one's friends, and exclaim: "Aren't the things perfectly beautiful?"

"Yes, indeed they are," says one's friend. "But the prices?" "Aren't they awful?" one inquires. "I saw a hat," says one's friend, "that was a hundred dollars! Think of it, a hundred dollars! I would not buy things, that's all," says one. "But they are pretty," says one's friend.

And so on. But think of the difference when Eve came home from that first fall opening, as she cast herself disconsolately down beside him who blamed her for all his sorrows. One can faintly hear her say, with tears in her voice: "Adam! What do you think? They are not showing a thing but scarlet and golden yellow. Think of it! Imagine me, if you can, in scarlet—with my hair, or yellow, or blue, or any other color but scarlet or golden yellow. Why, I'll look as if I—well, I just can't and won't wear it, that's all. Of course there are still a few green leaves left, but I am so sick and tired of this suit that I would be willing to wear almost anything else except, of course, scarlet or yellow. Why, Adam! I can't wear those colors. But, of course, you wouldn't care if I looked a perfect frump. One would think you would have some pride in your wife's appearance. But red and yellow! Oh, Adam!"

And one can imagine Eve lapsing into tears and appearing a week later in a kind of a high and dry, of scarlet, maple leaves and a rakish little cap effect of the same, and triumphantly explaining to the person provided for her to talk to: "Adam, don't you like it awfully well. You see nobody ever thought it possible to wear scarlet with red hair. But I think it's nice, don't you? And so unusual, too, don't believe there'll be another in this diseased like it."

But, of course, of course, this all happened after the fall moving from paradise.

GEORGE HAMLIN

To Sing Before Matinee Musicales Nov. 11.

The date for the recital by the widely known American tenor, George Hamlin, who will sing in Duluth under the auspices of the Matinee Musicales, has been set for Nov. 11. The members of the society are delighted at having secured Mr. Hamlin for the recital, as he is one of the most artistic and satisfying singers before the public. Of him the current number of the Musical Leader and Concert Goez says:

"Mr. Hamlin is first of all possessed of great musicalship and then is a great tenor. He has a broad range of scholarship and general education, all of which have combined to place him in a position that is almost unique. Mr. Hamlin has material for any kind of recital demanded by a musical audience and he is a recognized authority in oratorio and German lieder. He has at his command no less than eight oratorios and cantatas, 200 German, French and Italian songs, and 225 English songs."

"He is one of the few American singers of international fame, since he duplicated in Germany, France and England his success in Duluth and here, and his popularity is a broad range of scholarship and general education, all of which have combined to place him in a position that is almost unique. Mr. Hamlin has material for any kind of recital demanded by a musical audience and he is a recognized authority in oratorio and German lieder. ### TESTIMONY INTRODUCED

Witness Claims Conway Accepted Invitation to Hit Mahar.

Says That Mahar Did Not Want to Fight.

L. W. Nichols, manager North End Coal company.
R. Harvey, marine engineer.
Tom P. Road, coal dock laborer.
Thomas F. Covey, longshoreman.
Donald M. Morrison, merchant tailor.
Ernest A. Smidgen, grocery clerk.
S. J. Edlund, grocery clerk.
Anson Z. Hanford, publisher's agent.
William A. Eden, cigar dealer.
Samuel T. Hamilton, mining man.
Myron J. Beals, harnessmaker.
Friedrich Wirth, butcher.

The above named twelve men were selected yesterday afternoon to try the case of the State of Minnesota against Barney Conway, who is indicted for manslaughter in the third degree.

Sixteen men were examined as to their qualifications to sit in the case as jurors.

Three were excused under the defendant's right of pre-emptory challenge, after the court had found the challenges for actual bias not true. One man was excused for actual bias.

Although a jury was not chosen until nearly 5 o'clock, the usual closing hour of court, the session in the Conway case lasted until 6 o'clock last evening, one witness, Leonard Lindberg, testifying for the state.

Conway, who was driver of a brewery wagon, was in an altercation with Michael Mahar on Garfield avenue the morning of Labor day, and struck the latter between the eyes. Mahar died from the effects of the blow.

The case is being prosecuted by County Attorney Norton and Second Assistant County Attorney Otto C. Polier of Virginia. Conway is defended by W. E. Cullen, who also defended Fred M. Argyle when the latter was tried for assaulting Bessie Borchert and one of the witnesses, Leonard Lindberg, testified for the state.

Leonard Lindberg, a youth residing on Garfield street, was the first witness to claim that he witnessed the whole affair. Lindberg claimed that Hans Nicholson, a friend of Conway's, had been the principal disturber, that he slapped Mahar in the face several times. The witness said that during the quarrel Nicholson shouted to Conway: "Ain't you going to hit him?"

On this invitation, Conway, the witness said, got down from his wagon and struck Mahar.

Lindberg testified that he did not see Conway kick Mahar, but claimed that he did see Conway strike Mahar several blows in the region of the stomach after the latter was down.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Cullen, Lindberg stated that he saw Mahar raise his hand at his head, which action seemed taken more to ward off than to strike a blow.

The witness claimed to have heard Mahar make the remark: "I don't want to fight. I am going home."

The testimony was to be resumed at 9:30 o'clock this morning. The state has several witnesses for examination. It is probable that the case will not be submitted to the jury until the end of the week.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Inasmuch as corroboration is lacking, and probably not obtainable, former Governor Taylor of Kentucky does not attach much value to the affidavit of Mrs. Lulu Clark, charging John Sanford and Turner Igo with the murder of Senator Gabel.

At an early hour Monday morning the home of James Dossett, near Oakland City, Ind., was burned to the ground, and Dossett's 2-month-old child perished in the flames. Dossett and his wife were carried to the flames badly burned, and died later.

The three will be buried in one grave. The treasurer of the Haughman Manufacturing company at Waterloo, Iowa, was waylaid by robbers late yesterday afternoon and shot because he refused to surrender $1,000 in currency, which he was carrying to the factory of the company. He escaped with the money.

A posse headed by Sheriff Lenart and his entire force of deputies is pursuing Max Minnie, who is charged with cutting out the tongues of eight horses, near St. Joseph, Mich. Minnie has twice been sighted by the posse and shot at, but none of the bullets struck him.

NEWS FROM THE WEST END

WILL BUILD TWO HOTELS

Rapid Growth of the West End Renders Them Necessary.

Long List of Other Improvements Under Way.

Two new hotels are to be erected in the West end in the near future, one at Twenty-eighth avenue west and Superior street and another at Twenty-ninth avenue west.

Many other new buildings are projected for that part of the city and there is a host of them that are in the course of construction at the present time.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new hotel at Twenty-eighth avenue, which, it is understood, is being financed by the Duluth Brewing & Malting company. The new hotelery will contain about sixty rooms. It has become apparent yet weeks behind the hotel venture at Twenty-ninth avenue west. This new place will contain about fifty-two rooms.

The completion of the Clyde Iron Works plant, which will probably employ about 300 men, and the coming of another railroad, in addition to the natural growth of the western part of the city, has induced capital to erect new living places for the workers.

Other building improvements are going on apace. Fred Erickson has had plans drawn for a $5,000 residence, which he will have erected at the corner of Twenty-fourth avenue west and Fourth street.

John Fredrickson has just completed a double house at the corner of Twenty-third avenue west and Fourth street. A. N. Hopkins and R. D. Haven are having their houses on Twenty-eighth avenue west made over into double residences.

David Adams, who has probably built more houses in the West end than any other man, has just sold two more of his houses. One was disposed of to Fred Holloway and the other to Oliver J. LaBrec. The consideration was $2,500. These make twelve houses of his own that Mr. Adams has sold since the middle of April. He has built nine houses this summer and expects to have a few more up before the snow flies.

A double store at the corner of Twenty-fourth avenue west and Superior street is now nearing completion. It is a three new, four-story house on First street, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues west, will soon be ready for occupancy.

A TRIAL OF CUTICURA PROVED SUCCESSFUL

"About four years ago I had a very severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I was taken very ill and was soon in a high fever. I did not leave my bed for four long weeks. For three of those months I could not move voluntarily, the pain was so intense. My skin peeled, and the hair fell out in bunches. I also had three large bed sores on my back, which were very painful and one of the sores I could have cried the first time I saw myself in a mirror. I had lost fully thirty-six pounds, and looked like a consumptive. I did not gain very rapidly, and my appetite was very poor. When I was able to get around, I had all my friends advising remedies, and all guaranteed 'sure cures.' I tried many, but they were of little help, and until I tried Cuticura I had had no real relief. That gave me such an appetite that I felt half starved about all the time, and I immediately began to gain in weight, my complexion cleared, and I felt better. The bed sores went very soon after a few applications of Cuticura Ointment, and when I used Cuticura Soap as a shampoo and Cuticura Ointment as a massage, my hair began to regain its former glossy appearance. I am really all made over, and cannot say enough for the Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Lavina J. Henderson, 108 Ross street, New Bedford, Conn., March 6 and 12, 1907."

THOUGHT HE WAS DEAD.

Relatives of Sick Man Give Doctor Bad Score.

John Bjornat of 2927 Helm street is confined to his home by an attack of acute inflammation of the stomach. Dr. Greeley was called to attend him when he was first taken sick, Sunday night. The physician prescribed for him and left him resting easily. A short time after he had left the Bjornat residence, the doctor received a message from the sick man's relatives saying that he was near death and that the doctor had better make another visit at once. Remembering the condition he had left him in, the doctor assured the anxious relatives that the young man would be all right. He said it was his duty to come just then, that he was busy with another case. That seemed to satisfy the relatives.

After the doctor had disposed of his second case and returned to his home, he received a frantic telephone call from the Bjornat home. The brother of the sick man was speaking at the telephone.

"My brother is dead," he said. "What?" ejaculated the surprised doctor. "You don't mean to tell me that's that?" said the sorrowful brother. "He is dead. And you said he would be all right," he added bitterly.

The brother was positive that John was dead, yet the physician could hardly believe it. He was still wondering when the telephone bell rang again. It was the brother again.

"Say, doc," he said, "My brother is better now and he wants something to eat. Wish you would come up and see him."

"But I thought you were positive that he was dead," said the doctor. "That he was mistaken in the matter," was the reply.

So Dr. Greeley hustled to the Bjornat home and found the invalid much improved. His relatives had become alarmed when he did not for a moment answer the anxious inquiries about his condition. They mistook a natural course of sickness for a fatal relapse. Mr. Bjornat's condition is now much improved.

No More Saloons. Great satisfaction is being expressed in the West end today over the defeat of the movement to extend the patrol limits to Twenty-fourth avenue west on Superior street. The patrol limit at present is Twenty-third avenue west, but some of the saloons in the Brewery who must vacate on account of the Wisconsin Central road, were anxious to go in that block. However, the city council turned the proposition down.

West enders were greatly opposed to more saloons in the West end and the extension of the territory in which they are at present permitted to flourish. "The West end has plenty of saloons now," said one man today.

West End Shortfalls. Miss Editha Jensen, who has been visiting in the West end this summer, has returned to Minneapolis, where she is going to attend special courses at the University of Minnesota.

Oscar Fremstead of West Tenth street has returned from Portland, Or., where he has been for the past six months. He likes the West very much and expects to remove there with his family, before winter.

Frank Waters of Two Harbors spent the week-end with friends in Duluth. He is now residing here, but is now in the employ of the Duluth & Iron Range, running out of Duluth.

Duluth Observatory, No. 23, North Star benefit association will hold a meeting this evening at the Duluth music store, 1925 West Superior street. Much business of importance will come up for consideration.

The ladies' aid society of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Mortensen, 2224 West Fifth street. The society will then select officers to serve during the ensuing year.

Miss Hilda Peterson was elected president of the Women's Foreign Mission society of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church at the annual meeting held last evening. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Mrs. Hilda Peterson; secretary, Mrs. Hartwick Hanson; treasurer, Mrs. Kate Peterson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. O. Roppe. Mrs. P. L. Mortensen, the retiring president of the society, could not be induced to consider another term. All contributions for the year were received.

A. Lofgren, the West end druggist, and his brother, Charles Lofgren, of Ada, Minn., have returned from International Falls, Minn., in the neighborhood of which place they have been looking at land, with the idea of purchasing.

Members of the different Swedish singing societies and choirs, who are to take part in the big Wennerberg concert in this city Nov. 6, met last evening for rehearsal at Bethany Swedish Lutheran church. Prof. Olsson, an alumnus of the Royal Academy of Music, Stockholm, was elected chorus director; Prof. K. A. Ostergren, chairman; and Capt. Swenson, secretary. The meeting last evening was well attended and it is thought that a splendid chorus will be developed for the concert, which is to raise funds for a Wennerberg monument in this city.

The Epworth league of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church will hold a literary meeting this evening in the parlors of the church. A number of readings, recitations and vocal instrumental musical numbers will be given.

Rev. C. G. Olson, 2305 West Third street, is entertaining the Epworth league of the Epworth league of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church.

Lowering skies and pattering rain drops yesterday proved but a foil for the brightness and elegance that reigned in the second floor millinery parlors. Duluth has never before had such an array of millinery. The women that came yesterday, despite the rain, saw and approved—acknowledged our leadership. And it is deserved. For weeks the planning and building of this autumn display has been engaging the time of experts long trained in millinery art, and the success of their efforts is apparent. ### Of Attempt to Transfer Control of the Illinois Central.

New York, Sept. 24.—Stuyvesant Fish, former president of the Illinois Central railroad, in a circular to the stockholders of the road, says among other things:

"For some time past there has been an effort to place the control of your corporation in the hands of those dominating the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific companies. I have felt it my duty to oppose this effort in order to loyally discharge my obligations of trusteeship to the Illinois Central. The policy of your company, operating as it does a north and south system running athwart the general trend of traffic (which is on east and west lines), has been to deal with each of its connections to the best advantage without making any exclusive traffic alliance. Your railroad serves a territory of great productiveness, and has more tonnage to deliver to its connections than they can return to it. This, as I explained at length to the stockholders at their meeting last year would make its control of exceptional value to any controlling interest. Such as the Union Pacific or Southern Pacific, which the Illinois Central can be said to have secured at Omaha, as well as at New Orleans. On the other hand, if the Illinois Central is to serve the best purposes and secure the largest revenue to its shareholders, its independence should be maintained to the end that it shall receive the largest measure of tonnage in return for the great volume produced along its lines."

ALBERTA SETBACK.

Crop Damage in Canadian Northwest Discouraging to Settlers.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. A. Morrison, superintendent of the street railway system of Edmonton, Alberta, Can., who is visiting here says that much damage is being done to the crops of Alberta on account of the early frost. In many cases the farmers will suffer almost a total loss. For the last two years the country has been boasting on the strength of the large crops. Edmonton increased in population from 2,000 to 15,000 in several years. Municipal improvements of all kinds were made and general prosperity prevailed. The people living there were not thoroughly discouraged with the adversity that has come upon them and are anxious to sell out their property interests and move to a more favored part of the country.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO THE LADIES OF DULUTH.

A great demonstration of E. Burnham's Toilet Requisites is to take place in this city at Mattix drug stores, Lyceum Pharmacy, Lenox Drug Store, from Sept. 23rd to Oct. 5th, which is being given for the purpose of teaching the ladies of this city how to use E. Burnham's celebrated toilet requisites in the privacy of their own homes with equally as good success as if they had visited his celebrated beautifying parlors at 79-72 State street, Chicago, where he employs upwards of two hundred people for demonstrations alone.

E. Burnham is the largest toilet and hair goods manufacturer in the world, doing upwards of a million and a half dollars worth of business per annum, and employs in his wholesale and retail over four hundred people.

His demonstrations create a sensation among the ladies wherever they go for the simple reason that they demonstrate and prove to the ladies that E. Burnham's Toilet Requisites will do all that is claimed for them.

They guarantee to take any lady, regardless of her complexion, and improve her looks from 25 to 100 per cent. If you are at all skeptical on this point it is to your interest to call at Mattix drug stores and see this demonstrator face to face, who is direct from Chicago.

She is not like the ordinary demonstrators who have been visiting our city, who merely tell us what they can do, but will take any lady with freckles, moth patches, discolored skin, pimples or blackheads, and remove them, and will clear her face, putting it into a youthful, healthy condition.

This demonstration is given privately so the ladies need have no fear of having their public anything that is done for them.

They also have a booklet which is fully illustrated. Here is the opinion of this celebrated toilet articles. These booklets will be given out as well as samples, free, during her stay in this city. You are all invited to call.

LID ISSUE LIVE TOPIC

Temperance Questions About Only Business Before Council.

Extension of Patrol Limits Refused—Mayor's Letter Considered.

"We regret the persistent efforts of the mayor to shift the responsibility for the enforcement of the law upon the council and recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the council reaffirms the self evident truth that it is the function of the executive rather than the legislative municipal body to enforce the law of the city but that the council stands ready to investigate each conviction of violation of the Sunday closing law. It is our opinion, however, that the power vested in the council to revoke licenses is so vested for the purpose of reaching extreme cases, and that until in the judgment of the trial court the offender should receive more than the minimum penalty provided by law, it is not incumbent upon this council to take action."

Resolved further, That in the opinion of this council, if persistent efforts should be made by the executive department for the closing of saloons on Sunday, said result could be obtained without resorting to the extreme measure of revoking licenses."

The above resolution recommended by the committee on police and license was presented to the council meeting last evening and was finally left over for another week without action. It is practically a reiteration of the well known attitude of the council upon the question of the revoking of licenses and the enforcement of the liquor laws, and while there was lengthy discussion of the mayor's recent communication to the council asking co-operation, things shifted around to just where they started at the close of the session so far as any action of the council upon his appeal was concerned.

The meeting was to all intents and purposes a temperance meeting and the attendance of spectators, the largest in several months. The resolution introduced at the last meeting of the council by Alderman Jordan for extending the patrol limits for the sale of liquor beyond Twenty-fourth avenue west was defeated and the temperance people scored a victory. Several residents of the district about Twenty-fourth avenue west, and present, expressed their opposition to the extension and a determined fight to head off any proposed extensions was evidently the determination of those interested.

Patrol Limits Extension.

The resolution left over last week for the extension of the patrol limits to Twenty-fourth avenue west was brought up and Alderman Staples was of the opinion that in the absence of Alderman Jordan, father of the resolution, the matter should be left over. Alderman Haven called attention to the fact that there was a number of temperance people present interested in and he was of the opinion that the matter should be taken up and acted upon. Z. D. Scott of the Scott-Craft lumber company spoke briefly, but decisively, against the proposed extension. He thought that the interests of the residents of that section should be protected and that no more temptations should be placed in the pathway of the young man than they have to contend with now. "I am frequently called upon to help living poor fellows out who in the company's employ and who is addicted to the use of liquor. I do not want dates increased along this line. We have saloons enough out there," remarked Mr. Scott. He asked the council to deny this extension from a business standpoint, stating that it would have a bad effect upon the men working for the company, and their homes.

J. I. Moo of the firm of Johnson & Moo spoke briefly against granting the extension. He spoke of the young men growing up in that part of the city and of the bad influences of the saloons. "I most sincerely hope that this extension will not be granted," he remarked, in closing an earnest appeal for the protection of residents of the West end.

Alderman Moore spoke against granting the extension. He dwelt with emphasis upon the bad influences which would surround the young men of that section of the city if more saloons were permitted to locate there. "What we want to do is to limit this evil, not extend it," he exclaimed with fervor, as he closed his remarks against the extension.

A motion to hold the matter over another week was lost by a vote of 8 to 4, and upon a final vote the granting of the extension lost by a vote of 8 to 4. The temperance people left soon after the defeat of the extension was announced.

The Mayor's Communication.

Mayor Cullum's appeal to the council to assist him in enforcing the liquor laws was next considered, and for an hour the council beat about the bush, suggesting resolutions and substitutes, until finally Alderman Haven arose and remarked: "I think this subject is like boy's play, and we had better do something, not pile up a lot more resolutions upon this subject, but let us get down to the committee, upholding the validity of this article. It provided that in case a party is convicted of selling liquor without a license, his license is to be revoked. Alderman Moore spoke at length upon the subject of supporting the mayor in his attitude, and expressed the opinion that the council should stand by him. Alderman McEwen took the same attitude, expressing the opinion that the council would be judged by actions, not by the number and tenor of resolutions passed by that body."

Spoke of the supreme court decision effecting the revoking of licenses,

Alderman Haven was of the opinion that if two or three licenses were revoked, as an object lesson, there would be no further difficulty.

Nearly all of the aldermen spoke on the subject, and while the sentiment as expressed was to offer the mayor, as chief executive, every support, the final outcome of the discussion was simply to reiterate the attitude expressed in times past by the council.

Reports on the National Conference of Municipalities.

Mayor Cullum returned Sunday from Norfolk, Va., where he went to attend the national conference of municipalities and his report to the council delivered in person last evening was highly interesting. The delegates were royally entertained in the historic city of Virginia and their stay made pleasant by trips to Hampton Roads, inspection of Uncle Sam's battleships and tour of the sound and bay.

The discussion of the taxation of franchises was one of the important matters considered. Representatives of many different cities, each with somewhat different methods of taxation and municipal management of affairs, made the plans and suggestions offered wide and varied in scope.

Mayor Cullum stated that he was pleased to find that Duluth, in comparison with other cities, is being conducted as economically as any of them, so far as the expenses of running the city were concerned.

Several cities in the United States are receiving comparatively no revenue from the taxation of street railways. Toronto has received $500,000 from the street railway company there and Montreal has been financially strengthened to the amount of $200,000 from the taxation of the railway franchise, but other cities are less fortunate.

Municipal ownership was another important matter discussed. The ownership of public utilities was favored generally by the representatives of leading cities.

The civic federation was organized by the late Senator Mark Hanna, and investigation of municipalities and public utilities conducted along systematic lines by men who were experts in divers lines. It was their final opinion and recommendation to the league that the municipal ownership of a lighting plant, water plant and other public utilities is practicable and a wise solution of the problem of civic organization.

The next place of meeting will be Omaha. Duluth was flatteringly mentioned as the location for the next convention and ranked fourth in favor in the voting.

The mayor's report was well received and heartily applauded.

DECISION AFFIRMED

Penalty Against Great Northern for Rebating Held Valid.

Court Says Hepburn Act is Mandatory and Not Repealing.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 24.—In an opinion announced yesterday by the United States circuit court of appeals sitting in Denver the judgment of the district court of Minnesota against the Great Northern railroad in the rebate cases was practically affirmed. The court holds that the Hepburn act is a mandatory act and not a repealing act, that insofar as it repeats or reproduces the mandate of the Elkins act, it continues them in force and makes no break in the law, and that insofar as it omits or changes provisions of the Elkins act it repeals.

In the granting of rebates, which was admitted by the Great Northern at the trial, and the only question presented by the defendant was whether the Elkins act of 1893 making it an offense and fixing punishment for granting rebates was repealed by the Hepburn act of 1895 in such a way that thereafter there could be no prosecution of offenses committed prior to the repeal.

The district court ruled against the contention of the railway company and hence the appeal to the circuit court of appeals.

The circuit court of appeals holds that the special saving clause in the Hepburn act does not mention the particular subject of the general saving clause in section 3 of the revised statute of the United States and as the special saving clause can have reasonable purpose and operation without infringing upon the provisions of the general saving clause it does not repeal the latter. Thus the decision results in the affirmation of the judgment of the district court although in some respects the circuit court of appeals declines to follow or accept the reasoning of the district court.

The decision was written by Judge Vanderventer and concurred in by Judges Ames and Riner. The case originally was a criminal procedure against the Great Northern Railway company in the district court of the United States for Minnesota and the offenses charged in the indictment consisted of granting rebates upon each of fifteen distinct carload shipments of corn and oats shipped by a dealer in Minneapolis to St. Paul during April, May, June and July, 1906.

The schedule of the railway at that time fixed the rate upon the commodities at 50 cents per 100 pounds, and the rebates granted consisted of allowances ranging from 15 to 25 cents per 100 pounds. The maximum fine in this case is $20,000 for each offense and there are over a dozen cases of great importance awaiting the result of the decision handed down today, notably four Kansas City cases in which the Armour, Cudahy, Swift and Morris packing companies were each fined $15,000 for accepting rebates.

St. Paul, Sept. 24.—United States District Attorney Haupt when informed of the decision of the circuit court at Denver, gave the following statement of the Great Northern railway case and its bearing on other cases now pending before the court at Denver.

"This case was one in which the Great Northern was indicted for giving a concession to McCull and Dishmore of Minneapolis, and to the W. P. Davenport company of Minneapolis, in shipping of oats and corn to Seattle for shipment to the Philippines.

"The question passed upon is of supreme importance, not alone in this case, but it involves the right to prosecute any and all cases for the giving of rebates.

"The validity of the Standard Oil company fine of $25,000,000 depends in large measure on this decision, for it will have an almost controlling influence in the decision of the court of appeals in the Chicago district, where the Standard Oil company appeals on exactly similar grounds. If the decision had been otherwise it would have stopped all prosecutions in the Eighth district for rebates, concessions, etc.

"The Great Northern company here and the Standard Oil company in Chicago claim that section 19 of the Hepburn law contained a provision which granted immunity for all offenses committed prior to the passage of the Hepburn law, except those cases in which indictments had been found when the law went into effect.

"In other words that section 19 of the Hepburn law had the effect to repeal section 1 of the Elkins law. In this respect the decision is a great victory for the government and all other cases pending in Minnesota for giving rebates, against the other railroad companies will be prosecuted to a conclusion.

"There were four indictments against the Great Northern Railway company and in this particular indictment the road practically pleaded guilty, but took the ground that the government had no right to prosecute under the law.

"There are eleven indictments of this same nature in this district and all of them will be saved by this decision.

"The Omaha road, one of these defendants, was fined $20,000 and the Wisconsin Central $17,000 and both these cases have gone to the circuit court of appeals on this same point and other points."

OBJECTS TO THE ORDINANCES

Manager Warren Points Out Reasons for Not Passing Them.

A communication was received from the Duluth Street Railway company by the council last evening relative to three proposed ordinances affecting the company. The first referred to the one relative to the height and weight of rails to be laid by the company. The second ordinance referred to the one relative to the height and weight of rails to be laid by the company. The third ordinance referred to the one relative to the height and weight of rails to be laid by the company.

The second ordinance referred to the one relative to the height and weight of rails to be laid by the company. The third ordinance referred to the one relative to the height and weight of rails to be laid by the company.

The next ordinance demands a double track on our West Fourth street and West Third street lines. It must be known, or at least surmised, by your honorable body that we are now planning extensively on our West Fourth street line, which will include a double track of the best quality of construction. The only thing that stands in the way of improved service on that street is the condition of the tracks, which, if they are not soon repaired, will become unsafe for even the present small cars.

Referring to the double tracking of the West Fourth street line and a ten-minute service on the same, called for by the third ordinance, we beg to state that the traffic on that line does not warrant an increase in the service. The average number of passengers carried beyond Sixth avenue, east and Fourth street on up-bound trips is less than four, and the average on down-bound trips a fraction over two. We experimented with a ten-minute service on this line from April, 1905 to December, 1906, and found that the greater frequency did not materially increase patronage. With a ten-minute service we would have to run a car up for every two passengers, and down bound passengers would, if they distributed themselves equally, each have a private car.

We would be glad to show our record of passengers carried on this line to any committee on your honorable body. The building of this line was a mistake that we have always regretted, and the burden of operating it one that we have seriously considered throwing off by abandoning the line and taking up the rails. The route is such that a passenger after traveling nearly two miles finds himself within two blocks from the point of starting, consequently few able-bodied persons care to waste time to ride up and down the line. We have been making extensive improvements in our service and have further improvements in mind. We hope that your honorable body will not hand-icup us and discourage those who will have to furnish the money for the contemplated improvements by passing such ordinances as those now under consideration. We have such faith in your wisdom and judgment that we have little fear that these ordinances will be seriously considered, but nevertheless have thought it our duty to call your attention to them at this time. We trust that you will consider them carefully, and if you have any thought of passing any of them, give us an opportunity to be heard before taking final action.

Very respectfully yours,
H. W. WARREN,
General Manager.

RAILROAD TIRES OF CITY'S DELAY
Wants Jenswold Street Bridge Built as Soon as Possible.

The railroad bridge across Jenswold street must be built as soon as possible, according to a communication received from the Northern Pacific railroad by the council. The communication intimates that a contract was entered into by the city and railroad company, in September of 1902, in which it was stipulated that the bridge would be built within two years from that time. The company states in the communication that it entered into the contract in good faith, and expects the city to keep faith with it. The matter was referred to the proper committee, and the work will be planned for this fall or early in the spring of 1908.

SPORTS OF THE DAY

GOOD RACES AT BEMIDJI

SEASON ON RANGE ENDS

Beltrami County Fair Will Have Many Notable Features.

Some of the Fastest Horses in State Will Run This Week.

A. G. Rutledge, secretary of the Beltrami County Agricultural association, was in Duluth yesterday in connection with the Beltrami county fair, which will be held at Bemidji, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Mr. Rutledge predicts one of the biggest fairs in the history of Beltrami county, which is in the midst of the agricultural season of Northern Minnesota. In number and quality of exhibits, entertainment for visitors and general features, which go to make up a successful fair, Mr. Rutledge says the fair will be a notable one.

A good program of races has been arranged for Friday, Saturday and Sunday. They include a 3:00 class, 2:22 class, 2:28 class, 2:15 class, 2:40 class and free-for-all. The races will all be pace or trot and the purses run from $250 to $400. The association has reserved the right to call off any events not filled to the satisfaction of the officials and one or two of the events carded will probably be scratched and a 2:13 class added. There will also be some running races, to be arranged on the days of the races. It is expected the entries will include some of the fastest horses in the Northwest. For the 2:13 class and free-for-all, such speeders as Dr. D. (2:12 1/2), Little Jim (2:14 1/2), Budweiser (2:12 1/2), Shamrock (2:16 1/2), Miker (2:12 1/2), St. Croix (2:18 1/2), and Pat Ford (2:10), the latter a trotter, are probable. Dr. D., Budweiser and Little Jim had a great brush at Hibbing Saturday. Dr. D. finally winning out after the full five heats had been run. With those three horses brought together in the two events at Bemidji, with other fast horses, the visitors to the Beltrami fair will see some great racing.

Mike Maxwell of Eveleth will also be on hand with his well known pacer, Dick H. (2:29 1/2), and will send him against City Ron (2:24 1/2), Bessie Barolite (2:21 1/2), Bemidji Bill (2:29) and others. The other events will be filled out with horses from the Western part of the state and from the North Dakota towns. The 2:13 free-for-all will undoubtedly furnish the best sport, but with well matched horses in the other classes there will be no dearth of good racing every day of the fair.

The Hibbing baseball team, as it is at present constituted, has practically agreed to go to Bemidji for three games on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The Beltrami team will send its crack independent team against Brady's Colts and they expect to get a good rub. The Bemidji team has a good record among the amateur teams in the Western part of the state this season and the fans stand loyally behind it. The Hibbing crowd will be a big attraction and will add greatly to the entertainment, which the fair will furnish.

calling, while St. Louis' one defeat of Philadelphia was welcomed. This week, however, will see some changes in the standings. If Chicago can defeat Philadelphia two out of three, and Detroit can do likewise with Boston, the Tigers will again take the lead, and once they are in the fore again, it will be hard to displace them. Chicago still has a show and the victory in the series from Philadelphia would put the Sox well in the running. Cleveland is still in the game, but nothing more.

It looks as though the race will go along to the finish, without a decisive pennant winner being declared until some time next week. The season ends in the East a week from the coming Saturday and in the West the next day. The two weeks will be full of developments and the outcome of the game will not be allowed to drop their interest in the race before the finish.

CURES

S.S.S. BLOOD POISON

In no other disease is a thorough cleansing of the blood more necessary than in Contagious Blood Poison. The least particle of this insidious virus will multiply in the circulation and so thoroughly contaminate the blood that no part of the body will be exempt from the ravages of this powerful disease. Usually the first symptom is a little sore or ulcer, insignificant in itself, but soon the blood becomes so contaminated that the mouth and throat ulcerate, glands in the groin swell, hair and eye-brows come out, copper-colored spots appear on the body, and frequently sores and ulcers break out on the flesh to humiliate the sufferer. S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison by purifying the circulation. It attacks the disease in the right way by going down into the circulation, neutralizing and forcing out every particle of the poison, and making this fluid pure, fresh and health-sustaining. The improvement commences as soon as the patient gets under the influence of S. S. S., and continues until every trace of the disease is removed from the blood, and the sufferer completely restored to health. Not one particle of the poison is left for future out-breaks after S. S. S. has purged and purified the blood. Book on the home treatment of this disease and any medical advice desired free.

RAILROADS GREAT BOON TO DULUTH

Steel Corporation's New Line Will Solve Big Problem.

It is expected that the railroad to be constructed by the Steel Corporation from the site of its plant on Spirit Lake in Minnesota to Lake Superior in Wisconsin will prove the salvation of the Head of the Lakes. In the matter of handling freight after the steel plant and subsidiary plants have been started.

Without this line, local railroad men say, the freight congestion in the local yards would be worse than ever before at certain seasons of the year, for with the rapid growth of the city, commercially and industrially, and the lack of room for much greater terminal facilities than are at present in use, the different railroads would be up against a pretty big proposition when it came to take care of the freight, if it were not for some such line as is proposed by the Steel Corporation.

Low Rates in Effect. Chicago, Sept. 24.—At an all-day conference here between presidents of the Kansas railroads and their general counsel, it was decided to put the 2-cent rate into effect in Kansas, as ordered by the commission of that state recently, provided it can be done and still reserve the right of the roads to contest in the courts.

REGISTER AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Enrollment on the Opening Day—Shows Good Increase.

The sixth year of the Duluth normal school opened today with the registration of students. By noon there were about 110 registered, with prospects of the number increasing later today and during the remainder of the week. By next Monday it is expected the full enrollment for the year will be in. The number registered today compares favorably with that of last year, being considerably more than the opening day a year ago.

Although the fall term really opens today, the regular work will not be taken up until tomorrow, when the faculty and students will report for the opening. There are several changes in the faculty this year, but most of the former instructors remain.

The enrollment today includes a large representation of Duluth young people and numbers from other cities and towns in Northern Minnesota. The large enrollment offers a bright outlook for the normal, the registration having increased each year since the school was opened, six years ago.

By Lake Vessels Without Proper Papers a Common Custom.

Dr. Murray will advise the state health department that the custom of shipping bodies by steamer and carrying on the lakes, without the proper papers, is likely to cause the spread of disease, or at least that it is not according to the laws governing the transportation of bodies.

A vessel recently arrived with a body of a young child, and all that accompanied the remains was the death certificate. While it is not probable that a physician would consign a body to a vessel for shipment unless there was no danger of contagion, still the same rules governing the transportation of bodies by rail should govern that by vessel, and the attention of the department will be called to this.

THE ANNUAL FALL OPENING

Silberstein & Bondy Company Offers a Splendid Display.

Some exquisite models in afternoon costumes of beautiful blended chiffons and silks have aroused much enthusiasm and the showing of evening and theater waists by this firm is of more than ordinary beauty and charm. Autumn suits and wraps are of course the things that interest most people and the last of the season's advanced fashion, yet with a delightful originality were admired by the large number of visiting women.

Witness Says Conway "Rocked" Mahar's Head With Blows.

By testimony of four witnesses this morning the state continued to weave a strong web of evidence about Barney Conway, who is charged with manslaughter in the second degree.

August Lundberg, the first witness, who claimed to be an eye witness of the trouble between Conway and Mahar, the dead man, testified positively that he saw Conway strike Mahar twice, but that he did not see Conway do any kicking. The witness claimed that the sight of the blows so affected him that he had to turn away.

A. Schunstrom, aged 22, said he saw Conway strike Mahar a blow in the face with his fist and pound the latter in the ribs. The witness testified that Mahar, when he fell, raised to his knees, grasping for breath, and that Conway then began rocking his head between his fists as though Mahar's head was a punching bag. Schunstrom claimed that while the blows were being struck, Nicholson, Conway's friend, who is said to have started the trouble, stood back and called to Conway.

"Give it to him. He hasn't got enough yet," the witness further testified that he took hold of Conway to pull him away from Mahar, when the defendant struck at him, and he let go and started to find an officer. Schunstrom said he did not see Conway kick Mahar.

Oswald Gallagher, a 17-year-old boy, who claims to have witnessed the trouble, testified that Conway told Mahar: "You look like a spring chicken to me."

Gallagher testified that Mahar said to Conway: "Don't hit me."

The witness claimed that Conway struck Mahar and the latter fell on his knees, whereupon Conway hit him in the ribs and struck him another blow in the face as Mahar raised up. Gallagher said that Mahar had his arm up as Conway was following him across the street, but it looked as if he were attempting to ward off a threatened blow rather than to strike Conway.

Leonard Lundberg, who was a witness for the state, yesterday, was recalled this morning. Under direct examination he said that Conway struck at Schunstrom, when the latter attempted to pull him away from Mahar, but that Schunstrom dodged the blow and then went away for the police.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Cullin, Lundberg denied that he ever told Bunnville, a friend of "Frenchy" who works for the same brewing company employing Conway, that he, the witness, "would stick up for Barney" that he had not seen all the trouble, but had been posted as to what he should say.

Dr. E. L. Tuohy, who made an autopsy on the following Mahar's death, testified as to the conditions that he found. He said he found a small contusion of the skin on the right side of the nose and a small contusion of the scalp on the right parietal bone, also dried blood in the nostrils and on the lips and teeth of the deceased.

Describing the internal conditions Dr. Tuohy said the lungs showed inflammation, the stomach and intestines showed no abnormality. The witness said that when the scalp was removed under the abrasion he found a contusion of the muscles and blood clots, but the skull was not injured.

Continuing his testimony Dr. Tuohy stated that after he saw through the skull and opened the inner membrane from four to six ounces of a bloody fluid escaped. The witness also said that in the fissure separating the convolutions of the brain, a quantity toward blood clots was found about the base of the brain.

Dr. Tuohy gave his opinion that the conditions were due to a severe shaking of the brain to such an extent as to cause hemorrhage. He said that it was his opinion that the death would be possible for the conditions to have been caused by a blow on the head.

Dr. Tuohy was cross-examined at some length by Mr. Cullin, but he could not testify positively within thirty hours whether the blows were sufficient to cause the death or not. He said he was not a physician, but he knew that there was no sign of a blow on the head, but he knew that there was no sign of a blow on the head, but he knew that there was no sign of a blow on the head.

SEWED UP YOUNG BUCK

Veterinary Surgeon Tended Animal Wounded by Barbed Wire.

East End Rivals West Duluth in Deer Stories.

West Duluth hasn't any monopoly on deer stories. That part of the city furnished one good narrative this morning, but the East end is also in the game with a better one.

Dr. J. W. Cook, the well known veterinary surgeon, received a hurry call yesterday to go to Thirty-sixth avenue east and London road, where C. A. Congdon's new residence is being erected. He was asked to bring his surgical apparatus along.

Arrived at Mr. Congdon's new residence the doctor was shown a young buck with a long gash along its stifle, and a short distance up on the flank. With the aid of one of the workmen he washed out the wound and prepared to sew it up.

Twelve stitches were taken in the gash, although it was pretty strenuous work, as the little animal didn't like the feeling. Dr. Cook says that the animal seems to be in good shape at present, and he thinks it will recover from its injuries.

"Well," explained one of the workmen, "we heard a lot of dogs barking a short distance up the avenue, and the first thing we knew we saw a streak of brown headed for the yard here. It was going about a mile a minute, and it was a good thing we caught up with it and drove it back here."

Dr. Cook says the deer was tame enough to eat out of his hand before he left it. It is not known what will be done with the animal, but it will probably be released after it has fully recovered from its injuries.

TO ORGANIZE ART SOCIETY

Meeting Will be Held at Commercial Club for Purpose.

Duluth Should be Able to Supply 5,000 Members.

Who is to be the Mrs. M. F. Johnston of Duluth?

Down in Richmond, Ind., which is a town of only 15,000 people, Mrs. Johnston, who was herself interested in art, was at the head of a movement to organize an art society, and succeeded so well that there are now 1,200 members of the society in that city.

A meeting will be held this evening at the Commercial club for the purpose of considering the organization of a society. All those who are interested in art and who are willing to contribute to the benefit of the movement will be better educated up to what art really is and means.

The only way to interest the public in art is to show them pictures painted by real artists, said David Ericson, an artist who has met with considerable success and who has been spending the last few months in Duluth.

"It is not the artists which the public are interested in, but the pictures which are sent out by them. Pictures traveling a circuit like the one which is being exhibited in the public galleries. Unless there is some way of showing the public the pictures as the above, the public see only such paintings as the dealers show them, and these are usually the work of European and other cities are a new move, but it is one which the public are greatly interested in."

The patronage of American art will be greatly stimulated if the public are given a good chance to view the works of the American artists. The heart and soul of the American artist is in his work, and he only needs the patronage and encouragement of his own people.

THE BIRD HAD FLOWN

Paroled Convict, Arrested at Grand Marais, Breaks Jail.

One of the deputy wardens of the state penitentiary at Stillwater returned to Duluth today from Grand Marais, where he went to secure Frank Davis, a paroled convict. He returned without Davis, however, for, having broken his parole, Davis broke jail also, and when the warden arrived at Grand Marais the bird had flown, via a broken window.

Davis broke his parole on the steamship America of the Booth line, it is claimed. He got into an altercation with another man on the boat, and was arrested. The authorities, mixed vigorously in the fracas, chewed the other man's hand and ear, and was arrested on the arrival of the boat at Grand Marais. He was placed in the Grand Marais jail, but Sunday night he picked the lock on his cell door with a piece of wire, which he found in the cell, broke the window with a stick of wood and put Grand Marais far behind.

The officers have been put on his trail, but he was still at large this morning, as far as the deputy knew.

Something Worth While.

Every woman owes it to herself and to those with whom she comes in contact to keep herself up to date in the latest things. It is an old saying that a woman might about as well be out of the world as out of fashion. This is practically true. Duluth, however, is a city which might well boast of its subjects as well-dressed, for the well-dressed are always representative of the leading fashions.

As an opportunity to learn of the latest style changes in modes and colors, no woman will be subject to the importance of Gladding's formal opening, which is now in progress.

TO PREVENT DELAY.

Sidewalk Contractors Must Complete Their Work on Time.

Considerable discussion arose last evening over the delay upon the part of sidewalk contractors to complete the work under contract, and nearly every alderman had complaints to make from his part of the city. Alderman Shurtel introduced an ordinance providing for penalizing contractors who delay the work of the city by not completing their contracts within the time specified. The ordinance was passed by a large vote.

GET TEN MINUTE SERVICE.

Summer Schedule on Ferry Bridge is Restored.

Park Point residents will have their way about the ten-minute service for the aerial bridge. A resolution was introduced by Alderman Shurtel last evening, and passed by the council, calling for the return to the summer schedule for the time of the bridge operation.

President Sang of the board of public works opposed the change, he being of the opinion that the twenty-minute schedule was sufficient, and that the ten minutes difference between the two schedules was necessary for keeping the bridge in repair, oiling it, etc. He thought that a waiting room would be the next thing asked for by the people on Park Point, and spoke emphatically against the change.

EXTRA CLERK ALLOWED.

Duluth Postoffice Will Get One More on Oct. 1.

An extra clerk has been allowed to the local postoffice by the postal authorities at Washington, and will begin his duties the first of October. The new clerk will be added to the existing division.

Postmaster Eaton has been trying for several months to get a number of extra clerks, and has the department has refused to grant his requests, except to authorize the appointment of one.

Five new carriers were authorized last month, and began their duties Sept. 1. About an equal number of new clerks are needed, but the department has only allowed one. The postmaster has not yet decided who he will promote, and the new carrier of the carriers may be transferred and a new man put in his place.

PART OF THE BIG STICK

Waterways Commission Will Smash Railroad Monopoly.

"The commission is part of the President's 'Big Stick'."

Senator Newlands of the inland waterways commission on the eve of his departure for Duluth on the steamer Thomas F. Cole.

"Of course, while there is to be no direct attack on the railroads, it is to be the work of the commission to develop new lines of waterways, conserve the old ones, and, in fact, do everything possible to furnish new transportation facilities. The railroads of the Middle and Central West discourage water transportation and have absolutely killed it until now there are few boats even on such a large river as the Mississippi. Legislation against the railroads has been attempted hundreds of times and in hundreds of ways. Some of it is effective and some is not."

"Federal legislation is of no account unless it is enforced. It is entirely feasible to encourage water transportation in every way possible and thus establish new systems of rates which shall be governed by the laws of economics."

To Kill Monopoly.

"In this way the railroad monopoly can be broken, and it is this project which the president is so vitally interested. Now you can see how this commission is part of the Roosevelt 'Big Stick'."

Senator Newlands predicted that railroad rates would take an amazing tumble as soon as the waterways were improved, and that the Central Western farmers directly, and the whole country generally, would benefit from the change more than from any one movement which has yet taken place in this country. Business will be stimulated, the national incorporation of waterways transportation facilities. He said that there would be a great deal of work to be done in the future, and that the federal government through the interstate commerce commission, and will be able to make such joint rates by land and sea as to make their business profitable."

Inland Waterways.

The trip of the inland waterways commission on the lakes is to determine what improvements are needed on these inland seas, in view of the enormous increase of traffic on those waters. The importance of the lake traffic is shown by figures recently published by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, which showed that the total tonnage of the lake traffic in 1906 was 1,000,000 tons, which is estimated to this year 4,000,000 tons of iron ore alone, and the total tonnage of the lake traffic is estimated to be 1,000,000 tons.

DEFENDER TO COST FORTUNE

New York, Sept. 24.—Preparation for the defense of America's cup has been begun by the New York club. At least one syndicate is being organized to meet a yacht to attend the trophy and there may be a second, perhaps more. There seems to be only one opinion, and that is that the syndicate will be organized by the New York club.

It is understood that several of the more prominent younger men in the club have either tentatively or definitely promised to subscribe to the syndicate and that a number of older men, who have not been represented in previous syndicates will subscribe. Those mentioned as subscribers are H. H. Thompson, Col. K. G. Billings and Roy A. Ralston.

A UNIQUE RECORD.

Not Another Like It in Our Broad Republic.

To give positive home testimony in every locality is of itself unanswerable proof of merit; but when we add to this the continued endorsement from people who testified years ago no evidence can be stronger. A citizen gratefully acknowledges the good received from Doan's Kidney Pills, and when time has tested the cure we find the same hearty endorsement, with added enthusiasm and continued praise. Cases of this kind are plentiful in the work of Doan's Kidney Pills, and such a record is unique in the annals of medicine.

A. E. Doherty of 221 Fifth street east, Duluth, Minn., says: "My experience has demonstrated the fact that Doan's Kidney Pills are a remedy of exceptional merit and one that can be relied upon in treating different phases of kidney trouble. Six years ago I suffered from a most distressing dull, heavy pain in the small of my back and through the loins. It broke my sleep at night, and in spite of the fact that I had obtained no relief. At length I got Doan's Kidney Pills, and began using them with the most gratifying results. In a short time I found a cure, and this has proved lasting and permanent. I am an ardent advocate of Doan's Kidney Pills, and have already recommended them in the local newspapers."

NURSES OUT IN ST. PAUL

Twenty-Five in Training in City Hospital Leave Jobs.

Propose to Stand Loyal to One Who Was Discharged.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Another strike of hospital employees in this city is one of the anomalies of the present day conditions. Twenty-five of the training nurses employed in the city hospital have gone out in a spirit of loyalty to one of their number who was discharged.

They called upon the city and county physician, Dr. A. B. Ancker, Sunday evening in a body and notified him that they would quit at 8 o'clock Monday morning.

The walkout affects only half the number of nurses at the hospital, so there need be no actual suffering among the patients. The trouble began last week, when one of the nurses would to Minneapolis on a resignation. She did not attend the wedding, and when the superintendent of nurses refused to let her off, she said she would go to the wedding anyway. She was warned that if the wedding was of more importance to her than her diploma from the nurses' training school and she might have her own way, but her absence from duty would be treated as a resignation. She did attend the wedding and was, accordingly, discharged by the superintendent.

Having appealed in vain to the superintendent of nurses for the reinstatement of the nurse, the twenty-five training school girls took the matter to Dr. Ancker Sunday night. He refused to interfere in the discipline of the school, and then the girls notified him that they would all quit.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE.

South Dakota Banker Killed by His Machine in Stearns County.

St. Cloud, Minn., Sept. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frederick Ware of Ware & Griffin, bankers, of Clark, S. D., and the only brother of Cashier J. E. Ware of the St. Anthony Falls Bank of Minneapolis, was killed Sunday in an automobile accident on the road between Alexandria and St. Cloud, in Stearns county.

Mr. Ware, with his wife and two children, had gone from Clark to Fargo by automobile, and was on his way from Fargo to Alexandria to visit his brother when the accident occurred.

When the party was a mile and a half south of St. Martin, and was approaching a grade and bridge and running at high speed, some part of the automobile turned turtle and pinned Mr. Ware under a seat.

There was no one in the automobile, and the machine was not able to be moved. Two other farmers drove up soon, and the machine was righted and the body of Mr. Ware prepared for shipment to his home at Clark.

CANNOT FIND SON.

Whereabouts of Young J. D. Wright is Worrying His Father.

Winona, Minn., Sept. 24.—J. D. Wright of Lafayette, Ind., has been in Winona looking for his son, J. D. Wright, Jr., who has not been heard from since last May.

Last year the young man was employed in a wholesale house in St. Paul, but at the beginning of this year he went out on a road doing newspaper contract work.

On May 20 he wrote a letter home from Tomah, Wis., saying that he was on his way to Winona and would be home in a few days. Not a word has been received from him since. Mr. Wright found the young man's trunk at Marshfield, Wis. The father fears that he has met with foul play.

Frazee, Minn., Sept. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. B. Hoover of Richville has sued the Nichols-Chisholm Lumber company of Frazee for $10,000 damages for the loss of an eye. He was employed by the company in a logging camp, and alleged that he was ordered to do some blacksmith work with which he was unfamiliar. While working at a forge, he charged, a piece of red-hot iron hit him in the eye, marring it so badly that it had to be removed.

BAYFIELD COUNTY FAIR POSTPONED

Put Over Until Next Week Owing to the Bad Weather.

Iron River, Wis., Sept. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual Bayfield county fair, which was to have been held here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, has been postponed until the same days next week on account of the disagreeable weather.

All arrangements were completed for opening the fair tomorrow, but as the weather showed no inclination to improve the officers of the fair association decided it would be folly to undertake to hold a successful fair with a period of disagreeable weather threatening and accordingly decided to put it over until Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, Oct. 2, 3 and 4. The fair promises to be very successful.

CAMPAIGN COIN.

Each County in Wisconsin Expected to Shell Out Something.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 24.—La Poletty followers in this city are expected to undertake the task of raising at least $500 for a contribution to the presidential campaign fund of the senator.

The word has been passed around among the leaders of each county in the state is expected to do something handsome at this time to further the Wisconsin campaign fund.

There is no limit to the amount that will be accepted from the various communities in the state but Senator "Boss" Lemmons, at a recent conference, are understood to have agreed that $500 ought to be the minimum from each county.

ALEX M'KENZIE SELLS PROPERTY

King Bee of North Dakota Politicians May Leave.

Bismarck, N. D., Sept. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Is Alex McKenzie, for years the political boss of North Dakota, to retire from the state? Is the question that is being asked on every side. This question is prompted by a deed placed on file, in which McKenzie is named as the Todd Land company, a South Dakota corporation, all of his holdings here, some of the choicest improved and unimproved property in the city, for a consideration of $100,000.

The writer has complete surprise to McKenzie's friends here, none of whom had any advance information and there is much speculation as to whether this means the withdrawal of the big political chief from state politics.

It is reported that McKenzie has become interested in Western Canada lands with William Budge of Grand Forks, and others, and that his interests here are closed out for the purpose of investment over the continent. McKenzie has been known for his characteristic shrewdness sees political troubles ahead, and with politics while his influence is still at the high water mark.

When Gunderson sought to take possession of the Mercantile establishment of the Whidden company, following his appointment by Judge Morris of Duluth, he was refused admission by Hagen and Findley, who stayed in the store all day. It is alleged, and refused to let the receiver in. There was a heated controversy between Gunderson and the pair, and finally it was necessary to use a crow bar to effect an entrance into the building.

When an officer Gunderson threw the attorney and Findley out of the store, and later found it necessary to eject them from a stable belonging to the firm. A demand was made that the safe of the company be opened, and in the combination made known to the receiver, but this was refused and the safe is still unopened.

CASSIE CHADWICK WAS TRYING TO FOOL DOCTORS BY FEIGNING ILLNESS

Stories of Blindness and Heart Failure Were Not True.

Attempted to Bribe Nurse to Throw Her Medicine Away.

Scheme to Secure a Pardon, Say the Prison Officials.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 25.—Cassie Chadwick has been caught. Not that she has been out of captivity, for she has not. The "witch of finance," who could fool the shrewdest money lenders, made a failure when she tried to deceive a keen doctor.

Not long ago a story was sent out of this city saying that the notorious prisoner had been stricken with blindness at the Ohio penitentiary when conversing with her son, Emil Hoover, who was paying one of his regular visits to her cell. Another tale had it that she was attacked by heart failure. Neither was true. The fact that, while she is not a tall woman, her illness is not a mortal one. She has gastric catarrh, and in a week she will be off the sick list at the prison hospital. Ever since she came to the penitentiary she has been complaining of a wide variety of symptoms.

SURPRISING STATEMENT

Of Scientist Regarding the Temperature at High Altitudes.

Coldest Over Equator and Warmest Over the Poles.

Dresden, Saxony, Sept. 25.—At the meeting today of the congress of German scientists a remarkable statement was made by Prof. Hergesell of Strassburg university, that atmosphere at high altitudes is the coldest over the equator and the warmest above the poles. This surprising fact, he explained, was determined by balloon ascents made during the month of July in various latitudes under the auspices of the international committee which had been investigating the atmosphere at high altitudes. The observations, which were taken with automatic instruments attached to unmanned balloons, have not yet been worked out.

PROBATING OF TWO WILLS

Will Bring Out Unusual Situation in Division of Property.

New York, Sept. 25.—The will of Paul McCormac, the clubman and automobilist, who died from injuries received in an automobile accident recently, near South Norwalk, Conn., in which his wife was killed, has been found in the safe of A. C. Astoria, the former attorney for the dead man. By the terms of the instrument, Mrs. McCormac was made the sole beneficiary, but her death has brought about an unusual situation.

Mrs. McCormac, in her will, left the bulk of her estate to her husband. She bequeathed $10,000 to be invested in an annuity for Joseph Adler Converse, her 11-year-old son by her first husband, from whom she was divorced. Mrs. McCormac was killed on Aug. 15. Her will was dated February, 1905, and in it she left her home in Connecticut to her second husband, and made him trustee for her son, who is with his father, Charles E. Converse.

Mr. McCormac died soon after his wife. His will left all his estate to his wife, without any stipulation as to its disposal in case of her death. His estate is estimated at about $500,000, most of it invested in securities which are believed to be in a safe deposit vault in this city. The McCormacs had no issue, so that now both estates will be divided among relatives of Mr. McCormac. Both wills will be offered for probate tomorrow. No contest is expected.

COLLISION IN TUNNEL

Trans-Atlantic Train From Paris to Cherbourg Telescoped.

Twenty Persons Said to Have Been Seriously Injured.

Nantes, France, Sept. 25.—The Trans-Atlantic train carrying first class passengers from Paris to Cherbourg, where they were to embark on the White Star liner Adriatic, was telescoped today in the Breval tunnel. Twenty persons were injured.

The train taking passengers to Cherbourg for embarkation on the North German Lloyd steamer Crown Prince Wilhelm, which was following the train having on board the Adriatic's passengers, proceeded to her destination by another route. The names of the injured persons are not yet available. The disaster is said to have been due to the negligence of the crew of the train carrying the trans-Atlantic passengers, as no lights were burning in the rear of the train, and no torpedoes were placed on the track before.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW

Begins International Convention in City of Washington.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Marked by an assemblage of distinguished churchmen from abroad, including Rev. A. F. Winnington-Ingram, the lord bishop of London and Archbishop Nuttall of the West Indies, the international convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew opened here today with preliminary meetings of subordinate bodies. The general convention opens tonight at the Trinity church. The organization's membership is made up of laymen of the Protestant Episcopal church in all parts of the world and the convention will continue through the rest of the week.

The opening meeting will be a "quiet hour" at the Trinity church tonight. The sessions close next Sunday night with a banquet meeting at Continental hall, presided over by James L. Houghteling of Chicago, founder of the brotherhood. Presiding Bishop Tuttle of the American church will officiate as celebrant at the annual celebration of corporate communion service Saturday, and Archbishop Nuttall will make the annual charge to the brotherhood Sunday.

The most important event of the week will be the open air meeting Sunday afternoon and the laying of the foundation stone of the new cathedral of St. Peter and Paul at that time.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER, Premier of Canada, Who Is Being Deluged With Petitions From British Columbia Demanding the Exclusion of All Orientals.

DEMAND EXCLUSION OF ALL ORIENTALS

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—A monster petition, signed by hundreds of British Columbians, is on its way to the premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It prays that, regardless of foreign countries and all sentimental and political considerations, the government immediately pass such legislation as may be requisite to insure the absolute exclusion of Orientals from the Dominion of Canada.

So far the Japanese government has made no claim on the Canadian government for damages on account of the Vancouver troubles.

SUPPLY OF RADIUM IS GREATER THAN SUPPOSED.

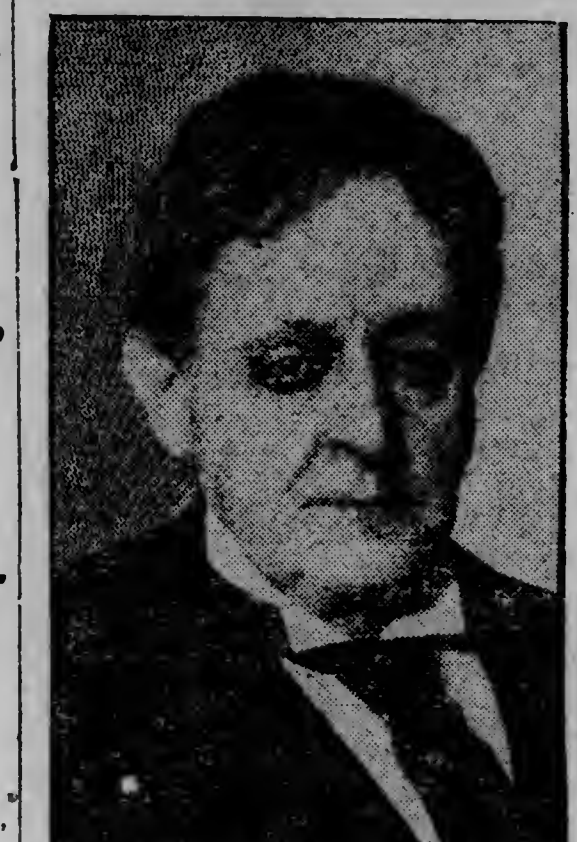

Geneva, Sept. 25.—A newspaper states that Prof. Joly has completed a geological examination of specimens of the strata collected from the borings for the Simpson tunnel. He found rich traces of radium, indicating larger deposits than hitherto discovered in Europe.

He believes that the presence of these deposits caused the abnormal heat experienced in building the tunnel. He predicted that continued research will prove the world's supply of radium is greater than was supposed.

JOSEPH H. CHOATE, Head of the American Delegation to the Peace Conference, Who Admits That His Cherished Plan for a Permanent Court of Arbitration Has Failed.

HIGHLY PLEASED BY TAFT INDORSEMENT

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 25.—A. I. Vorys, manager for Secretary William H. Taft, gave out the following statement at Taft headquarters today:

"The indorsement of Secretary Taft by the Nebraska Republican state convention is extremely gratifying. It is responsive in my judgment to the overwhelming sentiment prevailing not only in that state, but everywhere. While Kansas has indorsed Taft through its Republican state committee, Nebraska is the first state to indorse him through a state convention and the Nebraska convention is the first of any state, outside of favorite son states, to take action on the presidency."

PET SCHEME IS DEFEATED

Permanent Court of Arbitration Will Not be Established.

Choate, However, is Working Hard on New Proposal.

The Hague, Sept. 25.—Joseph H. Choate, head of the American delegation to the peace conference, is ready to acknowledge the defeat of his pet scheme for the establishment here of a permanent court of arbitration, but he and James Brown Scott, solicitor of the department of state at Washington and a member of the delegation, are doing everything possible to induce the majority of the delegates to adopt Mr. Choate's last proposal, namely, the election of fifteen judges of the court by a direct vote of the governments, in the forthcoming plenary sitting of the committee on arbitration. Sir Edward Fry, Great Britain, opposed the American plan, and suggests that the project be submitted to the governments for study.

Dr. Ruy Barbosa, Brazil; M. Mery von Kapos-Mere, Austria, and Baron Marschall von Bieberstein, Germany, maintain that it is impossible to agree on the election of the judges, and that a direct vote is necessary to the government a scheme which the committee has approved only conditionally, and subject to the solution of the question of the election of the judges.

BEYOND LOEB

Prof. DeLage Goes in His Experiments With Sea Urchin Eggs.

Paris, Sept. 25.—Remarkable experiments in the chemical development of life have been recently effected by Prof. DeLage of the Sorbonne. In his laboratory at Roscoff, Brittany, Prof. DeLage placed the unfertilized eggs of the sea urchin and the star fish in sea water, adding a solution of sugar with a few drops of ammonia and tannin.

In about an hour segmentation, which is the first sign of life, began, and the eggs produced larvae. The great majority of these larvae soon died, but Prof. DeLage, by constant and minute care, brought four of the arching and two of the starfish through the larvae stage, and they are now healthy growing specimens.

Prof. DeLage's experiments go beyond those made by Prof. Loeb of the University of California at Berkeley.

Colonial Authority Suspended by an Imperial Rescript.

Right to Seize American Vessels is Taken Away.

The Colonial Fishery Laws Cannot Now be Enforced.

St. Johns, Nfld., Sept. 25.—An imperial rescript forbidding the service by any colonial authority of any legal process regarding fishery rights aboard any American vessel and suspending all colonial statutes authorizing colonial officials to seize American vessels for alleged fishery offenses was proclaimed here today. This, it is believed, will make it practically impossible for Premier Bond to carry out his recently announced decision to enforce the colonial fishery laws.

FISH MAY BE PROSECUTED

If Statements of President Harahan Are Found Correct.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—State's attorney Brady today declared it was possible that his office might take cognizance of the charges against Stuyvesant Fish, contained in the statement issued yesterday by President Harahan of the Illinois Central railroad.

"From my present information," said the state's attorney, "I cannot tell that an offense has been committed, or if committed, whether it was here or in New York. If, however, I obtain information that Mr. Harahan's charges are true, and the alleged misappropriation of funds occurred in this city, this office will certainly take action."

The state's attorney refused to say whether or not he had commenced an investigation.

COUNTY INFIRMARY DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Wapakoneta, Ohio, Sept. 25.—The Auglaize county infirmary was completely destroyed by fire early today. All of the forty-eight inmates escaped without injury by prompt rescue work of another inmate, William Metzger, farm hands, who discovered the fire. The building cost $30,000. The loss is total with $15,000 insurance.

The county commissioners will take steps to rebuild as soon as possible. It will cost $100,000 to replace the building and contents. In the meantime, the paupers have been placed in farmers' houses in the neighborhood.

VACATION AT AN END

President and Family Leave Oyster Bay for Washington.

Have Been at Their Summer Home Since June 12.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 25.—President Roosevelt began his journey to Washington at 10 o'clock this morning, thus bringing to an end his summer vacation, which has continued since June 12.

The trip is being made by special train to Long Island City, around the lower end of New York city by a tug boat, and from Jersey City to Washington in the special train on which the president will make his Western trip, which begins at Washington next Sunday.

Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel and Quentin accompanied the president, the other children being at school. Of the party also are Secretary Loeb and his family and the members of the executive staff and secret service guard. Two express cars loaded with the president's horses and stable equipment preceded the special out of Oyster Bay, that they might be made part of the train at Jersey City.

The leave-taking at Oyster Bay was a typical scene. The villagers gathered at the station, and many of them shook the president's hand, he heartily expressing his pleasure at seeing his neighbors, with whom he has had but little opportunity to mingle this summer.

The weather for the trip was ideal and the members of the party were in high spirits. The schedule of the special will make the journey end at Washington at 8 o'clock tonight.

SUPERIOR NEWS FIREMAN IS KILLED

Walter Scott Loses Life in Wreck of Freight Train.

Engineer Foley and Brakeman Theriault Slightly Injured.

Walter Scott, fireman, was instantly killed, H. J. Foley, engineer, suffered a broken leg and brakeman Theriault is in the hospital with an injured back, as the result of the wrecking of a west-bound freight train on the Great Northern railroad, about twenty miles west of Superior at about 4:30 o'clock this morning.

The accident occurred at a point where the Great Northern tracks cross with a Y rail intersection. The switches at the crossing had not been properly oiled and set and the train, traveling at full speed left the rails at the defective switch. It plowed along the bank for a considerable distance and then the engine and four cars toppled over into the ditch.

The last record of Bacheller's whereabouts, so far as his St. Cloud friends and relatives are concerned, dates back nearly four weeks, when he secured a position, through O. E. Doyle and relatives, as a crew of men to work on a waterworks and sewer contract at the Minnesota state sanitarium for consumptives. He worked four or five days at Walker, and then suddenly and mysteriously disappeared. Since that time neither his wife nor his employer has heard any news concerning him. His failure to send money home has left the family in destitute circumstances.

The man at St. Luke's hospital fits so well the description of the missing St. Cloud man, that the authorities are convinced that they are one and the same person, the suffering from a severe case of blood poisoning, resulting from an abrasion on the arm, probably caused by a burn.

LIES DYING AT HOSPITAL

Man Supposed to be Charles Bacheller, at Death's Door.

St. Cloud Man Has Been Missing for Four Weeks.

Considerable mystery surrounds the case of an old man, about 60 years of age, who lies dying at St. Luke's hospital. While his identity has not been established for a certainty, it is supposed that his name is Charles Bacheller, and that he is a resident of St. Cloud, Minn. His death is expected at any moment.

Monday the hospital authorities received word to meet the man at one of the range trains. He was taken to the hospital and has been in a state of coma since his arrival there. There were no papers in his clothing to disclose his identity, and the authorities knew nothing regarding him.

It is learned from St. Cloud that Charles Bacheller, 60 years old, with a wife and five children living in the Minnesota town, has disappeared. It is believed he is the man now lying at the point of death in the local hospital.

The last record of Bacheller's whereabouts, so far as his St. Cloud friends and relatives are concerned, dates back nearly four weeks, when he secured a position, through O. E. ## OPPOSITION TO WU TING FANG

Character of New Minister is Being Somewhat Impeached.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Secretary Root today received a telegram from Minister Rootkill in Peking, notifying him of the appointment of Wu Ting-fang as minister to Washington.

It is evidently the intention of Mr. Root to allow the president and Assistant Secretary Bacon to pass upon Minister Wu's eligibility. There is reason to believe that unofficially some representations have been made at the state department within the last twenty-four hours, impeaching the character of the proposed new minister, not only on the ground of his conduct while formerly in Washington but because it is stated that he took advantage of an abnormal state of affairs in Peking to secure his reappointment to this post. According to this account, Prince Ching, who is really the titular premier of the flowery kingdom, is aging rapidly and has little interest in public affairs. He does not even attend the cabinet meetings regularly and in consequence his influence with the throne is greatly diminished. Yuan Shih Kai, who promises to succeed Li Hung Chang as the directing force in China, is practically a nonentity. The kingdom's foreign relations, Sir Chen Tung Liang Cheng, the retiring minister to Washington, are continuing to manage the affairs of the state, instead of the Chinese emperor. It is asserted that had he been in Peking he would have cast his pow-

ACTION IS DEFERRED.

Council Fails to Authorize Extension of Water Mains.

At the meeting of the Superior city council, last evening, Mayor Linley made a big plea for better water and lighting facilities for residents of the Tenth ward. The manager of the electric light company, however, said that the city could not afford to have electric lights in the very near future, as the wires were to be extended there. No action was taken on the proposition to extend the city water mains to the Tenth ward.

Before the council's action on the proposition of the Water, Light & Power company for lower rates, the body will hear the report of the finance committee, which is to investigate the plan. Action was deferred on the matter of the revocation of Superintendent Brant's license. The council decided to employ a city chemist, at a salary of $75 a month. Eighteen hundred dollars was voted for his salary and the expense of equipping a laboratory. A communication was made to the chief of police, asking for the creation of a police pension fund, was referred to the police committee.

TAXPAYERS ENJOIN BOARD.

Would Prevent Erection of New School House at Gordon.

Judge Smith has granted an injunction prohibiting Frank Borgquist and L. C. Lawler of the school board of the town of Gordon from paying out district funds or going ahead with the construction of the new school building in that town.

The order was issued on a petition of taxpayers, who claim that the work has been started without authority under the law, that no tax has been levied for the building expenses and that the school board has no right to borrow money to proceed with the erection of the structure. It is also claimed that the new school building on the site selected will have the effect of closing the present school.

Tax Rolls Show Increase.

The tax rolls of Douglas county, Wis., are larger by from $750,000 to $1,000,000 than last year, and are about $1,000,000 larger than in 1905, as computed by County Clerk Flagstad on the returns made by the various town clerks. With the expected $1,000,000 increase in the assessment in Superior the total for the county outside the city was $3,186,128. This year it is $3,961,578. Of this amount $782,447 represents the assessment on personal property.

Tenth Ward Wants Mains.

Mayor Linley has urged the council to take action as soon as practicable in having the water and gas mains extended to the Tenth ward, comprising the Alton and Jansen districts. Manager Ellison of the water and light company, in a communication to the council, stated that as the water and gas mains are secured electric lights will be installed at Alton. The district is increasing in population very rapidly and the improvements are much needed.

RAILROADS HAVE LOST $1,500,000

By the Enforcement of Two-Cent Fare in Missouri.

St. Louis, Sept. 25.—According to compiled statements made by officials of the various Missouri railroads, the operation of the two-cent passenger fare law has cost the Missouri railroads $1,500,000 during the past three months. The law became effective in Missouri June 17 and by agreement with Attorney General Hadley the railroads decided to reduce the fare to two cents on the law until October 1. It was announced today that the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, Washburn, Missouri Pacific, Burlington, Chicago & Alton and other trunk lines have joined to fight the further enforcement of the law and will submit statements showing the effect of the recent fare law to Federal Judge McPherson at Kansas City about Oct. 15.

According to figures compiled by the railroad companies based on actual receipts of earnings a loss of $3,000,000 has resulted in earnings during the three months that the law has been in effect.

FACETIOUS TESTATORS.

Grand Magazine: Will making often affords a man an unrivaled opportunity of paying off old scores and speaking his mind without any fear of unpleasant consequences to himself. The great duke of Monmouth evidently could not resist the temptation of a faraway "slay" at the duchess when he left her "10,000 pounds sterling wherewith to spoil Blenheim in her own way and 15,000 pounds to keep clean and go to law with."

There is also a distinct note of spitefulness in this extract from the testament of a Mr. Kerr, who, after declaring that he would have left his widow 10,000 pounds sterling if she had loved him to read his evening paper in peace, adds: "But you must remember, my dear, that whenever I commenced reading you started playing and singing. You must, therefore, take the consequences. I leave you 1,000 pounds sterling."

How much do you lose every month when you have no tenant for that house or apartment—or furnished room—or store? You are offering a grand opportunity to buy a good many lines of "rent" advertising in The Herald.

Unless they contain a teaspoonful of Duffy's Malt Whiskey in each glass.

The American people consume during the hot weather a very large quantity of iced drinks of various kinds and colors, and pay dearly for it with disordered stomachs that refuse to perform their work; bowel complaints, exhaustion, congestion, sunstroke and many other ills follow and from these causes the loss of life is great. Doctors say all danger can be prevented by the proper use of

FARMERS FACING PERJURY CHARGE

Alleged to Have Given False Testimony in Land Case.

Minot, N. D., Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A criminal charge of widespread importance in this section faces three well known farmers and they will be tried at the October term of the United States court beginning here Oct. 5.

Last year Andrew Kurzman, a prominent farmer residing near Garrison, attempted to make final proof upon his claim located about six miles southwest of that place, and at the following term of the federal court the grand jury found indictments against Kurzman and his two witnesses, William H. Ryan and Nick J. Mahawald, charging all three of them with perjury.

Hon. J. F. McCulloch of Washburn will appear for Kurzman, and Attorney W. N. Crane of Minot will defend Ryan and Mahawald. Special Agent Dwyer has been in the vicinity of Garrison for several days looking up evidence for the prosecution.

SAVED BY BEER.

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 25.—Louis Ewe, editor of the Evening Volkfreund in this city, and one of the best known German editors in the state, saved the life of a man in a stupor, lying in a tent on the lake shore, flames from the camp fire had set his clothing on fire. Mr. Ewe extinguished the flames by throwing the contents of a keg of beer over them. The man was badly burned. He refused to give his name to his rescuers.

Sour Stomach

"I had constipation and feel like a new man. I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia and sour stomach for the last two years. I have been taking medicine and other drugs, but could not get any relief. I am now feeling fine. I will be glad to give my friends as the only thing for indigestion and sour stomach and to keep the bowels in good condition. They are very nice to try."

COURT TOOK FIRM STAND

Windom Found Saloon Man Guilty of Lid Lifting.

Stated There Will be No Winking at Violations.

Judge W. L. Windom found John Caverly guilty of selling liquor without a license and imposed a fine of $75 and costs, in default of payment of which a ninety-day sojourn in the county jail at hard labor is the alternative. Caverly conducts the Esmond hotel on Michigan street, and Gus Lahti, secretary of the police department and Patrolman A. Youngberg were the complaining witnesses. They alleged that they purchased beer of the defendant in a basement room on Sunday.

It was evident from the determined manner in which Assistant City Attorney McKon went to the case that he meant business. The complaint was carefully worded, and the evidence seemed conclusive.

Judge Windom took a firm stand in rendering the opinion and pronouncing sentence.

It is apparent that the court intends to allow no legitimate criticism of its stand in aiding the officials to hold down the lid and in his tersely expressed opinion in the case yesterday he made it plain that he would do his part where he considered the evidence warranted. In administering sentence he said:

"Under the evidence in this case the court can see no escape for the defendant, and will, therefore, find him guilty. It seems to the court that the time has arrived when convictions under these complaints should be more severely dealt with than in the past.

"Any saloonkeeper in the city of Duluth now distinctly knows that the administration of the city, the administration of this state, a majority of the people of this city, and I believe a majority of the saloonkeepers of the city of Duluth, not only desire, but are determined that the saloons shall be closed at the time ordered at night and on Sundays, and when he violates that order he knows that he is lying in the face of those several elements of law and order.

In the past this court has been more or less lenient in administering fines on such convictions, because the court had well founded reasons for believing that the defendant in each particular case believed that he would be permitted to violate these ordinances, provided he ran an orderly place and did not attract the attention or notice of the police to him by violations of other ordinances and state laws. Hence, to impose a severe penalty in such cases would be, to my mind unfair to the defendant. For another reason the court was inclined to be lenient. The court was conscious of a resolution passed by the city council respecting forfeitures when these men were found guilty of violating the ordinance and naturally in tempering justice with mercy when he was satisfied that a revocation of license would surely follow a conviction and fine in this court.

"Now it is different—there is no winking at the violations of these ordinances. Any man running contrary thereto has knowledge of and expects to be arrested and fined therefor. No advantage is taken of him when he is severely fined.

"I will therefore impose a fine of $75 and costs and in default of payment you stand committed to the county jail for a period of not to exceed ninety days at hard labor."

Caverly's attorney asked for a stay of twenty days, which was granted by Judge Windom. Caverly's license is not jeopardized, as he was convicted of selling liquor without a license.

BECKER SEES DIETZ.

Milwaukee's Mayor Assured Report of Settlement Was Not True.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Becker of Milwaukee and Dr. Nussle returned yesterday from a visit with John Dietz.

They went 110 miles to Winter by automobile and the remainder of the distance, twelve miles, by team.

When they reached Thorpnappe river, they flagged Dietz with a white handkerchief, and Becker demonstrated across the river that he was mayor of Milwaukee. A boat was then sent across for the visitors, and they enjoyed Dietz's hospitality Saturday.

Dietz informed them that the story that he had made a settlement with the Mississippi River Logging company for $15,000 was false, but that he had received $1,717.65 in back wages. Dietz told them that W. E. Mosse of Northfield, Minn., had proposed a settlement for the logs that had passed through Cameron dam, but that no agreement had been reached.

The story that the lumber company had offered to buy his farm Dietz also denied.

CLASSES WILL BE FULL AT OPENING

Enrollment in Y. M. C. A. Evening School Active So Far.

Enrollment for the Y. M. C. A. evening school, which was begun last week at the association building, has been very active so far, although the real rush is expected to begin fall session of the school will begin next Monday evening.

Up to the present time about seventy-five registered, which is a better showing than was made at the registration period a year ago. The shorthand and typewriting course leads just now, but other courses will all be well patronized.

One new course, which is expected will be unusually popular among the young men of Duluth, will be that in electricity. Mr. Ringred of the Great Northern Power company will be in charge and the class will undoubtedly make a hit. Mr. Ringred is a graduate of the Minnesota university and is a practical electrical engineer.

The other new courses are also popular. That of English and debate will have a full class at the beginning of the season and the English course for foreigners will be popular. The French course for this will be held at the Adams school in the West end for the benefit of the foreigners in that district.

SUBSTITUTES ARE NEEDED

Uncle Sam Wants Men to Take Clerk-Carrier Examination.

Uncle Sam wants some more men to take the examinations for the clerk and carrier positions of the local postoffice, in order that the list of substitutes and eligibles may be kept up to the usual standard. Only four applicants put in an appearance at the carrier examination held last week.

On account of the fact that five new carriers were put on last month and one new clerk this month, the list of substitutes has been considerably reduced and the authorities are looking for more men to fill their places. The four who took the examination last week are not enough.

The age limit for this examination is 18. The examination consists of the common branches and the test of reading addresses. The applicants must be accepted, unless properly executed and filed with the secretary of the civil service for the eighth district.

Several other examinations have been announced by the civil service commission, three for Oct. 1, 5 and 12. The first is for the positions of blacksmith in the military service, at a salary of $720 a year; blacksmith and horseshoer at $540 a year; wheelwright at $340 a year; all to be given on Oct. 5, and pressman in the government printing office at 50 cents an hour; architectural draftsman in the immigration service at a salary of $5 a day; anatomist in the army medical museum, at a salary of $1,000 a year.

Anyone wishing further information or application blanks for any of these examinations should address A. Grabarkiewicz at the local post office.

DEFRAUDED HIS LAWFUL WIFE

Divorced Wife of Old Soldier Collects Back Pension.

Because the divorced wife of a soldier of the Civil war defrauded the government by drawing for several years her husband's back pension and then received a soldier's widow's pension for some time after his death, the agents of the treasury or the pension department are said to be slowly untangling a skein of evidence against a woman, now well along in years, that threatens her with severe punishment if the case is taken up in the federal courts.

It is understood that the government's agents have within the past few days found important evidence in the records of the district court of St. Louis county, which goes to show conclusively that the divorce was obtained and that the woman impudently when she drew her former husband's pension, was not lawfully entitled to do so, and that in so doing she defrauded the soldier's second wife, one that he married after securing his divorce.

The court records are said to show that in the case in question the wife sued her husband for a divorce back in the 80s and that after the husband filed an answer the judge was fixed up so that there was no appearance, and she secured her decree.

It is claimed that about ten years after the husband was remarried he died and his former divorced wife, through some means which do not yet appear, obtained possession of his pension papers and drew about ten years' back pension and completed arrangements to draw a pension as a soldier's widow.

It is said that the deception passed unnoticed for all these years until the second wife, happening to make application for a pension the attention of the pension department was attracted to the fact that two women claimed to be widows of the same soldier and an investigation was started.

Owing to the fact that the department has not yet taken any legal action in the matter the names of the parties implicated have not been made public.

NEBRASKA DEMOCRATS

Endorse Bryan Who Makes Speech to the Convention.

Secretary Taft Receives the Endorsement of Republicans.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 25.—Under the new state primary law yesterday was the day designed for all political parties represented on the primary ballot to hold their state platform conventions. Of the five parties, the Republicans, Democrats and Populists gathered in considerable numbers. Secretary Taft received the endorsement of the Republicans. The feature of the Democratic convention was the speech of W. J. Bryan. He congratulated the party, state and nation on having emerged from the valley of the shade of death, which, he said, the Republicans, hopelessly divided, were just entering. He insisted that the title of "great postmaster" belonged to Secretary Taft because while he favored tariff reform, he was obliged by the party pressure to advocate putting off the day of action.

Mr. Bryan assisted in drafting the platform, and his declarations are assumed to reflect his views of what the national party declarations should be in 1908.

The Democratic platform opens with commendation of William J. Bryan, saying: "We, the Democratic party of Nebraska, in delegate convention assembled, express our continued confidence in and admiration for William J. Bryan, and reassert our fidelity to the principles which he so ably advocated, and which at this time are so generally accepted by a large majority of the people of the United States. The platform approves of the laws prohibiting passes and rebates, and insists on legislation making it unlawful for any corporation to contribute to campaign funds. It opposes the centralization idea, and declares for the election of United States senators by direct vote. Immediate revision of the tariff is urged, and an income tax favored.

On the question of trusts, the platform says that: "A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. We therefore advocate the vigorous enforcement of the criminal law against trusts and trust managers, and demand the enactment of such additional legislation as may be necessary to make it impossible for a private monopoly to exist in the United States."

Declarations are made for state and national boards of trade; an eight-hour day; against government by injunction, and for protection of foreigners.

An unqualified endorsement of President Roosevelt's administration and leadership is given in the Republican platform. A continuation of his policy is insisted on and references to Secretary of War Taft is made as follows: "While not presuming to forestall the action of any future convention, we express the belief that the Republicans of Nebraska recognize in the Hon. William Taft of Ohio, one whose personal character and whose long public service marks him as pre-eminently the man in whose leadership these policies would be perpetuated. The platform declares the Republican party of the state committed to the following reforms which it has inaugurated: A state-wide direct primary; abolition of free pass evil; comprehensive powers for the state railway commission; more equitable rates for transportation of passengers and freight; equal taxation of railway property for city purposes; abolition of fellow servant law and full employers liability.

On federal judiciary interference in states, the platform says: "We favor the enactment of a federal law, and if necessary an addition to the federal legislation which forbids the courts from issuing writs of injunction against state officers charged by law with the enforcement of state statutes."

OSTMAN GETS VERDICT.

Jury Awards Him Damages in Amount of $2,500.

Damages in the amount of $2,500 were awarded John Ostman, yesterday afternoon, against the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg Railway company and the Minnesota Construction company. Ostman, who was a brakeman formerly in the employ of the railway company, sued for $10,000 for injuries alleged to have been received in a wreck. The suit was on trial for nearly a week. The jury retired yesterday noon, and the verdict was reached at 3:30 o'clock.

FORTUNES IN TUBERS.

Potato Yields Around Elk River Are Certainly Very Profitable.

Little Falls, Minn., Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the first four weeks of the season at Elk River, about 125,000 bushels were marketed, for which farmers received over $65,000 in cash. This was the early potato crop. The late crop now coming will be as much more. Many growers have received enough from their potato crop to pay for their farms. The biggest yield reported is 320 bushels to the acre; the average yield is 200 bushels.

ELECTION IN NEW YORK

Leaves the Factional Line-Ups of the Parties Practically Unchanged.

New York, Sept. 25.—The result of yesterday's primaries for district leaders and delegates to the judicial nominating conventions leave the factional lineups in the two parties practically unchanged. Interest centered in the contests in the assembly district of New York county. There were sharp fights in several instances between the followers of Tammany Leader Murphy and Mayor George H. McClellan. Two of Mayor McClellan's candidates were re-elected district leaders with many votes to spare. The re-election of these two out of thirty-five districts in Manhattan had been generally conceded by the Murphy supporters.

The Republican situation remains as before. County Chairman Parsons being safely entrenched.

RAILROADS

WORK WILL BE DELAYED

Railroads Meeting With Difficulty in Getting Extra Gangs.

Rainy Lake Line Trying to Finish Surfacing Work.

The Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg road is making strenuous efforts to get all the surfacing work on its border section finished before winter sets in. A shortage in the labor market, however, may defeat the company in this purpose. The same shortage is making it bad for all the railroads in getting enough men for extra gangs just now.

This is the reason of the year when the railroads are planning on the work necessary for putting their respective lines in condition to stand the long winter. Every fall it is necessary to hire a large number of additional men for the extra gangs whose duty it is to look after this work. From now until cold weather these gangs are supposed to thoroughly examine the tracks and repair all weak spots all along the line. The job is one of considerable magnitude, and calls for considerable extra help.

Practically every road entering Duluth has orders in for these extra gang men, but the men are hard to get. As has been the case all the year, the demand greatly exceeds the supply, and the shortage just now is more pronounced than it has been for some time past. Not only are men wanted for these extra gangs, but there is a heavy demand for laborers for regular railroad construction work, for the woods and for various other classes.

The shortage in the labor market will mean delays in the regular fall work, which are apt to prove serious in some cases. Local employment agents have orders for men for railroad work all the way from the Head of the Lakes to the coast. In Montana the need of more laborers is especially great, and Montana is paying higher wages than any other state in the Union in consequence. Helpers for the bridge men, for example, are being paid at the rate of $2.50 a day, where $2.00 and $2.25 is generally the rate. The lumbermen are getting ready for the winter's work, and numerous large orders for lumber are being placed with local agents.

MEETS THE RATE.

Omaha Road Will Put In $22 Rate to New York.

The Omaha road has officially announced that it will meet the $22 New York rate of the South Shore on Oct. 24. The new rate will become effective on that date, and tickets will be sold at $22 until Dec. 31. It is considered altogether probable that this rate will continue in effect permanently. It applies over the entire route where heretofore it has been via Montreal.

SOO IS APPROACHING.

Contractors at Moose Lake Preparing to Begin Building This Way.

Moose Lake, Minn., Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some contractors on the Soo extension have arrived here and are preparing to begin operations. Timber and other material is arriving, and it is expected that work will start in a few days. Grading crews working east from Royalton are now within fifteen miles of Moose Lake. Work will be started in a few days on the long viaduct the Soo will build over the Northern Pacific tracks here, and it is expected that the structure will occupy the entire winter.

ANOTHER E. Z. MARK.

Minnesota Worked by Stranger at Grand Forks for Thirty Dollars.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Isadore Sweenhammer of New Albany, Minn., is the latest applicant for a membership in the E. Z. Mark club. He is mourning the loss of $30 for putting too much confidence in a stranger. Sweenhammer came from Easby on the evening train and at Larimore a stranger who at once became friendly got aboard the train.

He got to talking with Sweenhammer and found out he was going to the same place, but had to have a check cashed in order to make the trip. He showed Sweenhammer the check and also a small amount of change. Sweenhammer bit when the stranger asked him for a loan of $30, promising to get the check cashed on arriving at New Albany.

They left the branch train and boarded the Duluth special No. 6. After a few minutes the stranger excused himself, saying that he would return shortly. Sweenhammer waited for several minutes, and then decided there was something wrong. He sought Capt. Sullivan, and the latter informed him that he had been swindled.

SQUADRON TO ORIENT

Will be Most Formidable Fleet of Battleships Seen There.

Plan to Incite Renewed Shipbuilding on the Atlantic Coast.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Orders were issued last week by the navy department to commandants of government shipyards and naval training stations to prepare all available sailormen to join the Atlantic fleet, which sails in December for the Pacific. It is the intention of the navy board, as well as Secretary Metcalf, to send our fighting monsters on their mission of peace into foreign waters with full complements, and all men who have seen one year of service, and less than twenty years with Uncle Sam's navy, will be expected to join the fleet, that has already commenced mobilization on the Pacific coast, to sail away into the Far East. The navy is in some circles antagonistic to the president. How could it be? If there are any politics in the assembling of our great sea fighters on the Pacific, it is the politics of preparedness and a practical demonstration that we are willing to take advantage of conditions and get the best results from them possible. Now, I'm not a politician, nothing more, but a sailor, and even a sailor-man can see that if politics were to be played so far as securing delegates to a national convention is concerned, it would pick the West against the East, and that to my mind would be extremely foolish. The transfer of the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific takes away from our Atlantic coast cities not only the ships, but the men who man them. Atlantic coast towns are benefited by the visits of the Atlantic fleet to these places having safe harbors, and the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker, to say nothing of the places of entertainment, benefit from the visit of the fleet. To make it a political question, therefore, would be the height of folly, and President Roosevelt has never been accused of being a bad politician. My judgment is that the fleet which is ordered to assemble on the Pacific, ostensibly to assemble on the Pacific and Washington, will be ordered to the Far East, for we all recognize that the Volcano is there, and there the eruption will take place, and not on the Atlantic. While I am not in the confidence of those who are directing the movements of the Pacific fleet, I know enough of conditions throughout the world, by reason of having been in the navy for nearly forty years, to know that there are no friendly squadrons nearby to protect the person and property of American citizens in the Orient. I say, therefore, let the fleet sail and God speed it on the mission of peace.

Terence V. Powderly, chief of the information division of the department of commerce and labor, a bureau recently created by act of congress under the new immigration law, and one of the best known labor leaders in the country, does not take any stock in the story emanating from Pittsburgh to the effect that the foreign born employees in the mines are to be discharged because they persist in observing their church and national holidays peculiar to the countries from which they come.

Mr. Powderly, who is a resident of Pennsylvania, and was brought up in the coal mining districts of that state, starting life as a "dumb boy," says that the foreigners who work in the mines and the mills are entirely from Hungary, Poland and Italy; that their religious or national holidays rarely fall upon the same date so it would be impossible in reality for any considerable number to "lay off" in order to celebrate a religious or other holiday generally observed in their own country. Mr. Powderly considers the paragraph to which reference is made in the nature of a warning to aliens that, in accepting positions in the mines or mills in the vicinity of Pittsburgh or elsewhere, they must work on all days of the week, being allowed holidays only on such days as are recognized by state statutes as a holiday.

Army and navy circles are considerably wrought up over the report of Capt. Judson, an army engineer officer, who was sent to the Far East as a military observer during the Russo-Japanese war, and Commander Sims, the principal naval expert in target shooting, who had been sent to Fort Monmouth to watch some of the practice with the big coast defense guns. Capt. Judson is said to have reported that the Japanese navy was far superior to our own in personnel and material, while Commander Sims, who looked with a critical eye upon the army shooting, is said to have made a report to Acting Secretary Newberry to the effect that the coast defense men were far behind the naval gunners in efficiency.

Since these reports were made, members of the Army and Navy club have been badgering one another, and as a result considerable feeling has been engendered which gives promise of resulting in a board made up of army and navy officers to report upon the efficiency of gunners in the two branches of the service. A feeling of rivalry would not go too far, but these reports admittedly have a tendency to bring the rivalry to the straining point and create conditions that existed very shortly after the close of the Civil war, when the officers of the army and navy were hardly on speaking terms with one another, while the enlisted men in the two arms of the service carried their ill feeling toward one another to frequent encounters, resulting in broken noses and broken heads. Deprecating as they are the criticisms of the officers above named, the officials of the two departments have not seen fit to make the reports of Capt. Judson and Commander Sims public, but sufficient has leaked out to warrant the heads of the army and navy to restore the cordial relations between the two arms so essentially necessary to success in the event of trouble.

SAILS LIKE A BIRD.

Count Zeppelin Makes a Sensational Voyage in His Airship.

Constance, Grand Duchy of Baden, Sept. 25.—Count Ferdinand Zeppelin, the German aeronaut yesterday made the most sensational aerial voyage hitherto accomplished in any dirigible balloon. He spent four hours and seventeen minutes in the air, completely circumnavigating the lake of Constance and passing over five different states. The speed of the airship is estimated to have been at least thirty-eight miles an hour. When both motors were in operation it easily outdistanced the numerous steamers laden with observers that followed him. The airship executed the most diverse evolutions with the greatest ease.

ALVEOLAR DENTISTRY

When we have put teeth in a person's mouth so they can use them with as much comfort and satisfaction as their own, it is not surprising that they are natural and in good condition—teeth in place of those which had been worn on plates, because neither they nor their dentist knew of our method of supplying teeth without the aid of plates, those people are going to make good witnesses for us.

We have a list of people who have thrown away their plates and have had alveolar work done by us. This list is open to your inspection. Select those whom you know, and ask them about their work. It will cost you nothing to see a patient. It is our best advertisement. Examination and advice free. Careful operating, pass extracts.

THE POLICE COURT GRIST

Two Women Are Arrested on Charges of Drunkenness.

The police court grist this morning was varied by the appearance of two women, Lizzie Burke and Sophia Larson, charged with drunkenness. The Larson woman admitted that she was "a little drunk, maybe," but declined to plead guilty to the charge and her case was set for later in the day. Lizzie Burke pleaded guilty and asked the court to let her off this time. This is her third offense, according to the officers and Judge Cutting declined to grant further stay of sentence. She was given fourteen days in the county jail.

Martin Goherty, an old offender, was sentenced to sixty days at hard labor. The man pleaded for a stay of sentence but his promises have been heard before by the court. Martin went on his feet shake the dust of Duluth from his feet. It given fifteen minutes. "I have heard that too many times from you," remarked Judge Cutting.

Louis Sisko could not understand English, but Chief Troyer managed to ask him in German if he was drunk. Louis smiled and replied "ja," and the court fined him $1 and costs.

Peter Grandunsson amused the crowd at police court with his droll replies to the questions put to him. Peter allowed that he had been drunk many times, but that there was good reason for it. "You see a man up in the woods is like a wild man anyway. Judge, and when he gets to town he starts out to enjoy himself. I did not and now I'm in for it."

Peter admitted that he had been on a drunk every time he came to Duluth but the police had not always got him. "I was more lucky some times than others and was a lot drunker when they didn't get me once," said Peter. The court fined him $1 and costs or three days.

Adolph Carlson drew $10 and costs or ten days for being drunk. "I'm ashamed of myself, and I know it was wrong," remarked Adolph. There were fifteen prisoners arraigned today, most of them for drunkenness with the exception of the man Esterlund for assault and Morgan for forgery.

Amalgamated opened at $51, advanced to $51.37 1/2, declined to $50.25, rallied to $51.12 1/2 and closed at $51.12 1/2 bid, a slight gain over yesterday's close.

INJURED IN COLLISION

J. K. Peterson Drives in Front of Rapidly Moving Car.

Buggy is Demolished, the Wheels Striking a Bystander.

An accident which narrowly missed having fatal results, took place shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon at the corner of Tenth avenue east and Superior street.

J. K. Peterson of 410 East Tenth street was driving along Superior street in a light buggy, and attempted to pass in front of one of the large double truck cars, going at full speed. The man evidently lost his head, for the car was almost abreast of him when he turned, and before the motorman was aware of the danger, the rear wheels of the buggy, and the cushions struck Mrs. German, who was standing at the corner of Tenth avenue and Superior street, knocking her to the ground.

The car was brought to a standstill and bystanders assisted both the man and the woman to rise.

Frank Nestor, who happened to be driving at the time, offered his services to assist Mrs. German to her home, but she declined his offer. She was seriously injured, although she sustained several cuts and bruises, but the man was quite badly shaken up.

New York, Sept. 25.—Receivers were appointed by the federal court today for the contracting firm of Seidman & Co., on an involuntary petition for bankruptcy.

VACANT LOT FARMING.

Big Profits From the Venture Are Made in New York.

It is possible to get $500 profit a year out of half an acre of ground by working it in the city, says Bolton Hall. By actual experience he has never demonstrated the proposition, but he has done the next best thing to it.

By observing the operations of the tenants of the vacant lot gardening association up in the Bronx and by compiling the profit and loss figures on small parcels of ground worked for six months or so by unskilled labor, Bolton Hall, experienced a series of figures which he regards as convincing. Small children, inexperienced women, crippled or infirm men, have done the work upon whom the calculations are based, says the New York Sun.

It was a little more than a year ago that the John Jacob Astor estate conferred upon Bolton Hall the honor of being the first to plant a plot in the Bronxville to the vacant lot gardening association, of which Howard Payson Wilder is president, and Bolton Hall, treasurer. Fifteen acres of the tract consisted of woods and rocks. The other fifteen, except a very small area, was a rough, unploughed sod.

Twelve acres was put under the plough in April and divided into plots varying in size from one-eighth of an acre to an acre up to half an acre. It was May before the first of the throng of applicants who applied in answer to the offer of the gardeners began seeding his plot and a week later before the first tent was put up.

About sixteen of the plot holders brought their lawns and penises along and went to housekeeping on the ground. The better family of the new arrivals as to size consisted of a father, mother and seven children. The smallest consisted of a young man in poor health.

In every case the head of the family was down on his luck and needed a helping hand. A man out of work for a month, and his wife who was in delicate health, a man who was feeble, accompanied by his wife and two small children, a man who had just got back to work after many weeks of illness and with his wife and two little girls were thankful to dodge rent day, are examples of the tenors who camped beside their plots and for the first time in their life had a try at gardening.

Most of the tenters stayed from May till November, half a dozen of them put up small shacks made of boards bought for a song from the owners of torn down buildings near the race course, and decided to stay all winter.

Ten families are now occupying shacks and tents in the vacant lot, and at least half the number are housewives from last summer. Among the newcomers there is an Italian family, a mother and six children, that is taking to farming with an alacrity promising results which will show up well in Mr. Hall's profit schedule next fall.

Another new arrival is a woman with a disabled husband. The husband works on the quarter acre allotted to them will be done by the woman.

By the way, the superintendent of the farm has shut down on the building of any more shacks for the reason that as the town of the ground is only from year to year and not to be encouraged to erect quarters with a view to being permanent residents and also because as tenants prosper they will be encouraged to rent ground elsewhere and to quit the farm for others who need assistance.

Of the eighty odd plot-holders of last summer, only thirty are left on the ground, and the rest have gone to other parts of the city in which the ground was so rough that the stones had to be removed before the soil could be planted, and yet their enthusiasm did not evaporate.

Some of the plot-holders lived in the vicinity, but more lived far down in Manhattan, and the most of them were not sufficiently trained in agriculture to be transplanted permanently to the country. The success of vacant lot farming has been demonstrated. It is now merely a matter of increasing the work to reach a greater number.

KEEPING SHOP BY MACHINE.
Chicago, Nov. 24.—An American tourist, who does not know a word of Dutch, recently saw in a shop window the announcement of a "English, sir," asked a youth behind the counter. Then he picked up a cylinder, placed it in a gramophone, and the instrument duly sung out—but in German: "Sir (or madam), the proprietor, who speaks German, will be telephoned for and will return to the establishment in less than five minutes. Will you please be seated?"

Being familiar with German, the tourist seated himself. In came the proprietor, who speaks German, and the excellent English. The stranger asked why the gramophone did not talk English. The explanation was: "It's a stupid assistant! I have a cylinder on which is recorded the message: 'There is no excuse or him.'"

"There is no excuse or him," continued the annoyed proprietor. "My English cylinder is linked red at the ends and the German one blue. Lucky for me, sir, that you know German, else I might have lost an esteemed patron."

STRENGTH IN RESERVE.
Young Man: One of the most celebrated admirals of our day, whose name is closely associated with deeds of conspicuous hardihood and valor, when asked by a friend and secret of his remarkable success, answered naively: "I'll tell you, my boy. It was just through being a thoroughly lazy man."

Sir Francis Laking, the king's physician, is very much in sympathy with that special form of laziness which produces heroes and heroines. He is not at all of the same opinion as those bustling folk who maintain that change of work is as good as a holiday, and that laziness is under all circumstances.

Whenever any one of this great doctor's patients is starting out on a pleasure trip he offers some common sense advice as this:

"Don't overtake yourself. Don't let racing in air and novel surroundings persuade you to take too long walks. Don't shorten your hours of sleep, and—don't eat too much."

ACRIMONY DISPLAYED

By Equalization Board Over the Iron Mine Valuations.

One or More of Members May Hand in Resignation.

St. Paul, Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Consideration of the iron mine valuations fixed by the state tax commission threatens to breed dissension in the state board of equalization. There was an acrimonious discussion today which may result in the resignation of at least one if not more members.

Just before the noon hour the board was visited by the tax commission in compliance with the resolution of last week calling for certain data and information relating to mine values in its possession. Chairman McVey of the commission, added orally a statement explaining the methods used in the investigation and the conclusions arrived at. The custom in such cases is to refer the matter to the proper committee, that of real estate, but J. N.

Gaynor of Litchfield, at the conclusion of the commission's visit, moved that it be referred to the board, sitting as a committee of the whole. When his motion was seconded, he asked to have read an article appearing in the Evening Herald, in which the valuation placed on the iron properties by the commission, the desire of some of the members of the equalization board to increase the figures, but concluded with the statement that the matter should be placed in the hands of the commission, and that he would not intend to place the construction on the article in the way it was taken by some of the members. Almost in an instant, Mr. Gaynor, said, the insinuation hurt, especially when it came from a new member like Mr. Gaynor. He thought his action uncalled for.

There was a chorus of "No" from the members, but Mr. Gaynor insisted until Thomas Meighan poured oil on the troubled waters by declaring it be not accepted. In answer Mr. Gaynor said the insinuation hurt, especially when it came from a new member like Mr. Gaynor. He thought his action uncalled for.

Adjustment followed, with the whole thing in the air, and an effort on the part of some of the members to get Mr. Gaynor and Mr. Hardenburg together, but the attempt at reconciliation failed. Mr. Gaynor insisted that he had intended no reflection, and Mr. Hardenburg was equally as sure that an injustice had been done.

Finally the matter culminated with a threat on the part of Mr. Gaynor that he would resign from the board if his motives were to be misconstrued. Members tried to dissuade him from that step, and when the gathering broke up for luncheon, he was still of that mind.

LONDON'S WATER SUPPLY.
Tit-Bits: It has been calculated that if a cistern covering 500 acres and 345 feet high could be constructed and the water supply of London for one year turned into it, the warships of all the world's navies could ride at anchor there.

If we now dig a canal 100 feet wide across Europe, from the extreme north to the south, and empty our cistern in it, we shall find that the water in our canal, which is 2,400 miles long, will rise to a uniform height of ten feet. Very drop of it is consumed by the inhabitants of Greater London within the city walls, and the water in the canal would draw fifty gallons from it without exhausting its contents.

The mine through which these hundreds of millions of tons of water flow for the use of London are almost long enough to stretch a quarter of the way around the earth at the equator, while it would take a locomotive, traveling at the rate of sixty miles an hour, more than four days and nights to race from one end of them to the other.

CAT HAS RECORD TAIL.
Seattle Times: An 8-month-old Persian cat, with a tail 18 inches long, is possessed by J. W. Gertz of Rainier Valley. The cat will be on exhibition at the A. L. Hall store on First avenue, today.

Gertz is interested in the Baldwin battery, located at Rainier Beach, and has for many years made a special study of cats and he said that he felt confident in asserting that this animal is the only one in existence that is possessed of a tail of such length.

The feline in question is black and white, extremely large for its age and is as proud of its tail as a mother of her baby's first tooth. She struts about the house switching her purr extremely side to side, and seems to understand that it is something out of the ordinary. Gertz is in doubt as to whether the tail will increase in length as the cat grows older, but hopes that it will.

QUEEN OF SIAM'S JEWELS.
London Tit-Bits: The queen of Siam possesses the finest collection of jewels in the world.

The walls of her bed chamber are literally ablaze with precious stones, while in a safe in her majesty's apartments are diamonds, rubies, pearls and emeralds fashioned into quaint necklaces of fabulous value. One single article alone, intended to serve as a thimble, is in the shape of a lotus flower, and is valued at $15,000.

The king, too, possesses a wonderful stock of jewels, and not only is his throne, which is made of pure gold, thickly encrusted with diamonds, pearls and rubies, but his majesty's state mantle is covered with jewels. In fact, this cloak is the most wonderful garment in the world. In spite of his enormous collection of jewels, however, the king of Siam is constantly adding to them and spends something like $120,000 per annum in purchasing new stones.

New York, Stock and Bryan, to Palm Beach, Fla., has apparently been entirely drifted into a rut. Professional elements dominates the market and the public influence is very small. There were not much news of importance other than the fact that the market was very quiet from London. Persistent attacks failed to dislodge much long stock, which leads to the belief that the market is still mostly over. The creation of a short interest would strengthen the technical position of the people, but the basis of a future upward movement.

SIR THOMAS BITTERLY DISAPPOINTED, BUT WILL SOON CHALLENGE AGAIN

Rejection of Offer for Race Will Not Defeat Lipton.

Will Soon Issue Challenge for a 90-Foot Boat.

Thought He Was All Right Under Universal Rule.

London, Sept. 26.—Sir Thomas Lipton is bitterly disappointed at the failure of the New York Yacht club to accept his challenge for another series of races for the America's cup, and is anxiously awaiting official information on the subject through the Royal Irish Yacht club, which he hopes will give in detail the reasons for the American club's action.

In an interview today, Sir Thomas said he could not understand why his challenge had not been accepted, as he had been led to believe that if he challenged under the universal rule which prevails for races in the United States, there was every possibility of his challenge being favorably received. He added, however, that he had not given up hope of sending a yacht to Sandy Hook in 1908, and already had telegraphed to William Pitt, the designer, to come to London for a consultation.

There was but one thing which Sir Thomas was emphatic about, and that was that he would not challenge under the old rule. One reason for this is that there is no designer of note in Great Britain, which includes both Pitt and Milne, who will design a boat similar to the previous ones. He said that to do so would necessitate the production of even a greater freak than those which have already gone to defeat. Besides, the danger of sailing such a boat across the Atlantic must be taken into account. Sir Thomas is not prepared to again risk the lives of men in such a venture.

Sir Thomas, however, authorized the Associated Press to say that he was prepared to challenge with a 90-foot boat, under the New York Yacht club rules.

"In sending the challenge," said Sir Thomas, "I offered with me a sixty-five foot on the water line, under ninety feet. I adhered to this respect to size, inasmuch as the boat I challenged with would have been about seventy-five feet on the water line. This, also, conforms with the New York Yacht club's rules for the 'class J' boats.

"I am prepared, now that they

A QUICK TRIP THROUGH SEWER

Man Falls in and Emerges, Nearly Drowned, in River.

New York, Sept. 26.—John Hoffman, 55 years old, an employee in the bureau of sewers, was dropped into a five-foot sewer in Third avenue, near One Hundred Twenty-eighth street, owing to the breaking of a rope and shot through the sewer to its terminus at Harlem river and One Hundred Thirty-first street. Hoffman came out alive in a condition remarkable.

With several other employees, Hoffman was at work repairing the main sewer. They had almost finished their labors when a heavy rainstorm started. Hoffman was down in the hole, about four feet above the swiftly flowing water. Around his waist was a rope, which was held by the men in the street above. As the water poured into the main pipe, the water rose higher and the rope broke and Hoffman fell into the water.

His fellow workmen instantly dashed up the avenue to One Hundred Thirty-first street, where the sewer runs into the Harlem river. Just as they reached the spot, Hoffman shot out into the river. He landed near a boat-house float, swam to it and held on until a policeman and workmen rescued him. After being given dry clothes he went home. He told the policeman that he went through the sewer so fast he "didn't have time to look at the scenery."

IRON MINES IN ONTARIO.

Canadian Prospectors Thought to Have Located a Valuable Property.

Port Arthur, Ont., Sept. 26.—M. H. Kane of Phoenix, B. C., who recently returned from a prospecting tour north of Sturgeon Lake, Ont., believes that his party has located iron mines of great value. The others interested in the discovery are Phil McDonald, John Frost, Thomas Russell and Patrick Hickory of Greenwood, B. C.; W. A. McGill and James Carse of Owen Sound. They were successful in locating what they firmly believe will prove one of the most extensive bodies of hematite ore in the district. The vein is from 100 to 500 feet wide, and has been traced for five miles.

OPERATORS' NEW MOVE

Would Have New York Telegraphers Break Their Contracts.

Strikers Ask Their National Officers to Call Them Out.

New York, Sept. 26.—The New York local of the Commercial Telegraphers' union voted last night to call out all leased wire operators employed by the press and brokers offices in this city, if such action shall be sanctioned by the national officers. Action by the national officers will be awaited before anything further is done. It was voted also to ask the national officers to issue a call for the brokers and press telegraphers throughout the country to quit work. The demand upon the men who are now working under contract is made in the interests of the operators of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies.

The decision to call upon the press and broker operators to break their individual contracts and undertake a sympathy strike was voted yesterday in New York local. The final vote decided the strikers were practically unanimous. An effort to involve the

BAD NEGRO IS SURROUNDED

Police Have Richard Walton Corralled in Summit, Ill.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Richard Walton, the negro wanted for the murder of Mrs. Lillian W. Grant, the teacher, was found in her room strangled to death, several days ago, is said to be surrounded by the police in a deserted building at Summit, Ill., about twenty miles south of the city. He is reported as being barricaded strongly in the house and to be abundantly supplied with weapons and ammunition. Including a force of police who left the city shortly before 9 o'clock, about fifty officers are on the ground.

Police Inspector Revere last night received word that Walton had fled from the city, and had gone to Summit. He at once followed the clue and early today telephoned to police headquarters that he had Walton surrounded, and that his men were too few in number to make a capture absolutely certain, and he requested that additional officers be sent.

Within a few minutes after the receipt of his message an automobile containing Chief of Police Shipley, Assistant Chief Schuetler and several detectives, armed with rifles, were on their way to Summit. Walton is an ex-convict and has the reputation of being a desperate character.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL ASKED TO COLLECT TAXES FROM DELINQUENT ROADS

ALFRED DREYFUS, Famous Frenchman, Who Has Been Retired From the Army and Will Lead a Peaceful Citizen Life.

Cover Penalties for Failure to Pay in Lawful Time.

State Treasurer Turns Over Drafts Amounting to $27,000.

Roads Say They Should Not be Compelled to Pay.

St. Paul, Sept. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Treasurer C. C. Dinehart has turned over to Attorney General Young a number of drafts made against several railroads for collection. They cover penalties imposed for failure to pay within the lawful time gross earnings taxes. The amount originally was about $29,000, but because of errors discovered, several of the roads were released. This reduced the total figure to about $27,000. Many of the roads against whom penalties have been imposed make the point that they should not be compelled to suffer any penalty, because of the fact that they pay most of their taxes long before the lawful limit. This is done, they say, in order to enable the state to tide itself over the usual financial stringency which occurs generally about the first of the year.

MAJOR ALFRED DREYFUS RETIRES TO PRIVATE LIFE.

Paris, Sept. 26.—The retirement from the army of Maj. Alfred Dreyfus has been gazetted in the nomination of an officer to the post last held by him, that of commander of artillery at St. Denis.

CREMATED IN HOUSE

Old Settler of Red River Valley Lost in Tragic Way.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Commissioner John Driscoll was cremated at 3 o'clock this morning when his frame residence was burned. All the other members of the family escaped. Mr. Driscoll returned home late last night, and the other members of the family did not know he was in the house until his chair remains were found in the ruins.

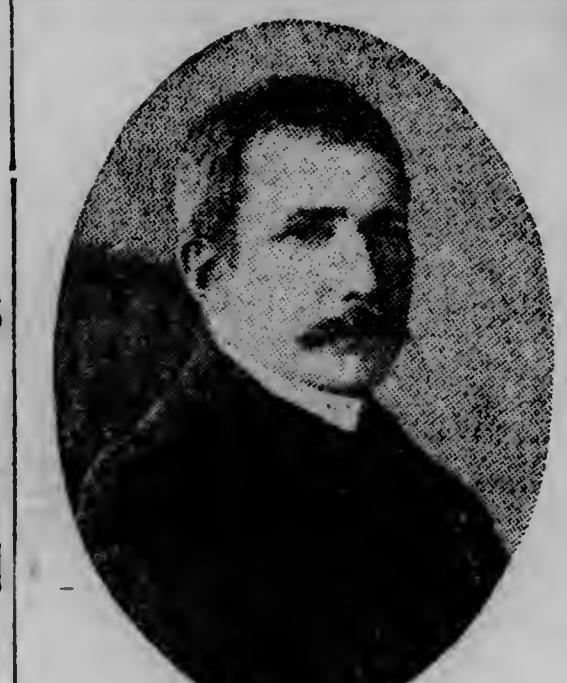

Nothing is known as to the origin of the fire. The dead man was a pioneer of the Red River valley, and wealthy.

BATTLE LAKE SCHOOL. (Special to The Herald.)—Battle Lake people have voted almost unanimously to issue bonds in the sum of $14,500 to build a new school house. It will be a fine structure.

NEW PLAN A FAILURE

Moral Suasion in New York Schools Not a Success.

Inquiry Into the Abolition of Corporal Punishment.

New York, Sept. 26.—The board of education has ordered an investigation to determine whether the abolition of corporal punishment has been beneficial or detrimental to the system. The inquiry will be conducted by a special committee to be appointed by President Winthrop. The opinions of superintendents and principals will be sought.

Moral suasion is used entirely now in the schools in disciplining pupils. In the opinion of some school commissioners it has proved utterly inadequate to maintain good order and discipline. Any return to corporal punishment will be bitterly contested, however. Many of the commissioners believe corporal punishment barbarous.

Commissioner Jonas of Brooklyn, introduced the resolution looking to the abolition of the practice. Immediately Commissioner Kanzer moved that it be laid on the table, but the motion to lay on the table was defeated by a vote of 18 to 10 and the original resolution was adopted.

BRINGS CIGARS FOR CLEVELAND

South American Thinks Ex-President a Great Man.

New York, Sept. 26.—Felisberto C. Paes Lem of Rio de Janeiro, who has arrived here in charge of a party of thirty Brazilian merchants and professional men who desire to visit the principal cities of the East to study American business methods, was asked when he landed where ex-President Cleveland could be found.

"I have for Mr. Cleveland a box of the finest cigars that we make in Brazil," said he, "which I promised to Mr. Cleveland twenty-four years ago. I shall have to apologize, I fear, for long delay in making good my promise, but I shall be forgiven no doubt when he lights the first cigar."

"I met Mr. Cleveland at the time when he was governor of New York, and I was impressed with the idea that he was the greatest man among Americans."

Senor Lem said the party hoped to visit Mr. Cleveland at Princeton.

SAY RATES ARE NOT EXCESSIVE

Union Pacific Answers the Charges of High Tariff.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 26.—In answering the complaint of the Nebraska state railway commission, to be laid before the interstate commerce commission against the rates of coal shipments from the West, the Union Pacific railroad has denied that the rates on its lines from Rock Springs and Hanna, Wyo., are unreasonable and unjust and alleges that each and all of these rates are under all the conditions and circumstances surrounding said shipments just, reasonable and lawful, and not in violation of the act to regulate commerce or the amendatory or supplemental acts.

The Nebraska commission complained of the plank rate of $4.50 from Rock Springs, Wyo., and that of $3.50 from Hanna, Wyo.

Kellogg Questions Center Bridge Station on New Jersey Line.

Government Believes It Delivery Point to Evade Hepburn Bill.

The Company Contends That It is a Terminal Station.

New York, Sept. 26.—C. M. Payne, who, with H. C. Folger, Jr., owns the Corsicana Refining Company of Texas, was on the witness stand again today to give testimony in the government's suit against the Standard, and gave further information concerning the pipe lines of the so-called oil trust, over which he had general supervision. Mr. Payne said that at the terminus of the pipe line of the National Transit company, at Center Bridge, on the state line between New Jersey and Pennsylvania, where the company quotes its tariffs for shipment of crude oil, there was a pumping station.

"It is not a delivery station, is it?" asked Mr. Kellogg, after the witness had testified that at Center Bridge the oil from the pipes of the National company was pumped into the pipes of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

"It is a pumping station," answered the witness.

"I will show you a statement of the National Transit company, showing that tanks were built at Center Bridge in 1906, that were there for the purpose of making a delivery at a delivery station," replied Mr. Payne.

"To whom did you deliver the oil there?" asked Mr. Kellogg, who contends that the Standard Oil company has evaded the Hepburn law of 1906, which provided that pipe carriers shall submit schedules of tariff to their terminals, and that the real terminal is Bayonne, N. J., at tide-water.

"To the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey," answered Mr. Payne.

"Do you deliver to anyone else?"

"No, one else has asked for a delivery of oil there?"

"Not that I know of," said Mr. Payne.

"Now, is it not the Southern Pipe Line company that delivers oil at Center Bridge instead of the National Transit company?"

"I do not think so," said Mr. Payne.

"You built the tanks at Center Bridge in 1906. Who advised you to build them?"

"I did," interposed Mr. Millburn of the defense, "for I thought, under the law, that the tanks were a delivery point there. I thought it excellent legal advice."

"I do not," said Mr. Kellogg, who had asked the witness the location of Fond Grove.

"It is on the state line between

PUT UP BONDS FOR DIAMONDS

Securities Not Quoted and Firm Has Purchaser Arrested.

New York, Sept. 26.—Samuel Langdon has been arrested on a charge made by Frederick Wiss of J. Wiss & Son, Jewelers, of Newark, N. J., that he had obtained two diamond rings worth $4,225 on Sept. 17, by making false representations.

Mr. Wiss alleges that Langdon left as security for the rings two $1,000 first mortgage bonds of the New York & Pittsburgh Air Line Railroad company. The firm inquired about the value of the bonds, Wiss further says, and could not find that they were quoted. This led to Langdon's arrest. When Langdon was searched fifty-one bonds of the air line railroad company were found on him and railroad passes and pawn tickets on jewelry. One of these tickets was from a Philadelphia firm. The New York & Pittsburgh Air line was incorporated last year and was projected from West Philadelphia to Johnstown. Twenty miles has been completed. It has $500,000 capital stock.

BIG STORE BURNS, LOSS IS $20,000

Stearns Lumber company and telephone connection is cut and few details can be obtained. Indians arriving at Ashland say two men were suffocated, but this is denied. The store supplied the reservation and mail hands and was one of the largest in Northern Wisconsin. It was fully insured.

PULLS REVOLVER DURING QUARREL

Colored Porter at Brewery Arrested for Brandishing Gun.

Henry Walker, colored, created considerable excitement at the plant of the Duluth Brewing & Malting company during the noon hour today by pulling a revolver, according to statement made to the officers, and threatening to shoot a man he claimed had struck him with a club.

Walker was arrested by Detective Schulte, and will be arraigned later as soon as the particulars can be learned by the police.

It appears from the statements made to the detective that Walker, who is a porter at the brewery, is in the habit of handing out the beer allowed the men for their lunch at noon.

Today, it is stated, an altercation arose between Walker and one of the men, and blows were exchanged. Walker, receiving a blow over the head from a club, went to the office, so the men state, and returned armed with a revolver. Brandishing the weapon, Walker cried, "I'll shoot the man who hit me with that club." An alarm was turned in and the man put under arrest.

HUSBAND IN JAIL; WIFE HELD ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Mrs. David Gerow Said to Have Another Husband Living.

Gerow, Jailed on Her Complaint, Gives Police Information.

Mrs. Juliana Frinsburg, who has been known for some seven weeks past as Mrs. David Gerow, was arrested this morning by Chief Troyer and Detective Irvine, at her rooms in the Miller block, charged with bigamy.

The case grows out of the domestic troubles of the woman and Gerow, to whom, it is alleged, she was illegally married. About two weeks ago Gerow was arrested, charged with assaulting the woman, to whom he had been married but a few weeks. Sentence was suspended for three months and Gerow released, but he had been home but a short time when the police were called again. Gerow having checked the woman, it is said, the judge imposed a sentence of sixty days in the county jail, which Gerow is now serving.

The trouble started Gerow on married life, and it is said, when he told the officers that he believed the woman was married previously to her marriage with him, and that her first husband was still living. He gave the officers a lead, which they might follow to ascertain the facts.

The police began an investigation, and, according to the information of which the woman was arrested today, she was married June 23, 1902, in Webster, Burnett county, Wis., to Oscar Frinsburg, who, it is said, is now living with two children born of his marriage with the woman under arrest here, at Grantsburg, Wis. It is said the maiden name of Mrs. Gerow, or Mrs. Frinsburg, was Juliana Sagmo.

When arrested the woman denied the charge entirely. The chief confronted her with a copy of the marriage certificate of her alleged marriage with Frinsburg, and other documentary evidence, and though she has not made a direct admission, the police claim she has practically confessed.

The woman came to Duluth from Port Stelling, where, it is said, she had become infatuated with a soldier, over whom the trouble between her and Gerow arose. She worked as a domestic for a time, and about seven weeks ago, she and Gerow were married. She is being held at the police station, and will be given a preliminary examination.

BRICKS ARE MASSAGED

Lonsdale Building Being Given Rubdown With Air Blasts.

Old Part is Cleaned, to Match the New.

Have you noticed the massage treatment to which the enlarged Lonsdale building is being treated?

Pedestrians passing by the corner of Third avenue west and Superior street have wondered what made the sand fly in their eyes on a windy day, and on looking up discovered that men were busily engaged in giving the exterior of the tall Lonsdale structure a good rub down.

The principle of the thing is air pressure. With pieces of hose into which powerful air blasts are turned, the bricks comprising the walls can be thoroughly cleaned. The effect is the same as upon a softer substance than brick, when rubbed with sand paper.

The dirty coating of the building is blown off, leaving the bricks clean and fresh looking. However, the blowing process causes the fine sand from the old part to be blown down the thoroughfare and into the eyes of passers-by.

This summer, several stories were told of the Lonsdale building and the old part is being cleaned by this air-blast method to make it harmonize with the new part.

This system of cleaning brick buildings has been in vogue for some time in the East. Perhaps the first time that it was experienced with in the North was when the government had the federal building in Minneapolis cleaned that way, about three years ago.

Killed a Canine.
Officer O'Neil shot a dog opposite the postoffice on First street this forenoon, the animal manifesting symptoms of the rabies. No one was injured by the animal, and its peculiar actions may have been the result of poison rather than the rabies. There was considerable excitement for a time, the report going around that a mad dog had been killed.

FALLS FROM WINDOW

Porter Loses Balance While Cleaning Windows in Spalding.

Turns Somersault in Air and Lands on Paving.

Bennett Brasell, a colored man employed as porter at the Spalding, had a narrow escape from death this afternoon.

The man was engaged in washing windows in the rear of the building and lost his balance in some manner, falling from the second story window to the pavement on Michigan street, a distance of thirty or more feet. He was picked up and hurried to St. Luke's hospital where the physicians are examining him. A compound fracture of one arm and severe bruises seem to be all the injuries he sustained and his escape is considered remarkable. He turned a complete somersault in the air in his trip downward to the hard paving.

Tailored Garments Which Command Attention

All that could be hoped for in the way of tailored garments is at your disposal. "Smart" is the word which characterizes our garments, yet "Smartness" is not the sole consideration, for fabric, quality, nominal price and tailor's skill are equally potent factors in the composition of the individual pieces.

THE "BARRYMORE" SUIT

In the dressy 36-inch fitted coat styles, with velvet collar and cuffs, single or double breasted, fancy cut hip and breast pockets. The materials are serges, broadcloths, chevots and worsteds. Prices range from $25.00 to $40.00.

FANCY BRAIDED BROADCLOTHS

The showing of aristocratic forty to fifty-two inch coat suits, in fine imported chiffon broadcloths, heavily braided in designs are ultra-dressy. ### A Band With a Record.

With a record of over 4,000 concerts played in the past seven years, the famous Klitties band of Canada, will appear in this city next Thursday at the Lyceum for two performances. The Klitties have just returned from a triumphal tour of Mexico, where they were the first musical organization from a foreign country touring that republic, and playing the best theaters. There is no other concert band in the world as unique as this one. Not only is it a remarkable combination of high-class artists, who render classic or popular music with equal musical understanding, but it represents, in costume and appearance, the nation from which each player is sprung. The men, who wear the kilts of Scotland (from which the name "Klitties" is derived) are all Scotch-Canadians; and accompanying the band is a splendid male choir, who sing the ballads of the mother country as none but Scotch men can. In addition to these singers, Mr. Angus MacMillan Fraser, American champion bag-piper, sailor's horn-pipe and sword dancer, gives these dances with true Scotch fervor and remarkable grace.

The visit of the Klitties to Duluth is an event that will be enjoyed by all who hear these traveled and talented players.

The Klitties band is being brought to Duluth by the Clan Stewart.

UNIQUE WEDDING.

Made Part of W. C. T. U. Program by Special Request of Bride.

Iron River, Wis., Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A unique but very pretty wedding was celebrated at the Congregational church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Miss Lola May Drummond and James Stanley were married. Rev. U. S. Villars of Superior officiating. It being the regular monthly social meeting day of the W. C. T. U. and Miss Drummond being a prominent member, the wedding was made a part of the program by her wish.

The members of the society met at the home of Mrs. Byron Ripley and marched by two with the church, where they formed a double line in the main aisle, the wedding party passing through to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mrs. Hessey.

The bride was tastefully dressed in white Swiss mill, beautifully trimmed with narrow Valenciennes lace insertion and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. Mrs. Harry Kopplin, the local W. C. T. U. president, was bridesmaid and Harry Kopplin attended the groom as best man. Rev. Mr. Gibson gave the bride away and little Lillian Lund was ring bearer. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and received the congratulations of their friends. As they passed out each person received a piece of wedding cake daintily wrapped in white tissue paper and tied with white ribbon.

The bride is one of the pioneer settlers of Iron River. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley will make this city their future home.

Those from out of town attending the wedding were Mrs. Booth, Mrs. Pickett and Miss McMullen of Superior and Mrs. Knowlton of Ashland.

After the wedding the following program was rendered:

MONOPOLY THAT IS BENEFICIAL

Double Telephone System More Expensive in Long Run.

Telephone Monopoly a Good Thing.

Editorial from the Western (R. L.) Sun, May 8, 1904.

That was a gentle let-down that the Home Telephone Company, which had been operating in the city of Duluth, Monday, when they were given the privilege of withdrawing the petition for a franchise in our neighboring town. That action was good.

The same fight is now on in Providence and in other towns of the State, as well as in the Connecticut General Assembly, where the same company and other independent telephone companies are seeking for charters. If the other towns of the State and the "Nutmeg" legislators would only follow the lead of Hopkinton, they would be doing themselves a good turn.

Western is an authority on the subject of more than one telephone company. She has been all through it, we have said before in this column, and is back again on the good old monopoly system.

As a rule, a monopoly is a bad thing, for the user is forced to use one particular kind of commodity whether he will or not. For the stockholders of the telephone monopoly it is to be desired, as much as a monopoly in any other line of trade is desired by the owners. It has also the peculiarity of being one of the only monopolies that is good for the consumer. Although two telephone companies may mean the reduction of rates because of competition, it does not follow that the telephone is cheaper for the subscriber. The opposite is true. Competitive companies mean that every business house must have a telephone of each company installed, and under any circumstances the rental for two instruments is more expensive than one.

Competition in the oil industry is a good thing. It keeps the price down, for if the price begins to climb, the user has simply to turn to another company. But a monopoly in oil, even, would be a good thing if it was necessary for the consumer to buy an equal amount of oil from two competitive companies, and not be able to cut down the quantity of his purchase from either. Twenty cents a gallon for gasoline is high, because of a monopoly. But it would not be high if it was necessary to buy a gallon from two different companies, and not from the lowest bidder alone, even if the price was reduced to eleven cents a gallon by both companies. The cost then would be twenty-two cents, rather than twenty cents.

But the oil trust and the telephone trust cannot be compared. The one is bad, and the other is good as long as it is regulated properly by law. A monopoly in the telephone business is to be desired for the sake of convenience and expense. This cannot be said of many other monopolies.

BIG MEETING OF EQUITY SOCIETY

Convention at Minneapolis is Concluded—Officers Chosen.

W. E. McEwen, secretary of the state federation of labor, returned to Duluth today from Minneapolis, where he attended the convention of the Minnesota branch of the American Society of Equity as a fraternal delegate from the labor federation. He reports that the meeting was well attended and the enthusiasm of the delegates was good to see.

A number of well known officials of the Society of Equity addressed the meeting and also several prominent leaders in the labor movement delivered their views on the progress of the labor movement and the combination of the movement of the farmers and the labor.

Mr. McEwen delivered one of the most notable addresses of the day, and President Howley, also a fraternal delegate from the state federation, spoke. T. H. Nelson, president of the grain growers' department of the Society of Equity, told what had been done in the wheat growing districts of the country and what the members of the society intend to do this fall toward securing better prices for the farmer and a better market for his grain.

At the annual election of officers, T. S. Morrell of Cedar, Minn., was again chosen president of the Minnesota branch and Ole Lagergren of Anoka, was made the secretary. The other officers chosen were: Secretary, R. H. Aldrich, Minneapolis; treasurer, Ed Conlin, Orono; directors for three years, O. F. Allen, Mr. Campbell and W. G. Webster, Rochester; for two years, H. B. Pratt, Sherburne county; John Dawson, Bethel; one year term, E. H. Emerson, West Duluth; and J. W. Morris, Rochester. The national convention, R. H. Aldrich, J. W. Spencer, H. B. Pratt, P. F. President Isaac Martin, S. Crandall, Andrew Engesth, H. G. Hillenbrand.

COLLATERAL

Last evening the ministers of the city and their wives were the guests of the board of directors of the Young Women's Christian association at the fifth annual banquet at which the association has entertained in honor of the ministers of the city who have been so helpful in the association work, with all the influences at their command. The advisory board of the association with their wives were also among the guests of honor and although the evening was one of informal greetings, it was much enjoyed by the association hostesses and their guests. The table decorations were in the brilliant mountain ash berries and their foliage, and covers were laid for seventy-eight.

Following the banquet, which was served at 8:30 o'clock, a number of the guests responded to informal toasts. Mrs. W. C. Agnew, president of the association, presided as toast mistress. The first speaker of the evening was Rev. M. S. Rice of the First Methodist church, who in a very informal little speech said he appreciated the work of the association and the efforts and the success of the association and that he was hopefully looking to the future in a much broader way with a more worthy equipment.

He was followed by Rev. J. C. Farley of the Glen Avon Presbyterian church, who spoke in complimentary terms of the place that the Y. W. C. A. has made for itself in the life of the city. Rev. R. J. Mooney of St. Luke's Episcopal church made an appeal in behalf of the young men and young women of the city, who are compelled to work, until late hours of the night, rendering them physically unable to attend church services on Sunday. Mr. Mooney asked for a more widespread public spirit in this matter.

Dr. C. C. Coyle of the First Presbyterian church said, in part: "The work of the Young Women's Christian association and of the Young Men's Christian association is perhaps the most important work of the Master in a broader way than the churches. The association ministers to the mind, to the body and the soul and develops all sides of those who come to it. It is not only a duty, but a privilege for a city to sustain such an institution in every way possible."

Dr. Alexander Milne of the Pilgrim Congregational church spoke of the wonderful progress made by the association in its short tenure of existence. He was followed by Phil Davis, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., who complimented the association on the progress made.

J. L. Westburn, a member of the advisory board, and Watson S. Moore, also of the advisory board, spoke briefly and the last speaker of the evening was W. A. McDonald, who was chairman of the building fund committee during the campaign for funds for the new Y. M. C. A. building. Mr. McDonald spoke very briefly of the work that had been accomplished, of the $127,000 worth of building that had been completed, of the hope entertained of being in the completely furnished new home "ready for business" by next year.

HONOR TEACHERS.

Receptions Held in Compliment to City's Teachers.

The members of the Young Women's Christian association will receive tomorrow evening at the rooms in honor of the school teachers of the city. This annual autumn reception is always largely attended and the opportunity of meeting the teachers of Duluth being welcomed by a large number of the new teachers. The affair this year is a joint reception, the annual opening of the educational and gymnasium departments being combined with the teachers' evening.

The members of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church were hosts last evening at the church parlors in honor of the public school teachers. An informal musical program was given and a large number of guests called.

What Retail Markets Offer.

Pumpkins, 15 cents each. Duchess apples, 40 cents a peck. A few watermelons, 40 cents each. Bananas, 7 cents a lb. Cranberries, 12 cents a qt.

This column hates to mention it, because it always is mentioning things to eat first, but one can't wait for ever for somebody else to speak up, especially when the season for the thing at hand is most interesting in its passing slowly away, and anyhow it is to be supposed that somebody has got to say it first, even though one is affected with a fearful fit of bashfulness, so in spite of the possibility of being called a gourmand, here goes "Pumpkin" pie. Those large, light, orange colored pieces of possible deliciousness in the market. A pumpkin can never be anything but beautiful at any stage of the process, but when it has been steamed and mashed and spiced just right, and made into a custard on a right consistency, and the thickness of about an inch and three-quarters, well, the seventh cycle of ecstasy may be something like that, but one can't help but doubt it.

At 8 o'clock by Rev. Kirby S. Miller and there were no attendants. The bride wore a gown of cream silk voile over cream tulle.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served, and in the evening Mr. Magoffin and his bride left for a Western trip. The bride is widely known in the city, and Mr. Magoffin is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Beriah Magoffin, who have been prominent in Duluth's history since the early days. Mr. and Mrs. Magoffin who have passed the last several winters in the South, were in the city for the wedding of their son and daughter-in-law. Mr. Magoffin and his bride will return to this city late in October.

OPERATORS' NEW MOVE.

men now appeared to have been made repeatedly, but in each instance heretofore a resolution asking for a sympathetic strike has been tabled. Sunday, but promptly tabled. Daniel L. Russell, chairman of the strike committee, who will yesterday have opposed the movement for a sympathetic strike, made a vigorous speech, in which he reversed his position and declared that expediency demanded such a measure.

Chester L. Hall, chairman of the West street local, opposed the motion, but was frequently interrupted, and finally, acknowledging that he could not stem the tide, desisted in his attempt to prevent the matter from the viewpoint of the West street operators.

An amendment, introduced by John G. McClerky of the Hearst News service, exempting from the strike operators of leased wires, who were bound by a union contract with their employers, signed six months previous to the strike of the commercial men, was defeated amid much cheering, and the original resolution passed with little opposition. The local strikers await the sanction of their action by President S. J. Small, who is now in Chicago. This approval they expect, and when such is received, will immediately set a date when the press and Wall street men shall be called out. After the meeting, Chairman Russell said that if the present course proved ineffective, the railroad operators will be asked to quit work. He said: "There can be no appeal as to the action of the West street men. Some of them will protest for a day or two perhaps, but by Monday they will all be with us."

The more conservative among the operators were not inclined to discuss the probable outcome. The feeling was general, however, that President Small will approve the move.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—The national officers of the Telegraphers' union declined to say whether they will sanction the strike voted by the New York local.

A special convention may be called to consider the matter, when it comes before us officially," said Secretary Wesley Russell. He added that similar action had been taken by about ten locals in different parts of the country.

MAY BE BURIED IN POTTER'S FIELD

Friendless and Unknown Old Man Dies at Hospital.

The stranger who was taken to St. Luke's hospital from the union depot, Monday evening, died last night without regaining consciousness. Death was caused from blood poisoning. He was found unconscious on a seat in a train that pulled into the city Monday evening.

The mystery surrounding the dead man is as deep as ever. There is nothing on his person to show his identity, or where his former home was. The body has been taken to Durkan & Crawford's undertaking rooms, to be held for a time to await word from relatives if they can be found.

It was thought yesterday that the dead man might be a St. Cloud resident, who has been reported missing for some days and for whom the authorities have been looking. At the request of his family, a closer examination of the dead man rather than the one described as missing at St. Cloud, and it is not believed today that he is the man.

The injury which resulted in the death of the man came from a severe burn on his right arm.

If his relatives cannot be located within day or two he will be buried at the county's expense.

TWO LARGE WOLVES.

Timid Citizens of New Duluth Given Fright Tuesday Night.

New Duluth, Minn., Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Considerable excitement was aroused in New Duluth, Tuesday evening by the appearance of wolves. Two large ones were seen early in the evening, prowling around Peter Olson's home. The dog chased them a short distance and then someone fired at them but failed to hit either one. One of the wolves jumped the fence near John McEachrin's home and the other took to the woods. Other wolves were heard howling in the woods near Otto Krueger's farm.

ROAD WILL APPEAL ITGreat Northern Will Seek Reversal of the Circuit Court.Sticks to It Elkins Law is Superseded by Hepburn Bill.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to a statement made by Rome G. Brown, attorney for the Great Northern Railway company, the company intends to make an appeal to the United States supreme court from the recent decision of the circuit court of appeals, which affirmed a judgment entered against the company in the lower court, in which it was found guilty of violating the Hepburn law by giving rebates to certain shippers.

Mr. Brown sticks to the contention of the company that the Hepburn law was superseded by the Elkins law, which already provided that rebates should be given to shippers in such cases where the law had already been begun at the time of the passage of the Hepburn law.

He says the question at issue is of such importance as to warrant the supreme court in ordering the case to be brought before it on a writ of certiorari.

COAL ON FARM.

Stearns County Farmer Believed to Have Struck It Rich.

St. Cloud, Minn., Sept. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—At various times in years gone by have come reports of discovery of minerals in Stearns county, none ore, gold, oil, etc. The latest, however, is that a good grade of coal has been discovered on the farm of John Gahl, section 28, town of St. Wendel, some ten or eleven miles from St. Cloud. The find was made by well diggers, said to have been from East St. Cloud. They went down a distance of 185 feet without obtaining water, and at a point about 100 feet below the surface passed through a layer of coal, fifteen feet in thickness. The well men sent samples, so the story goes, to the state laboratory for assay and were later informed that it was coal. Subsequently, a Minneapolis attorney, said to be acting for parties whose names are not revealed, visited the Gahl farm and presented the owner with a contract in which it was agreed that Gahl should sell an option on his rights to the mineral, should it be found in quantity sufficient to make it worth while to mine. For 16 cents a ton, Mr. Gahl is said to have refused the offer with a view of investigating for himself.

HANSBROUGH IS HITTING TRUSTS

Wahpeton, N. D., Sept. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—This is Society of Equity day at the Richland county fair, which began Tuesday and among the important events of the day is a speech to be delivered this afternoon by United States Senator Hansbrough. It is expected the senator will follow the lines of his address at Esmond last Saturday, when he rapped the Standard Oil, the lumber, coal, harvesters and other trusts. He declared at Esmond the farmers were engaged in an effort to save themselves from loss, the industrial and other combinations sought to and did monopolize commerce in a way to establish intolerable oppression against all classes of citizens.

He said the federal and state governments faced a problem of greater magnitude than the question of slavery was to former generations and that those in authority must have the sympathy and support of the people if the great public evils were to be overcome. He condemned the yellow newspapers for their efforts to mislead the people by poisoning their minds and planting the seeds of hatred. Nothing could be more destructive or harmful to the interests of the country.

COULDN'T LOSE GIRL.

North Dakota Operator Prefers Death to Having Sweetheart Go West.

Churches Ferry, N. D., Sept. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Francis because Miss Daisy Dye, an operator at Grand Harbor, with whom he was desperately in love, declared she was going out West, F. Clarke, night operator at Niles, a small station on the Great Northern, between here and Lees, committed suicide in the presence of the girl he adored, who had stopped off here to bid him good-bye on her way West. The two were alone in the depot at the time. Clarke, after pleading in vain with his sweetheart to remain, bolted the door and pointed a revolver at her, declaring that he would shoot her if she insisted on leaving him and going West. Miss Dye took the revolver away from him after a struggle, and laid it on the table, thinking that it was not loaded, as she had looked down the barrel when he pointed it at her.

She then went to the door to go out and Clarke seized the revolver and shot himself in the side of the head. Clarke's home was in Albert Lea, Minn., and his relatives who live in that place have been notified of his death.

MINER ON TRIAL ON A MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Claimed to Have Shot Companion in McKinley Saloon.

Same Saloon Was Scene of Second Murder Recently.

Charged with shooting and killing Mike Stanich in a saloon at McKinley, Minn., May 10, last, Vaio Padalknak, an Austrian about 23 years of age, is being tried under an indictment charging manslaughter in the first degree, the penalty for which is from five to twenty years imprisonment, charging the shooting occurred in the first degree, the penalty for which is from five to twenty years imprisonment, charging the shooting occurred in the first degree, the penalty for which is from five to twenty years imprisonment.

The shooting occurred in the Banka saloon at McKinley, where another murder was committed a few nights ago. According to the state's witnesses this morning, Stanich had invited several occupants of the saloon to the bar to have a drink for which he had laid a couple of dollars. When he picked up his change he noticed that it was a dollar short and he accused the bartender of shorting him. The bartender, it is alleged, told Stanich that Padalknak had taken the dollar, whereupon several requests were made.

A VALUABLE HOME RECIPE

Will Break up a Cold in 24 Hours or Cure any Cough that is Curable.

Mix one-half ounce of Concentrated oil of pine with two ounces of glycerine and a half pint of good whiskey. Shake thoroughly each time and use in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours. The renowned throat and lung specialist who established a camp for consumptives in the pine woods of Maine, and whose remarkable cures there attracted international attention, declares that the above formula is one of the very best remedies obtainable for an acute cold, and that it will strengthen the lungs, relieve coughs and heal the bronchial tubes. Also, that it will cure any case of lung trouble not too far advanced if the patient will assist by plenty of outdoor exercise, inhaling deep, long breaths every few minutes. The ingredients of this valuable remedy are of any good prescription drugstore and easily mixed at home and should take its place as one of the most valued remedies in the family medicine chest. Inquiry at one of the leading druggists elicited the information that concentrated oil of pine is put up for dispensing only in half-ounce vials, securely sealed in round wood cases, intended to protect it from heat and light. The oils sold in bulk and the patent medicines put up and labeled "Oil of Pine" are to be avoided because owing to their impurities they produce nausea and are useless as a medicine, besides they sometimes leave permanent kidney trouble.

RAILROADS

ON HORNS OF DILEMMA

South Shore Road Faced Fine Whatever Course It Took.

Permission for Dispensing With Notice Came Just in Time.

Facing the prospect of a heavy fine at the hands of the state if they fail to put lower passenger rates in effect in Michigan next Saturday, and the prospect of a heavy fine at the hands of the Interstate Commerce commission if they put such rates in effect without special permission from the latter, officials of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic road have been very uneasy during the last few days, while awaiting their reply to a request by telegram for special permission from the Interstate Commerce commission to put the new rates in effect without the required thirty days' notice.

When no reply had been received in Duluth last night, the uneasiness increased, for it was necessary that the new tariffs should be mailed out today at the very latest. This morning, however, the desired permission came, greatly to the relief of the South Shore people, but with the provision that every tariff sent out must have printed in its face the fact that special permit number 80-20 had been granted for the issuance of the tariff sheets without the usual thirty days' notice, which, owing to force of circumstances, could not possibly have been given in this case. The tariffs had all been printed, and now they will have to go to the printer again for the additional work.

The request for special permission was sent in Sept. 15, but the commission has so many other requests of the same kind to deal with, and so much other business to handle, that it is presumed the delay in taking care of the South Shore matter was necessary. With the new passenger fares that went into effect in Wisconsin Aug. 15, the new fares effective in Michigan Sept. 23, and other changes in railroad rates, the South Shore found it an utter impossibility to arrange the new tariffs and at the same time give thirty days' notice, for there is an immense amount of work connected with getting out tariffs of this kind. All is arranged now, however, and by tonight the tariff sheets will have been mailed to the agents along the line, so that they will go into effect tomorrow.

Heretofore the South Shore has been charging at the rate of 4 cents a mile in Michigan, but under the new state law they cannot charge less than 5 cents a mile in that state. This will mean quite a reduction in fares to Michigan points from Duluth, in connection with the lower Wisconsin rates. To Marquette, for instance, will be $2.50 instead of $3.00, as at present. To Negaunee it will be $2.40 instead of $2.80. Houghton, $2.30 instead of $2.80. Calumet, $2.25 instead of $2.70.

To Soo the reduction amounts to only 70 cents, dropping from $12 to $11.30, but a further reduction will be made a little later on.

REGULAR MEETING.

Northern Railway Club Has Interesting Program for Friday.

The Northern Railway club will hold a regular monthly meeting at the Commercial club tomorrow evening. Mr. Berry of the Passaic-Morse company will read a paper on "Scales," beginning with the early days of weighing machines, and leading up to the present age when electrical scales are becoming the fashion.

In addition to Berry's paper, there will be a discussion of the paper read at the last meeting by George K. Nuss, on "Maintenance of Way." The usual special trains will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. There will be cigars and a musical program, and the meeting is pleasant from a social standpoint as well as in a business way.

MILWAUKEE BUILDS.

New Line Will Soon be Constructed to North Escanaba.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Sept. 26.—Not only is the Wisconsin & Michigan railroad to be extended from Grand Rapids to present terminal, to Iron Mountain, but just as soon as the financial atmosphere is cleared, the Milwaukee road is to be built through Iron Mountain. This has been definitely decided upon. Engineers have investigated the proposed route, and it is probable that the permanent survey will be made this winter. The distance is less than fifty miles. The Milwaukee reads are traffic from the Iron Mountain road, now reaches the docks at North Escanaba by a roundabout way. From Channing, twenty-four Iron Mountain, Iron Mountain, it goes over Senator Isaac Stephenson's Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad, a distance of about twenty miles, to some one hundred miles in all. The grade is in places very steep, and it is a heavy one. Twenty fifty-ton cars are

What Hunyadi Janos Is

The Origin of the Name.

In Hungary, in the 15th Century, there lived a wonderful man—a great soldier and wise statesman—who was principally instrumental in driving back the "Unspeaking Turk" and keeping him out of Hungary at the period when bands of these marauders were ravaging most of Europe. By his victories in war and peace this man endeared himself to the people and gained a great and permanent place in the Nation's history. His name was HUNYADI JANOS, or John Hunyadi, as it would be in English. To the present day in the traditions of all Hungarians, he holds the place of one of their greatest national heroes. It is strange then that they should have given this honorific name to one of their most wonderful natural products—the famous Mineral Laxative Water from the Springs of Budapest.

The unflattering value of this water as a sure and gentle Natural Laxative has been known to a large number of people for centuries. One dose of a tumbler (drunk on arising, slightly warmed, for best results) will within an hour move the bowels gently but copiously. At all drug stores. Ask for it by the full name—HUNYADI JANOS.

JASON PROMISED TO TAKE PLEDGE

Family Difficulties Aired in Court, But Matters Settled.

Frank Jason of 314 Husted street, arrested last evening upon a charge of drunkenness, was allowed his freedom and sentence suspended providing he would agree to go before the priest and take the pledge to keep away from liquor. He agreed to this and an officer escorted him to the priest for the administration of the pledge.

Mrs. Jason, a neatly attired and intelligent woman, appeared in court and reluctantly told of the family differences. She stated that her husband had been in the habit of coming home under the influence of liquor and making trouble.

Jason alleged that the male callers at his home were too frequent and remained too long. His daughter, he claimed, were the cause of the family differences. His wife, however, stated that her daughters were both employed and assisted the family in a financial way. One of the young ladies appeared in court with her mother and the appearance pointed to the husband being in the wrong and liquor the cause of the trouble.

The court recommended Jason, taking the side of the mother and daughter.

Had William Crump stood before the bar of justice much longer than he did yesterday afternoon and the swivel of a cop's carbine would have fallen into his cap, the court would have had to impose a fine quickly to head off the crowd from paying his fine.

It appears that Crump, who is the colored man afflicted with a peculiar malady as the result of which he is unable to smile, indicated that he was a joke and Crump looked at the giver of money quickly then bowed his thanks. Several others took the cue and one by one they solemnly stepped up to the surprised prisoner, dropped a penny into the outstretched cap. Not a smile indicated that it was a joke and Crump looked at the giver of money quickly then bowed his thanks.

home-seekers will be told of the particular desirable qualities of West Duluth, ready to be grasped by them.

The first organized effort to boom West Duluth was made at a meeting of the real estate dealers of this portion of the city, at the Commercial club rooms, when the question of doing something definite toward putting West Duluth before the public was discussed. There was no dissenting voice. Residents of West Duluth know it is a good place in which to live; business men know that West Duluth has commercial possibilities and prospects which promise good returns; manufacturers realize that in no part of the city, or nowhere at the head of the Lakes, could they find more desirable sites and better transportation facilities.

The real estate dealers have only taken the initiative in a movement which is designed to take in everybody interested in the welfare of West Duluth. They have taken the lead, and they expect the business men and citizens in general to follow with them to draw new industries, new interests and new people.

A committee, consisting of J. A. Scott, J. A. Kelly and Henry Hewitt, was appointed to arrange the preliminaries for a campaign of education in the commercial prospects of West Duluth. They will have reading matter prepared, dealing with the subjects of interest to different classes of people; will lay out a plan of campaign and will report at another meeting of the real estate dealers soon.

No definite organization was perfected at the meeting, but the will probably be at another session, to be held soon. Those interested are enthusiastically entering into the scheme, and their efforts promise to bring forth good results.

CONWAY IS CONVICTED

Jury Returns Manslaughter Verdict in Forty Five Minutes

Slayer of Mike Mahar Faces a Penitentiary Term.

Barney Conway stands convicted of manslaughter in the second degree,
the penalty for which may be imprisonment in the state penitentiary for a term of one to fifteen years, a fine not to exceed $1,000, or both the imprisonment and the fine.

The verdict of guilty was returned against him at 5:30 o'clock last evening, after the jury had deliberated over the evidence for three-quarters of an hour.

The case was submitted to the jury at 3:45, after the arguments and the charges by the court, which occupied a little over two hours.

For the state, County Attorney Norton made a strong and impassioned plea for conviction. He claimed that Conway undoubtedly struck Mahar the blow which caused his death; that blow was struck without just cause or provocation and in the heat of passion. Mr. Norton admitted that there was no charge that the blow was struck intentionally, but he claimed that for the protection of society and the rights of the people at large, it is time to put stop to the tendency to look lightly on the law as a thing to be violated with impunity, and that that who do break the law should be punished, regardless of their intentions in the matter. He claimed that Conway's own testimony showed that he knew he ought not to strike Mahar, even if the latter did strike at him. Conway's blow was characterized as a brutal one, and for which the defendant should bear the consequences.

W. E. Calkin, who defended Conway, made a most able argument in his client's behalf, considering the weight of evidence against Conway, as evidenced by the length of time that the jury was out. He made a strong plea to the jury to deal mercifully with Conway, whom he characterized as a young man with a good reputation, who had never before been in trouble, and who had not the slightest intention of injuring Mahar when the blow was struck. Mr. Calkin characterized the affair as a sad misadventure, in which Conway should be pitied more than Mahar, and the former must live on to regret during all the future years of his life before him the act
by which he killed a fellow man.

Mr. Calkin's address to the jury made quite an impression on all who heard it, and during his recital tears were welled up in Conway's eyes and rolled down his cheeks. The ordeal seemed to unnerve him more than at any other time during his trial.

It is understood that Mr. Calkin will seek to secure a new trial for Conway, ground for the application having been laid by exceptions to some of the rulings of the court during the trial, and objections made to the alleged misconduct of the county attorney in reading to the jury statements relative to the punishment that may be meted out to any person convicted of manslaughter in the second degree. The court told the jury, following the contrary, that it had nothing whatever to do with the punishment, and should disregard what the county attorney had read.

The court's charge was concise, covering the law and instructing the jury to return one of three forms of verdict, guilty or not guilty of manslaughter in the second degree, or guilty as assault in the third degree.

DEFEAT CITY OWNERSHIP.

Four Towns in Wisconsin Turn Down the Proposition.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 26.—Municipal ownership of water works plants was defeated yesterday in four Wisconsin cities. At Manitowish the vote against city ownership, by buying the present plant for $200,000, was defeated. At Evansville it was found impossible to get brokers to take city bonds for $200,000 for a plant of the same type. At Sheboygan the same trouble was experienced, the price of the plant being $200,000. At Appleton the supreme court rendered a decision which fixes a rate for service as low that the people will drop the agitation for a city owned plant.

EXCHANGE IDEA DEAD?

Organization of Mining Stock Brokers May Yet be Formed.

More Copper Stock Brokers in Duluth Than Ever Before.

Chances for the organization of a mining stock exchange in Duluth do not seem as bright as they did at this time last year and it is very doubtful whether the organization will be formed during the coming winter.

Last winter, when the copper stocks were high and spirits were on a par, the curb brokers in Duluth dealing in the leading unlisted securities and some of the favorite listed shares, through Eastern connections, talked much of the formation of an exchange in Duluth.

The brokers held two or three Saturday dinners at the Commercial club and finally appointed a committee, which was to make arrangements for such an organization and then make a report. Up to date, that committee has never reported, or if it has, no one on the outside has heard of it.

A short time after the committee was selected there came a big slump in the copper, and the brokers as well as the public, forgot all about the exchange, so busy were they watching the dropping of the leading industrial securities—such as the Minneapolis Gas Light company, the Minneapolis Iron Works company, the Threshing Machine company, the General Electric company, the banks and better class of mining stocks—which were traded in Duluth already has a mining exchange and so have Spokane, Wash., and Portland, Or.

In Duluth it was planned to secure suitable quarters in some office building or have some capitalist erect a building for the home of the organization.

WOULD OPTION SLIVER TRACT

M. A. Hanna & Co. May Secure Lease on Ground.

M. A. Hanna & Co., are said to be negotiating for an option for a lease on the famous Silver tract of land near Virginia, supposed to be very rich in iron ore deposits. Now that the question of ownership has been finally settled, the mining companies are anxious to gain control of the property, which comprises 155 acres.

Details of the proposed option have not been made public, but it is understood that the royalty is on a sliding scale, ranging from 75 cents to $1, the latter price to obtain at the end of five years. The minimum is understood to be 100,000 tons the first year and not less than 200,000 tons the second year and every year thereafter. If the deal is consummated it is said the entire tract will be included in it.

Immediately an option is given, drills will be set to work, and the value of the land for mining purposes will then be clearly established. It is reported that five drills will be put at work there in a week or ten days.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.
A. Nuebaum, Bismarck, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my work.
I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Sulphur, in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Sulphur with the same success." Sold by all druggists.

STEAMER COLE FINALLY ARRIVES IN HARBOR

Was Nearly Twelve Hours Overdue in Reaching Port.

Members of Inland Waterways Commission on Board Vessel.

Bearing the members of the inland waterways commission, the steamer Thomas F. Cole of the Pittsburgh fleet steamed through the canal piers about 3 o'clock this afternoon. The Cole was expected to arrive in the harbor about 4 o'clock this morning, having cleared from Sault Ste. Marie Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. This morning some little anxiety began to be felt, as nothing had been heard from the vessel, and the members of the commission had telegraphed ahead to have the government yacht Vidette in readiness to take them for a tour of inspection around the harbor at 9 o'clock this morning. When the boat failed to show up at daylight, those who were preparing to receive the commission began to wonder, and all morning anxious eyes scanned the lake looking for some sign of the steamer.

It was not until 1 o'clock this afternoon that a telephone message was received from Two Harbors, stating that the Cole had been sighted there. About 2 o'clock this afternoon she could be seen from the weather bureau, and about 2 o'clock

she passed through the canal piers. The Cole did not touch the dock when she reached the lower harbor, but continued on her way to the upper harbor. The government yacht Vidette followed up the steamer and will probably take the party off the boat when it reaches the ore docks. Following is a list of the members of the party.

Congressman Burton, president of the commission, Senator William Warner of Missouri, Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada, John E. Barkhead, former congressman from Alabama, recently chosen to succeed the late John T. Morgan in the senate; Alexander Mackenzie, chief engineer in the United States army; W. J. McGee, F. H. Newell, Gilford (Pittsburgh), Sweden; Knox Smith, A. M. Bentley, M. W. Patterson, A. D. Graham and Harry Coulter of the Pittsburgh Steamship company.

The big cattle, sheep and pig market here has reopened. Gen. Drude has sent an expedition southward to clear the caravan routes and enable traders to reach Casablanca.

COPPERS IN A DECLINE

Shares Go Off After Strong Opening in Market.

Bear Pressure on Greene-Cananea Puts It Off.

Copper stocks were a little stronger at the opening today, but they fell off later on and closed weaker. Discouraging rumors of one kind and another were responsible for the bear raid.

Several of the stocks suffered big slumps during the day. Greene-Cananea became very weak under pressure and the other unlisted shares followed in the wake of the Boston list.

It was rumored that the Allis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee, extensive manufacturers of heavy machinery, had been declared bankrupt, because of the weakness in the stock, were about during the day. Paine, Webber & Co. received a dispatch from Boston to this effect.

Some time ago this company was reported to be in trouble, but it was thought that the affairs of the concern had been straightened out all right. It has been doing a big business for some years.

Greene-Cananea sank from $9.62½ and closed at $8.57½ bid and $8, in Boston. There were some bids for it here at $8, at the close, however.

North Butte opened at $49, advanced to $49.12½, slumped to $47.50 and closed at $47.50 bid and $47.50 asked. Anaconda opened at $61.12½, advanced to $61.12½, went to $61.62½, declined to $60.37½ and closed at $60.37½ bid.

Butte opened at $15.57½, went to $16.12½, declined to $15.75 and closed at $15.75 bid and $16 asked. Calumet and Arizona opened at $11 and slumped to $10, closing at $10 bid and $11 asked. Anaconda opened at $68.25, advanced to $68.25, declined to $67.75 and closed at $67.75 bid.

Superior & Pittsburg sold at $10.75, declined to $10.62½ and closed at $10.37½ bid and $10.50 asked. Denison-Arizona sold at $6.25, declined to $6 and closed at $6 bid and $6.12½ asked. Globe Consolidated at $7.75 and $7.82½ and closed at $7.82½ bid and $7.75 asked. Carman at $3 and closed at $3 bid and $3.25 asked. Keweenaw at $2 and closed at $2 bid and $2.12½ asked, and Butte & Superior at $1.57½ and $2 and closed at $1.57½ bid and $1.57½ asked.

Black Mountain advanced from $4.87½ to $5.25 and closed at $5 bid and $5.25 asked.

STRANGE FUNERAL DIRECTIONS. Westchester Gazette: Sir James Colquhoun, who recently passed away, contained a direction that his body should be dressed for burial in evening costume, was one of many men who have made unconventional arrangements for their interment.

One of the most singular of these testamentary directions was that of John Underwood of Whitesboro, whose body, fully dressed, was placed in a green coffin. Under his head was placed a copy of Horace, his feet rested on Bentley's "Milton," Bentley's "Forrest" was placed beneath his back, and on his right and left sides were a third Horace and a Greek testament.

Mrs. Margaret Cousins of Cuxton, in Kent, made her last journey attired in a flaming dress of scarlet silk, and a copy of Homer, near Leeds (one Jack Barker, of Leeds, who was his driver, piloted on a lump of coal and with his pipe and tobacco in his side.

WHEAT HAS GOOD TONE

American Markets Buige, Although Abroad They Go Off.

Flax Has a Good Advance in Duluth Market.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 25.—Wheat had an easier tone at the opening today, but advanced during the day and closed at better prices. Big short interests were responsible for the heavy buying during the latter part of the session, which strengthened the market.

There was a big export check in durum wheat again today, more than fifty loads being worked for export in Duluth. The foreign market was lower. Liverpool 30 to 35 lower; Berlin, 15c lower; and Budapest, 5c lower.

The American shipments of wheat this week are estimated at 400,000 bus. Argentine shipments of flax are estimated at 1,000,000 bus.

The September option closed 5c higher in Duluth, 3c in Chicago and 3c in Minneapolis. The December option closed 5c higher in Duluth, 3c in Chicago and 4c in Minneapolis. The May option closed 5c higher in Duluth, 3c in Chicago and 4c in Minneapolis.

December corn closed unchanged in Chicago and was 3d lower in Liverpool. December oats closed 5c higher in Chicago.

Broadhead cable from Liverpool: "There was an easy opening in wheat with values 5d higher, followed by a decline, but the market recovered and closed at 5d higher than the opening."

The support of the market was unimpaired by the weakness in American cables yesterday, and the quiet demand from the continent. Prices further declined during the morning, and offerings became larger, the best being at an additional 5d. At this level, however, the big bull forces supported, and the declining tendency was checked.

"Corn was strong at the opening with values 3d higher, followed by a decline, but the market recovered and closed at 3d higher than the opening."

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Forecast of Warmer Weather in North-west Bearer Factor in Wheat.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—The wheat market today opened weak and with an active trade. Liverpool cables were reported lower, and the forecast of warmer weather in the Northwest was also a bearish factor. The corn market was active and the price of wheat was 1c lower at 1.00, and 1c lower at 1.01.

the whole the trade does not seem to be much alarmed over the outlook. While there was no scare over the export situation, there was an absence of selling pressure and the market ruled strong most of the day closing a fraction higher than yesterday for May.

Outs—As we suggested in previous articles, the oats market had sufficient break to make it a buy for a good rally. There is a smaller estimate for tomorrow. Trade in a sort of waiting mood to see what corn is going to do.

Minneapolis Flour.—The flour market is firm. Firmness in wheat had a strengthening effect on flour prices. A little improvement was noted in the general demand but buyers are conservative and are looking for some concessions in quotations. Shipments 52,183 barrels. ## THE GOVERNMENT BEGINS TO DRAW ITS NET CLOSER AROUND SENATOR BORAH

The Attorneys Turn the Evidence Into New Channels

Which They Claim Will Soon Affect the Defendant.

Case Has Now Been Divided Into Three Sections.

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 27.—After having spent all of the previous day in bringing out the testimony of thirteen persons who admitted they had taken out claims to timber lands for the express purpose of selling them to members of an alleged land-grabbing conspiracy, the government attorneys in the trial of United States Senator Borah yesterday turned the line of evidence into new channels, which they claim will tend to affect the defendant senator. The testimony adduced up to Thursday has been confined to the activities of John I. Wells and Louis M. Pritchard, two of the men under indictment. None of the "dummy" entries examined on Wednesday was cross-examined and the testimony that they received from Wells the money with which to prove their claims and from Pritchard the $250 bonus for surrendering their titles went uncontradicted.

The government has divided its case into three sections. The first deals with the claims which were turned over to Albert E. Palmer of Spokane, who is said to have acted as a middleman between the senator and the timber lands which the senator bought from the Harber Lumber company. All the testimony bearing on these claims will be taken before the next set of jurors, who will be heard by George S. Long who, the government promises, will eventually take the stand as the most important witness for the prosecution.

George Burch of Detroit, special prosecutor outlined the government's case against the senator. It was stated to the jury that the idea of making money out of the timber lands which the United States then opened to settlement in Idaho, in tracts not to exceed 160 acres, any individual and at a price not to exceed $2.50 per acre, originated with State Senator John Kilgore, one of the men indicted with Senator Borah. He is alleged to have gathered several men around him, among them the late Governor Steunenberg, to take the stand as the most important witness for the prosecution.

STEAMSHIP COMPANIES

Indicted for Violating Law on Shipments From the Orient.

San Francisco, Sept. 27.—According to a report in circulation here, six indictments were found yesterday by the federal grand jury against the Pacific Mail Steamship company and the Southern Pacific company. In these indictments the names of Edward H. Harriman, John A. Stubble and H. P. Folger are mentioned. It is said, however, that the indictments are not indictments for violations of the law on shipments from the Orient through the port of San Francisco to Chicago. The particular instances in which the law is said to have been violated relate to shipments of mail from Kobe to Chicago, these shipments being heavy and numerous during a number of months of the year.

This is the first time in the history of trans-Pacific traffic through this port that a federal grand jury has ever made indictments for violations of the interstate law.

FOURTEEN DROWNED BY CAPSIZING OF A BOAT.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 27.—A ferry boat crossing the Tombigbee river at the government works at McGraw shoals, near Jackson, Ala., yesterday was capsized, drowning one white boy and thirteen negroes. The boy was Leslie Venable, 16 years of age, residing in Okemulgee, a suburb of this city. The scene of the accident has long been regarded as a very dangerous place by navigators of the river on account of the rapid and treacherous current and the rocky shoals there.

OPERATORS' REQUEST WILL BE REFUSED.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Three members of the national executive board of the Telegraphers' union declared yesterday that they would vote against calling a strike of union operators employed in business and newspaper offices, in which event, being a majority of the board, the request of the striking New York operators will be refused. No official action has been taken for the reason that no communication has yet been received from the New York local. The members who oppose the strike are M. J. Reidy, S. J. Kenenckamp and J. M. Sullivan.

BASEBALL THE TOPIC

Discussed Almost Exclusively in the Quaker City.

Series Between Philadelphia and Detroit the Cause.

Philadelphia, Sept. 27.—What is probably the most important series of baseball games in the American league this year will begin here this afternoon when the Philadelphia and Detroit teams, which are tied for first place in the great race for the pennant, will meet for their final clash of the year. Interest in the race which has been growing warmer as the season draws to a close, is now at fever heat in the city. Everywhere the talk is baseball. Ever since the local team, popularly known as the "Athletics," returned from their last western trip, great crowds have witnessed the games and it is expected that Columbia park will be taxed to its utmost capacity during the present series.

While in round figures the teams are tied, the Philadelphia club is really in the lead. The percentages of the teams carried out in the last decimal are: Philadelphia, .60583; Detroit, .60562. The Detroit players, accompanied by a large contingent of rooters from their home city, arrived here today from Boston full of ginger and confident of taking the series. Up to today the two teams have played eighteen games, of which Detroit has won ten. Four games will be played in the present series, one today, one tomorrow and two on Monday. Plank probably will pitch for Philadelphia this time, and Donohue, whose home is in this city, is scheduled to do the pitching for the visitors. Today's game will be started at 4:30. The weather is clear, but cold.

THREE MEN KILLED BY AN EXPLOSION OF OIL.

New York, Sept. 27.—Three men were killed instantly today by the explosion of an oil tank in the Bronx, from which they were drawing crude petroleum into a sprinkling cart for use on the Morris Park race track, where a 24-hour automobile race is to begin this evening.

A PRUSSIAN PRINCE BREAKS HIS SKULL.

Potsdam, Prussia, Sept. 27.—Prince Charles Gustave von Thurnund Taxis, youngest son of the late Prince Maximilian of Thurnund Taxis and a lieutenant in the First regiment of Prussian foot guards, slipped on the stairs of the officers' mess of his regiment here today, fracturing his skull and died almost immediately. The prince was born in 1885.

FORTUNE IN STRAW.

Five Thousand Dollars, Stolen by Robbers, Has Been Recovered.

Portland, N. D., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—While raking over a straw stack near which the buggy and some papers were left last evening by the burglars, who broke into the store at Piller, Sheriff Nelson came across the stolen iron box containing $5,000 in notes.

G. K. Jordest got the box and took it back to the store. The notes were in a bad shape and well pasted together, but after some time they were separated and all of them legible, although a few have to be read with a microscope.

This was a lucky find and will no doubt, save considerable trouble that would have been caused.

FIRE DESTROYS MANY HOUSES AT WUCHOW.

Hongkong, Sept. 27.—Hundreds of houses and many boats and pontoons were destroyed today by a fire at Wuchow. It is feared that the loss of life was heavy. H. Hill of Austin, Minn. The consideration was $100,000. The lands are more or less under cultivation, and have been farmed for about five years. Two years ago the tract was purchased by Mr. Hill's father, who had been a landholder from various Russians, who had homesteaded it.

It is Mr. Hill's intention to have the land put under cultivation and sell it in small tracts. J. R. Bissett, Jr., now of Minneapolis, was one of the principal bidders of the company.

"What were these loans?" asked Mr. Kellogg. "They represented funds on deposit with the National Transit company," replied Mr. Chesbro. "You carried these loans as an asset?" "Yes, sir." "Why did you deposit these funds with the National Transit company?" "We used the National Transit company as a bank and we could call for the funds whenever we wanted them," replied Mr. Chesbro. "I notice that in 1906 the cost of the

START DOWN MISSISSIPPI

Waterways Commission Leave St. Paul on River Steamer.

Stay in the Sainly City Was Comparatively Brief.

St. Paul, Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The inland waterways commission arrived in St. Paul from Duluth this morning, and were at once taken to the Commercial club, where breakfast was served.

The commission was scheduled to arrive here from Duluth last night, and a somewhat extensive program of entertainment was planned, at which formal addresses were to have been delivered by J. J. Hill, Archbishop Ireland and other prominent men. This was upset by their inability to get here, and the program was hastily rearranged to suit breakfast appetites and conditions.

The party was met at the Union station by Congressman F. C. Stevens, President F. Y. Locke of the Commercial club; Postmaster E. Yanishil, and F. G. Watrous. At the Commercial club fourteen tables were arranged in the main dining room, at which the members of the commission were distributed among the large gathering of prominent business men and politicians. Seated at one table were Congressman Burton, President F. Y. Locke, J. J. Hill, Archbishop Ireland, W. G. Nye, Joseph Strong, Frank Schlick, A. B. Stickney and Tams Dixie. After the meal was served, brief addresses were made by J. J. Hill, Archbishop Ireland and F. G. Watrous. The Sibley street dock, where they boarded the steamer Col. A. Mackenzie, for the trip down the river.

to sell all the good clothes sold in Duluth—but we do claim that all the clothes we sell are good clothes.

Not only must every garment we sell be cut to fit properly—from the best fabrics—with due regard to the various styles demanded by correct dressers—but it must be made by skilled workmen in such a manner as to guarantee its good looks until laid aside—over a dozen of the best makers vie with each other to produce such garments for us—but perhaps the greatest wonder is that we sell them at prices usually asked for inferior goods—but so it is—if you don't know it ask some friend who trades here.

INTEREST IN POLITICS

Is Once More Beginning to Manifest Itself
in Duluth.

Gossip of Approaching Aldermanic and Mayoralty Campaigns.

While the political pot is only bubbling intermittently at present there are indications that it will be boiling before long, and conjecture is rife as to the majority probabilities and possibilities.

Mayor Cullum declines to state whether or not he will be a candidate but it is generally conceded that, providing he feels reasonably certain that he can win out at the primaries, he will make the run.

Certain official actions and the "political signs of the times" seem to encourage the wise ones in their belief that the mayor is shaping his sails for favoring breezes.

A rather formidable cloud in his political horizon is President Tossman of the council, who, it is intimated, has his plans laid for entering the field.

Alderman McEwen has been promi-nently mentioned as a mayoralty possibility, but he declines to make a statement and laughs at the suggestion.

He is said to be decidedly friendly to Mayor Cullum's candidacy, if such a candidacy exists as it appears that and will unite forces to secure his nomination at the primaries, according to reports.

Just who will represent the Republicans at the primaries remains to be seen. The situation has not crystallized as yet, and Coroner McQuesten denies that he will head the Republican forces.

Other possibilities are Alderman Watson S. Moore, R. D. Haven and ex-Alderman Barnes.

The statement from Alderman Wilson published in the Herald some days ago to the effect that he would not become a candidate for re-election in the first ward leaves a vacancy to be filled.

J. A. Vaughn, ex-alderman from the third ward, but now a resident of the first, has been mentioned as a strong possibility to make the run in place of Alderman Wilson. He is admittedly a strong man, and made a good record in the council.

It is understood that Alderman Staples will be a candidate in the second ward, unless he gets caught in the mayoralty fight, and that E. F.
Chalk may oppose him. Mr. Chalk has been a good campaigner for others, but just what he can deliver for himself remains to be seen. Ed Schubiski, a prominent cigarmaker, has also been mentioned as a possibility.

Alderman Jordan will have little opposition in the third ward, judging from present indications, and it is understood that he will make the run again.

Alderman Burgess may have trouble on his hands in the fourth ward, in the opposition of ex-Alderman Tre-vian, who, it is understood, will run on the Republican ticket. He was a member of the council for many years, and ran against Mayor Cullum two years ago for the mayoralty.

In the fifth ward, Alderman Mc-Ewen will undoubtedly run again, and there may be some opposition. The Republicans are casting about for a candidate, it is said, and may locate a strong man to oppose him.

In the sixth ward, Alderman Morison will probably become a candidate for re-election, although he declines to commit himself.

P. C. Milvahl may become a candidate on the Republican ticket in this ward.

In the seventh ward, Alderman Haven will probably make the run again, although he declines thus far to commit himself. He is a strong member of the council, and it is conceded that he would win out under ordinary circumstances.

Alderman Foster will run again in the eighth ward, and it is stated that he will have a fight on his hands.
The Democrats are after his scalp, and there are said to be indications of a warm fight in this ward. Just who will be the opposing candidate is not at present known.

FISH REPLIES TO HARAHAN

Says Latter's Charges Are Old and Have Been Answered.

New York, Sept. 27.—Stuyvesant Fish, last evening, made public a reply to the circular letter sent out on Tuesday last by President Harahan of the Illinois Central, in which he declares that the charges made by Mr. Harahan were not new, but had been published long ago, and each met by him (Fish) and disposed of.

"But the one point at issue, to be decided by the stockholders of the Illinois Central at the coming annual meeting, is now here touched upon," says Mr. Fish.

"That is simply this: Shall the Illinois Central become a mere feeder and fattener of the Union Pacific. Can any such perversion of the purposes of the Illinois Central be profitable to the stockholders? Will Illinois Central submit to having all of their voice and power in the management and control of their property delegated to one man, under the power of attorney which Mr. Harahan has so adroitly used to his own profit?"

STEPHENSON GIVES PARK.

Marquette, Wis., Sept. 27.—Senator Stephenson has presented to the county a park for the new Stephenson training school. It consists of six lots fronting the school between Hall and Parkside avenues. The lots are valued at over $2,000. The gift was made without condition, except that the county improve and maintain the ground as a park.

MAY BE FORMING A NEW FEDERATION OF MINERS

Agitators Attempting an Organization in Lake Superior District.

Will be Independent of Western Federation of Miners.

A rumor is current on the ranges that organizers who have been promi-nently connected with the Western Federation of Miners are taking steps which have for their purpose the organization of a new labor union, which will include the mine workers in Northern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, and which is likely to be called the Lake Superior Federation of Miners, or by some other name similar to it.

Ever since the first signs of the breaking up of the strike on the Northern Minnesota iron ranges, there have been murmurings of discontent among the strikers as to their connection with the Western Federation of Miners, and it is said this discontent is now about to show itself by a new organization, which will be independent of the Western Federation of Miners, and will cover in territory the three districts mentioned, a federation that will be distinctively one for Lake Superior miners.

It is also understood that an agitator named McKenzie, who has figured prominently as a federation organizer, and who is now, or has been recently, on the Mesaba range, is the prime mover in the proposed new federation, the inference being that he sees a good field to form another association of mine workers, at which he will be the head, and become known as a leader, like Haywood and Meyer of the Western Federation of Miners.

According to the reports which have reached Duluth, the new federation proposition is being agitated to a considerable extent among not only those who went out on the strike last July, and remained out, but also among those who have gone back to work, and the new men who have been employed at other places to take the place of the strikers.

John Maki, president of the local branch of the Western Federation of Miners at Hibbing, and John Kolu, who was an organizer for the Western Federation, and who figured promi-nently in the late strike in Minnesota, are said to be down on the Mesaba range, in Michigan, at the present time, laying the wires for the formation of the new organization of miners, one that will take in the copper as well as the iron mines.

The continued absence of Petrella, the district leader for the Western Federation, from the ranges, and the mystery that surrounds that absence, is claimed to lend much color to the report that the Western Federation of Miners, because of the failure of the strike on the Mesaba and Vermilion ranges, has lost ground among the miners in Northern Minnesota, and that the latter might be in a frame of mind to cut loose from the Western Federation and regard favorably an affiliation with a Lake Superior federation.

That the Western Federation of Miners has lost members steadily ever since the strike failed is generally conceded by everyone, with the possible exception of some of the leaders and their few Duluth sympathizers. The extent to which the miners on the two ranges could be induced to enter into another federation is a matter of considerable doubt. So long as there are agitators of the stamp of Maki, Kolu and McKenzie, however, it is believed that they will find some followers anyway, as there are always men to be found who are discontented with their lot.

Among the recent reports of affairs at Hibbing is the rumor that Petrella is not in favor of the local union there and that, in fact, some of the members have given him to understand that it will not be healthy for him to be seen in their hall again. This dissatisfaction is claimed, has been due partly to the failure of the strike that he engineered, but mostly to his alleged lavish expenditure of the union funds.

According to the story, Petrella's expense account whenever he visited various points on the range, is said to have been at times as high as $300 to $400, and the lay members of the organization did not like the way he spent the money, claiming that there were occasions when Petrella had pretty good times at the expense of the union, when he did not act as a business man as would become one occupying his position as a leader.

Another report concerning Petrella's absence is that he has gone to Colorado for a month and will return.

During that period, however, a great deal might happen, and the situation is being watched with great interest by many people.

DISCUSSES WORK OF THE WATERWAYS COMMISSION

Congressman Burton Says
It is General, Not Particular.

Says Johnson Machine Has Cleveland in Its Grasp.

"The work of our committee is general, not particular," said Congressman T. E. Burton of Ohio, chairman of the Inland-Waterways commission, last evening.

The members of the commission were seen by a Herald representative about 8 o'clock last evening on the steamer Thomas E. Cole as she was lying at the dock. They had just dined on board the handsome new vessel, and Mr. Burton acted as spokesman for the party.

Mr. Burton is very prepossessing in his manner, being quiet and reserved, yet courteous in his speech.

"I am afraid not," he answered.
"Particular improvements like that do not come under our supervision, and I would not care to say anything on that project. The committee of engineers will report to congress next winter on it."

"Our mission, as you probably know, is made up of nine members, of whom seven are here. They are Senator Warner of Missouri, Senator Newlands of Nevada, Senator Bankhead of Alabama, F. H. Newell, the chief of irrigation, Gen. MacKenzie, the chief of engineers, Dr. W. J. McGee, Gifford Pinchot, the head of the forestry bureau, and Herbert Knox Smith of the bureau of corporations."

"The two latter gentlemen are not with us on this trip, but may join at St. Paul tomorrow. The other members of our party are Mr. Leighton, the hydrographer of the geological survey, my secretary, Mr. McCann, and Dr. McGee's secretary, Mr. Patterson."

"From Duluth we will go to St. Paul."

leaving over the Northern Pacific tonight, and will then proceed down the Mississippi, being joined by the president at Kookuk. We will go as far as Memphis.

Mr. Burton also expressed his surprise and delight at the progress made by the Duluth harbor, saying that he fully realized its importance as a terminal point, and the fact that it must be properly cared for.

The Cleveland fight.

"How about your own political fight in Cleveland?" he was asked.

"I would prefer not to say much about that," responded Mr. Burton.
"Cleveland, under the present administration, is either the best or the worst example, according to your viewpoint, of machine rule in this country. I made some personal sacrifices to enter the race, because I believed it was my duty to do so. I shall retain my seat in congress until Jan. 1, at least, and if successful in my mayoralty race, shall resign. If defeated I shall continue in my present office. Mayor Johnson had a plurality of 12,000 at the last election, which I shall have to overcome."

The members of the commission did not spend any time in the city, but were on the harbor during all of their stay here. They were met by the government boat "Victory" on board of which were Maj. Pitch, Thomas F.
Cole, Capt. Alex. McDougall, T. W.
Hugo, John B. Supplin, Maj. H. V.
G. A. Tomlinson, Herbert W. Brown,
James H. Barton, Whitney, Will, G.
Blanchard, and others.

After a tour of the harbor in the Victory, the visitors returned to leaving just in time to catch the night train for St. Paul, to which President Burton's private car had been attached.
Harry Coulby, president of the Pittsburg steamship company, accompanied the party, and also made the trip to St. Paul.

The delay in arriving here was due to the fact that the Cole was compelled to lay in shelter behind Whitefish Point for ten hours, while the brisk gale on the lake blew itself out.

Health in the Canal Zone.

The high wages paid make it a mighty temptation to the young artisans to leave the force of skilled workmen needed to construct the Panama canal. Many are estranged, however, by the fear of fevers and malaria. It is the knowing ones—those who have used Electric Bitters, who there without this fear, well knowing they are safe from malarious influence with Electric Bitters on hand. Cures blood poison too, biliousness, weakness and all stomach, liver, kidney and rheumatic troubles, guaranteed by all druggists, 50c.

Will Apply for Writ of Habeas Corpus to Escape Further Arrests.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorneys Corrison and Hawver have announced that they will apply to the supreme court for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of James Bellamy of Drayton, who has been arrested a second time on a charge of grand larceny in connection with the affairs of the Drayton Milling corporation, which failed for about $50,000 and nearly ruined many farmers who had sold their grain and had not secured pay for it. Bellamy was arrested for a second time a few days ago, and a preliminary hearing held Monday was held to the district court, bail being fixed at $2,000. The prosecution has planned to arrest him so many times that he will be unable to secure bail in all cases and will go to propose to have the supreme court take a hand.

The statute under which Bellamy was arrested provides that any member of a grain corporation that ships wheat and cannot pay for it can be prosecuted for larceny. There has been a good deal of hard feeling among the farmers as a result of the failure and Bellamy, who took a leading part in the management of the ill-fated concern, is blamed for their losses.

AFTER CANNING TRUST.

New Industry Has Been Organized to Fight Combine in Wisconsin.

Sheboygan, Wis., Sept. 27.—A new pea canning industry of opposition to the trust has been organized here. Incorporation papers for the Lake Shore Canning company with $30,000 capital stock were filed in the register of deeds' office, and a pea canning plant large enough to take care of a 70-acre crop will be built at Sheboygan Falls this fall. Herman Schreier, president of the K. Schreier Brewing company, is president of the new concern. A. P. Steffen is vice president and Charles Voight is secretary and treasurer. The new canning company will devote itself to the canning of peas.

SALE MCGREGOR STOCK!

Begins Saturday. A snap for you. I bet there isn't a high-priced tailor in the country that isn't cussing because I got the New York McGregor stock of Woollens—they know I am going to play the deuce with prices on made to order clothes.

One of the finest young concerns in New York City, James McGregor & Co., Wholesale Woollen Cloth at 638 Broadway, was squeezed by the tight money market two weeks ago—
squeezed dry—forced to the wall.

I knew Jim—as square a business man as I have ever met, started in business last spring—had all the high-priced tailors of New York, Boston, Washington and Philadelphia on his books and handled only the finest goods. So you see I was glad to get his woollens. Slow collections on spring sales was the cause of his failure. I was sorry to hear he was up against it.

Jim, knowing I am the biggest woollen buyer in the West and always have the dough, and on the lookout for snaps, expressed me samples and asked me to wire a spot cash offer for the woollens. It is the finest lot of woollens I ever saw, all this season's goods. My price was 44 cents on the dollar—it's the best deal I ever made. You will have to have some clothes out of it.

The goods are here and you can write for samples and see them tomorrow. The patterns are beauties—just the kind of woollens those swell New Yorkers like—you can recognize Broadway from 42nd Street out to 72nd Street, in the fabrics; Sherry's Cafe, St. Regis Hotel, etc., and all the other places the swells go.

Every one is a snap for you. I will make them up at $15.00, $20.00 and $25.00 for suits and overcoats. They have the heft and firmness that only comes in the finest Imported Goods and are unequalled for winter wear. You never see them in ready-made suits at any prices.

Now, you see I have spread the cards face up—I want you to write me for samples—and see the goods—there isn't a tailor in the country that can equal these suits and overcoats I will make at $15.00, $20.00 and $25.00, under $35.00 to $60.00.

I sell on my personal guarantee, satisfaction or no sale—not sometimes, but always.

I will send you samples, self-measuring blanks, cuts of latest styles and attractions, how to measure. I will guarantee perfect fit, pay all express charges and if I fail to please I'll return your money. Write for samples today to

SUPERIOR NEWS SOO LINE WILL COME

The Permit is Granted for Entrance Into Superior.

Opposition of Other Railroads is of No Avail.

The granting of a certificate of permission today by the railroad rate commission at Madison to the Soo line to build its line into Superior and lines to terminals assures the entrance of that road into the city. The issuance of the certificate is likewise a defeat for the other roads now in Superior. The Great Northern, Northern Pacific, and terminal railroads, fought the case out before the rate commission, arguing that terminals were already crowded in Superior and that the Soo would overcrowd the situation.

The plans of the Soo for terminals in Superior are extensive. An elevator will be constructed on Conner's point, a freight depot and other terminal buildings are also in the plans and it is expected the arrival of the road and its operation will be a decided boost to Superior.

The dispatch from Madison is as follows:

"The railroad rate commission today issued a certificate of public convenience and necessity to the Soo line to build its Minnesota extension from the Wisconsin-Minnesota state line through Douglas county to Superior, to connect with the proposed line over the Wisconsin & Northern Minnesota railroad."

"A certificate is likewise granted to the Northern Wisconsin & Minnesota railroad to build through the city of Superior to the Duluth-Superior bridge at the northern end of Conner's point, thence across the state line."

Permission is also granted to a branch which leaves the main line and runs across the right of way of the Omaha, Northern Pacific and Terminal Transfer company to the dock line of the St. Louis river.

"The formal order was made by the railroad rate commission today reducing the minimum freight charge in Wisconsin to 25 cents."

INCREASE SHOWN.

Valuation of Lands and Personal Property is $2,708,731.

According to the table of assessments as compiled by City Assessor, Fiedler, the total valuation of lands and personal property in Superior is placed at $2,708,731. This is an increase of $270,731 over the valuation approved by the board of review a year ago. Last year the board added $200,000 to the assessment, as compiled by the assessor as a tax on grain which had not been taken into account by the assessor. This year the grain was assessed $250,000.

The tax rolls this year show an increase of 17 per cent in the valuation of property last year. It is claimed that by the various departments of the city and county governments using economy in laying out plans for the administration of affairs for the coming year, the tax rate may easily be reduced to 3 cents on the dollar or less. A good showing is made in the assessment of personal property.

Vetoes Paving Plans.

Mayor Linkey today exercised his right of veto, when he filed a veto against the proposition to pave a strip of West Fifth street, from "L" avenue to Stinson avenue. The project was favorably passed upon by the council at its meeting Tuesday evening. The mayor contends that the improvement should not be paid for out of the general fund and, therefore, the action of the council is illegal.

German Celebration.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the German celebration here, Oct. 6, has secured the opera house for the program, which will be the main feature of the celebration. Among the speakers will be Congressman Esch of LaCrosse and L. G. Bomrich of Milwaukee.

Sues Western Union.

E. F. McCausland, a prominent Superior attorney, today filed suit against the Western Union Telegraph company for $200, he having been damaged to that amount, he claims, by the refusal of the company to accept a message for transmission. Mr. McCausland says he presented the message, and the company refused to accept it unless he would file it subject to delay. He refused to do so, and they refused the message. Now he thinks he should be paid for the inconvenience caused him.

Want Complaint Amended.

In the case of the Duluth-Superior Milling company against the Wisconsin grain commission, Attorney Crowhart appeared before Judge Luse and Senator Fudnell and asked on the part of the milling company that the bill of complaint be changed so as to include the names of the present members of the commission instead of the names of members in office when the action was first begun. Judge Luse and Senator Fudnell appeared for the commission and asserted that it would be necessary to serve notice on the commission before they could be called upon to defend the action. Judge Smith so decided.

The Game With Rice Lake.

The Elaine high school football team will play its first game of the season on Oct. 5, and their opponents will be the Rice Lake school eleven. The game will be played on the Superior grounds. A letter was received yesterday from the Rice Lake manager agreeing to play on the date named. The boys are practicing hard every afternoon and there are good prospects of a good team.

What Clothing does your Girl Wear?

Even at a distance a girl can be "clad" by her clothes—not by the color, but by the style. A well-groomed maiden—with S. & B. Co. clothes—stands out at a distance. This is because of the many individual features not to be found in other kinds. The current of new styles embraces a noted selection of NEW SUITS in Prince Chaps and full Box Styles, in lovely Autumn colors for as little as $10.75, others as high as $37.50.

Touches of panne velvet are seen on many this year. The colors invite you to look them over. For every-day wear, for school, for "best"—every girl needs a long coat. And there is one here for her in the splendid collection which starts at $5.00 and ends at $27.50.

Common-Sense Autumn Suits

If you wish really good material in a Suit, plain as a pipe stem, but tailored well enough to give it a character of its own, then we recommend this new $29.50 CHEVIOT SUIT with twenty-six-inch coat, tight-fitting, in red, brown and blue—pockets tailored and button trimmed. The third re-order is here of that splendid $45.00 Broadcloth Suit we told you of a few days ago. You can guess its popularity! Mannish thirty-inch, snug-fitting coat, with full graceful skirt. Either black, blue or brown.

While you are up here glance over and try on, if you will, any of the other myriad creations that catch your fancy.

At the other end of the price scale is a $29.50 Kilted Voile model with 2 bands of 2-inch voile edged with a 1-inch fold of taffeta.

The PETTICOAT SHOP has good reason to be proud of its showing. Saturday it holds up for your notice, its $5.00 daughter which it values at $6.50. The extra-good-quality of the silk is the reason, besides being as wide as a ten-dollar petticoat. Black and colors.

The New Hats.

Paris, as usual, contributed its quota—which furnish inspiration to the nimble fingers busy in our workrooms. The result is marvelously beautiful Hats at popular prices. We are talking to you now of our famous $5.00 and $6.00 Hats. A fresh showing for Saturday. "Burgess" and "Gage" Tailored Hats up to $15.00.

CAUGHT BETWEEN CARS.

James McGinnis Injured at Zenith Furnace Plant.

James McGinnis, 184 West Michigan street, was quite seriously injured this morning at the Zenith furnace, West Duluth, and was taken to St. Mary's hospital for treatment. McGinnis was employed in handling ore, and in some manner became caught between two ore cars on the tramway. He sustained several severe bruises, but no bones were broken. The dump cars used in conveying the ore to the smelter run upon a tramway, and McGinnis was employed in handling them.

TWENTY IMMIGRANTS.

Steamer America Brings Big List of Foreigners.

Immigration into this country through Duluth from Canada is again picking up after the dull season of the last two months and Inspector William H. Dean expects that from this time on the foreigners will flock into the country in large numbers.

On the steamer America which arrived this morning from Port Arthur, there were twenty foreigners, all but two being admitted into the country. Hans Johnson, 23 years old, who came from Sweden, and Helle Burek, 35 years old, who came from Austria, were deported because they were found to be afflicted with trachoma. It was a metropolitan crowd, some were Crocks, some Austrians, Swedes, Finns and English. One Charles Wilson, who first came from Finland, emigrated to this country twenty years ago, but as he had never become naturalized he had to pay the head tax of $4 after having been on a trip outside the country.

Winter overcoats are ready. "Fit-well."

Harry Gibbs Dead.

Harry Gibbs, aged 48 years, a well-known drayman of this city, died at St. Mary's hospital last evening after a lingering illness. The funeral arrangements have not as yet been made. His father, John C. Gibbs, formerly of Duluth, is now on the coast and word has been sent to him of his son's death. Gibbs was in the city today, having been notified of his brother's death. The funeral arrangements will be announced as soon as relatives can be communicated with. Deceased was a single man, and his father and brother are the only living relatives.

CASE IS SETTLED.

Compromise Reached After Jury Has Been Chosen.

After a jury had been called in the damage case of Frank Arko, administrator, against the Oliver Iron Mining company, which was set for trial in Judge Englen's court this morning, the contending parties got together out of court and settled the case, the same being dismissed by the court.

The damage case of John Hollen against A. Booth & Co. is still on trial in Judge Cant's room, the defense having begun its testimony, tending to show that Arthur Hollen, who was drowned in Lake Superior last summer, did not come to his death through any negligence of the steamboat company or its employee.

Not Left Unguarded.

All the evidence in the case of the city against E. F. Ekquist, a contractor, who is charged with failing to place barriers about certain sidewalk improvements, was in yesterday afternoon and Judge Stock has taken the matter under advisement. Ekquist denies that he and his men left the improvements unguarded and stated that if there were no barriers when the police made the investigation, someone had taken them down.

SAW THE COMMERCIAL SIDE. "The late Sir William Henry Perkin, the inventor of certain dyes," said a Philadelphia chemist, "had a singularly lucid mind. I once heard him talking about the missionary movement. Sir William had been for years a warm supporter of this movement, and he praised it highly; but he condemned certain phases of it, illustrating the phase he meant by a quotation from a letter—written by the notable Capt. Davis to Secretary Walsingham about the conversion of the Indians.

"The letter ran: 'If these people (the Indians) were once brought over to the Christian faith, they might soon be brought to relish a more civilized kind of life, and be thereby induced to consume greater quantities of our coarser woolen manufactures.'"

MALAY PRINCE A WISE GUY. Philadelphia Bulletin: The matches had been forgotten and it looked as if it would be impossible to roast the claims on the beach.

"Ezek," said the young Malay prince, a Harvard student, "I'll show you how to make a fire by rubbing two sticks together. Mark Twain says you can't rub fire out of sticks. He does not know how to go about it, that is the trouble."

An oak log lay on the sand. With a hatchet the prince made a narrow groove in the log, a canal two feet long. Then he cut off an oaken peg a foot long and of the thickness of his wrist. This he sharpened into the likeness of a huge lead pencil.

"Now," he said, "And kneeling, he began to rub the sharp end of the peg up and down in the groove. His breast heaved with the labor, his face dripped with heat. But at the end of five minutes the groove began to send up little blue wisps of smoke and a moment later a tiny flame flickered and vanished. "I have that straw ready," gasped the prince.

And when the tiny flame next appeared a youth lit a bit of straw with it and it was not much later before the claims were roasting."

SAVE THE CHILDREN

French Plan for Protec- tion From Disease and Poor Food.

Ex-President Loubet at the Head of Hygienic Crusade.

Paris, Sept. 27.—Ex-President Loubet has just discovered a noble occupation for ex-presidents of the republic—and an idea of genius for the protection of French childhood.

The republic is prejudiced against ex-presidents attempting politics, law or business. Thiers, only, dared the first —and did himself no good. MacMahon was rich. Grévy had saved his salary.
Carnot was assassinated. Casimir-Perier was rich. Félix Faure died in office. The republic had but Loubet, therefore, to provide for when he went out. And he might have lived at ease as president of the railway rates commission that each year hears petitions and modifies freight and passenger rates for all the railroads, state run or otherwise.

It was not sufficient occupation for M.
Loubet. Occupation for ex-presidents?
Casimir-Perier had suggested an idea.
He thought ex-presidents ought to protect the little children of their land.
Casimir-Perier gave great wealth and the later years of his life to the Abi-ment Maternal to make it possible for poor mothers to personally nurse their babies, the Anti-Food Adulteration and Anti-Tuberculosis associations, and to what was to be a vast General Hygienic organization, uniting many particular ones.

This general organization had no cohesion. Its various parts pulled each other in its own way. Casimir-Perier battled in the work he sought to do for French childhood.

Now comes Loubet with his discovery of the seemingly impossible organization almost ready made. He found a cohesive, alert organization already covering the whole French population, at once capable and ready to draw the lines of hygiene for children around every ward, district, every home and family, first for Paris, then for the other great centres, then for the whole of France.

The French equivalents to our fraternal orders and mutual benefit societies.
These Mutualists—as they call themselves—have risen with phenomenal increased rapidity and social significance.
They have not succeeded. Statesmen have seen in its self-sustaining provision the beginning of a possible old-age pension system. Every workman would be forced to show himself a member of some state-investigated mutual benefit society, and its dues for sick benefits, insurance and old age pension would be deducted by himself, his employer and the state. Even now, French employers very generally add their men to pay Mutualists dues. In return for escaping employer's accident liability, and to conform with the growing social duty—not just that of the employer to look after faithful workers when they fall ill.

Mutualism is everywhere. There are the United Mutualists of the Northern coast states. There are the Mutualists of the grocery clerks' syndicate. Indeed, the societies are formed much on trade and profession lines, but that is not all. For example, Madame Fallieres—his Madame Loubet was before her—is acting within the Mutualists of the National School Children's Mutualism, in which each of the possessors of a passport recording points paid for its insurance against group, enteritis, accidents, against old age, even, while still playing with its hoop or ball.

M. Loubet found his organization for the protection of childhood the more readmade because these mutual benefit societies, of recent and rapid growth, had held together from the start. He really just had to join together the National Union of Presidents of Mutualists, the societies and the great Medical and Pharmaceutical union, to start them on a general work against food adulterations, bad air, dirt, ignorance and want.

The principle is that of passing the word down the line.
I will give a few examples. For instance, tuberculosis.

The pattern institution, now being founded all over the land, is the Mutualist anti-tuberculosis dispensary, founded Emile Loubet, for the Thirteenth ward of Paris, in the rue Chateaux-des-Batons.
The Paris municipality gives the land free in each case. The fine building was run up and furnished by a national subscription of 2 cents per person, the whole cost of the building being raised in five days.
Here the poor of the Thirteenth ward are taught their use of the kitchen, and the children are taught to take the "air cure" on covered balconies.

This question of the "rational meal"
arouses great enthusiasm for the Mutualist among French children—while striking at one of the most rooted French prejudices. I refer to the suppression of soup.

No child likes soup as a mainstay. It is an acquired French taste to make a meal of soup, bread, wine and cheese. Instead, here is the Mutualist Scheme for feeding young children:
Morning—Eggs, fruits, starch food, stale bread or toast and butter. The child's first breakfast among the lower, lower-middle and middle classes of the French has always consisted of soup or milk-soup or hot chocolate with a crust of dry bread dipped in Café-au-lait, even for grownups. Is made of chicory and hot milk flavored with the coffee grounds of yesterday's after dinner.

Non-Grilled or Roast meat and one vegetable in quantity. (French lower and even middle classes avoid grills as expensive and go slow on roasts. Ragouts, pot roasts and savory mashes of rabbit, veal, beef or la mode and the like, with little meat and much gravy for breaddipping has been the French child's portion.

4 p. m. "Afternoon Tea"—An infusion or decoction of grilled cereals, with a bit of buttered bread.

Evening Meal—A large serving of vegetables, a sweet dessert. No meat. No wine. Twice a week only, on days of pig.

What can be done for the children of the whole working populations is shown at Creusot. There, where those who founders, the Schneiders, are practically autocrats, the authorities have made sure that each family will live up laboratory for analysis.

Ex-President Loubet's confederated Mutualists will employ spotters. The essence of the whole crusade will be the united efforts of thousands. In each division of each Paris ward this or that local Mutualist center—clubhouse, lodge rooms, etc.—will accept milk samples.
All the rest is detail and arrangement.
Imagine a local monthly meeting of the Fathers-of-Family Assessment Mutuality in the sixteenth ward of Paris. Between the business routine and the social relaxation of the evening there will be a half hour given to M. Loubet's "Puri-culture" or "Child time, let us say, it touches milk adulation in the sixteenth ward of Paris.
The chairman gives a short talk on milk adulteration. "The milk analysis center for our ward has been accepted by the Grocery Clerks' mutuality around the corner. During the month to come, every one of us must carry a sample of our usual milk supply to it, in the sterilized bottles with glass stoppers which I will now hand out to you. Attention, Mutualists, it is for the health of your little ones!"
Do you think that a children's hygienic crusade of such magnitude and detail can possibly fail?

There are no salaries to pay. There is no organization to keep up. The varied Mutualists of Paris—like the Elks, the Forsters and all the rest at long—have their robust social and business life already palpitating everywhere in the great capital. The only new thing is the children's health half-hour at every local meeting—and the passing of the word down the long line.

Attention, Mutualists, it is for the health of your little ones—the health of the children of France.

ORGANS DENOUNCED
By the Primitive Baptists as Instruments of Satan.
Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 27.—Twenty Prime-tive Baptist churches in Georgia, commonly known as "Hard Shells," have been declared anathema because they have installed pipe organs. This action was taken by the governing body and has been approved by the various associations. The churches under the ban have a membership of about 6,000 and are among the most prosperous in the state.

The governing body says that in putting in organs the churches were following the promptings of the devil and not of God, and that true Christians can no longer hold them in fellowship.
The Primitive Baptists are the original Baptists, the Missionary Baptists having split off in 1837 because the Primitive opposed missions and Sunday schools.

Occasional headache, belching, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite and slight nervousness are symptoms of indigestion which, when allowed to go uncorrected, will develop into a case of dyspepsia that will take a long time to get rid of. Kodol will make your food do you good and will enable you to enjoy what you eat. All druggists.

THREE GIRLS ARE TO HUNT INDIANS

Run Away From Their Homes With Very Foolish Ideas.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three girls, ages ranging from 11 to 13, ran away from home yesterday "to hunt Indians in the West," as they had secretly informed some of their schoolmates before leaving. Their names are Clara La Vigne, Margaret Plush and Lucie Smith, and they are daughters of well-known residents.

As far as can be learned the girls boarded a freight train at Irvine, and after riding for some time they got off. They then continued their journey along the railway toward the Twin Cities. The fact that they had run away was not learned until late at night.

SENATOR WORKS

Does Not Believe Bryan Will Stand in Johnson's Way.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 27.—Senator Works of Mankato, was in Crookston Wednesday and he states that Governor Johnson will be the next Democratic candidate for president. He is becoming Johnson every chance he gets and believes that he would make a very strong run. He stated that he believes that Bryan would not stand in Johnson's way. This statement is believed to have a particular significance coming from Senator Works at this time, as Bryan was a guest at Mr. Works' home in Mankato about a week ago.

PLUM FOR LANGUM.

Minnesota Man Will be the Next Postmaster of Congress.

Washington, Sept. 27.—Samuel A. Langum of Preston, Minn., for many years secretary of the Minnesota state senate and publisher of the Preston Times, will be the next postmaster of congress. This appointment was decided upon at a recent conference of Republican leaders of the house of representatives held at the home of Speaker Cannon at Danville, Ill. The selection of Mr. Langum for postmaster, a position which carries with it a salary of $100 per annum, is a notable recognition of the state of Minnesota in congressional affairs and is directly traceable to the influence of Congressman Tawney. Langum has been an ardent and consistent supporter of Tawney in the first district of Minnesota ever since the latter first tried for a seat in congress, and they are regarded as the closest personal friends.

ON THE IRON RANGES

PETRIELLA OUT;
NEW MAN LEADSStrikers Make Claims,
But Companies Are Mining More.

Eveleth, Minn., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—President McNamee and Secretary Mowbray returned from the Hibbing meeting and yesterday afternoon addressed a meeting of strikers in the local hall.

Among the happenings of the Hibbing meeting that have been reported, the one most expected is that Petriella has been deposed as leader of the strike. Executive Committee Mackenzie of Colorado has been sent by the Federation officials to take charge of the strike. Petriella is now in Duluth, according to Secretary Mowbray.

President McNamee said: "We have received $12,000 from the Butte local of the Federation, with which to carry on we have to. As far as we are concerned the situation is satisfactory."

The local mine officials are acting as though to strike had been declared. Underground miners are gradually increasing in number, while the number of men employed on the surface is approximately the same as was employed early in the summer. The number of men attending the union meetings has been decreasing, so that it appears that 50 per cent of the number here a month ago are now in Eveleth.

MUCH INTEREST
IN COUNTY FAIREverything Ready to Resume Show at Hibbing on Saturday.

Hibbing, Minn., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The weather conditions are becoming so favorable for the two days of the adjourned St. Louis county fair here tomorrow and Sunday, that interest in the event is reaching a high pitch, and the indications point to a large attendance. There have been so many notable additions to the exhibits, especially those in the stock line, that the fair promises to be almost a new one. The main aim has been placed in the line of condition for the racing events scheduled for the two days. The horsemen are here in force and some exciting events are expected.

WOODEN WALKS GONE.

None Left on Grant Street in the Business Section.

Eveleth, Minn., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—No more wooden sidewalks can be found on Grant street in the business portion. The last section was torn up Thursday. It was situated in front of Friel's saloon and Wilk's clothing store.

The portion of Jones street that is in front of the postoffice, and extends from Grant street to the city hall, is being replaced by concrete sidewalks. The contractor, J. J. Jones, is personally doing the work. Dump cement is being used on the base. Many citizens who have seen the curb and gutter have expressed themselves as sorry that the city had not

THIS CHURCH IS

ing Men's Club at Coleraine.

Coleraine, Minn., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the high school last evening a men's banquet was served under the auspices of the officials of the Men's club. Speeches of good fellowship were made by D. D. Greer, John C. Greenway and others. This was followed by Dr. E. C. Clemons, who gave a most entertaining address on "The Men of the Future." The speaker, pastor of the Methodist church, declared that the church has decided to undertake the erection of a Men's clubhouse on Roosevelt avenue. He is an enthusiastic believer in the twentieth century church, with all the modern institutional features. In this he is ably supported by Presiding Elder Clemens and the local official board. At the close of the banquet, Rev. Mr. Sillaway outlined some of the essential features of the proposed clubhouse. In the basement there will be game rooms, tub and shower baths and a swimming pool. On the first floor there will be an office, reading room, social room and a gymnasium. A pasteurized dairy and a lodge room for fraternal organizations will be provided for on the second floor. The building will cost about $5,000 and work on the foundation has already commenced. J. A. Vandive, superintendent of the city schools, is chairman of the building committee and president of the board of trustees. At the conclusion of the banquet subscriptions were received amounting to nearly $200 in memberships to the club.

Rev. Mr. Sillaway left today for Madison, N. J., where he will conclude his studies at Drew Theological seminary.

GENOA TO CLOSE.

Pumps Hoisted and the Iron is Allowed to Fill With Water.

Sparta, Minn., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Genoa mine has completed all arrangements for closing the mine down for an indefinite period. The pumps and other material have been hoisted and the mine will be allowed to fill with water.

Arrangements are being made by the mining companies and the village officials to have uniform hose companies in case of accidents at the mine or fires in the village assistance can be rendered in case of need.

LAKE COUNTY PLANS TO SHOW FARM PRODUCTS.

Two Harbors, Minn., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—If a meeting of citizens held Thursday afternoon in the office of the Lake County Abstract company bears fruit there will be a county-wide exhibit of the farm products of Lake county at the meeting here Oct. 21. The exhibit will be in charge of the county board of agriculture. George Munford, agricultural society was asked upon for the organization. George Munford, G. W. Small and Hans C. Hanson constitute a committee that will solicit funds for the proposed exhibit, while H. K. Gillen will interview farmers and urge them to send their products here. A poultry exhibit will also be made. The society will meet again next Tuesday, when it is expected the committee will report on the progress of arrangements.

It was the desire of those at yesterday's meeting that farmers get together whatever products they can for display, such to include anything grown or produced in Lake county. Articles to be displayed will be delivered at a building to be later designated, on Saturday, Oct. 19th.

The co-operation of the women will be especially welcomed and it is hoped that many of them will attend the meeting and also exhibit specimens of their handiwork.

ALLEGED ASSAULT.

Max Greenburg and Judge Prince Defendants in a Damage Suit.

Sparta, Minn., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local Jewish circles are more or less interested in a sensational damage suit that Morris Stein has instituted against Max Greenburg and Judge Prince for $300 for alleged assault. Greenburg is the principal in the suit while Judge Prince is alleged to have called Stein a "kike" and "nigger" and to have thrown a brick at him. It seems that Stein has made some complimentary remarks about Mrs. Greenburg and it resulted in a fight. Stein accuses Greenburg of cutting him two or three times with a knife and robbing him of $25 in cash.

BLOOD POISONING.

Drago Sanich Working in Croston Mine Dies From Blood Disease.

Hibbing, Minn., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Drago Sanich died in this city Tuesday afternoon of blood poisoning. He was a Montenegrin and was employed by the Hibbing Iron Ore company at the Croston mine. It is alleged that he was injured while at work in the mine, and that later blood poisoning set in, from which he died. Little is known of the man here, except that he leaves a wife and family in the old country. Burial services were conducted Thursday afternoon at the Catholic church and interment was made in the Hibbing cemetery.

REPAIRING DAMAGE.

Two Harbors Placing Things Where They Were Before Flood.

Two Harbors, Minn., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Repairs of the damage caused by rains and floods of last Thursday are still under way in the city. It will be some time yet before the buildings damaged, etc., are moved back to their location and repairs made and the docks cleared up. Many of the wood sheds and barns were jammed together and so broken up it will be necessary to tear them down and rebuild. The home of Thomas Sullivan was so damaged by the water and pointing that it is almost a total loss. The loss in the city is estimated at about $5,000.

The railroad company has repaired all damage to their line and things are running smoothly.

The Duluth & Northern Minnesota railway is still working on repairs to its bridge at Knife River and expects to have some completed soon. Its trains, however, have been using the Duluth & Iron Range tracks between Knife River and Bittington going on to its own line again at the latter place.

FALLS FROM DOCK.

Beaver Bay Boy Has Close Call in Two Harbors Slip.

Two Harbors, Minn., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—His ability to swim with his clothes on saved George Olson, aged 15 years, of Beaver Bay from drowning in the deep waters of the slip by the No. 1 ore dock Wednesday evening. He was walking along No. 1 dock when he slipped on a loose plank and fell into the water sixty feet below. As he came to the surface he struck his head on the dock. He was unable to crawl up on the fender so he swam around to the cribbing and managed to climb up to safety, out of the water and home the worse for his dip in the icy waters of Lake Superior.

Weapons.

Henry Walker, the colored porter at the Duluth Brewing & Malting company's plant, who ran amuck yesterday and was arrested and charged with carrying a revolver and attempting to assault Henry Robeck, pleaded not guilty to both charges, when arraigned in municipal court this morning, and demanded a jury trial.

This was granted, and the case was set for Oct. 8.

Walker was in the habit of serving out the beer allowed the hotel and brewery for their lunch, and yesterday he got into an altercation with one of them.

He claimed to have been hit over the head with a club, and when he reappeared on the scene with a revolver, he threatened to shoot his alleged assailant, he was promptly arrested.

AT MERCY OF WIFE.

Mrs. Siegel Holds Husband's Fate in Her Hands.

If Mrs. Siegel of Duluth Heights gives a favorable report on her husband's conduct, he will escape a jail sentence.

Siegel was arrested on the charge of assaulting his wife. He was to appear yesterday in the municipal court, but through a mistake, failed to show up. He appeared this morning, and the court seemed impressed with his story, Siegel being a hard working man and, apparently, an inoffensive one. The court instructed him to have Mrs. Siegel tell her story to the assistant city attorney, and if, according to her tale, her husband has been treating her in a proper manner lately, the case will be dismissed. Otherwise, Siegel will be brought into court again.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Angelo Giangarello Facing Jury in the District Court.

Claims That He Fired
Fatal Shot in Self-Defense.

Angelo Giangarello of Eveleth, is facing a jury on a murder charge in the district court with the prospect of either life imprisonment or acquittal on the ground that he acted in self-defense.

Giangarello, the state alleges, shot and killed another Italian, Basilio Romano, at Eveleth, July 4, 1906, after a quarrel in a saloon at that place. He escaped the authorities at the time of the shooting and was captured in a Pacific coast town about a year afterward.

Two indictments were returned against Giangarello a year ago. One on which he is now being tried, charges murder in the second degree, and the other charges assault in the first degree. The second indictment is based on the alleged shooting and wounding of Bruno Gervasi another of the hangers-on in the saloon.

Among those attending the trial are Giangarello's wife and 2-year-old baby. The following jurors were chosen this morning to try the case: Ole O. Kolstad, Ole Albertson, Fredlin Wirth, Karl E. Rickerts, Louis I. Larson, Ralph Wellington, James J. Hughes, Chester O. Rindard, Merriek J. Gocsey, John A. Swanson, Robert H. Weston, and Thomas Clifford.

Eugene Fiskett, a local Italian merchant was accepted as interpreter, as practically none of the witnesses speak English.

Josef Ranki, the first witness for the state, is a cousin of Giangarello. He is also proprietor of the saloon where the shooting occurred. Although called by the state his testimony was, in fact, rather favorable for the probable self-defense plea that the accused will set up as his reason for shooting.

Ranki said that Giangarello came into the saloon about noon, July 4, 1906. There were several Italians in the room visiting and drinking. Basilio Romano and his brother were standing at the bar drinking when Giangarello entered, but none of the party, according to Ranki, were drunk.

Ranki testified that men at the bar started to play a game in which they match fingers, and a dispute arose during the game. Romano, a brother of the dead man, slapped Giangarello with his closed fist.

Ranki testified that a rough house followed in which bottles and chairs were thrown about and that he, the witness, seeing that all the others present were against Giangarello, took the accused by the arm and put him out the back door. The witness claimed that he walked straight back to the bar and by the time he turned around Basilio Romano had reached and opened the door and faced Giangarello, who is said to have stood outside with one foot in the doorway.

Ranki testified that he saw a revolver in Giangarello's hand and heard the defendant say, "Who comes at me?" Ranki claimed that Basilio Romano struck Giangarello's hand with a stick about five or six feet long and knocked the revolver to the floor, and as Giangarello stooped to grasp it Romano hit him the second blow across the neck. The witness said that as soon as Giangarello got up he shot Romano and the latter fell to the floor and died.

Ranki said that after Romano fell Giangarello shot Bruno Gervasi, who stood near the doorway, then turned around and ran away.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The summer session of the Bethel sewing school closed early this month, and a week ago last Saturday the first meeting of the autumn term was held. During the agitation for manual training for the children of the city, and for many years before this agitation was begun, the Bethel has provided to the best of its ability instruction in sewing for the young girls of lower Lake and St. Croix avenues. The large attendance at the school proves beyond a doubt the eagerness with which these young girls are awaiting chances for such instruction.

Miss Elizabeth Anderson, who has been in charge of the school for several years, will continue again this autumn and winter. The lack of teachers is always a difficult problem to be met. During the summer, although fifty children attended, only four teachers were available to take charge of them. Greater progress would be possible if arrangements could be made for more teachers. And one who is able to spare Saturday mornings for the instruction of these children, is requested to communicate with Miss Anderson, as a few additional teachers are much needed, and will be welcomed with open arms.

CLEVER LINES

In Fitch Comedy to Be Played Here.

The lines of the Clyde Fitch comedy, "The Girl Who Has Everything," which will be here Oct. 1 and 2, are as bright and entertaining as the public has come to expect in the ultra clever society comedies of this present day. The latest play, as interpreted by Miss Isabel Irving, is said to be especially delightful. Among the best lines of the piece are mentioned the following:

Honeycombs: "Where would you like to go so we could be away from everything?"

"To Chicago."

On a Domestic Detail: "We'll sell this clock. It's always at the Jeweler's, and when it isn't, it strikes wrong."

The Way of the Probate Court: "I propose to fight this suit to the bitter end."

"End of what?"

"End of money."

The Way of the Handmaid: "She has gone to a funeral. They have so few pleasures these days. She wanted to bury that same friend she buried two months ago, and I didn't want her to think I caught her in an untruth."

That Temperament Again: "She never could tell the truth—always kind of artistic, and liked to tell stories."

The Geography of Love: "You should look at the heart."

"I'm not interested in that suburb."

A Sorry Necessity: "When I come to think of it, had boys must have mothers as well as good ones."

DIRECTORY OF AMUSEMENTS

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

LYCEUM—"Checkers." METROPOLITAN—Burlesque.

A DRAMATIC TREAT.

"House of a Thousand Candles" is intensely interesting.

E. M. Holland and an excellent supporting company made a most favorable impression upon one of the largest audiences the Lyceum has held this season, last night, with George Middleton's dramatization of Meredith Nicholson's Indiana mystery story, "The House of a Thousand Candles."

The chief difference between the story and the stage version of it, is the manner in which the dramatist has brought out the character of the strange butler, Bates. He has made Bates the central figure of the play, rather than John Cleburn. All who have read the book remember the mysterious butler, and he undoubtedly appeals to the sense of the dramatic more than the hero of the story himself. The dramatist has also endowed him with a secret love for the heroine, which adds a touch of interest and is a decided improvement. It also gives a plausible reason for his act of self-sacrifice, which the book did not.

The play is certainly not lacking in action. The development of the plot comes so rapidly, and incident follows so closely on incident, that it gives the audience the feeling of being rushed breathlessly through the story. So much is crowded into the four acts that some of the telling scenes and climaxes appear to be rushed. The sudden appearance of the eccentric old grandfather, for instance, might be made much more effective than it is.

The spectator is jerked through a succession of exciting scenes, and rushed breathlessly from one climax to another, with hardly time to mentally digest the plot.

But even the most blasé theater patron could not complain of being bored by the play. It is a little different from anything seen in Duluth before—intensely interesting, dramatic, and with plenty of comedy and the indispensable love story told, it is true, in a hasty manner, yet well told.

Mr. Holland, the star of the company, assumes the role of Bates. Although a stranger part for a star, Mr. Holland's Bates stands out well. He is easily one of the most finished actors on the American stage, and his Capt. Redmond in "A Social Highwayman" and Capt. Bedford in "Raffles" will always be remembered by American theatergoers.

The nature of his role—that of a servant—makes his repressed style of acting particularly effective. Only in the stirring and noisy third act does he forget that he is a servant and his real character—that of an Irish gentleman—shows itself.

"The House of a Thousand Candles" is not a "one man show" by any means. Stephen Gratton, as young Genarm, has quite as much to say, and he says it well, barring the hindrance of a bad cold. He makes of the grandson a most likable fellow.

There is much of the melodrama about "The House of a Thousand Candles" and not the least of it is portrayed by William Hazeltine, as the rascally lawyer, and Fred A. Sullivan, as his first aid.

David Glasford as a jovial Irish adventurer, and Barred Standing as a clergyman in favor of muscular Christianity, are quite satisfactory characters.

Frank E. Aikin makes the sturdy old grandfather a pleasing characterization.

Mabel Roebuck is a charming Marian Devereux. She has a pleasing personality and her little mannerisms enhance her charms. No wonder the woman-butter fell in love with her.

Mary B. Forbes plays her friend, and Edna Conroy, Sister Theresa of St. Agatha's school.

The production is well staged and well acted. Every member of the company knows his or her business and they make "The House of a Thousand Candles" well worth seeing.

The play will be given in Superior this evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Green Room Gossip. The Killies band is coming. The Killies are the most famous musical organization of Canada, and have also an international reputation. They appear in the costume of the Gordon Highlanders, and are part of the royal military regiment of Canada. They will give two concerts here Thursday at the Lyceum under the auspices of the Clan Stewart.

"Checkers" is back in Duluth, and three performances will be given, tonight, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night.

Edmond Haynes and the Jolly Girls will give three more performances at the Metropolitan, a performance this evening and two tomorrow. The matinee tomorrow will be a bagan affair.

After leaving Duluth, the company will play a week's engagement in Minneapolis.

Beginning with a matinee Sunday, the Empire Burlesques will be the attraction at the "Met" for a week.

Hoot, mon! The Killies are coming! Canada's Coolest band at Lyceum, next Thursday afternoon and evening.

DAMAGE CASE IS DISMISSED

Suit Against Knudsen-Ferguson Fruit Company Wiped Out.

Failure to make out a case against the Knudsen-Ferguson Fruit company of this city, caused Amelia Madson, administratrix of the estate of Charles G. Madson, deceased, to dismiss her $5,000 damage case from the district court, yesterday.

Mrs. Madson claimed that her husband, who was an engineer, employed on the Great Northern road, died in November, 1906, as the result of eating some spoiled tomatoes in a restaurant at Kelly Lake, Minn., owned and operated by the Knudsen-Ferguson company. It was alleged that the defendant company fed the tomatoes from a can and that they poisoned Madson. The defendant had evidence taken from the restaurant showing that at the time Madson is claimed to have eaten the tomatoes, he was about twenty-five miles away from the Kelly Lake restaurant. On this showing the Knudsen-Ferguson company claimed it was an absolute impossibility for Madson's death to have resulted from the company's alleged carelessness or negligence. The company refused to settle the case on any basis, and it was later dismissed on motion of plaintiff.

NEWS FROM THE WEST END

HER DOG AS GUARDIAN

Tiny Girl and Pet Are Lost in West End.

Dog Refused to Leave His Mistress for a Moment.

Chaperoned by a dirty little dog, who refused to leave his mistress for a moment, Little Esther Carlson, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Carlson, 1905 West Fourth street, was picked up at Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street yesterday morning by Mrs. Richard Wallin, who carried the shivering child to her home, 2407 West Third street.

When Mrs. Wallin found her at noon, the child was standing in the corner, crying while her tiny companion looked on her little hands in sympathy and barked furiously when Mrs. Wallin touched her.

The little girl and the little dog were escorted to the Wallin home. At the front door, Mrs. Wallin's thoughts of her clean floors and rugs induced her to make the dog remain outside on the porch, but this plan was later abandoned. The dog made such a fuss when separated from his mistress and the little girl seemed so perturbed over the incident, that Mrs. Wallin had to swallow her fears for her rugs and things, and let the dog come in.

When the child had been given a hot drink she cheered up considerably and began a pitiful baby-talk. The dog seemed encouraged to go some fancy barking, and by way of diversion began chewing the corner of Mrs. Wallin's best rug.

But that lady did not notice. She was busy on the telephone, trying to locate the child's anxious mother. She telephoned to the leading stores in the neighborhood to the doctors' offices, the police station and the fire hall.

Finally, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the Carlson baby was restored to its mother's arms. She was taken home, and so was the little dog.

WEST END FOOTBALL.

Adams School Alumni Planning to Form Strong Team.

Some West end young fellows, who in times past played on the football team of the Adams school will hold practice this evening and organize a new football team, which is calculated to beat any eleven of its weight in the city by the time the season is well under way. The name of the organization has not been selected yet. That will be determined upon this evening, when officers will be elected and other processes of organization gone through. Originally, it was intended to have several former Franklin school players in the organization, but this deal has fallen through and the organization will probably be strictly a West end aggregation.

NOON-DAY SERVICES.

At Scott-Graff Sawmill Resumed by Y. M. C. A.

The noon-day services at the Scott-Graff saw mill in the West end were resumed yesterday under the direction of Rev. Baxter Waters, pastor of the First Christian church. Mr. Waters also had charge of the meetings last year, when they were pronounced a great success. The men at the mill have received the meetings with enthusiasm. These meetings will be held every Thursday during the winter, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Anderson will have charge of the music. In Cleveland, they have been a great success. At yesterday's meeting, the attendance numbered more than thirty. The topic was an outline of "The Life of Christ" and this will be continued for a while.

MARTIN IS ENDORSED.

West End Republicans Would See Him Land Mayoralty Nomination.

Thomas H. Martin, of the well known logging firm of Martin Bros., was endorsed as a candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor of the city, by the West End Republican club, at a meeting held last evening at Sloan's hall. Although the club did not formally pass resolutions endorsing Mr. Martin as a candidate, the sentiments of all those present tended that way and all of the speakers took occasion to say something in his favor.

Last night's session was the first meeting the club has held since last spring. It was well attended. Among the speakers were John H. Norton, George M. Jensen, Andrew Hornsgron, John Sundeen, J. C. Weisenberg, David Larson, G. H.

THE CROPS IN ALBERTA GOOD

Light Fall of Snow Did Not Do Any Damage.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I read an article in your paper Wednesday evening, Sept. 25, regarding Southern Alberta, with a great deal of interest in as much as I had received a letter on the same date from Messrs. Leffingwell & Egan of Warner, Alberta, which reads as follows: "I thought you will be anxious to know how your crop is being cared for, and will write you regarding same. The grain is all cut and is certainly in good shape. Your wheat is estimated at thirty to thirty-five bushels to the acre, and the oats at seventy to eighty-five bushels to the acre. The majority of the grain in this section of the country is all harvested and is in good shape. There was a light fall of snow but it did not do any damage to the crops. The weather is fine, and threshing will begin in a day or two."

I have had several letters from different parties located in Southern Alberta in the vicinity of Lethbridge, Raymond, Stirling, Warner, Alameda, and Spring Coulee; these various towns are all located south of Lethbridge, in the winter wheat district. The estimate of the lightest crop report that I have received is eighteen bushels of wheat per acre. In the majority of cases, however, the estimate runs from thirty to thirty-five bushels of wheat per acre and the alfalfa has been familiar with Southern Alberta for the last five years, and the crops during this period have had an average yield of from twenty to forty bushels of wheat per acre.

I have been the writer of the article in your paper of last evening looking up the government reports of the yield of grain in Southern Alberta for the last five years and compare the same with the yield of grain in North Dakota. According to the government report, the average yield of wheat per acre in Southern Alberta has been a little over twenty-one bushels. Kindly compare this with the government report of the yield of wheat in North Dakota, and you will find that there is about seven bushels per acre in favor of Southern Alberta.

I have recently returned from a trip through Western Minnesota and North Dakota and it is estimated that the yield of wheat in Western Minnesota and North Dakota will be seven to eight bushels per acre. The lowest estimate of the yield of wheat in Southern Alberta for this year has been placed at eighteen bushels per acre.

It is not unusual to have a snow storm in any month of the year in some parts of Western Alberta for the reason that the western part of Alberta is the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains. I have been at Calgary, in Central Western Alberta, when it would snow from Calgary west, and a few miles east of Calgary it would rain. The reason for this is that with a snowstorm in the mountains and a westerly wind, the snow will drift out over the plains. Calgary, located as it is at the base of the mountains, is apt to have snow any month in the year; therefore a snowstorm in Southern Alberta, in the vicinity of Calgary, is not at all unusual.

The past season in Southern Alberta has been as warm as the average year, but it compares very favorably with the climatic conditions in other sections of the country.

I would be pleased to have you investigate the crop and climate conditions in Southern Alberta and give your readers a correct report of the crop and the climatic conditions of the last year. Yours truly, A. L. WARNER. Duluth, Sept. 26.

HOAXED ABOUT HER DEATH,

Were a Brother and Sister of Mrs. Lary Naughton.

Pittsburg, Sept. 27.—Postoffice inspectors from the Allegheny postoffice are investigating a cruel hoax played on James Crowley of Canton, Ohio. Last night Crowley received in his mail a postal card, informing him that his sister, Mrs. Lary Naughton, of Millvale, was dead, and unless he claimed the body at once it would be taken to the county morgue.

Crowley made efforts to reach Chief of Police W. Walker of Millvale, by distance "phone, and, failing, he took the first train to Millvale. There he found his sister alive and well.

This is the second hoax that has been played on the family by mail. Some time ago a sister of Crowley in Canton received a postal informing her that Mrs. Naughton was dying and to hurry to her bedside if she wished to see her alive. The sister made the journey and found she had been imposed upon.

TIRED AND SICK YET MUST WORK

"Man may work from sun to sun but woman's work is never done." In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo and often suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, comes as a blessing. When the spirits are depressed, the head and back aches, there are dragging-down pains, nervousness, sleeplessness, and reluctance to go anywhere, these are only symptoms which unless heeded, are soon followed by the worst forms of Female Complaints.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

keeps the feminine organism in a strong and healthy condition. It cures Inflammation, Ulceration, displacements, and organic troubles. In preparing for child-birth and to carry women safely through the Change of Life it is most efficient.

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"For a long time I suffered from female troubles and had all kinds of aches and pains in the lower part of back and sides, I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and following the advice which you gave me I feel like a new woman and I cannot praise your medicine too highly."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

THE LEADING JEWELERS*SEVERED BY DIVORCE.*Are Two Great Fortunes Made in Georgia Convict Labor.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 27.—Mrs. James W. English, Jr., daughter of Mrs. Rebecca L. Lowe Guntion, who married Prof. Guntion, of magazine fame, has been granted a divorce from her husband, James W. English, Jr., of Atlanta. Mrs. English's maiden name, Rebecca Lowe, was restored to her. English was not present, but at the request of his attorney, the court removed the disabilities that prevented him from marrying again. The charges upon which the divorce was granted were cruelty and habitual drunkenness. The most sensational feature of the testimony by Mrs. English was that while in New York about a year ago Mr. English returned to the hotel in which he was staying, and that Mrs. English was married in Atlanta about ten years ago and the wedding was the eclipsing event of the time. Mr. English has made a fortune in the employment of Georgia convicts and has a home here which is one of the show places of the South.

Mrs. English's father also made a fortune out of the convicts. The divorce splits two convict fortunes. The mother of Mrs. English was recently divorced from the past two years and at the same time coached the football team, which won the championship of the Middle West last year.

SPORTS OF THE DAY*ATHLETICS*Chicago White Sox Are Defeated by 3 to 1 Score.*The Tigers Open at Philadelphia for Three Games.

The visit of the world's champion White Sox to Philadelphia was disastrous for Chicago's hopes of another pennant. The victory of the Athletics yesterday made it two out of three for the Eastern club and sent Chicago 421 points behind the leaders. Only the finest run of baseball luck could bring the Sox to the front again and it looks now as though the Cubs will be compelled to play either the Detroit Tigers or Philadelphia for the world's championship.

While Philadelphia was trouncing Comiskey's crew, Hughie Jennings and his invaders from the jungles were grilling the Sox by clouting up three straight at Boston. The Tigers are going along nicely and it looks now as though they will be able to carry off the title of the West.

Today, what will probably be the deciding series of the season will be opened at Philadelphia. With the Athletics and Tigers tied, they will start a series of three games. Any little slip will mean misfortune to the team making it. The winner of the two out of three of the series will have the best chance to carry off the tag and all eyes will be on Philadelphia for three days.

LAY PLANS FIRST GAME*Meeting of International Hockey League Mag-nates at Chicago.*Number of Stars of Circuit Will Leave Game This Season.

Houghton, Mich., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Today and tomorrow delegates from the various clubs, Houghton, Calumet, the two Soos and Pittsburgh, in the International Hockey league, will gather in Chicago, meeting at the Auditorium, to lay the first plans for the league's work during the coming winter. At this meeting, also, are expected delegates from Duluth, Cleveland and Toronto, with Columbus, Ohio, a possibility.

Charles E. Webb will represent the Houghton or Portage Lake club, while James E. Fisher will go from Calumet. Secretary Laughlin will go down from the Canadian Soo, probably President L. Ferguson from the American Soo and President A. W. McSwiggan from Pittsburgh. This will not be the annual meeting of the league, but a sort of a preliminary meeting. The annual meeting will be held in Chicago, on the second Monday in October, the 14th.

A team from Toronto in the league circuit this season is assured, as is one from Cleveland. In both of these cities new hockey and skating rinks are being built during the past summer. Several Canadian hockey players, among the best the Dominion has to furnish, are in Cleveland at the present time. It is understood that skating rinks with sportsmen of that city for the organization of a good club is already in the process of formation, and some of the fastest players have been secured. Manager Milne of the Calumet team is sure to have a good line-up.

Manager and President McSwiggan of Pittsburgh has been busy, and it is reported that he has dropped all plans to quit the league and help run a new one in the East. Houghton and Calumet have started to get their men together. For Calumet it is expected that Mallen and Bert Morrison will be back, but none of the other old players are expected.

Goal tender Nicholson of Calumet is expected to be with one of the Eastern-Canadian teams this season, in the Montreal league, which was organized last year.

"Conney" Shields, last year's manager of the Calumet team, is expected to be with the Portage Lakes and the Pittsburgh teams. It is understood, is to quit the game for good. Bruce Smith, the great forward hockey general and manager four years of the Portage Lakes, landing the world's championship three times, is also to quit the game. This means that both Calumet and Houghton will have to look for new managers and captains.

There will also be considerable changing about in the other teams of the league. Lorne Campbell, center player, will likely manage the Pittsburgh team this season. From a speculative point of view, the Portage Lakes is expected to again head the Canadian Soo aggregation, and Paul Hamilton, who has been coaching the McGill university football team at Montreal, will manage the Soo. Mich. team, Calumet already has his captain in view, but his name will not be given out till the contract is signed. It is surmised, however, that Harry Smith, formerly captain of the famous Ottawa Stanley cup holders, will land the job. Smith landed last year's championship.

Nothing more is being said about Calumet getting into the circuit.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS*The Worst Epidemic of Strange Malady Recorded in Country.*Humid Weather Helps to Spread the Disease—Specialists' Views.

New York, Sept. 27.—The scourge of mysterious disease is spreading over Greater New York, striking here, crippling there and leaving scores helplessly paralyzed for life. The strange malady is known as infantile paralysis.

It is a dreaded, baffling disease. It comes in the night and strikes while a child sleeps. A 4-year-old who goes to bed healthy and sound tonight may wake up in the morning with apoplexy that will make him a cripple for the rest of his life.

New York is now in the clutches of the worst epidemic of this disease ever known in this country. The epidemic is ravaging from the Bronx far and wide. The clouds of mystery are being spread by the infection—for infection there is, if the eminent specialists in bacteriology are to be believed. Only the cold weather can stop the disease. Medicine has no anti-toxin and no preventive.

So serious has the scourge become that the most eminent physicians in the country have joined in a fight to end its ravages. So far they have had the worst of the fight, but they are keeping bravely on. Their main hope is to discover the germ of paralysis. Up to this time the elusive germ has kept out of the way and has never been isolated or recognized.

The fight on this paralysis of children is led by men who believe that it is a germ disease. There are physicians, some of them prominent, who assert that it is not a germ disease, and is not infectious, but the character of the present epidemic argues against their beliefs. The spread of the disease in Manhattan and Brooklyn has been like the spread of disease known to be infectious.

The chase after the germ is going on in hospitals and in sick rooms all over the city. Dr. J. F. Terriberry, neurologist of the Society for the Ruptured and Crippled, which has its hospital in Forty-second street, Manhattan, is determined to discover the germ. In his hospital the number of cases of infantile paralysis in the past few weeks was unprecedented.

Dr. Terriberry has asked that he be notified of new cases, in order that he may have an opportunity to search for the germ.

Dr. Oiler, the famous physician; Dr. Caille, professor of diseases of children in the New York Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital, and Dr. Le Grand Kerr, professor of diseases of children in the Brooklyn Post Graduate Medical School, and others, agree with Dr. Terriberry that the spinal paralysis is a germ disease. Dr. Maxfield, assistant sanitary superintendent of the health department, and other prominent physicians, say that the disease is not infectious unless made so by weather conditions.

Warm, cloudy weather, with great humidity, helps to spread the disease. Cold weather is the best natural preventive. The weather this summer has been very favorable for the spread of the disease.

Dr. Kerr of 110 Cumberland street, Brooklyn, is one of the best known authorities on this strange disease. He has made it the subject of much study and investigation, and has written of it in his book, "Diagnoses of the Diseases of Children." Dr. Kerr regards the disease as one of the most dangerous that menaces the lives and health of children.

The disease has been treated with some success, but complete recoveries are rare. Death, which is usually a fortunate ending to the disease, occurs in probably 20 per cent of the cases, while partial recoveries amount to 50 per cent in some mild epidemics.

Permanent paralysis is one of the most common results of the disease. This paralysis is overcome in a small way by modern surgery, which transplants good muscles and good tendons to do the work of muscles and tendons that are totally paralyzed.

In cases where important tendons have been paralyzed, a neighboring tendon that has remained healthy is split up and twisted over to another part of a limb and transplanted there. After a time this transplanted section of a tendon, or a muscle, learns to do the work of the part that was paralyzed.

Aside from surgical transplantation of muscles and tendons, there is little that can be done to save sufferers from the effects of infantile paralysis.

S.S.S. RIDES THE SYSTEM OF MALARIA

We breathe the germs and microbes of Malaria into our lungs and they are soon absorbed into the blood and distributed to all parts of the system. Then we begin to feel "out of sorts," no appetite or energy, dull headaches, a tired, sleepy feeling, and often "dumb" or "stupid" feeling. As the trouble progresses and the blood becomes more deeply polluted, boils and abscesses, sores and ulcers or brown blotches appear on the skin. As Malaria is a blood disease, to cure it requires a blood purifier, and S. S. S. is recognized as the best of blood purifiers. S. S. S. destroys the germs with which the blood is loaded and rides the system of Malaria. It goes down into the circulation and attacks the disease in the right way by removing every vestige of the cause and building up the blood from a weak, watery, germ-infected stream to a rich, healthful fluid, nourishing and vitalizing every part of the body by its purity. S. S. S. takes up every part of the system by its fine tonic effects, and being made entirely of healing, cleansing roots, herbs and barks it is an absolutely safe remedy for young or old. YOU ARE AS

When She Commenced the Burnham Treatment.

Chicago, March 27, 1907.
Dear Sir—I desire to fulfill my promise to you, which was made last October, namely, that if you would improve my complexion by removing crows' feet, wrinkles and discolored complexion, I would give you my photograph and testimonial.
The enclosed picture, which was taken last fall, shows my condition at that time. The enclosed picture, taken Feb. 25th, shows my condition at the present time. I desire to state that you have not only removed the wrinkles in a first-class, youthful condition, of which I am very proud. The fact is that my complexion is the envy of my friends and I cannot say too much for your course of treatment for beautifying women. You certainly do all you claim and your remedies are perfect. I recommend them to my friends.
Trusting this letter will fulfill my promise to you and be all that you require, I remain, Yours very truly, Marysville, Ohio, Sept. 27.—In the case of Joseph Silberman of New York city, against his wife, Grace Mowry Silberman, of Magnolia Springs, to collect on two notes aggregating about $2,400, which was settled here, the complainant alleged that he had never been married to the defendant, but that they had participated seventeen years ago in a common law marriage, permissible in the state of New York.

There was also another suit against Mrs. Silberman in Union county by Henry Silberman, a brother of her husband, who held a mortgage note of $500 against the Grand Union hotel at Magnolia Springs, owned by Mrs. Silberman. Both of these cases were settled just as court was called, the jury being ready to hear them. Silberman is a wealthy citizen of New York.

THEY STEAL SOUVENIRS

Nothing Immune From the American Tourists in London.

One Woman Tried to Take a Piece of a Mummy.

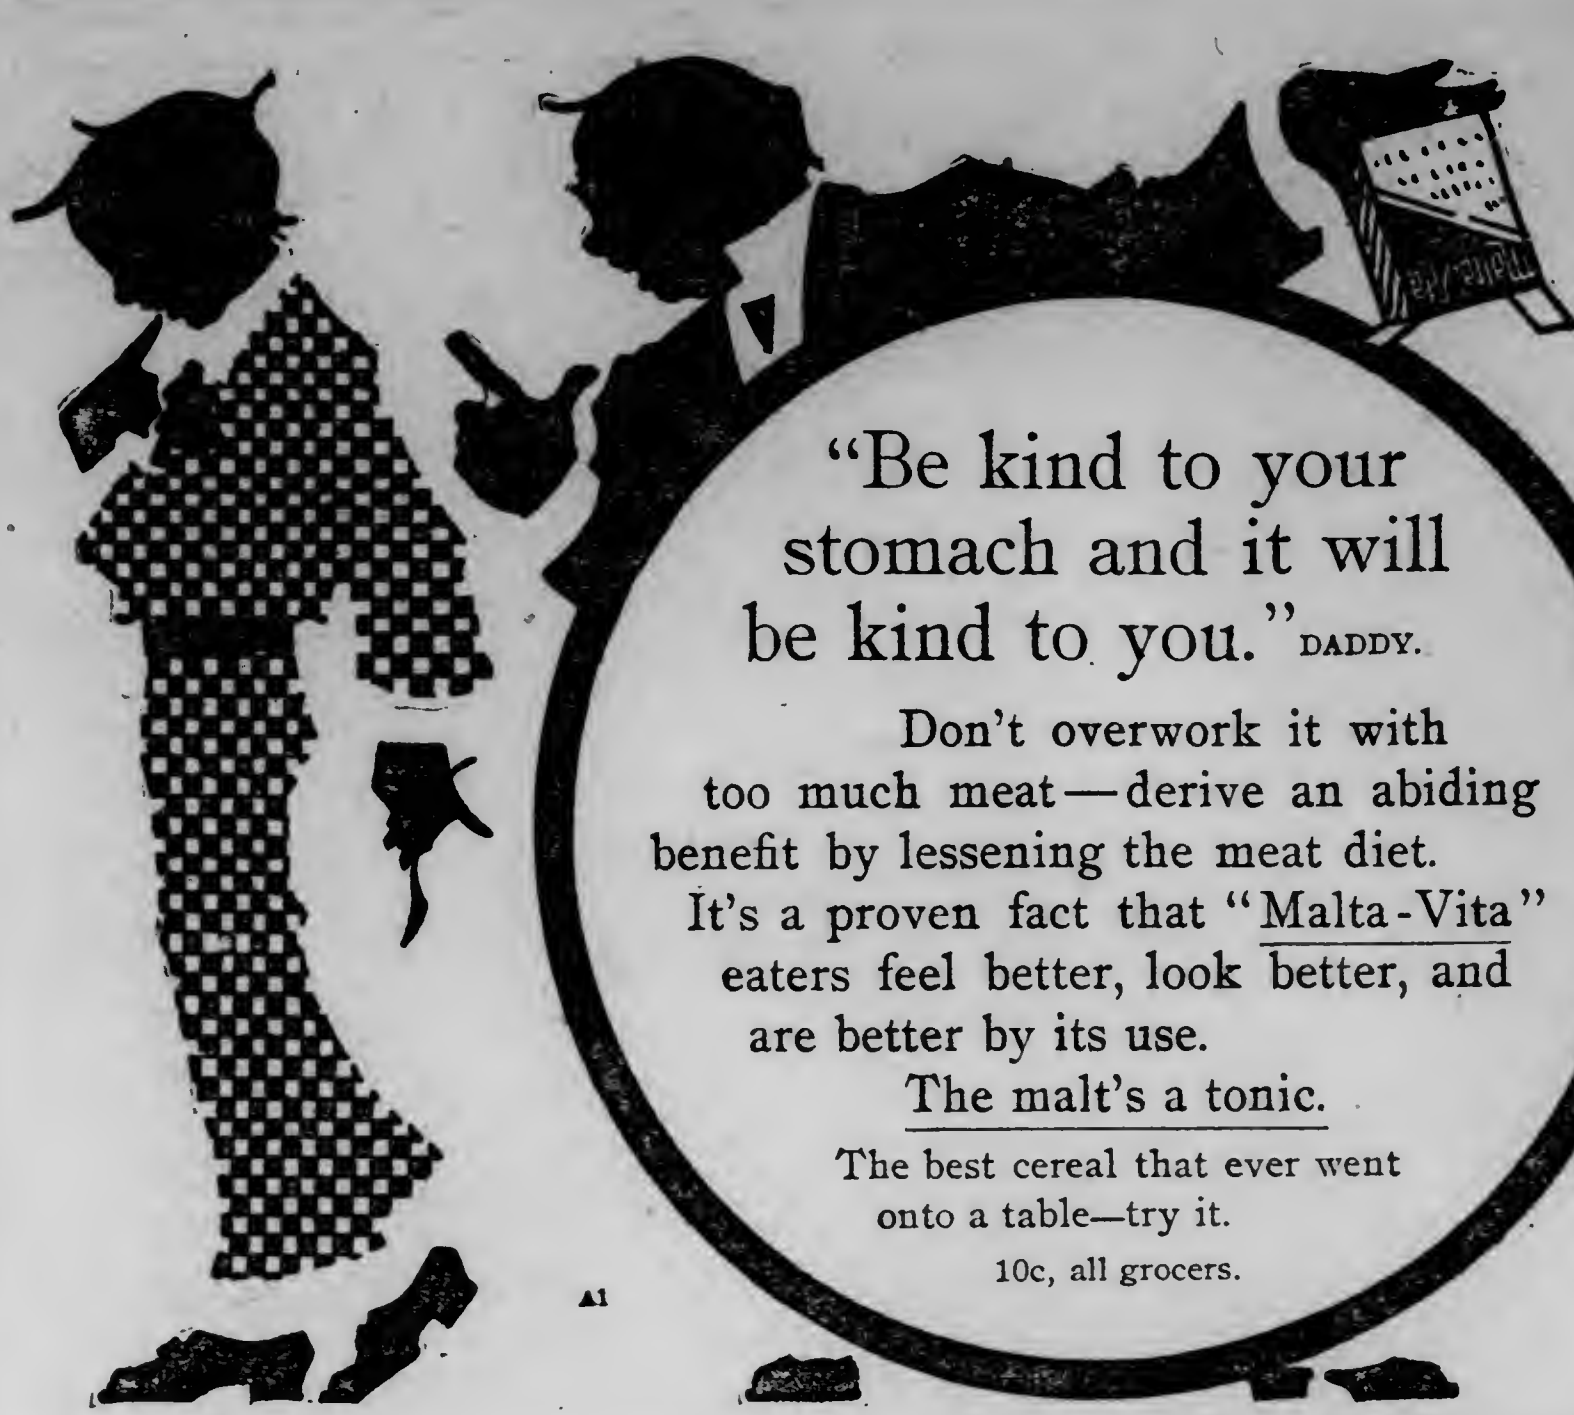

London, Sept. 27.—A party of Americans went over St. Paul's cathedral last Monday. They explored the crypt, started at the statuary, and then climbed the stairs to the topmost gallery. There one of them hung back from the party. He was presently discovered trying to chip flakes of stone from one of the ornamental pillars.
"I guess I only wanted a bit of St. Paul's to take back with me to America," he drawled by way of explanation. Souvenir hunting has developed into a craze, and there is no institution of any size that has not suffered from the ravages of the souvenir hunters.
The late Mr. Wall, when librarian of the Stratford Memorial theater, used to tell of a visitor who offered a substantial sum for a few plinths of the dust that resposes Shakespeare's tomb. Now the souvenir collector is not satisfied with purchasing of dubious—the appropriate. One enterprising stranger at the British museum tried to secure a strip of a mummy case, and another snipped a button off the coat of an attendant.
A group of women who visited the tower on Monday were lamenting their inability to purloin a sample of the crown jewels. One woman could not help herself with the twig of a tree which she broke off surreptitiously.
A humorous Londoner, who is actually a tourist, says that all the London theaters have their resources taxed to the utmost in protecting their property. "Opera glasses disappear by the score," he said. "There was one man who was caught putting a pair in his pocket, coolly explained that he thought he had secured the cheapest souvenir in London for the price he had paid for them."
The other day a man tried to purloin a stained-glass window from one of the lower galleries. He was actually walking off with the surplus in which a famous clergyman had been seen to be peering at the crown jewels. He was caught by a beaming lady mayor in richly embroidered collar, and escorted to the police station, where he was charged with the theft of a crown jewel.

FAVOR VEGETABLE DIET.

English Doctors Issue a Remarkable Manifesto.

London, Sept. 27.—A number of medical men have issued a remarkable manifesto in favor of vegetarian diet. The following is the text:
"We, the undersigned medical men, having carefully considered the subject of vegetarianism in its scientific aspects, and having put its principles to the practical test of experience, hereby record our emphatic opinion that not only is the practice based on a truly scientific foundation, but that it is conducive to the best physical conditions of human life.

"The diet of vegetarianism provides all the constituents necessary to the building up of the human body, and those constituents, as proved, not by the misleading tests of the chemical and physical laboratory, but by the experience of numerous persons living under normal conditions, are at least as digestible and as assimilable as the corresponding substances obtained from flesh.

"We therefore claim vegetarianism to be scientifically a sound and satisfactory system of dietetics.
"Moreover, considering the liability of cattle and other animals to ailments and diseases of various kinds, and the pure character of food obtained from vegetarian sources, we are convinced that abstention from flesh food is not only more conducive to health, but from an esthetic point of view, is comparatively superior."

DR. LEROY CHADWICK,

Wrecked by Cassie's Peculations, is Working as a Clerk.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 27.—Only three years ago a wealthy leader of the medical profession in this city and high in the social world, Dr. Leroy S. Chadwick, husband of Cassie Chadwick, who handled millions in borrowed money and was now in a state of penury, is now working as a clerk in the Ohio state penitentiary at Columbus, is poverty stricken in Florida.

Dr. Chadwick is working in his brother's store at Jacksonville, doing anything to keep himself and daughter Mary from sheer want," says J. P. Dawley, attorney for Chadwick. "The doctor is in such poor health that it is a crime to keep him under indictment here for the crimes his wife committed, barring his return to face the people who once called him a leader. His life was blasted by his wife's peculations."

A TOAD CENTURIES OLD.

Is Discovered Alive Imbedded in a Solid Stratum of Rock.

Melbourne, Sept. 27.—A miner has sent to the Zoological gardens, Perth, a live toad which he dug out of a stratum of hard cement while sinking a shaft with explosives. It is believed that the creature has been entombed for centuries. When released from confinement the toad was quite inanimate. Its eyes, which were transparent, with no pupil, gradually became normal, and it is now in excellent health. The chamber in which it was confined was perfectly smooth, and there was no room for movement. The toad is now being examined by geologists.
The secretary of the Zoological gardens says toads bury themselves in mud and the water in which they have been living dries up, and so remain there till the next rains come. If a drouth set in and no rain comes there will be no change in the condition of the toad, and therefore nothing to bring him to a state of animation, and so

NEW COAST ROUTE.

The Moffatt Road Will Furnish One for Great Northern.

Minneapolis, Sept. 27.—A dispatch to the Minneapolis Journal from Denver, Colo., says that the projected D. H. Moffatt road from Denver to Salt Lake will form a link for the Hill interests in obtaining another route to the Pacific coast. The road will connect with the Burlington at Denver and at Salt Lake City it will connect with W. A. Clark's Salt Lake and Los Angeles line. The deal has been closed, says the dispatch and the stockholders of the Burlington will meet in St. Louis, Nov. 6, to ratify the agreement. The Rock Island also will be allied with the combine.

OLD RATE RESTORED.

Wisconsin Railway Commission Makes Ruling Regarding Package Freight.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 27.—As the result of an arrangement made by the railroad after a brief hearing before the railroad commission this morning, an order was be issued restoring the 25 cents charge for minimum package freight delivery when it goes over one line in this state. The present charge of 40 cents has been revoked.

When the minimum package goes over more than one line, either the 40-cent rate will be maintained or the commission will order that the price of freight shall be reduced to the 25-cent minimum charge. The railroads agreed to enforce the order immediately.

This arrangement is temporary. Ultimately the railroads are planning to install a system of charges for minimum packages which will be uniform throughout the state. The rule which the railroads are attempting to establish is now in force in eastern states and in substance is that for packages under 100 pounds in weight, the first class rate for 100 pounds for the distance shipped shall be charged. In no case, however, is the charge to be less than 25 cents.

CONCESSION TO FARGO.

Great Northern Recognizes Town as a Great Jobbing Center.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 27.—Again Fargo has received a concession from the railroads. This time it is the Great Northern that has recognized in Fargo a great jobbing center. A tariff has been issued which went into effect on Sept. 23, which reduces the freight rates on all classes of merchandise between this city and the stations on the Great Northern in North Dakota and also Montana. This tariff is the outgrowth of the new extension from Aneta and Devils Lake, and operates by the way of Cassation.

In the opinion of the business men and jobbers, this and the Milwaukee-Soo and Northern Pacific-Soo tariffs, virtually makes Fargo the jobbing center of North Dakota, as it brings the entire territory of the state under very favorable rates from this city and with which other cities cannot compete.

WAITS TRIAL ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Mrs. David Gerow or Juliana Frinsburg in Jail.

Mrs. Juliana Frinsburg, better known in Duluth as Mrs. David Gerow, because of the fact that she married Gerow some seven weeks ago, languishes in a cell of the woman's ward in the county jail charged with bigamy. The young woman was taken to the county jail last evening from the city hall and she takes her troubles very much to heart. But a few weeks ago she was the object of considerable sympathy because of the reported rough treatment she had been subjected to at the hands of her husband who is now serving a jail sentence for assaulting her.

Today, the situation is somewhat changed and there is an impression that Gerow was as much sinned against as sinning in the case among those who are acquainted with the ins and outs of the domestic difficulties of the Gerows.

The case against Paul H. Lueck, charged with non-support failed to materialize this morning, the complaining witness, Mrs. Leda Lueck failing to appear against him and the case was dismissed.

Several witnesses were present in court and the case has attracted considerable attention because of the prominence of the parties. Mrs. Lueck alleged in the complaint that her husband had closed the house where they resided and placed their children among friends of his family while she remained an invalid at a hospital. He pleaded not guilty to the charge when arraigned some time ago and the case was to come up today.

HERALD'S WEST DULUTH DEPT.

HAD OLD COINS.

Hjalmer Krang, Swedish Immigrant, Was Hopelessly Drunk.

Hjalmer Krang, a young man 21 years of age, was one of the most interesting drunks it has been the duty of the West Duluth police to take in for some time past. Hjalmer was taken in yesterday afternoon, in response to a call from Forty-first avenue west and Grand. The officer found him lying in the gutter, insensible and oblivious of the crowd, which had gathered. He was taken to the West Duluth station, placed in a cell and allowed to sleep.

When searched, nothing was found on Krang's person to indicate who he was. A pocketbook, containing one 5-cent piece and eleven old foreign coins, was his sole possession. The coins were interesting. They were of copper, of different diameters from about two inches in diameter to about the size of a United States nickel, and were dated in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. The oldest was dated 1668. They excited considerable interest among the policemen and those visiting the station last evening, as the designs on the coins did not indicate from what country they had come.

This morning, when Krang came to, he revealed the fact that he was a Swede, in this country but a short time, and that the coins found on him were Swedish pieces of ancient coinage.

He got into communication with friends, who appeared at the station and put up $10 bail for his appearance in municipal court. Before leaving the station, Krang was a clean-cut young fellow, left one of the coins with the officers as a souvenir of his visit.

Last of Season.

Last night at the Fairmount park pavilion, the last dance of the season was given by the Woodman team of Old Hickory camp, M. W. A., of West Duluth. There was a good crowd present and the event was one of the most enjoyable of the season. Every Thursday evening for the summer, the Woodman entertained their friends at the park, and their dances were successful from the first. The advent of cold weather and the close of the outing season makes their discontinuance necessary, but the boys are counting on making them a feature of next season.

Farewell to Pastor.

The members of the Swedish-Finnish Baptist church last evening tendered a farewell to Rev. J. J. Fors, their pastor, at Wassa hall. Rev. ## RAIN HELPS LOGGING.

Posts and Poles Being Floated Down to Clouquet, Very Easily.

Clouquet, Minn., Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The rains of the past two weeks have raised the rivers and creeks north of Clouquet to such a height that the posts and poles belonging to the Clouquet, P. & F. logging company, are being floated down stream comparatively fast. The river is clear of logs for quite a distance up river, and now the logs and posts of last season's cut, which have been piled on the banks during the summer, are being rolled in the water and floated down. A large crew of men are working night and day at the landing at Breavor, taking the posts out as they come along and for this purpose the Clouquet company has installed an electric lighting plant at that place.

CAUSE OF DELAY.

Postmaster Gets Letter Telling About Special Request Envelopes.

Postmaster Guy Eaton received a circular letter today from the assistant postmaster general at Washington, explaining the cause of the delay of stamped envelopes and wrappers. Beginning July 1 the contract for supplying stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers was awarded to the Morgan, C. corporation, Dayton, Ohio. This company had to install a new plant at a very short notice, and there was some delay accordingly.

Following this change, the government, according to an act of congress, withdrew, as an experiment, from all the mails all postal cards, stamped envelopes, newspaper wrappers, immediately preceding the weighing period in the several divisions, and sent them by freight. This plan was found to be impracticable, and has been abandoned. Stamped envelopes are now being shipped, as before, by registered mail from the government stamping envelope agency at Dayton, Ohio.

The new company is fast catching up with orders, and the time of delivery of stamped envelopes and "special requests" will soon be greatly reduced. To avoid further delay, the department suggests that all regular users of stamped envelopes should place orders several weeks earlier than usual.

CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS.

Walter Keto Arraigned for Drunkenness in Municipal Court.

Walter Keto was arraigned in municipal court on the charge of drunkenness today, and in view of the fact that a watch, claimed to be the property of a colored man named Smith, was found on his person, the court gave him ten days at hard labor.

Keto claimed that he knew nothing of the watch or how he came by it. Smith said that he left it hanging on a nail in his room and noticed it. He suspected Keto of the crime and notified the police. The watch was found on Keto's person, or the charge would have been different against the young man. Keto is a stranger here and worked on one of the boats, it is said.

CONGRATULATED BY PRESIDENT

Executive Writes Letters to Winners of Shooting Matches.

New York, Sept. 27.—President Roosevelt has written letters of congratulation to Sergeant W. A. Berg of North Yakima, Wash., who represented the Washington National guard, and to Misspian Harold T. Smith of Tacoma, Wash., who represented the United States navy and who won the championship of 1907, on their victories in the president's match and the national individual match of the National Rifle Association of America, recently held at Camp Perry, Ohio.

To Sergeant Berg the president wrote as follows: "My dear Sergeant Berg: I congratulate you heartily upon winning the president's match. I feel that in this country, with our complex, and rather over-luxurious civilization, it is above all things important that there should be no falling off in the virile qualities which make of the average man a good soldier, as well as a good citizen. It is absolutely essential that we should keep up a first class fighting navy; but in the event of land war we should have to rely chiefly upon our volunteer forces, and when war has come it is too late to teach a man a new trade. A really formidable shot, while good marksmanship is one of the three or four vitally important qualities in a really efficient soldier."

St. Paul, Sept. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Mary Louise Crane, proprietor of a millinery store at Pierre, S. D., has disappeared and her father, P. B. Crane of Long Lake is in the Twin Cities searching for her.

The young woman left Pierre Aug. 23, apparently well and happy, on her way home, as it was supposed. A letter addressed to her fiancé, Dr. Holmberg of St. Peter, was received by him Aug. 31. S. D., has disappeared and her father, P. B. Crane of Long Lake is in the Twin Cities searching for her.

ROCK FROM A DYNAMITE BLAST CARRIES AWAY A WOMAN'S $125 DIAMOND

She Also Loses Part of Her Ear by the Explosion.

Peculiar Accident Follows
Blast on N. Y., N.
H. & H. Road.

Woman is Badly Frightened But Not Seriously Hurt.

New York, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Joseph H. Brown, wife of a clerk employed in the county courthouse, lost a $125 earring and a part of her right ear when a heavy blast of dynamite at Bartow station, on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, for which the contractors are at work.

Mrs. Brown had been visiting friends at City Island and was on her way to her home, No. 725 East Two Hundred and Twentieth street, when she was standing on the station platform at Bartow waiting for a train when the blast was fired. The heavy charge of dynamite hurled stones in every direction. One of them grazed Mrs. Brown's face, took off the skin and part of the lobe of her ear.

She was badly frightened and somewhat stunned, but refused to take the train for her home. When she arrived at her home she discovered that the stone which took the skin off the side of her face, had come within 10 feet of her head.

The loss of the earring and part of the ear was reported to the thirty-eighth sub-precinct police station, on City Island, but no trace of the jewelry has been found.

STARTLING CONDITIONS

Of New York Street Railroad Companies May be Revealed.

New York, Sept. 28.—Inquiry into the finances and business methods of the transit system in this city, based on a thorough study of the books of the New York City Railroad company, the Metropolitan Securities company and the Interborough Metropolitan, will be resumed before the public service commission on Tuesday. In the course of the next few sessions, it is declared, will be disclosed conditions as startling as any which Charles E. Hughes brought out by the insurance investigation.

William M. Evans, special counsel to the commission, has completed his scrutiny of the books of the Interborough Metropolitan Securities company, but he declines emphatically to discuss his discoveries and will not outline his plan for subsequent investigation, or talk at all about the reports of misuse of funds and sensational disclosures which have been rife in the financial district.

FREIGHT TRAIN CAUSES WRECK Crashes Into Passenger Badly Demolishing Two Coaches.

St. Louis, Sept. 28.—Two coaches of Frisco passenger train No. 4, from Texas, were wrecked by a collision with a freight train, just inside the city limits, late last night. The freight train, which was running upon the main track just as the passenger was passing, and went between the first and second coaches, A. R. McNeil of Salem, Mo., who was sitting in the rear of the first coach, had his hip crushed. Several others were slightly bruised. The passenger train was running thirty miles an hour when the accident occurred, and the fact that the freight crashed between coaches probably prevented loss of life.

SAN FRANCISCO EDITOR IS ARRESTED FOR LIBEL.

San Francisco, Sept. 28.—Frederic O. Bell, managing editor of the Bulletin, and prominently connected with the graft prosecution, was arrested in this city last evening on a warrant issued in Los Angeles, and sworn to by Luther Brown, who charges O'Brien with criminal libel. O'Brien was arrested on the street and taken to an automobile at Redwood City, twenty-five miles south, where a connection was made with a southern train for Los Angeles, on which he was placed in charge of officers from that city.

MURDERER KILLED.
Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 28.—A collision on the Toledo and Port Clinton electric road today killed Mortimer Nallman, injured conductor Branton and half a dozen others.

BASEBALL GAME OFF

Rain Prevents the Contest Between Phillies and Detroit.

Cannot be Played Later, Owing to Arrangements Made.

Philadelphia, Sept. 28.—The Philadelphia-Detroit baseball game scheduled for this afternoon was declared off owing to rain. Today's game cannot be played off, as the teams had already arranged to play two games on Monday, the last day Detroit will be here this season.

Philadelphia, Sept. 28.—Undismayed at their defeat yesterday by Detroit in the hard race for the baseball championship of the American league, the Philadelphia Athletics will go at their opponents this afternoon with a confidence born of many a hard-fought battle on the field. The players, while defeated, are elated over the way they hammered the pitching of Donovan, and feel that their batting ability will help give them the present series. Manager Mack today had no special cause for complaint against his men, as the score shows that they played creditably as well as the Detroit men, and blames the defeat more on the breaks of luck than on any poor work on the part of the home team.

On the other hand, the Detroit players, with one victory to their credit, feel they have the series won. Every man, including the pitchers, is in good condition and eager for another chance at their opponents. Hughie Jennings, the peppy leader of the Detroiters, was in good humor today, but had little to say on the prospects of landing the pennant, beyond the statement that he felt confident of winning.

If the home team wins today the victory will give it the lead by a fractional margin over Detroit. Each team has ten games remaining before the season ends. Besides the three games with Detroit, Philadelphia has four with Cleveland and three with Washington. Detroit has four to play with Washington and three with St. Louis. The Chicago team, which is third, and still has a chance for the pennant, is now playing with Boston, and still has a series left with New York and Cleveland.

Today's game is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock. The weather is threatening.

SECRETARY TAFT IS GUEST AT YOKOHAMA

SECRETARY TAFT.

TAFT AT YOKOHAMA

Secretary Given Royal Reception at Japanese City.

Elaborate Program Arranged for His Entertainment.

Yokohama, Sept. 28.—Secretary Taft arrived here early this morning on board the steamer Minnesota, from Seattle, Sept. 13, passing all the signal stations without being sighted. The various reception committees and the members of the American embassy, who had come here from Tokyo to welcome Mr. Taft, were aroused by rumormongers, who were soon silenced, and the bay was crowded with launches, displaying American flags and their colors. Secretary and Mrs. Taft and Thomas J. O'Brien, the new American ambassador to Japan, and Mrs. O'Brien, who are early risers, met the visitors from the shore in the main saloon of the Minnesota at 7:30 a. m., while the United States cruiser Chatanaga, anchored in the bay, saluted Secretary Taft's flag, as secretary of war, which was hoisted at the fore. Secretary Taft, after a brief consultation with the reception committee and others, accepted the entire program.

THREE ARE BADLY HURT

Score Injured in Accident At New York Auto Race.

Car Plunges Through Fence While Running
at Great Speed.

New York, Sept. 28.—In the first accident of consequence in the twenty-four-hour endurance automobile race at Morris Park race track three persons were perhaps fatally injured and a score of others were more or less bruised today. One of the cars, while going over sixty miles an hour, crashed through a fence at the western turn of the track in the thirteenth hour of the race. The car was a forty horse power Ford of New York. He was struck by a heavy timber and thrown from the machine. When picked up it was found that his skull was fractured and he was taken to the Ford hospital in a dying condition.

John Clarke, a spectator, who was standing near the fence when the machine dashed through, was injured internally, and a boy named Fred Tapp suffered a fracture of his leg and other injuries.

Smelzer and his partner, Linkrom, were racing with another machine with which they had been sprinting for half an hour. Suddenly the tire on the front right wheel of the Lozier machine burst and the car swerved toward the fence at a point where about 200 persons were crowded in to see the race and it was impossible for the police to hold them in check. Many had narrow escapes from being hit by cars that were racing around the track, the race not having been interrupted by the accident.

Driver Linkrom, who was riding with Smelzer escaped injury. It was announced that the machine probably could be repaired in a few hours, and if so, it would re-enter the race.

At the end of the twelfth hour, Flat car No. 12 was still leading, having covered 533 miles.

CAMP FOR MARINES

On Duty in the Canal Zone Will be Retained at Bas Obispo.

Washington, Sept. 28.—For strategic and other purposes the camp of the marine battalion on duty in the canal zone will be retained at Bas Obispo for the present. Accommodation will be made sufficient to comfortably care for the officers and men stationed there. It will be recommended by the commanding officer of the marine battalion that new marine barracks be erected on a site selected on the Sabanas road about one and one-half miles from the railroad station in Panama, but an investigation of this locality developed the fact that it was not large enough to accommodate the garrison proposed.

WILL BRYAN MAKE WAY FOR JOHNSON AS CHOICE FOR THE PRESIDENCY?

LUMBERMEN TO BE NEXT

Federal Grand Jury to Investigate the So-Called Trust.

Fifty Witnesses From the Northwest Summoned to St. Paul.

St. Paul, Sept. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The federal courts will be in session in Minneapolis next week, and the grand jury will begin an investigation of the so-called lumber trust, which is understood to have its headquarters in Minneapolis. Witnesses to the number of fifty have, it is reported, been summoned to testify before the grand jury. Of this number twenty are from this state and the rest from Iowa and the two Dakotas. It is understood that the government has been collecting testimony to show that the lumber trust has been using the mails for unlawful purposes in its crusade to squeeze the independent companies to exhaustion. The report of the grand jury on this particular line of law infraction may be of a sensational nature.

FLOOD SITUATION SLIGHTLY BETTER

Great Damage, However,
Has Been Done in France.

Paris, Sept. 28.—The flood situation in the south of France is a little better today. The papers are filled with accounts of the immense destruction caused in the department of Herault, to which the damage is principally confined, and which is estimated at $4,000,000.

Reports from the departments of the Rhone, Gard and Vaucluse say that the rivers everywhere have overflowed their banks and inundated the neighborhood, causing much distress among the people in those districts, many of whom have sought refuge in the upper part of their houses, and have been without food for days.

The authorities are hurrying relief supplies to the flooded sections of the country. A number of bodies have been recovered in various parts of the departments mentioned, but the exact loss of life is not known.

A dispatch from Marseilles says that an unprecedented rainfall there, has flooded the lower parts of the city. In the department of Ardèche, the rains have caused a dangerous rise in the streams, and serious breaks in several dams.

JAMAICANS ARE BITTER

Toward English Companies for Failing to Settle Insurance.

Kingston, Jamaica, Sept. 28.—There is a bitter feeling against the English insurance companies growing out of the actions arising from the disaster of last January. It is charged that the companies are delaying the cases by technicalities.

Their latest move is an announcement by counsel that the companies propose in one action to make a counter claim for the declaration that the loss sustained by an earthquake, which was caused by an earthquake, means, if it succeeds, that other cases cannot be proceeded with because the companies would win under the earthquake clause. Merchants think that local companies should be formed to carry insurance. As the restoration of Kingston progresses the boycott of English concerns increases.

WORKING FOR PARDON.

Friends of Edward Wise Will Try to Secure His Release.

New York, Sept. 28.—Roland B. Molineux is taking part in an effort to get a pardon for Edward Wise, who was a member of the Boston National league team when he was convicted of murder in 1895, for killing Charles F. Beasley, a bookmaker, in West Thirty-seventh street. Wise was sentenced to die, but Governor Roosevelt commuted the sentence to life imprisonment. Molineux went to the criminal courts building and got a record of the case. There were other men with Wise when Beasley was killed, and Wise says one of them committed the crime.

Thoughtful Democrats Convinced That Bryan Cannot Be Elected.

He Will Be Urged to Give His Influence for Johnson.

Governor's Party Loyalty Will Be Invoked to Become Candidate.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—The News of this city publishes from its Washington correspondent a comprehensive review of the Democratic presidential situation, with special reference to Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota. The article says, in part:

Within the next month John A. Johnson, governor of Minnesota, will be urged once more and more vigorously than heretofore to allow the use of his name as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency. He has been in the minds of a great many members of the party for a year or more. It is generally known, he is the man Henry Watterson was thinking about when he said last spring that he could pick a dark horse capable of winning. During the summer months scores of Democrats have traveled from various parts of the country to Minnesota to see Johnson and try to persuade him to enter the race. He has received visits from a large number of newspaper correspondents, who hoped they might be able to send out an announcement of his candidacy. Every caller came away with the same story. The governor could not be even persuaded to say that he was like a party dark horse. He did say to some of his callers that no one could even think of being a candidate as long as William J. Bryan stood the nomination. The inference gathered by all the visitors was that, with Bryan out of the race, the governor might be persuaded to become a candidate.

Recently the conviction that Bryan cannot be elected has taken firmer root among thoughtful Democrats everywhere. The time has come when more members of the party than at any time since 1895 are saying: "Why not look the situation squarely in the face, why not be saved at this thing?" Deliberations of the last few weeks indicate very clearly that Bryan cannot get a unanimous nomination from his party. No one doubts that he will be nominated if he persists in insisting

CONGRESSMAN LOOKS FOR WAR

Bell of California Sees Trouble With the Asiatics.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 28.—In the course of an address to the local acie of Eagles last night, Congressman Theodore E. Bell of California, the national head of the order, speaking of racial conditions on the Pacific slope, said:

"We on the Pacific coast, when we look upon the ingress of the Oriental, the Chinese, the Japanese—think we discover a war cloud. We will require common decency, the decency required by law. We will not tolerate men who prey upon weaker men, upon the weaker sex, to triumph over us. We have in the great West a race that is full of American blood. We do not propose to send down with any Asiatics, Chinese or Japanese. Here you live in peace with Europe. There, we look to the Pacific. We don't know how to interpret what is coming from over the Pacific. You don't know. Do not settle down easy, my brother Eagles and say that we shouldn't be here."

The middle classes will evidently have to fight this battle, as they have in the past."

THE GRAND DUKE OF BADEN DEAD

Ruler of Grand Duchy Passes Away Friday Night.

Constance, Grand Duchy of Baden, Sept. 28.—The Grand Duke Frederick of Baden died today of intestinal inflammation. He was unconscious for many hours before his death.

Throughout the night the cabinet ministers and the court officials and chaplains had waited in an apartment adjoining the death chamber for the end to come. At the grand duke's bedside when he expired were: Prince Louis of Prussia, the hereditary Grand Duke Frederick of Baden, Prince Max of Baden, brother of the grand duke, the crown prince of Sweden and prince.

NEBRASKA JUDGE MAKES CITIZENS
Score of Aliens Get Final Papers in Federal Court.

Judge Munger of Omaha, Neb., the federal judge who was assigned to assist the Nebraska judges this fall, was given his first taste of the kind of citizenship hearings which the local judges have to run up against. Twenty-three hearings on citizenship applications had been set for today, nine in the United States district court and the remainder in the United States circuit court. The applicants are of many nationalities, including Swedes, Finns, Austrians, Italians and others, and find it difficult to understand. During the forenoon session of the court Judge Munger disposed of nine of the cases in the district court and this afternoon those in the circuit court list were taken up. The list of those who were made citizens during the forenoon and the country from which they immigrated are as follows: Adam Rohr, Canada; Karlo Tuva, Finland; August Krantz, Finland; John Ostlund, Sweden; Emil Nilson, Sweden; Andrew M. Pihl, Finland; E. J. Neuman, Finland; David Mikko, Finland; Gust Vertainen, Finland. Two of the applicants whose cases were set for today failed to appear and the cases were postponed.

COMMISSION AT LA CROSSE. La Crosse, Sept. 28.—The national inland waterways commission, headed by Congressman Burton of Ohio, arrived here today, two hours ahead of time, on board the government snail boat, the Col. A. McKim. After a careful examination of the river at this point, the commission proceeded on its way south.

A MAJORITY HAVE JOBS

Most of Striking Telegraphers Have Secured Positions Now.

Are Working for Railroads or on Brokers' Wires.

With one or two exceptions, all of the telegraphers who went out on a strike in Duluth have secured other positions—although not with either of the telegraph companies against which the strike is being waged. The demand for telegraph operators is great at the present time, outside of the needs of the two great commercial companies. Nearly every railroad in the country is in need of telegraphers and many of the local strikers have secured berths on different lines which run into this city. A number have gone to work for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and Duluth & Iron Range roads, while others are now employed by the South Shore, the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific.

Several strikers have secured positions as private wire operators in brokers' offices. These are positions much sought by the men, as the pay is good and the hours usually short, although the work is hard and must be carefully done.

Those who have been unable to secure positions as telegraphers which were to their liking, have gone to work in other lines and are said to be doing very well. The strikers say they are satisfied with the way things are going. The local men do not approve, however, of the New York union's attitude on the brokers' and press operators' proposition. It will be recalled that the New York local union of the Commercial Telegraphers declared itself in favor of calling out the men who were working for brokers and press associations under contracts previously approved by the union. The Memphis, Tenn. union also desires this, but it seems to be the sentiment of the Duluth strikers and most of the other unions throughout the country that they call out the operators who went to work for the brokers and press associations under favorable contracts, would be a fatal step.

It is not likely that these men will be called out. Most of the brokers in the country signed the union contracts at the beginning of the strike. Few private wire operators intended to strike to secure an increase.

CONTRACTOR IS ARRESTED

Board is Weary of Warning Men Doing City Work.

David H. Clough, sidewalk contractor, was fined $5 and costs in municipal court yesterday, charged with blocking the streets, not taking out a permit for contract work, and failing to place danger signals in the proper place where the sidewalk work was being carried on. The arrest was made upon the complaint of the board of public works, represented by Thomas, Dillon and others of the board, who state that they propose to see that contractors are complying with the ordinance hereafter. The board state that they believe there are many damage cases which the city is called upon to fight, which are directly traceable to the failure of contractors to comply with the city ordinance and that the board is weary of feeling, pleading and threatening. "Hereafter we propose to punish every violation, no matter how small it may seem, and a strict watch will be kept upon contractors to see that they are living up to the ordinance," remarked President Sang today.

FALL EXHIBIT OF FLOWERS

Children of the Webster School Becoming Expert Gardeners.

The autumn exhibit of flowers raised by the children of the Webster school was held yesterday afternoon in the school building.

The flower exhibits held each fall at the Webster school are among the most interesting affairs in which the Women's Council and the Twentieth Century club of the city are indirectly interested. For many years the Twentieth Century club has provided seeds and bulbs to the children of this school which is located on lower St. Croix avenue, and in the autumn when the children come back to school an exhibit has been held and prizes awarded to the most faithful of the exhibitors.

This lady will read your future life history from birth to old age, like reading an open book, tell you what you are doing, what you are going to do, what is best for you to do, your lucky days and numbers, business matters, law affairs, your journey, with speculations, and every matter pertaining to your future life and happiness. Her predictions of future events are wonderful, and has created a furore in London and Paris where she was consulted by thousands. The lady does not use cards, globes, or go into a trance, but by the heart of palmistry. Can be seen at the enclosure between Seventeenth and Eighteenth avenues west and Superior street.

the little gardeners. To decide upon the prize winners is not easy when so many of the wistful eyed people have worked so faithfully under such adverse conditions to bring out the possibilities of the bit of green entrusted to their care. Old tomato cans, discarded tin kettles, cigar boxes and other such makeshifts hold the exhibits and the committee that takes it upon itself to decide upon the best exhibits find the task almost a sorrowful one.

At yesterday's exhibit, there was much encouragement to the workers, the children are showing improvement each year and a greater interest in their little gardens. The committee of the Twentieth Century club that visited the school was composed of Mrs. J. H. Crowley, Mrs. Z. L. Scott, Mrs. A. M. Gow and Mrs. Stephen H. Jones. In every particular the exhibit was a most successful one. The children receive much help and encouragement in their efforts from Miss Murphy, the principal and the teachers of the school.

Miss Elizabeth Anderson, who for many years has been a member of the committee, and who is widely known among the children was this year unable to be identified with the work and many were the expressions of regret heard among the children present at her absence.

MYSTERY IS STILL UNSOLVED

No Trace Has Yet Been Discovered of William Langon.

Three weeks ago tomorrow William Langon, an employee of the health department of the city, together with three companions repaired to the woods beyond Hunter's park for a picnic. Today his dead body probably lies hidden in some ravine in the section of country beyond the city limits. The disappearance still remains unsolved, and although the work is hard and must be carefully done. The health department has received many inquiries whether or not the missing man has been found or any traces of him discovered. No relatives have shown up and the mystery will probably never be solved. The health department has been made relative to this, leads to the conclusion that Langon is dead.

SCHOOL WILL BE FUMIGATED

Precautions Will be Taken in the Emerson Building.

The health department has a number of men busy fumigating the Emerson school building, eleventh avenue west and Third street, several cases of diphtheria having developed there in the past week or so. The department desires to take no chances on the possibility of the germs of contagion lurking in the building. Four families have had cases of diphtheria, and one death has resulted from causes traced to the Emerson school, and the action of the department in having the building thoroughly fumigated again will do away with any alarm the parents may feel about sending their children to school. The several schools of the city were opened, but it is possible that a child, coming down with diphtheria, attended the school, and the disease was spread before the house was discovered. The health department feels that the cases of diphtheria are still in hand, and the city should be free from the disease within a short time. Should any more cases develop after the Emerson school building has been closed temporarily, but this is thought unlikely.

A license to peddle fresh meat does not cover a license to peddle lunch along with it, as was made plain to Adolph Gluck in municipal court today. Gluck, it appears, has a permit to sell fresh meat, but he overstepped the latitude of his permit and was vending a lunch of pickles, sandwiches and the like when arrested last night. Chief Trosky recommended that sentence be suspended in the case, the young man evidently not understanding the ordinance and not intending any violation.

LAST ACT IN EDDY CASE NEXT MONDAY.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 28.—What is reported to be practically the last court proceeding in connection with the suit in equity brought against Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy by her son, George W. Glover and others acting as "next friends" and asking for an accounting of the property of the Christian Science leader, will be held before Judge Robert D. Chandler in the Merrimack county superior court in this city next Monday. At that time the court will take up the motion of the plaintiffs to dismiss the case. The matter of costs and master's fees will then be considered.

ALL WANTED THE CHILD

Little Marie Grampp Had Many Homes Offered Her.

Court Gives Her to Sister of the Father.

While the several aunts of pretty little 9-year-old Marie Grampp sobbed, and their attorneys fervently wiped their eyes, Judge Middlecott of the probate court yesterday afternoon rendered his decision that the child should be given to the care and custody of Mrs. Matilda F. Howlett, an aunt on the father's side, who resides at Spring Lake, Mich., and whose husband is a bank cashier in well-to-do circumstances. It is not the lack of good homes, but the fact that there were so many open to her that caused the probate court proceedings.

The evidence showed that the child's parents, as a result of a family quarrel, became divorced, the child going with its mother. Mrs. Grampp became ill last summer, and the little girl was left in the care of Mrs. Grampp's sisters. After a short illness Mrs. Grampp died at the hospital, and the child continued residing with her aunts.

George W. Burgher, foreman for Anderson & Gow, wanted to adopt the child and give it a good home. The aunts on the mother's side wanted him to have Marie, but the father of the child appeared with his claim. He insisted that the child had been promised to his sister after her mother's death and he demurred at the proceedings instituted by Mr. Burgher.

Mrs. Howlett, the aunt, came here from Michigan and that, as it was produced showing that Mrs. Grampp had always told her daughter that Marie was her own sister, the best interests of the little girl were subserved by giving her to Mrs. Howlett.

Little Marie told the court that her mother had always told her that she would some day go to her aunt's home in Michigan to live. She was undecided as to which of the aunts she really wanted to stay with.

So long as the father of the child is alive the court held that his rights were to be recognized and that, as it was the express desire of the mother that her child should go to the sister, the court gave Marie to Mrs. Howlett.

The parting scene in the courtroom last evening was a pitiful one, for one came day Marie's toys, money and clothes her. She felt that the child should be hers on account of the mother's wish.

HAS PRAISE FOR DULUTH

Professor Haecker, Dairy Expert, is Surprised at Development.

Claims Dairy and Agricultural Future of This County Assured.

For the first time in thirty-four years, Prof. T. L. Haecker, who is at the head of the dairy department in the state agricultural school, the state experiment farm at Hamlin, Minn., paid a visit to Duluth, Thursday and Friday of this week, returning to his home last evening. Prof. Haecker, who is without question, one of the foremost scientific dairy men in the country, was a guest on this trip of L. B. Arnold, at Meadowlands, Minn., who is undoubtedly his dairy acquaintance in the past. Prof. Haecker says that he expects to be a more frequent visitor here in the future, in fact, his second visit will not be more than a few weeks distant.

Returning from Meadowlands Friday morning, Prof. Haecker spent several hours in the city. He was the guest of J. U. Selenius, the owner of the dairy farm at Hamlin, Minn., who he left the city. Prof. Haecker stated that he was simply astounded with the agricultural possibilities of St. Louis county. He said that the managers on the farm at Meadowlands beat anything that he has at the state experiment station and that the future of the Meadowlands district, as a dairy country he considers as already established.

Praises Trianon Farm.

Prof. Haecker paid Mr. Selenius a high compliment, by stating that the dairy herd and the equipment at the Trianon farm undoubtedly stood at the head of anything of the sort in the state of Minnesota and that the cleanliness in operation of his dairy business must insure Mr. Selenius an ideal condition and quality of milk, an example which other dairy men would do well to follow. The visitor was especially enthusiastic over the dairy men of the country and asked that photographs be taken of the corn in the stock so that he may show them to his friends.

Prof. Haecker made a careful inspection of the entire dairy herd and expressed surprise to find such remarkable cows among the herd. He found a number of thoroughbred cattle which he considered equal to any dairy cows in the United States. Mr. Selenius has a yearling registered bull that he is raising to take the place of the old bull and which Prof. Haecker urged him to exhibit, assuring him that it stood a very good chance of taking prizes at any stock exhibit. He also commended the work of the local farmers who cannot afford to send away and pay fancy prices.

It has been a matter of much pleasure to Prof. Haecker to visit the dairy men of Duluth and vicinity, to have such favorable comment and criticism from so eminent a dairyman as Prof. Haecker. They feel that it is something to be proud of to have a country so long carrying the reputation of a land of stumps and stones should arouse such enthusiasm in a man who for the past thirty years or more has been foremost among the dairymen of the country.

Should Invite Experts.
Referring to the long time that has elapsed since his previous visit to Duluth, Prof. Haecker stated that he had never been invited. He said that the people of Canada send private cars all over the country to gather up experts in agriculture to come and visit their country, but the people of Minnesota seem to be backward in even issuing an invitation.

"Why," said Prof. Haecker, "if you had sent me a letter, or if some fellow from the country with a little more of a farm had asked me to come here, you would have found me here where I am duty bound to come. If you don't want me, I certainly don't want to go in. I am certainly in a hurry to get to St. Louis county to wake up and invite here every agriculturist who would be interested in coming here to see what you have to offer."

By almost every dairyman who has known Prof. Haecker's work for a long time, his work is highly appreciated and his valuable services he has rendered in working out the problems of dairymen and other important lines of dairy sciences are not regarded lightly. It is claimed that if Prof. Haecker's work is followed with the greatest attention, while there are many dairymen in this country who know little about what he has accomplished.

LAND FOR NEW ROAD

Right-of-Way for Interstate Transfer Company Condemned.

Contest of Great Northern and Soo Line On in Court.

Circuit court was occupied today with the consideration of two important railway actions. The right of way of the Interstate Transfer company was condemned and testimony was taken in the condemnation proceedings of the Great Northern company against a strip of land on Connor's road.

The new road was not opposed to the condemnation of land for a right of way for the Interstate Transfer company, which is the new Duluth, Superior & Wisconsin transfer railroad. E. F. Alvord, Jr., E. J. Ferrand and W. E. Palmer, all of Duluth, were appointed appraisers. The new railway will run from the south side of Spirit lake, southeasterly through South Superior and then to Wisconsin Point, where the new coal district of the company will be erected. The new railway will cross every railway between Superior and to enter.

The other condemnation action is virtually a fight between the Great Northern and the Soo line. The Great Northern has filed proceedings and on which of the recent slump, and that when he returned he would bring back a bride. The story could not be verified, but his friends strongly suspect that this will be the outcome.

May Bring Home Bride.
It was whispered around Duluth copper brokerage offices this morning, that a young Duluth stock broker had left town last evening with a new suit of clothes and a good sized "roll," accumulated in spite of the recent slump, and that when he returned he would bring back a bride. The story could not be verified, but his friends strongly suspect that this will be the outcome.

The women were driving along Lake avenue north near the viaduct, when the team became frightened and started to run. The women were frightened and their screams only added to the speed of the horses. Officer Jerry Gleason and Norman Matheson stopped the horses, while Patrolman Grandmason assisted the woman. The escape of the occupants of the rig from more serious injury was a fortunate one.

UNION LABOR NEWS

INTEREST
KEPT UP

Ore Handlers Are Still Enthusiastic Over Their Union.

Members of New Organization All Attend Meetings Regularly.

Among the ore handlers, who were organized into a union at a time of the strike last summer, the interest in the organization is as great as ever and the attendance at the meetings is phenomenal. Columbia hall is crowded every time a meeting is held and the union's available cash is accumulating at a good rate.

When the union was first organized last summer the number of members enrolled was about 600, but since then ninety more have been added. This is now one of the largest unions in the state and the largest at the head of the Lakes. In the Twin Cities the unions of the carpenters and the painters boast of a greater membership.

Secretary Comer says that every man is just as enthusiastic over the union idea as when the organization plan was first talked of. He says they all attend the meetings regularly and keep their dues paid right up. "I guess our organization is a little better than any other in the city as far as the work of keeping the dues paid up is concerned," said Mr. Comer. "If the members don't attend the meetings and pay their dues promptly we fine them. If they won't pay the fine we let them drop out entirely."

On account of the large number of members Columbia hall is not of sufficient size to allow them all to meet at one time so the union is divided into day shift, middle shift, and night shift. The day shift meets every Sunday and the night shift the two other Sundays of each month. To simplify the work of collecting and keeping track of those who pay dues Mr. Comer has each member numbered in his book.

Although the ore handlers are the largest union at the head of the Lakes at the present time, it is said that the union of coal handlers will soon be pressing them closely. This local was only organized a couple of weeks ago and so far only about a hundred members are enrolled, but more are coming in all the time.

If an organizer would visit each of the coal docks and make for new members the new union would soon have a membership greater than the ore handlers," said one labor leader yesterday.

The coal handlers also hold their meetings at Columbia hall in the West end.

DEVEREAUX HERE.

Prominent Typographical Official Doing Missionary Work in Duluth.

J. C. Devereaux of St. Paul, organizer for the International Typographical union, has been in Duluth the past week doing missionary work among the local unionists and strengthening the strike spirit here. He says he found things here in comparatively good shape, but that they might be better.

"The boys here seem to be inclined to take things easy," said Mr. Devereaux yesterday, in talking of the local unionists who are working, but it seems that if the members were a little more active they could soon have the trouble to a settlement here. There are a number of losses who are about ready to give up, but they want to bring about a speedy settlement or put up a stiffer fight than ever."

Yesterday, Mr. Devereaux, accompanied by Martin Olmstead, the local typographical union held a conference with the members of the local typographic who have not yet been signed up. It is said the employers are considering a settlement which may be brought about at any time.

Mr. Olmstead has reported that one ship has given up during the past week and more are likely to follow soon. The printers have now been fighting for their eight-hour day for two years.

SAY YARD IS UNFAIR.

Ship and Dock Carpenters Want Investigation at Sixth Avenue.

A committee was appointed at the meeting of the trades assembly last evening to make an investigation into the charges preferred by the dock and ship carpenters' union against the Sixth avenue shipyard, claiming that it is an unfair shop.

The shipyard at Twelfth avenue west has been on the unfair list for several months and now the dock and ship carpenters ask that this new yard also be placed on the list of unfair ones.

Delegates Mager, Blackwood and O'Mara were named as the committee to investigate the charges. A resolution from the Central Telegraphers was read at the meeting of the trades assembly, last evening, asking the central body to support a move to place the telegraph companies of the country under government control. Resolutions were moved, and the trades assembly was asked to vote on them, and have them signed by the proper officers, after which they would be sent to the various congressmen and senators in this state.

Two Trustees Elected. Owing to the fact that two of the trustees, Delegates Nolan and Wiley, have left the city, the election was held at the meeting of the trades assembly last evening, and their places filled by new men, Richard Jones of the Telegraphers' union, and Thomas O'Mara of the Builders' Laborers, were chosen unanimously to act as trustees for the unexpired terms of Messrs. Nolan and Wiley.

Charges Against Cement Workers Are Found to be False.

They Did Not Obtain Charter From Industrial Workers.

Two new delegates were taken into the Duluth trades assembly last evening from the union of cement workers, showing that the members of this union have decided to continue as a union. They have been reinstated by the trades assembly and will maintain their connection with the other labor organizations of the city.

A couple or three months ago this union sent in a communication to the trades assembly informing the central organization that it would withdraw its membership owing to reasons not stated. It is the rule of the assembly to make an investigation before allowing a union to withdraw, and a committee was appointed at that time to confer with the cement workers.

At the next meeting of the assembly the committee reported that they could not find any trace of the cement workers, and according to their opinion the union had disbanded. Thus the matter drifted along for several weeks until two weeks ago when charges were made against the Cement Workers by the Union of Builders' Laborers, who accused them of being a dual organization and having secured their charter from the Industrial Workers of the World.

The matter was then left in the hands of the executive board of the assembly, and at a meeting Sunday it was learned that the Cement Workers were still active as an organization. Their charter had been obtained from their international union, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Therefore the charges of the Builders' Laborers were found to be groundless on this point.

Secretary Peters, clerk of the executive board, reported on the matter last evening, and it was decided to admit the new delegates from the Cement Workers' union. Matt Noren and John Erickson are the new representatives, and they were obligated.

Then at the request of a delegate of the Builders' Laborers' union, the chair appointed a committee to make an investigation into the cause of the friction between the Builders' Laborers and the Cement Workers. Delegates Olmstead, Walsh and Baker were named as the committee. The Builders' Laborers claim the Cement Workers' union is a dual organization and is encroaching upon their work.

Six New Delegates. Several new delegates were obligated at the trades assembly meeting last night. They were C. B. Unapher, butchers; Alex. Johnston, dock and ship carpenter; Matt Noren and John Erickson, cement workers; L. P. Sullivan, commercial telegraphers; Edward Blackwood, plumbers.

Convention Call Received. The call for the twenty-third annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which will be held at Norfolk, Va., on Nov. 12, was read last evening at the meeting of the trades assembly. The Duluth central labor body is entitled to one delegate. No action was taken, and it is not known as yet whether or not the Duluth unions will be represented at the convention.

WILLIAM PETERS HEPBURN

By Savoyard.

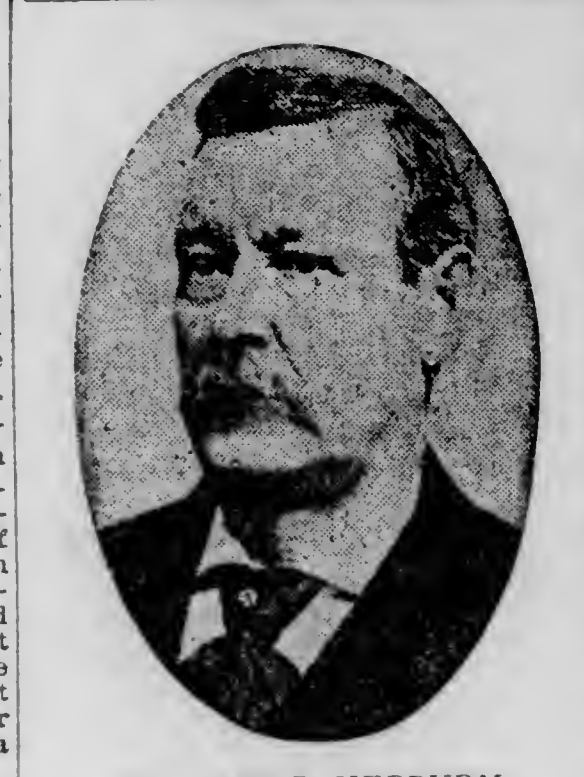

(Copyright, 1907, by E. W. Newman.) William P. Hepburn is a very conspicuous public man, and deservedly so; but his fame will be the less for the imperfect system of parliamentary government our fathers made for us. The builders of our Constitution hated the despot. Indeed, license was more dreaded by them than autocracy. Hence our government is far from responsive to popular demand. It is even contemptuous of it. One notable example was seen in 1890, when the people's indignation at the administration of Mr. Harrison more emphatically than any other administration has ever pronounced its disapproval. Such contempt of the people's will by men in power in a democratic government would make a revolution swift and irresistible.

There is no doubt that if the despot were endowed with the genius for administration which the sinners and inflexible love of justice of Edmund Burke, an absolute monarch would be the best government that man has yet invented; but the innate selfishness of our nature crops out on the throne, and the despotism of place and monarchy has produced more hateful rulers like Caligula than it has wise princes like Marcus Aurelius. Absolute rule has too many worthless scamps like Henry or Valois, third of the name, to the rule of a populace, dominated by a Cleon, is a worse government than the tyranny of a Nero.

There is a happy medium-government by the representatives of a people that has evolved out of the polity of the barbarian tribes who overthrew the Roman empire and overran Western Europe from the Baltic to the Mediterranean. From them came the Cortes of Spain, the Estates general of France, the parliament of England, the Diet of Germany, and the congress of America. The thing is government by representatives, chosen by the people, and in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, where the house of commons is the ruler, in theory we have it in the United States; but it was degenerated until Theodore Roosevelt was elected, when the rule of the American people as Henry VII was of the English, or Henry IV was of the French.

If our fathers had not shared the people they would have established it that the president's cabinet could formulate the policy of the administration, and that cabinet, with a tenure of two years, should be selected from the majority side of the house of representatives. That would have given us representative government. What we have got is executive government. A seat in the house of representatives ought to be the highest office in the land. The president ought to be as much of a figurehead as the King of England. As it is our president is the most powerful and irresponsible ruler in Christendom.

George Gilbert of Kentucky thought Hepburn the foremost man in congress, and declared that the next generation would regard him as we do the giants of thirty years ago—Bacon, Beek, Garfield, Lamar, Randall, Carlisle, Ben Hill, Reed, Kasson, and others of that day. Under our system of presidential government Mr. Hepburn plays a comparatively small part. If we had a real parliamentary government, he would be one among the half score real rulers with a seat in the cabinet and the leadership in the house of representatives. He is the foremost orator on the Republican side, a place he has held without question since the Hon. Litchfield failed to make entirely good the promise of his splendid maiden effort. Hepburn is not a man of detail. He generalizes and is exceedingly formidable in general political debate. His chief fault is a lack of accuracy in statement, and in the heat of conflict he sometimes hits below the belt. He never convicted an enemy in political life; but he is about the best man in either house to inspire his side for the conflict. In debate he is no match for John Sharp Williams, but his declamations are so magnificent that it is worth a journey from the Mississippi to the Potomac to see a Republican in 1861, when he pronounced the words "United States" when grappling with some unpatriotic Democrat.

William P. Hepburn was born in Ohio in 1833 and has lived in Iowa since 1861. He was 18 years old when Iowa became a state, and managed to get a tolerable academic education. He was a printer, perhaps a student, but studied law and began the practice the year he attained his majority. As Hepburn descended, no doubt from a colonial one, of those cognomines James I sent to the continent to help his son-in-law, the Elector Palatine, in the thirty-year war, and that subsequently won from victory to victory under the eye of Gustavus Adolphus, when war came to this people in 1861, this young Western lawyer left his office for the field and was lieutenant colonel of his regiment, where the struggle was ended. He was a politician from boyhood, and a delegate in the Republican national convention that nominated Abraham Lincoln in 1860. He was twice presidential elector for the state at large—1876 and 1888. He did not gain a seat in congress until he was 47 years old, and it is a pity that he was not chosen to that body at least twelve years earlier. He served three terms, when he was appointed solicitor of the treasury by President Harrison; but in 1892, and has been a member of that body ever since.

The Iowa delegation in the Fifty-third congress was very strong, containing Gear, Henderson, Cousins, Hull, Perkins, Lacey, and Dilliver, as well as Hepburn. One of the senators from that state was James F. Wilson, a man who was generally expected to do great things. He was one of the managers of the impeachment of Andy Johnson, and his friends claimed that he was the best lawyer of the bunch; but Ben Butler got all the applause given that desperate proceeding. Wilson later got the senate, and served there for years, but he never set the Potomac afire. He belonged to that class, all too numerous, who promise everything in power and yield little in the fruit. He died during the life of the Fifty-third congress and everybody knew that some Iowa member of the house would get his toga. My recollection is that several of them went through their stunts in the house for home consumption, and Hepburn was far and away ahead of any of the others in showy qualities. He was the man who should have been senator; but at some time of his career he had been of counsel for a railroad in a lawsuit, and the toga went to old Father Gear.

Why Can't Duluth Support One Equally As Good?

proved conditions for enjoying a great sport is responsible for the return from the investments. The man of today, looking on his boyhood days, when he hooked on his skates—strapped the wooden blocks with blades inserted, on his shoes—made his way to "the river," in whatever part of the country it might be, and joyfully slipped on and down in the teeth of a bracing gale, with no thought of gold or discomfort, wondering that there should be such an institution as a skating rink.

But progress in amusement is as natural as progress in business. As the man of today, as the boy of yesterday, had a skating rink to go to, the man of tomorrow will have a skating rink. Much less would he have done so in this northern region of snow, where "the river" is usually covered with a depth of from one to four feet of snow, and where steady and hard frost is a necessity to keep a skating surface clear.

The desire to keep the snow from the skating surface gave rise to the big covered rink, a source of many American cities, a source of pleasure to the people, young and old, and a source of income to the owners. Some cities have contented themselves with the municipal skating rinks in the parks, but commercialism is gradually outdistancing these institutions. The artificial rink, in the ice article, is every other kind, and it is strange to find these artificial rinks have spread over the entire country. Where natural ice is impossible, or where the winter is not long enough, the artificial ice, formed by ammonia run through pipes under the floor, is taking the place of the natural ice.

The possibilities of the ice rink industry in a skating community is perhaps no better shown than in the Copper country of Michigan. Pittsburgh has Duquesne Gardens, which is a skating rink, and there are many other skating rinks in the city.

Man has not done his part. If the young people of Duluth are to have winter amusement and recreation, it is not because the inclination is lacking. But skating on the bay, or on the frozen surface of Lake Superior, cutting through the warmest of winter wraps, numbing fingers and toes, is not the sport one who is looking for pleasure in it, would suppose it to be. In recent years the skating rink has been a popular recreation, and it is not a business proposition on the part of those responsible for their founding; the eager grasping of im-skating arenas, seating between $500 and $1,000 people and there are hockey games of the International league are fought out before crowds one would hardly think could gather in the Copper country for any sport, when one considers the reception baseball received there this year.

In other cities, for the same size in the Copper country. Both the American and Canadian Soos have big rinks. The winter has its rink, and its professional hockey team.

And why not Duluth? Duluth is a skating community, but its skating facilities are as far from modern as the theatrical accommodations of a crossroads village. With cities many times smaller than Duluth spending thousands of dollars for skating rinks, Duluth young people must content themselves with roller skating or taking to the bay, with its uncertainty of ice, wind and weather.

The man with some money to invest couldn't find a better proposition than a skating rink in Duluth. The city wouldn't even have to go in for hockey for a rink to be a paying proposition. There are enough young people in the town to make it a go on skating attendance and, with membership in the International league, there is no evident reason why the owners of a Duluth rink, built along modern lines, would not be able to take down a nice lot of money every year. And Duluth young people would be satisfied to pay it for the amusement to be had.

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

Contest Between John Gleason and the Faculty Arouses Spirit. May Apply for Injunction Against the Board of Regents.

Minneapolis, Sept. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—University spirit has been aroused over the contest between John Gleason and the Minnesota faculty, concerning Gleason's registration. At the close of last year the board of regents was notified by the law department that Gleason had failed to keep up his class work. The board then supplied him from the rolls, and in August Registrar Pierce refused to accept his registration.

C. U. Decker, secretary of the board of regents, declared that Gleason had been treated in the same way that any other student would be treated under the same conditions of class work. However, the students of the university felt that the stand that Gleason, as president of the board of regents, had taken last spring, in opposition to some of the faculty regulations, had an influence in his treatment by the faculty. Prof. Paige, dean of the law school, was asked the following questions in regard to the affair:

Q: Did you take the case of Gleason to a college to take the case of Gleason to the board of regents, and has not each faculty the right to refuse to drop or retain a student without the consent of the board of regents? A: It is not the usual practice here at the university for the names of students that are dropped from the rolls for delinquency to be kept from publication. The fact of Gleason's expulsion was given to the press last June.

Q: Did you refuse to answer any of the questions? A: At the meeting of the board of control, a week ago Gleason did not appear to occupy the executive chair. He had not returned to the university from his home in St. Paul. However, the climax of the trouble between Gleason and the law department was reached Tuesday, when the weekly meeting of the board of control broke up in a row.

Mr. Gleason came into the meeting late and an hour late and took his seat, after greeting some of his friends. He did not make any move to take the executive chair. The meeting was presided over by Vice President Knowlton, but took part in some of the discussions.

Prof. Paige, a member of the board, then took Gleason aside and gave him a certificate from the board of regents, declaring Gleason no longer a student at the university. It was not long before Gleason made a motion and upon this the vice president asked for an exact statement with regard to Gleason's relations to the board of regents. Prof. Paige declared Gleason no longer a student, and therefore disqualified to hold the position of president of the board of regents. Also that he had no voice in the business of the board.

Prof. Paige then moved that Gleason be requested to retire. The motion was seconded, and at that moment a student member of the board left the meeting. The building was a quorum, and the motion could not be carried. No more business could be transacted, and the meeting broke up.

Tumor has it that Mr. Gleason will try to register in some department of the university and be prevented, and get out an injunction against the board of regents, restraining them from preventing him taking work in the university.

A practice school is to be started before Nov. 1 by the college of education in order that students in this college may have the advantages of normal work. The building will probably be located on the new campus near Church street and all grades from kindergarten to high school will be represented. Prospective teachers in the university, whether registered in the academic department or in the college of education, will be required to do practice teaching in the new school. Until Nov. 1 the students will visit city schools to get an idea of methods, according to the custom employed in previous years.

This year is a record breaker in the history of the school of pharmacy. In regard to the number of pupils enrolled. The full registration covers about ninety students, fifty-two of whom are new. There are six women registered in this department, and two of the students who have just matriculated are Japanese. Men who say that they have decided to study at Minnesota, after a careful canvass of other pharmaceutical schools, for they believed that Minnesota was the best school in that department that had come under their notice. The facilities offered by the department are in adequate to accommodate the increased number of students. The microscopical and lecture rooms have been, perforce, combined, creating a very uncomfortable crowded condition. Immediate action in enlarging quarters has been found necessary.

Junior Dents elected the following officers at their annual meeting: President, A. N. Ruggles; vice president, Charles Wietoff; secretary, Margaret Scribner; treasurer, C. V. Verne; sergeant, R. Moorhouse. The senior election was as follows: President, Ramele, vice president, A. F. Whitson; secretary, L. R. Snyder; treasurer, T. M. Maden; sergeant, Louis Williams.

Toska M. von Scholten, former German teacher in the Duluth high school, has entered the university and is carrying a heavy course along the lines of language and literature.

The facilities for physical training and gymnasium work—in the boys' department—are of the most improved type. In the building, considerable improvements have been made during the past year. After the department is located in the new building, more room will be obtained and the members are looking forward to it with anticipation.

The gymnasium of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. has regular classes Monday. Every three recesses, the classes are exhausted, some new apparatus installed and the locker room is cleaned. The committee is of the opinion that the physical department will be of the greatest benefit to the boys. The direction of August J. Frey, P. E., is in charge of the department. Special attention will be given to building exercises. Boys will be encouraged and assisted in their work given that is suitable to age.

The classes are so arranged that who work as well as those who school may have the advantage physical training under the direction of trained directors. The class schedule follows:

GOOD WEATHER CAUSES MORE ACTIVE MARKET

Crane & Ordway Buy Fitzgerald Building for $34,500—Soo Interests File Deeds for Large Dock Property—Railway Will Improve on Bay Front of Rice's Point—Lively Demand for West End Property.

More favorable fall weather has resulted in an increased activity of the real estate market this past week. Inquiry, especially, is greater, and a number of new deals are pending. One sale of centrally located business property has been closed up this week, and there has been quite a steady state of unimproved property. A section of the city where the demand for unimproved property has been especially heavy for the past several weeks is the West end. The transfer records show that a large number of sales have been made in that part of the city recently. Improvement work, which was held up by the rains, is now under way again, and the contractors are pushing matters as fast as they can before freezing weather sets in. The continued wet weather caused a great deal of delay, especially in excavation work, but conditions are very much better, and the contractors are hoping that the rainy season has been principal.

The principal real estate deal of interest this past week was the purchase by the Crane-Ordway company of the old Duluth shoe company's building, on the lower side of Michigan street, just east of the Lake avenue viaduct. The property was sold by Jane E. Fitzgerald, widow of Robert Fitzgerald, former president of the shoe company, to Richard T. Crane for $34,500. The building is a three-story brick structure, and occupies a property described as lots 5 and 6, block 13, Central division.

A big deal, conveying ten blocks of Rice's Point property, adjoining the concrete elevator property, on the south, from the Pioneer Steel Elevator company to the Soo railway interests, was filed this week. The deed runs to the Great Lakes Dock company, which is one of the holding corporations of the Soo. It is understood that another big deal, transferring to the same interests other property in the same neighborhood will be filed some time today. The deed recorded this week covers all of blocks 34, 74, 85, 104, 114, 125, 145, 159, 168, 185, 195 and the streets vacated. It comprises the ten blocks bounded by the dock line and Arthur avenue, and between Lynn and Maple streets. The consideration mentioned in the transfer is $90,000. It is understood that the property transferred this week is only part of the large tract that the Soo interests have purchased on the water front for the vast improvements that the railway company contemplates in connection with its road into Duluth.

Leander Shottle has purchased from M. E. Whalen for $3,150, the residence property at the southeast corner of Nineteenth avenue west and Second street.

Clara Forget has sold a residence property on the east side of Fifty-third street, between Bristol and Gosnell streets, to George F. Toll, the consideration being $1,500.

Emma Peer has sold to Emma La-Crosse a small residence property on Park avenue, between First and Second streets, for $1,750.

David Hood, the contractor, has purchased from Judge Dibell the property at the southwest corner of Michigan street and Seventeenth avenue west. The consideration was $2,750. A small frame structure occupies the rear of the lot.

Myrtle B. Thompson has sold a residence at the corner of Elmer street and Grand avenue, to Herman Worland, for $1,600.

The Lakeside Land company has sold fourteen lots in block 76, London addition, to James O. Smith, the consideration being $2,800.

T. W. Wahl has purchased from K. C. Long the 50 by 150 foot lot on the south east corner of Twentieth avenue east and First street. The consideration was $3,051.00.

W. H. Trump has sold the Howard Investment company a lot on the lower side of Superior street between Fifteenth and Sixteenth avenue east, for $2,000. It is understood that the lot is to be improved the coming year.

H. A. Sedgwick has purchased from M. V. Smith a residence property on the upper side of Dingwall street, between Nineteenth and Twentieth avenues east. The consideration was $2,950.

The Western Land association has transferred to W. L. Smith one lot and half of another on the upper side of Superior street, between Tenth and Eleventh avenues east. The consideration was $3,750.

Ellen M. Halloway has purchased from David Adams, for $2,600, a residence property in the West end, on the lower side of Fourth street, between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth avenues west.

Butte & Balklava makes big strike of rich ore in the Edith May vein and sample runs 35 per cent copper. This mine will be one of the best dividend payers and should pay at least $4.00 a year on each share. The Edith May vein is the best of the Edith May group and will be run along the Edith May and crosscuts will be run to the Big Speculator vein, and then there will be big things to look for in the Balklava mine. Butte and Balklava and you will get very good dividends from this fact for it is a part of the same hill and the veins are the same. Remember, not long from now, Balklava will be one of the best mines in Butte.

Concord is getting along fine and ore is expected in the Mallory shaft within a very short time. Greene Cananea and Superior & Pittsburg should soon be low enough. North Butte pass big dividend and should be low. Remember, the Calumet & Superior is selling at ten times less than it is worth.

THE GLOBE DISTRICT MINES

Operations Continued on Same Broad Scale as During Past Few Months---Globe Consolidated Expected to Make Strike Soon.

220-foot level is still in ore, which on the hanging wall assays 7 to 8 per cent, and at the foot assays 6 to 7 per cent. The drift about six percent it is. It is fine quality of ore carrying an excess of iron.

The Black Oxide mine is situated in the Black Oxide, where the southwest drift has been removed by the railroad for a long distance. There is now more than 500 tons of ore on the dump, which will last for some time. The mine has been started from the winze, 100 feet below the surface, and runs to the same place as before.

At the Old Dominion mine, Kansas contains large quantities of zinc hereafter, with five furnaces in blast and two others under construction. The normal output of copper is being made, averaging well over 100 pounds per ton of zinc. The company is making good in development work. The condition of the mines is very satisfactory. The economics of the company was never better, all yielding a satisfactory quality and quantity of product. The stock of coke on hand is about 100 tons, being consumed at a moderate rate.

At the Arizona Commercial work is being done at the 100-foot level of 190 m. At the Copper Hill silicious ores are being treated at the 100-foot level. The per day are being made to the smelters at Douglas and Cananea. At the Black Oxide mine, the 100-foot level is being worked. In progress on the 500-foot level, and sinking of a new shaft to the 100-foot level pump can be installed.

EXPECTS COPPER ORE SOON

North Butte Extension May Cross-Cut at Depth of 300 Feet--Water Stops Sinking at the Idaho-Montana Property.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 28.—With nothing to interrupt, it is expected that the shaft of the North Butte Extension property will reach a depth of 300 feet by Oct. 1. The shaft is now in very close proximity to the vein, and has brought to the surface shows such as decided copper stain as to lead John A. Ryan, in charge, to expect that the vein will be reached at the 300-foot level very close. It is probable that a crosscut will be run at the 300-foot level, and the vein, if it has not yet been definitely decided. Where the vein was exposed near the surface, in making the dip, it was found to be about 45° to the dip, if anything, will probably be found to favor the vein. It is expected that the crosscut at the 300-foot level will reach the vein at a distance of about 100 feet. Mr. Ryan has every confidence, from present indications, that commercial

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

Closing of Butte Mines Will Supply More Men for Gold Properties---Good Copper Strikes in the Southern Hills.

Deadwood, S. D., Sept. 28.—The announcement by the Amalgamated Cop-

Deadwood, S. D., Sept. 25.—The announcement by the Amalgamated Copper and Silver Mining company that work would shortly cease in the Butte mines is likely to result in good for the Black Hills, and mining men here are in accord with the New York Times' standpoint. Since the reopening of the mines in this district after the war, many of the companies have been short-handed, as during the lay off some of the best mining men had been lost and have not since returned. Cessation of work at Butte will doubtless result in a new influx of men to Arizona copper properties are also affected many of the old time Black Hills miners now working there are anxious to return. Mining men regard the move of the Amalgamated as likely to turn the mining investment into a profitable one.

The present activity in copper properties in the Black Hills is not expected to be much lessened by the move at Butte, as the Amalgamated has no interests here. Several good copper properties have been located in the Black Hills, while in the Northern Hills the Custer Peak Mining company, owned by the American Cyanamid company, is planning to resume. Quite recently a number of English capitalists sent an expedition to the Black Hills to make a geological survey was made of the copper resources

NEVADA MINERS' STRIKE ENDS

Employees of the Mohawk and Combination Return to Work Under Agreement That is Expected to Prevent High Grading.

Goldfield, Nev., Sept. 28.—The employees of the Mohawk and Combination mines and the Combination mill have returned to work. The agreement between the miners and the company has been signed and provides for change rooms for the miners in the mill building, and for the hiring of men. The use of the change room is expected to prevent high grading.

The Consolidated Silver & Mining company has posted its sixth dividend, which will amount to $100,000, thus bringing the total of dividends to $350,450.

Rosebud, Nev., Sept. 28.—Sixty sacks of ore that is expected to run $200 a ton, were taken from the mine of the Rosebud face showing by Bard & Munn, leasers of the mine, and the ore is expected to be too extensive and a shaft will be sunk in the ore.

Ely, Nev., Sept. 28.—Cumberland-Ely, a Veteran mine, in which, according to good authority, there is a large quantity of ore in one shaft that averages well in value, is being leased by the Cumberland-Ely company.

Two shafts in the neighborhood of Driggs, Idaho, are being sunk. One of the shafts holds previously put down.

Two shafts are being sunk at Rushing town, in two shafts, one having been sunk for some time. The ore is expected to be of increasing in value with depth.

Life of the Theater

AT THE LYCEUM

Mack-Leone Players in "Secret Service," Followed by Isabel Irving, The Killies Band and "The Heir to the Hoorah."

Three plays which have been very successful will be presented at the Lyceum theater next week.

The Mack-Leone players will open the week, tomorrow afternoon they will present William Gillette's famous military drama, "Secret Service," and this will also be given Sunday night and Monday night. Willard Mack will undertake the role created by Mr. Gillette, and the other Mack-Leone players are said to have been happily cast.

Tuesday night Isabel Irving will begin an engagement of two nights at the Lyceum theater next week.

Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday afternoon, Paul Armstrong's breezy Western comedy, "The Girl Who Has Everything," will be a matinee Wednesday afternoon. It is said that Leiber & Co., Miss Irving's managers, have provided an excellent company, and an elaborate setting.

Thursday the Killies band will give two concerts.

Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday afternoon, Paul Armstrong's breezy Western comedy, "The Girl Who Has Everything," will be a matinee Wednesday afternoon. It is said that Leiber & Co., Miss Irving's managers, have provided an excellent company, and an elaborate setting.

"SECRET SERVICE."

Mack-Leone Players Will Present Famous Gillette Drama.

The next offering of the Mack-Leone players in Duluth will be William Gillette's greatest of all war plays, "Secret Service."

William Gillette's distinguished position in the literary world, the beauty and charm of the story, the strength and beauty of the characters, and the wholesome, invigorating atmosphere of the environment in which they move, are all familiar to the thousands of people who have seen the play before.

"Secret Service" was used for several seasons with marvelous success by the author, Mr. Gillette, who also played the leading role. The scenes of the play are laid in the city of Richmond, Va., during the siege, just previous to the overthrow of the Confederacy.

The story has to do with a United States secret service man, during the excitement and his experience while gathering news in reference to the position of the Confederate forces. He, of course, meets and falls in love with one of the fair daughters of Old Virginia, forming a most beautiful theme for a play.

"Secret Service" will be the Lyceum offering for four performances, Sunday matinee and night, Monday matinee and night, at the popular Mack-Leone prices, 10, 25 and 50 cents. The special ladies' matinee on Monday will be 10 and 25 cents.

"THE HEIR TO THE HOORAH"

Popular Western Play Will Return to the Lyceum.

"The Heir to the Hoorah," returns to the Lyceum for Friday and Saturday of next week.

It is announced as an American play by Paul Armstrong, under the auspices of the late Kirk La Shelle. It was "the heir" who brought peace into the much divided household that owned the rice mine called "Hoorah"—divided chiefly by the mistakes and interference of a mother-in-law. Well-meaning but blundering friends and relatives, and the little heir bridged it. The scene is a mining town in the West. Most of the characters are Western, and a charming widow personality, a western woman who has the open mind and a large spirit of her people in spite of her training in an eastern college. Some of the characters are eastern and they speak up for their East in humorous contrast to their brethren.

There is a maiden aunt, who, having been the nightmare of the dreams of a young miner until she meets him, becomes the idol of his waking hours when she confronts him as a tall, beautiful girl just out of Vassar. There is a self-opinioned British butler of huge bulk, and a truculent, wiry little Jap valet who puts him in his place by magic of his Japs. There are miners who desire to present the new-born heir to the "Hoorah" with a mine, or ranch, in place of the conventional cup-tied uncle who promptly purchases six thoroughbred cows when he gathers from the jolly old doctor that the heir is liable to be raised as a "bottle baby."

There is a most delightful cowpuncher who, when he dons his first evening clothes under protest, declines to remove his spurs which he has worn during his waking hours for twenty years.

These are the people that tell the story of "The Heir to the Hoorah" and they told it to such good effect in New York that the American comedy by Paul Armstrong, Esq., which landed on Broadway in the sad and distressful days of Lent, remained at the Hudson theater to watch the roses in Central park bloom and fade. Frank Monroe, Helen Lackaye, Harry Crosby, Anne Meredith, Ben S. Higgins, C. C. Quinby, J. S. Hamilton, Gene Lamont and Frederick Roberts will be seen in the cast.

The play was seen in Duluth last year and will be most favorably remembered.

THE KILTIES

Played Rag Time for the King of England.

The Kilties band is coming to Duluth.

The famous Canadian musical organization will give two concerts under the direction of the Clan Stewart at the Lyceum next Thursday afternoon and evening.

The Kilties have a reputation which extends to all parts of this country and Canada. They have appeared in every state in the union and have traveled from coast to coast in Canada.

The band is drawn from the crack military regiments of Canada, but, during the last four or five years, it has spent all of its time in concert work.

John G. Ross and Simon Clark of the Clan Stewarts heard the band on a recent visit to Canada, and were so much pleased with the concert that they arranged to have it visit Duluth on its Western trip, under the auspices of the Lyceum.

Albert Cook is the director of the organization, which is supplemented with a male choir of sixteen voices, and Angus McMillan Fraser, champion bagpiper, sword, hornpipe and Highland fling dancer.

John G. Reid, who is ahead of the organization, was in Duluth yesterday and today made arrangements for their appearance here. Mr. Reid tells an amusing story of the appearance of the Kilties before King Edward in England.

We expected to play a heavy program," said Mr. Reid, "but King Edward would have none of it, and picked out a program which included 'Nava-ho,' several coon songs, and a setting of 'The Swanee River.' We played that and it pleased him immensely. But the worst of it was that we couldn't play anything else, while we were in England, or at least that was the program always demanded of us, and the people there must have thought the band couldn't play anything else. But it took immensely, and our trip was a most profitable one."

"That was certainly most distinguished gathering which heard the band at Sandringham castle, and included the king and queen, the prince and princess of Wales, the Prince of Wales, Prince George of Greece, and a score more dukes, earls, counts and minor noblemen, and they took to the coon songs and the rag time like ducks to water."

"I hate to do it," said Manager Charles A. Marshall of the Lyceum, "but we will have to quit reserving seats by telephone, or setting seats aside for future performances. This will compel people to come to the box office to get their seats. It's not because we want the money less, but it has caused us more trouble and made more enemies for the theater than any other one thing I know of."

"Look for instance at our scales of prices. There is a different scale in effect almost every night, and the shows are changing almost every night. That means we have to keep four or five and sometimes six or eight sets of tickets going, each on a different scale of prices. In the Lyceum box office there is not room for more than one man to work, and he would need four or five men to keep track of all these sets of tickets. Then the men have to work in shift, and one man may set aside one set of seats, and the next man on duty may sell the same set to some other person. Then there is trouble. You can get more trouble out of this telephone ordering in one day than a man can straighten out in a week."

The result is that we have decided simply to quit setting aside tickets on telephone orders, and hereafter it will be necessary for our patrons to come to the box office or send a messenger for the tickets. We may take out the telephones, or simply use them for the purpose of an information bureau."

Lyceum Notes.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Oct. 7 and 8—Ezra Kendall.

Oct. 11 and 12—"The Hypocrites."

Nov. 21—Susan's Band.

There are 300 performances which Ezra Kendall has played between Chicago and the cities of the Pacific coast, he has created 95,000 laughs, according to the statistician of the Los Angeles Herald, who saw four of Mr. Kendall's performances in that city. There is an average of 27 laughs by each person in each audience. With 1,200 persons at each of the 300 performances, the total of 95,000 laughs is reached.

The company which Charles Frohman presents in the new Henry Arthur Jones play, "The Hypocrites," which is one of the dramatic sensations of the year, both in this country and in England, is reminiscent in the quality of its players of the famous Empire Stock company, which, in the hands of Johnston and George Klein, and this time is calculated to make almost anybody laugh. The Oriental setting permits of the production of some good songs and some stunning costumes by the female principals and the large chorus.

The vaudeville portion of this splendid entertainment is furnished by Roger Imhof and Suzanne Corzine, in a new sentimental playlet, "In a Strange Hotel," Emma Weston, contralto; Connelly and Klein, Johnston and Buckley in a bunch of stinky talk, and Montambo and Hurfields, eccentric acrobats.

There will be matinees, besides to-morrow, on Tuesday, Thursday (ladies day) and Saturday.

Patrons of the Metropolitan will doubtless be pleased to learn that the Empire Burlesquers, who open an engagement at the Metropolitan with a matinee tomorrow afternoon, are headed by Roger Imhof.

Roger Imhof is probably one of the cleverest and most popular comedians on the burlesque stage today, and he never fails to lead new friends who have gone. Nor are good burlesque comedians to be sneered at. Alex Carr and Charles J. Barkhill were in big Broadway musical productions, Burlesquers' managers pay just as big salaries as any of them.

This season the Empire Burlesquers are putting on Imhof's famous skill, with musical frills, called "Casey, the Piper," and the comedian will undertake the title role himself.

For the afternoon the company offers an elaborate Oriental spectacle, "The Slave Mart." This production is said to be one of the most elaborate ever put on by a burlesque organization.

The vaudeville portion of this splendid entertainment is furnished by Roger Imhof and Suzanne Corzine, in a new sentimental playlet, "In a Strange Hotel," Emma Weston, contralto; Connelly and Klein, Johnston and Buckley in a bunch of stinky talk, and Montambo and Hurfields, eccentric acrobats.

There will be matinees, besides to-morrow, on Tuesday, Thursday (ladies day) and Saturday.

Patrons of the Metropolitan will doubtless be pleased to learn that the Empire Burlesquers, who open an engagement at the Metropolitan with a matinee tomorrow afternoon, are headed by Roger Imhof.

Roger Imhof is probably one of the cleverest and most popular comedians on the burlesque stage today, and he never fails to lead new friends who have gone. Nor are good burlesque comedians to be sneered at. Alex Carr and Charles J. Barkhill were in big Broadway musical productions, Burlesquers' managers pay just as big salaries as any of them.

This season the Empire Burlesquers are putting on Imhof's famous skill, with musical frills, called "Casey, the Piper," and the comedian will undertake the title role himself.

For the afternoon the company offers an elaborate Oriental spectacle, "The Slave Mart." This production is said to be one of the most elaborate ever put on by a burlesque organization.

The comedy roles will be in the hands of Roger Imhof, Edward E. Johnston and George Klein, and this time is calculated to make almost anybody laugh. The Oriental setting permits of the production of some good songs and some stunning costumes by the female principals and the large chorus.

AMERICAN SINGERS IN LA BELLE PARIS

In Spite of All That Has Been Written and Said About the Success of Our Girls in the French Capital, you Could Count Those Who Have Won Out there "On the Fingers of Your Two Hands and Have Fingers to Spare"—Eames, the Shining, Guiding Star by Which all the Aspirants "From the States" Shape Their Course.

BY DEXTER MARSHALL.

(Copyright, 1907, by Dexter Marshall.)

Paris, Sept. 19.—"You can count the American girls who have sung successfully in opera here upon the fingers of your two hands, and have fingers to spare," said an enthusiastic opera goer to the writer today.

"Yet American aspirants for operatic honors continue to come to Paris, a seemingly endless but ever hopeful procession, each of whose members knows well enough that 99 per cent of the platerhood are doomed to failure, but believes herself to be of the 1 per cent upon whom fortune may be compelled to smile. I cannot understand it at all."

This man's point of view, say the students of singing and their friends in Paris, is too pessimistic. Then they make out a list of the American women singers who have won recognition in the French capital, but, at the best, the showing is not very startling. Emma Eames always is placed at the head of the list, of course, she is a front and shining star, by whose light her aspiring sisters seek the path to fame and fortune. After Eames comes the late Sybil Sanderson, whose success here was much greater than Eames', but whose temperament was too "artistic" not to say erratic and whose operatic career lasted only a few years. Emma Nevada is sometimes mentioned, but she doesn't belong, really, since she failed in Paris, although successful elsewhere.

Olivia Fremsted's European success, almost as great in Germany as in New York, did not include a Parisian career, but Geraldine Farrar and Miss Lindsay both received Parisian training and both have sung successfully here. The latter, indeed, has been drawing card at the opera for the past three years. She is of Scotch blood, although known as an American, and it is understood, she was born, but she has lived here ever since she was a little girl. Marie Van Zandt, who also was trained here, was highly successful for a time, but her career was stopped suddenly by an outburst of her own temper. Sounding happened one evening when she was on the stage which so exasperated her that she expressed her opinion of a lot of things in words more direct than polite. Mary Garden, opera comique prima donna for several seasons, came here from New York, where she was taken when only 9 years old, and so is spoken of frequently as American, although really she is of Scottish birth.

Lillian Nordica won a great success here and is in great favor with the Parisian opera public, as well as the American contingent, but her European training was in Milan, and her debut was made there, and not here, as Eames' was. Pauline Donalda is a French-Canadian, and not an American from the states. Besides, she never has sung here, although she has been highly successful in other places on the European side of the water, particularly in Nice and London. Eames herself is a native of Shanghai, although her father and mother were both Americans. Miss Cisneros, who was Eleanor Broadfoot of New York, and the daughter of a Civil war veteran, studied at Milan and won the reputation of a high grade singer, both there and in Vienna, before going to New York. She has also sung in London with success.

Marguerita Sylva, now and for two or three years a prima donna at the Opera Comique, who, of the stage, is Mrs. William D. Mann, and whose husband was at one time manager of the Herald Square theater, New York, is of European birth, although often called an American. Jane Noria, a prima donna at the opera house, and who has sung Juliette there with Alvarez as Romeo, is from St. Louis, where she was born Ludwig and Chittenden Josephine. Blanche Hamilton Fox of Boston, whose stage name is Bianca Volpini, is carving out for herself a successful musical career in Italy, but never has attacked Paris as yet. She is the daughter of Albert Fox, well known in half the big cities of the states.

Miss Lucille Wasseff, a New York girl, who sings under the name of Lucille Marcell, will make her debut on the grand opera stage next year after a long and severe probation here. She is the protegee of Jean de Reszke, who expects to be made director of the singers at the opera, and it is understood that he will see that she has a contract after the new director of the opera assumes his place next January. She has been in Europe five years, one of which she spent in Berlin and four here. She sang at the Opera Comique one season, and so will not be unknown to the Paris music loving public when she makes her debut in the "Huguenots" early next year. She expects to sing, also, in "Lohengrin" as Elizabeth, and in "The Valkyrie" as Grunelda.

Emma d'Egremont, who was Miss Emma Estelle Potts of the Berkshire

Hills and now is Mrs. H. E. Twining, the wife of a representative Anglo-American business man, sometimes resident on one side of the ocean and sometimes on the other, won an engagement at the opera house some years ago, but never was allowed to sing upon its stage, a fate which has befallen more than one American girl after she had devoted years of time and effort and thousands of dollars to Parisian training.

Miss d'Egremont's case was not of that sort exactly, however. Ten or twelve years ago she was the soprano of the Church of the Heavenly Rest in New York. One summer she decided to take a vacation in Germany. After visiting two or three Teutonic musical centers she came to Paris. Here Guilman, the famous organist, heard her sing, and was pleased. He insisted on her singing before the director of the opera, and he gave her a contract after one hearing, with the proviso that she should learn the French language to his satisfaction before making her debut. For some reason she never fulfilled this condition, and so never sang at the Paris Opera, although she has sung much and successfully in public, both in France and in England.

French and American Training. It isn't a new story that far too many American dollars are expended upon the Parisian singing teachers, but it can do no harm to quote Marguerita Sylva upon that point.

"There are as good teachers of the voice in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington and other American cities," she says, "as there are in Paris, and no American girl should think of coming here until she has gone as far as she can at home, and that is a long way. In each of the cities I have named she can learn the various tone-making arts perfectly, and be in God's own country all the while.

"After she has done that, however, after she has tested her voice before the public and found that she can please her audience, after she is certain that she has an operatic 'call,' then, and not until then, she may come here alone she can acquire the accent necessary to a Parisian success, which is essential before the singer can be received properly in the United States.

"Here, too, that curious thing called 'atmosphere' exists. It is indispensable to the highest progress, but it doesn't exist in American cities to any such extent as it does here, and never will so long as so many of the first grade American teachers pack up and come to Paris directly they gain a reputation.

"Atmosphere is made up of many elements. One of them is a really serious regard for music, such as the Parisians have in some degree, but which is still largely undeveloped in the United States, although it is growing there. Another element is furnished by the large number of people who devote themselves to music here. This makes it easy for singers to meet and compare notes—no pun intended—although I do mean the liberal comparison of musical notes and tones as well as talking things over generally. For example, I meet another singer, and we discuss tone production:

"Oh, my friend may reply, 'I do it this way,' showing vocally what she means. Perhaps she may adopt my way, perhaps I may adopt hers; perhaps neither of us may change. But at all events we exchange our views and often we learn from each other in that way.

"But whether here or in America, we all have to work daily if we are to hold what we have got. Aside from my duties at the Opera Comique, I work an hour and a half every day with the same woman to whom several of my friends go for help.

"She is an unpretentious little creature, wholly unknown to the public—and I am not going to give her name—who cannot sing three notes herself. I don't mean quite that, but really, her voice is nothing. She knows just how to coach a singer, however; she often stands and looks right into my throat while I am working, and she has told me many things about my 'work' that have been of the greatest benefit to me.

"Oh, yes, she is well paid for it all. Some of the most famous singers in the world go to her, although they wouldn't acknowledge it. If asked, they slip in and out of her place quietly, attracting no attention, and she is becoming very well to do indeed from the fees she gets."

Getting On to the Opera Stage. There is one infallible course for the student in singing who wishes to get on to the operatic stage in Paris to pursue. That is to enter the Conservatoire and win a first prize. Every first prize winner must receive an appointment to sing either at the opera house or at the Opera Comique.

But this is much easier said than done. In fact, it is declared to be practically impossible for an American girl to get a chance to study at the Conservatoire at all, since, necessarily, the number of students must be limited, and there are plenty of French girls ready to fill all the vacancies. Then, according to some disappointed Americans, there is more or less discrimination against students from the United States. This is denied by the French, of course, but at all events, very few Americans have ever had a chance to try for a Conservatoire prize. Its winning and the operatic engagement that must ensue do not always insure a successful musical career at that. In fact, not half the students who fight their way into the Conservatoire to a debut are able to attain great eminence as singers.

The engagement is compulsory. The singer must remain three years, if asked to do so, but may be released by the Conservatoire at the end of twelve months, or again at the end of the two years. Friends of those who do not succeed in getting out of the Conservatoire say that there is a lot of favoritism, and that often the more capable singers, who please the management better, are jealous of any one's success but their own. How true this is I cannot say; it is true, however, that some Parisians believe it.

After the student has won a first prize for singing she has an opportunity to try for a first prize in acting. If she wins it as well as the prize for singing, she has her choice of joining either the opera or the opera comique. Within a year after the contract is signed she is entitled to a debut, at which she sings some big part such as Juliette in "Romeo et Juliette," Marguerite in "Faust," or the title role in "Carmen." She must be allowed to sing this part three times, but after that, in most cases, she sings minor parts only for the next three years at the munificent wage of 300 francs a month. Translated into Uncle Sam's currency that is only $60, or $720 a year. For this she must be ready at any and all times tossing any part she may know.

It is from the ranks of these new conservatoire graduates that the understudies are drawn, and, of course, the training they receive while doing that sort of work is sufficiently useful to them to make up in some degree for their small pay. If a singer scores a big hit, however, her contract is thrown away at once and a new one is made, by the terms of which the singer gets a better pay, say from 600 francs, or $120 a month up.

The costumes are furnished by the management, of course. In fact, everything, from shoes and stockings and hair pins to gowns, is paid for by the management, except the paint which the singers put on their faces. Why that is not included no one seems to know.

Only a few rise to the financial height of $120 a month, however, while many do not survive beyond the first year. The latter are out of it musically thereafter, as a matter of course, but those who stand the rigors of the three years, even if they sing few first-class roles, are musically established for life.

Both the Grand opera house and the opera comique, like the Comedie Francaise and Odeon theaters, are government establishments, partially supported by the public purse, under the ministry of instruction, and the singer or actor who can hold a place in one of these public institutions of amusement for a term of years is certain of an engagement as a finished artist anywhere else in France. The prima donna of the opera stage in Paris sometimes receives from $8,000 to 100,000 francs a year—$16,000 to $200,000. That, of course, is in comparison with the very fair pay at the opera, however.

Studying Singing in Italy. The fact that public sentiment sanctions government support of two opera houses in Paris argues a devotion to music here that would seem akin to madness to some Americans, but the French are almost triffles with regard to music in comparison with the Italians. They are true and passionate lovers of "the Heavenly Maid."

Consequently, there is hardly a town of 5,000 inhabitants in all Italy that does not boast its own opera house, and there are more professional singers, compared to the total population,

headquarters than any other Italian city, although not a few of them are in Florence, Rome and other centers. Just before the beginning of each season the local impresarios make genuine pilgrimages to the musical centers in search of singers. Having decided upon the operas they intend to give, the impresarios seek performers to fill the various roles involved, offering all the way from 200 to 300 francs ($40 to $60) for the season's work, prices which certainly are not extravagant from the American point of view.

"The star singers at La Scala in Milan, the largest theater in the world, are better paid, of course; magnificent—paid by Italy. Signora Kruscentzka, the Russian prima donna, who sang Salome there last year, receives a salary of 60,000 francs or $12,000 a year, and Signor Zenatello, the star male singer at La Scala, gets as much. But I know a basso profundo, a very capable one, too, who has been on the stage twenty years, and is counted successful, whose annual earnings are not more than $400, and there are many like him.

"The various operatic seasons in the smaller Italian cities are relatively profitable, generally, since, while there is none too much money in Italy, literally almost everywhere, from the poorly paid workingman up, he hears the opera more or less frequently each season. And, so anxious are some of the pupils of singing to make the longed for debut that not infrequently they scrape up a few extra francs to pay for the privilege of singing a more or less important role in public.

"This costs whatever the impresario has the nerve to charge and the singer is willing and able to pay. I have heard of debuts that were negotiated for $10 and of others for which no singer has paid $1,000, which would be bold impresario who should allow a positively bad singer to make a debut upon which the public would resent it bitterly, and his returns probably would suffer more than he would profit by the fee paid by the singer."

What Is Costs to Study Singing. It costs considerably less to study singing in Italy than in Paris. With economy $2,000, possibly less, can be made to cover a year's living and les-

In Italy than in any other country on earth.

"Possibly in part, for this reason," said Blanche Hamilton Fox, who is now in Paris, "it is easier to make a debut in Florence, Milan, Rome or Naples than in Paris, and it costs less to study singing there than in France. But while the French are so sensitive to any defect in accent or enunciation on the part of their singers that students of singing have to spend as much time studying French as music, and perhaps more, the Italians are still more sensitive upon that point."

The shiver that will run over an Italian audience when a singer uses a false accent or in any way departs from the purest Italian is positively painful. More than one finished artiste, as far as tone production and musical method, strictly speaking, are concerned, has been obliged to retire permanently from the lists because of an unfortunate twang or a mistake in quantity. Many hold that it is better to acquire the Italian accent before attempting the French, which then is much more easily learned. And certainly the Italian tongue is much better fitted to musical expression than the French, although I suppose it is heresy to say that here. At all events, more American girls have studied singing in Italy than in France, although this is largely because, while many operas are sung in Italian in the United States, very few are sung there in French.

There are three considerable operatic seasons in the Italian cities—Carignano, lasting six weeks, ending in December and January, the Easter season, and the spring season. Then there is a lesser season in August and September.

More singers make Milan their sons in Italy. It will cost at least $1,000 a year more in Paris. No young American woman should live alone either in Paris or any Italian city, for obvious reasons—although many of them do so—and to the expenses given above a liberal addition should be made for living of the girl's mother or some other woman of her own kin during the period she is a pupil of singing anywhere in Europe.

It costs about as much to study singing in Berlin as it does in Paris, but rather less both at Leipzig, the second musical center in Germany, and at Dresden, which comes next. Marian Craft, the Californian prima donna, studied in Germany, and is singing this year with great success at the Royal Opera house in Mayence. Her Traviata is described as an extraordinarily good performance. Geraldine Farrar did as much studying in Germany as in Paris, and Marian Weed, who made a genuine success in Germany before joining the Metropolitan in New York, studied at Dresden.

The widespread love of music in Germany, in Italy and in France, furnishes one of the reasons why so many American girls study singing "abroad." Every city of any size has its opera house, and since most of them cannot afford to pay for singers of experience and great reputation, they are often glad to accept those of lesser grade. Thus there are many more chances in each of the three countries than in New York for the young, inexperienced American singer to appear publicly—to "find herself" as opera buffs say. Audiences that are not too critical, while yet she is preparing for her first attempt upon a metropolitan opera stage.

Success in Paris.

Not a few American singers who have made reputations here, have done so after winning fame elsewhere, while almost no American girls have graduated to the operatic stage direct from their Paris teachers' establishments. Lucille Marcell and Jane Noria are exceptions, although the latter was a favorite member of the Castle Square Opera company, and had studied for years in New York before ever coming to Paris.

On arriving here she found that the man under whom she had studied in New York had established himself as a teacher here, and again became his pupil. He had been made "directeur de la scene" at the opera, and so had the privilege of training his private pupils in what is known as the Petit theater at the opera house. It is rather a big apartment, say seventy-five feet by fifty in size, all but a small part of its floor sloping at the regular stage angle, and with a very high ceiling. At the rear there is an elevated glass-enclosed passage, or gallery, which serves as a way between two offices of administration of the opera.

The director of the opera passed through this gallery one day when Miss Noria was "doing" her exercises, and he was so impressed with her voice and phrasing that he asked for her name and some information as to what she had done. The result was her engagement, which lasted two years, during which she sang several important roles, including Elsie in "Lohengrin" and Nedda in "Pagliacci." She was slated to sing Elizabeth in "Famulus," but for some reason did not do so. She expects to sign a contract with the new management of the opera.

Marguerita Sylva's engagement by the Opera Comique was a simpler matter even than Jane Noria's. Although not an English girl, she made a contract at 15 to sing for Sir Augustus Harris in London at Covent Garden and Drury Lane. Twenty days later he died, and she went to the states with Beerbohm Tree as a member of his dramatic company, some ten or a dozen years ago. Tree thought he could make an emotional actress of her, but her accent was against her, and at first she had to be content with doing the musical numbers, in such diverse plays as "Hamlet" and "Cribby." Later she became a comic opera star, and remained in America nine years in all, singing with Francis Wilson when he revived "Famulus." She expects to return to America by and by, but not for a year or two at least. Carleton has been one of her favorite parts at the Opera Comique; Saul-tazo in "Cavalleria Rusticana" another.

Points About Teachers. Several of the teachers who were famous ten or a dozen years ago are now dead and gone, while some of those who survive are well along in years. Yvonne Gillet is 70. Marchesi is 80 past, Strigella is between 80 and 90. But they are all still teaching many pupils, and more reasonable than the prices now exacted by some of the New York teachers who have transferred their headquarters than any other Italian city, although not a few of them are in Florence, Rome and other centers. Just before the beginning of each season the local impresarios make genuine pilgrimages to the musical centers in search of singers. Having decided upon the operas they intend to give, the impresarios seek performers to fill the various roles involved, offering all the way from 200 to 300 francs ($40 to $60) for the season's work, prices which certainly are not extravagant from the American point of view.

"The star singers at La Scala in Milan, the largest theater in the world, are better paid, of course; magnificent—paid by Italy. Signora Kruscentzka, the Russian prima donna, who sang Salome there last year, receives a salary of 60,000 francs or $12,000 a year, and Signor Zenatello, the star male singer at La Scala, gets as much. But I know a basso profundo, a very capable one, too, who has been on the stage twenty years, and is counted successful, whose annual earnings are not more than $400, and there are many like him.

"The various operatic seasons in the smaller Italian cities are relatively profitable, generally, since, while there is none too much money in Italy, literally almost everywhere, from the poorly paid workingman up, he hears the opera more or less frequently each season. And, so anxious are some of the pupils of singing to make the longed for debut that not infrequently they scrape up a few extra francs to pay for the privilege of singing a more or less important role in public.

"This costs whatever the impresario has the nerve to charge and the singer is willing and able to pay. I have heard of debuts that were negotiated for $10 and of others for which no singer has paid $1,000, which would be bold impresario who should allow a positively bad singer to make a debut upon which the public would resent it bitterly, and his returns probably would suffer more than he would profit by the fee paid by the singer."

What Is Costs to Study Singing. It costs considerably less to study singing in Italy than in Paris. With economy $2,000, possibly less, can be made to cover a year's living and les-

BEAUTIFUL LAKE VERMILION NEAR TOWER A PARADISE FOR CAMPERS AND FISHERMEN

That Vermilion lake is destined to become the greatest summer resort in the north is the hope of the people of Tower and the belief of the yet comparatively few people from Duluth and other outside points that have boated on that magnificent body of water, or hunted its shores.

The expression is often heard at Tower, which is located on the lower end of the lake, that the "people of Duluth don't know the beauty of Vermilion lake and the sport to be had on it and along its shores, because they have never seen it."

This is undoubtedly true, for they did know it other lake resorts and fishing places in Northern Minnesota or Wisconsin would suffer by comparison. All that Lake Vermilion needs to push its claims toward popularity is adequate hotel facilities at Tower, special rates on the railroad and an enterprising press agent.

It has all the attractions and things to hold the people and lake them back there another year.

Vermilion lake is from thirty to thirty-five miles long and about eight miles wide in its widest part. Thickly sprinkled with small and large islands covered with shrubbery and trees, it forms one of the most picturesque scenes to be found in the country. By reason of its islands and the narrow channels at places Ver-starting the 26-mile portage across to Crane lake.

Before the Virginia, Rainy Lake and Winnipeg roads were extended to the north the settlers in and about Ashawa, Pelican lake and other northern points in the country used to follow the Vermilion lake route to Joyce's Landing, at what is termed the upper end of the lake, from whence a good wagon road leads to Ashawa.

Even at the present time the only practicable route to the new town of Buick, St. Louis county, is by boat from Tower to Vermilion dam and then across the country on the trans lake road, a highway on which the county has spent $1,000 in improvements in the road.

Among the veteran steamboat men on Vermilion lake is Edward Osterberg of Tower, who operates a line of boats between Tower, Vermilion dam and Joyce's Landing. The accompanying picture shows one of the boats, the Mary Bell, with a picnic party of Tower school ma'ams who are about to make a landing at the dam for Saturday's cruise.

Another smaller boat of Mr. Osterberg's, the Headland, which he also runs by steam power, the Mary Bell is the steamer that Mr. Osterberg finally put into the waters of Lake Vermilion after many difficult trips up and down the lake, on Lake Superior, headed for Duluth, was caught in a storm off the south shore and nearly foundered. A tug belonging to the Vermilion dam, the Tower, and which was also being towed to the boat, was also nearly foundered. Vermilion lake is a camper's paradise. Splendid camping grounds are to be found in many places along the lake, and many of these are right in the path of the boats which make regular trips up and down the lake, so that supplies can easily be had at any time.

Excellent fishing is to be found around all of the islands and along the mainland shore. The lake teems with wild game, and many big muskellunge have been hooked. The record catch being a fish weighing 35 pounds, caught by Bert Everett, proprietor of Hunter's lodge, an excellent stopping place at Vermilion dam, one of the most picturesque spots on the lake.

Vermilion dam is a natural ledge of rock forming the barrier at the outlet, where the rapids of Vermilion river rush down the first portage toward the Vermilion dam, a 30 to 35-foot fall. The rapids are about 100 feet long and form a scene of wild splendor, with the overhanging hardwood forest on either Fishing is excellent, both at the dam and in the river below the dam, where the picture of the native fisherman was recently taken.

There are probably a half dozen Duluth men who either go to take their families to Vermilion lake for an outing every summer.

The Vermilion Lake Outing club, composed of thirty of the business men of Tower, traveling men and a scattering of business men from Twin Cities, is the only organization that makes a regular business of outing on the lake every season.

The club has a fine lodge on Gold Island, and representing an investment of $20,000, it has a fine building. Every summer the members of the club gather at Gold Island and spend a week fishing, boating and having general good time. The annual outings of the club, which are held in the month of August, are looked forward to with a great deal of anticipation by the members. Some of the members of the club are from Duluth, and the club has a fine reputation as a stopping place, both for pleasure and sport on Lake Vermilion.

By opening up an ore deposit which has astonished his friends. The ore is similar in character to that taken from the Lexington, showing much ruby silver and gold copper values. The assay returns give it a value of about 100 ounces in silver, $4 in gold and about 10 per cent copper. The vein is about eight inches wide.

Samuel W. Osgood, the Chicago mining engineer, recently spent a month at the mine, and having examined the plans of the mines, in addition to vigorous development of the present veins, new veins were found, and a corresponding large increase in output. For many years the Gould mines have ranked among Montana's foremost gold producers, and with this new lease of life, should continue for years to yield substantial dividends.

George Balderson, the only person to have leased the Portland group, Cripple Creek, is shipping $100 ore from a 3-foot vein. Estimated value of the ore is $100,000. The Humphrey-Thompson lease on the Lucky Corner mine, Cripple Creek, is also very body, yielding $80 to $100 per ton.

The Phoenix cyanide mill has made a ten-days' clean. The net profit for the ten days was $2,300.

Tribe mine is being developed to keep the mill running. The Peterson-Jones lease on the Mattie L. mine, Cripple Creek, is being developed. The vein has widened with depth, but average values across the vein are estimated at $20 a ton.

The British-American Leasing company, operating on the Danie, Cripple Creek, is shipping $100 ore from a 3-foot vein. Estimated value of the ore is $100,000. The Humphrey-Thompson lease on the Lucky Corner mine, Cripple Creek, is also very body, yielding $80 to $100 per ton.

extensive exploitation of the 700 per cent contained in the Bonanza de Cobre property of Messrs. Lindsay, Talbot and T. F. Cole, as soon as the mine arrives for the ground, are to be carried out without change. This announcement was made last week by Mr. Talbot, in response to a query upon his return from the Leadville camp, which he has under development for the Colorado and Arizona interests in Arizona. Holists and boilers are being erected on the Bonanza de Cobre, and work will be going ahead there at an early date under a full head of steam. Of successful result, in large measure, Mr. Talbot is highly confident. Work so far done has given added reason for this confidence, which, with his associates, he has steadily entertained since first examining the ground and filling upon it. The vigorous manner in which Mr. Talbot goes after the mine when he starts gives occasion for expectation that before the close of the year there will be definite things determined in this new quarter of the operating end of the camp.

LAKE SUPERIOR IRON MINES

Through which both the Fowler and Meadow mines are to be operated is to be sunk by the company in Ansonia district.

In the same portion of the range as the Fowler and Meadow, the Kellogg shaft of the New York State Steel company is down to the ore. This work of sinking has been very difficult, and there was fear that eventually it would be necessary to turn the task over to the New York foundation-building concern which has been called in by Pickands, Mather & Co., at their Bangor and Syracuse properties. Like at the latter mines, quicksand caused the trouble. The quicksand material would boil up like water, undulating in an instant from the ledge of the shaft, and the pumps and the timbering, however, by putting down two shafts, the shaft was finally reached at a depth of eighty-five feet. From that point down the task was easy. Exactly the same trouble is being occasioned at the Republic Iron & Steel company's Moose mine, adjoining, where the strata of quicksand is considerably thicker and it is not improbable the efforts to sink to the ledge by the ordinary methods in vogue will yet be abandoned.

The Steel corporation's Genoa mine, at Sparta, closed since the strike, continues out of commission, and it is doubtful if the mine for some time to come. The workings are being permitted to sink to the level of the ore, and the mine is being abandoned. Extensive mining operations at the Genoa would necessitate the removal of many buildings in the town. However, the ore is not needed now, and it appears that Sparta's lease of life is prolonged indefinitely. Stripping continues at the Consumers' mine, in the Marquette district, because of the delay occasioned on account of the recent strike. It is unlikely that shipments will be made this season, as had been intended at the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company's Ashland mine. Genoa, however, is the same corporation's Crosby mine, its only property in the Mesabi. He succeeds John M. Bush, promoted to the superintendency of the Ashland.

The employees in the ore shipping department of the Marquette range railroads are not as active as they were a few weeks ago. While the falling off of the movement of ore is not very great, there is less going forward now than at any previous time this season. The current is largely because there are not as many boats arriving at the shipping point as fact as to poorer despatch at lower prices. However, in consequence of the boat given shipments at the time of the Mesabi strike, the range will send out a materially greater tonnage this season than last year. There will be few if any large stockpiles remaining. In fact, the bulk of the ore in stock has been cleared up in most cases now the mines are shipping exclusively from shafts. Large consignments of coal are being received by all the mining companies.

The coming year should see considerable change in the industrial situation in the western end of the range. With the Humboldt mine resuming, the location will take on a new importance. The Breitung interests are able to secure all the men needed. Indications for a resumption of operations at the Bessemer mine, at Humboldt, and the old Conrad mine, at Clarkburg, are favorable. Both properties have been pumped out, and if found in the condition expected mining work will be started without delay. The work will be started without delay. The work will be started without delay.

A Hanna company operating the American mine, wants 100 or more men, and has started to adjoin the American mine, and the management expects to mine much more ore next year than will be put out this season. A dozen or more new shafts are to be sunk, and the opinion of mining men familiar with the formation that the American and Boston properties can be developed, and the work will be put out this season.
